EASTSIDE BUSINESSMAN COMMITS SUICI

Paul Robeson To Be Presented To Eastside

The world has produced but one Paul Robeson. It is not new in the life of Paul Robeson to find him on the side of the people that Wallace represents. He is National Vice-Chairman in the Progressive Party, a position no Negro has ever held in any political party in the United States before.

During the Spanish Revolution he went to Spain to work by the side of the anti-fascists.

Robeson, who has been acclaimed by distinguished music and literary critics and the crowned heads of Europe as the greatest multi-talented artists, has turned away from his profession, which paid him a handsome sum, to identify himself with the Progressive movement and Henry Wallace.

He will speak to the Eastside community on the evening of August 25 at the Elk's auditorium, 4016 S. Central avenue. Sidney Moore, candidate for Congress from the 14th Congressional District, will preside as masters of ceremonies, and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Na-

He will be the featured speaker that evening at a community mass meeting at the Beebe Memorial C M E Temple 598 31st Street in Oakland, jointly sponsored by the Independent Progressive Party and the Wiley King Defense Committee.

On Saturday, August 21, Mr. Robeson will be an honored guest, with Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, National Co-chairman of Women for Wallace, at the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, at 12:15 p.m. at a luncheon sponsored by the Northern California Women for Wallace.

Suicide Note Reported Left By Grower

A suicide, strange in its implications, and unbelievable in fact, became clouded with greater mystery early this week when reports circulated that police are in possession of a note left by Truman Gower, prosperous young businessman who shot himself through the heart at his home at 2902 Third avenue, Monday morning.

Gower held a partnership in interests that range from the operation of gasoline filling stations to the building and operating of apartment buildings on the westside. An enterprising businessman, Gower was reputedly wealthy and all of his business interests are solvent and showing profit. There was every indication that his death was in good order at the time of his self-inflicted death.

Born in Great Bend, Kans. in 1908, Gower had been a resident of Los Angeles since 1929. His widow, Alberta Bell Gower, was too distraught to attempt to assign a reason for her husband's suicide. The couple did not have any children. Surviving members of his immediate family are: three sisters, Mrs. Blanche Taylor, Mrs. Marilyn Taylor and Mrs. Gertrude Taylor; and two brothers, Martin and Vernon Gower, all of this city. Connor-Johnson is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Sears Official Tells Employe, 'Should Be Glad of Janitor Job'

The United Committee to End Job Discrimination at Sears Santa Monica is composed of more than 30 community organizations. It came into being last January following the refusal of Sears executives to hire Negroes as clerks and cashiers.

Reportedly, a Negro employe was told by a Sears official, "You should be glad to get a job as a janitor, after all your people were slaves a short while ago."

Frank Barnes, NAACP president here, a former Postal employe, figured prominently in the campaign against Sears hiring policy, and in consequence he was subjected to a loyalty test and discharged from the service.

The United Committee carried

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

While it deals intimately with present labor, social, and economic conditions and tells about experiences we, ourselves, pass through daily, Home Is The Sailor, a volume consisting of 250 pages written by Beth McHenry and Frederic N. Myers, is a life story of an average American boy. The term average in this case implies poor or working class. The hero in the story is Billy Farrell.

The reader's first meeting with Billy is on The Fielding, a small freighter, unloading at San Francisco harbor. Young Farrell's life up to this time had been spent in an Eastern city sharing the poverty in a large family.

His first experience with people other than his own was on this ship, The Fielding. The crew was as mixed as its cargo. There were Scandinavians, Hawaiians, Filipinos, and half-dozen varieties of Americans from Negro to Irish.

At home Billy had learned how to live on scanty rations. His father was a day worker subject to layoffs and low wages, hence the family consisting of a mother, four sisters, and two brothers found it hard to make ends meet.

For more than 20 years this young American faced a future that held out little hope for a better world. The day came when he decided to try the sea. His mother protested but his father consented.

As a Merchant Marine Billy learned at sea what he had not realized at home, that poverty was not a resuecter of places. In other words, it doesn't just happen that the world produces a whole lot of poor people and a few very rich people.

Billy Farrell knew the world better than the average young man or twenty-five. He could tell on sight a Korean from a Japanese, or a Welshman from an Irishman. But he did not know what was the matter with the world or what had even happened to himself as a part of it. He did know that the depression scenes of his own country were peanuts compared to those of other nations.

In London and Marseilles, the docks were festered with gaunt-looking adults and sickly kids. While in the Far East, in Bombay and

Landlords Sued For Over-Ceiling Rentals By Expediter

John P. Parks, 4505 South Central avenue, has been sued by the Office of Housing Expediter for a total of $1,073 for alleged overcharging the legal amount of rent.

Parks, according to the Federal agency, used the device of "operating a rooming house" to charge tenants rents amounting to as much as $100 per month for a house at 5520 Fortuna street, for which the legal maximum was only $25 per month.

Eight other landlords have also been sued, the total in overcharging amounting to $4,400. The Federal Rent agency asked that the Court compel the landlords to repay this amount to their tenants and also enjoin them from any further violations of the Housing and Rent Act.

Already charged with previous rent bonus violations, for which both a criminal trial and a civil suit are pending in Federal court here, Claude B. Anderson, 5553 Lewis Avenue, Long Beach, was object of an additional civil suit claiming $363 for illegal rent

Calling the public's attention to the Herald-Express, Los Angeles Examiner, and Los Angeles Daily News attempts to bust their union, 700 CIO News Vendors, their wives and kids, took to the streets last week, in a demonstration demanding collective bargaining and "high cost of living" wage increases from the publishers of the three daily newspapers.

Marching in single file on the sidewalks, each demonstrator with a placard and leaflets, the line of march started at 6th and Figueroa, East to Hill St., North on Hill to 3d, East on 3d to Broadway, South on Broadway to 12th St. where the marchers turned into a picket-line demonstration around the Los Angeles Examiner Building. The line of march then continued to the Daily News plant for a half hour demonstration picket line.

The Citizen's Committee for Justice to the News Vendors, under the Chairmanship of Daniel G. Marshall, civic leader and attorney, took to the air waves on Monday evening, August 16 at 7:30 p.m. over radio station KLAC to demand that publishers William Randolph Hearst and Manchester Boddy agree to an immediate representation election to avoid a needless strike of 3,000 newspaper workers. Community leaders who broadcast on the program are Hugh Wilkins, General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Charlotta A. Bass, Publisher and Editor of the California Eagle, the West's outstanding Negro newspaper; James Daugherty, President of the State CIO Council, and others.

Newsman Plans Suit For Arrest

Veteran newspaperman Lawrence F. LaMar, operator of the Negro Press Bureau in Los Angeles, plans a suit against police here as the result of what he terms "false arrest" last Saturday morning. According to the report received by the California EAGLE, LaMar, who is well known here, was in the company o fhis wife, known professionally as Betty Martina, and Mr. and Mrs. James Erwing, Jr., having just left the formal dance given by Phi Beta Sigma fraternity at the Elks auditorium.

As the party proceeded to their car, two rookie policemen came upon the scene and accused LaMar of drinking from a bottle of liquor he held in his hand. LaMar and the members of his party denied this and there was an exchange of words. Subsequently the policemen arrested LaMar on a charge of drunkkenness. Despite the identification shown by the newsmen, one of the policemen searched him and handcuffed him. The handcuffs were removed when the Erwings and Mrs. LaMar protested.

Sunday morning LaMar was given a hearing and he pleaded not guilty with a request for a jury trial. The matter was set down for September 14 in division 7 of the Municipal Court. Attorney Everette M. Porter will represent LaMar.

Newspapermen commenting upon the treatment and arrest of LaMar expressed indignation at the failure of the police to extend the proper consideration to LaMar, and it was pointed out by one that the anti-Negro feeling of the police is due, in some part, to the members of the Ku Klux Klan who are joining the police force in order to hold key positions when they come out of the underground for full operations.

"Abject Surrender" Says Walter White

NEW YORK.—Failure of the Special Session of Congress to pass the anti-poll tax bill or enact any civil rights legislation in the face of the southern filibuster was characterized by Walter White, NAACP secretary, as an "abject and unnecessary surrender to reaction and defeatism."

SPURGEON JONES, shown above, and his partner John H. Wilson have a haven for citizens of Los Angeles and environs who seek a good meal and a measure of profitable recreation. As one of the owners of Bountiful Beach (just twenty minutes from L.A. by bus, trolley or auto) young Jones is associated in a venture that is proving highly popular with the hundreds who visit the Venice, Calif. spot each week.

Trio Accused in Train Robbery

ONTARIO, Calif. — Stanley Smith, 19, of Richland, Texas, Omaker T. Townsend, 20, of Lambert, Miss., and Izear L. Gully, 28, of Little Rock, Ala., are being held by police here following their arrest on suspicion of forcible robbery earlier this week. They are accused by Jerome Samuels, 18, a student from Brooklyn, N. Y. of beating him and taking his suitcase and other personal property.

Samuels was freight-hopping across the country to visit his sister in San Francisco, when allegedly he encountered the accused trio. The robbery was reported when Samuels asked for assistance from sheriff's deputies here. They chased the freight on which the three youths were riding, and after a chase, arrested the trio who were heading for Los Angeles. They were brought back here and jailed.

GALLSTONES
ULCERS, CONSTIPATION, GAS PAINS

Heroic efforts should be made to remove gallstones without removing gall bladder by surgery. GALLSTONES should be understood. Gall stones are thickened stagnated bile accumulations which pack hard and block the gall ducts.

When the bile stops flowing one finds a tender spot between the navel and ribs, a coated tongue, yellow skin, nausea, sharp or colic pains.

Many patients suffering with gall bladder disorder, come to us believing they have ulcers, gastritis, etc. We find that many of these cases have been improperly diagnosed as ulcers by other doctors. Many such cases have responded immediately to our treatment of gall bladder derangements and lose all symptoms in a few days. Gall stones have been removed from many of patients without surgery.

Residents of Los Angeles County are fortunate in having offices that practice NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE, which are havens for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. We specialize in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poison. Rid yourself of toxic poison. If suffering, come to our office at once for a thorough cleansing, using NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. Trial treatment $3.00. Treatments at offices only—no medicine or drugs—consultation free—no obligation. 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Receipts of the Defense Fund last week amounted to $666.05, bringing the total to $40,965.76. Contributors include the Golden Gate Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Los Angeles, $50.

"Persons" Means Gov't Branches, Too

The Board of Supervisors recently re-defined the word "persons" in a section of the fire prevention code which makes it necessary for anyone operating a rubbish-burning dump to obtain a permit from the County Fire Prevention Bureau. Officials of some municipalities had been interpreting the word "persons" as not meaning branches of government, and had been creating a nuisance by burning rubbish. This re-definition declares definitely it refers to branches of government as well as individuals.

Sipuel Case Prepared For Court

NORMAN, Okla. — Denied admission to the University of Oklahoma by a decision of District Judge T. Justin Hinshaw, Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher, Miss Helen Maxine Holmes and Mrs. Mauderie Hancock-Wilson prepared to carry their case to the State Supreme Court, Amos T. Hall of Tulsa, who together with Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, represented the young women, announced today.

For more than two years Mrs. Fisher has sought admission to the university law school. The United States Supreme Court last January ordered the State of Oklahoma to provide her forthwith with educational facilities equal to those afforded at the university. Rather than admit a Negro student, the state set up a makeshift law school in Oklahoma City. Maintaining that the Jim Crow school was not equal to the university law school, Mrs. Fisher declined to seek admission. The school has had no students.

Consider Old Mexico; No Loyalty Checks, More Dollar Value!

TIJUANA (Special) — Commenting today on the advantage of the devaluation of the peso to the American visitor to Tijuana, Juan Alessio, president of the Tourist Committee of the Tijuana Chamber of Commerce, said, "The buying power of the American tourist dollar has been increased by 20%.

"At the new rate of exchange, which is approximately 20% greater than the old rate, or 6.50 pesos to the dollar," Alessio explained, Tijuana merchants, who largely conduct their business using the dollar rather than the peso, will now experience the same advantage in the purchase of Mexican goods as the tourist. This ability to purchase at what amounts to be lower prices will be reflected in lower prices to the tourist consumer."

On the Road to War Forum Speaker Says

ATLANTA, Georgia (Special)—According to Dr. Lawrence D. Reddick, historian, who is librarian of Atlanta University, we are on the road to war. Speaking at the closing forum at the Atlanta University Summer School, he gave as four superficial reasons: (1) that in Washington's Pentagon Building they are as busy as they were in the last war; (2) that the state of New Jersey has revived its civilian defense laws; (3) that even in an election year we have voted back the draft; and (4) that the government has clamped diwn on members of the Communist party alleging they are agents of a foreign country.

THE TIME TO ACT IS IN NOVEMBER, THE PLACE IS IN THE ELECTION BOOTH.

To Produce With Leadership

LOS ANGELES—No amount of denunciation of American prejudice or unfairness of the white man is going to produce for Negroes the number of jobs, the degree of wealth, or the quality of comfort which every American seeks as his birthright, H. A. Howard, president of Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association, told delegates to the 34th national conclave of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, meeting here last week.

"We can no longer remain indifferent, or continue to plead inability to deal with the situation where an economic depression has inevitably found Negroes on home relief far out of proportion to their ratio to the total population," Mr. Howard warned.

The west coast banking official described a picture where Negro income is small; all employables in the family are usually compelled to work; the competition for jobs in urban areas has become keener; and discrimination is still prevalent. He reasoned that if so-called white enterprise is "either unwilling or unable to absorb the potential labor force among Negroes," business enterprise of Negroes themselves must be stimulated to carry the load.

The "bigger and better business" program is one of Sigma's major projects. Mr. Howard appeared before the report meeting when he made his remarks.

Federation Nixes Labor Day Parade

By popular demand of the A. F. of L. membership, the organization's traditional Los Angeles Labor Day parade will be discontinued this year and replaced with a mammoth celebration and show at the Coliseum, according to an announcement this week.

To be open to the general public, the gigantic spectacle will have a centennial theme featuring a colorful, 40 minute salute to the part labor has played in California's 100 years of progress since entering the Union.

Pageantry, fireworks, and variety acts will be combined during the two-hour, evening celebration with entire proceeds from ticket sales to be used in its production. Tickets are on sale at all Mutual ticket agencies and by mail from the Southern California Music Co., 737 S. Hill st., for $1 plus tax.

Committee members appointed to head the show are Leonard Graham, chairman; and W. J. Bassett, D. D. McClurg, Ralph Mercier, George Hardy, and Robert J. Hamill.

Cancer Fund Drive Reaches New High

NEW YORK — The American Cancer Society's nation-wide campaign which appealed to all racial groups has brought record contributions this year, Elmer H. Bobst, national chairman, disclosed this week.

Receipts now have passed $12,400,000. The American Cancer Society does not close its book upon the fiscal year until August 31, and officers expect that late returns from various states would increase the total appreciably. Last year's collections amounted to $12,126,875.30, an all-time high until then.

California Drivers Are Getting Better

In line with the nationwide trend toward fewer accidents this year, Southern California reported 12.2 per cent less traffic fatalities during the first six months of 1948 than in the similar months of last year.

Correct Temperature

Your car's entire cooling system should be flushed at least twice yearly to assure maximum engine efficiency, advises the Automobile Club of Southern California. Hoses and connections should also be checked frequently for leaks.

Labor Violations Found in 8 States

SAN FRANCISCO—More than 96 percent of the establishments inspected in the eight Western states during the fiscal year ending July 1, were found to be violating one or more provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal wage and hour law) or the Walsh-Healey (public contracts) Act, or both.

Violations of the overtime provision, requiring payment of at least time and one-half for all hours over 40 in any workweek, were uncovered in nearly 54 percent of the inspected establishments.

Child labor violations were disclosed in more than 4 percent while failure to pay the statutory minimum wage of 40 cents an hour was found in 2½ percent.

They Borrow and They Must Pay Back

Seems Strange, But It Can Save Lives

SACRAMENTO—"Don't rely on the other guy," is the safety cry being heard throughout California this month as thousands of members of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce join with the California Highway Patrol and local safety groups in stressing the "Operation Safety" theme for August; "Courtesy and Defensive Driving."

Courtesy is merely applying the Golden Rule to your driving.

Defensive driving is looking ahead and avoiding danger before you get to it.

Dim your lights for the other driver at night.

You don't have to apologize for being courteous.

Courtesy has saved many lives, it may save yours.

by Local Realty Co.

The Realty Equities Co., 4374 South Main street, added to the fund being raised for the defense of Mrs. Rosa Ingram by contributing $25.0 to the N.A.A.C.P. Realty Equities is headed by Richard Corenson.

Mrs. Ingram and her two teenage sons are being held in a Georgia prison, under sentence of life imprisonment for slaying John Stratford, farmer, although it was done in self-defense.

"In Georgia, a Negro woman isn't supposed to say 'no' to a white man," said 17-year-old Charles Ingram in telling the story of the tragedy.

Charles and his brother, James, spent their summer at the interracial camp sponsored by the International Workers Order in the state of New York. He told reporters there that Stratford had twice attacked his mother before the slaying, and was angry because she repulsed him.

"Mr. Sratford was mad at my mother," said Charles. "He came up to her on November 4, swearing and calling her bad names. He called her a 'black heifer.' He was yelling something about some mules that were on his farm, and began beating my mother on the head with the butt end of a knife. My mother told me to get the mules. Mr. Stratford went to get his gun. That is all I saw."

But while Charles was gone, Mr. Stratford came back and began beating Mrs. Ingram again. Then Charles' two brothers came up to save their mother's life, and in the scuffle Mr. Stratford was killed.

There are 12 Ingram children all told, one a baby two years old. Mrs. Ingram and her two sons were at first sentenced to death, but this was later commuted to life due tto the nationwide protests that poured into the Georgia sheriff's office. The fight now, led by the N.A.A.C.P., is to have the three Ingrams set free entirely, since Stratford was so evidently killed in self defense.

County to Pay Part Of Signal Light Cost

According to the office of Supervisor Leonard J. Roach, the county will pay only 25 percent of the installation on traffic signals at the corner of 104th st. and Western ave.

The city will pay the other 75 percent and install the traffic signals.

Roach's office states that this is due to the fact that three of the corners where the signals will be installed are in the city and only one corner is in the county.

"Of all the commodities going to Palestine, the most valuable is blood plasma," says Charles Brown, president of the Los Angeles Jewish Community Council.

Levi Sorrel Found Dead

LOS ANGELES (NPB) — Levi (Pete) Sorrel, brother of the late Gene Sorrel, former Grand Esquire of the I.B.P.O. Elks of the World, was found dead in the home he occupied in the rear of that of his deceased brother, 1466 So. Hooper Ave., early Monday morning. It was not determined at the time, what caused his death. The deceased was regarded as the heir to a large estate left by his brother. The estate is due to be settled in Probate Court here on September 14. Atty. H. Leonard Richardson is believed to have been handling Levi Sorrel's interests in the estate.

The deceased leaves an only daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Douglas, 1449, Via Las Vegas. The daughter will be in charge of arrangements for the funeral to be held from the A. J. Roberts Mortuary at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Two Contributions For Truman Fund

NEW YORK — Standing out among the many contributions to the Million Dollar Re-elect Truman Fund were two received last week at the Biltmore Hotel headquarters.

One was $1,000—from Sherman Hibbitt of 2395 Eighth Avenue, the unofficial mayor of New York's Harlem.

The other was $5—from Mrs. Emma B. Johnson, a 53-year-old Chicago woman facing eviction from her tiny room at 3138 Calumet Ave. In size, it was like a thousand more.

Hibbitt delivered his contribution in person to John H. Sengstacke, treasurer of the National Citizens Committee for the Re-election of President Truman, in the presence of Congressman William L. Dawson, Committee Chairman.

C/O President Truman

Mrs. Johnson mailed hers to Congressman William L. Dawson, in care of President Harry S. Truman at the White House.

Her letter told of a change in landlords, an eviction notice, and a fruitless search for some place to go. "You are here and President Roosevelt has passed, and you are still a Truman man for the help of the people. Please don't forget me," she wrote.

Moore Continues Campaign Against Bank's Hiring Polic

The Bank of America, at 25th and Central Avenue, in the heart of the Negro district is holding to its policy of hiring no Negroes. Yet it is the patronage of the Negro people who keep the doors of the Bank open through the thousands of dollars they pass over the counter of the 25th Street Branch. The community can win the fight to break down discrimination at the 25th Street branch of the Bank of America, but we can do this only by united community action of all organizations and individuals who wish to see a democratic policy of hiring in our community.

"We have proof that this necessary community action is crystallizing as many organizations begin to write letters of protest to the bank officials asking that the discriminatory policy be discontinued.

Here I quote from a letter from Philip Connelly, Secretary-Treasurer of the CIO Industrial Council: "For an institution such as yours to maintain a policy of discrimination in hiring against any particular race is to give sustenance to and to assist in perpetuating the Hitlerian racial myth which we have inherited from the dark ages.

"I cannot help but comment on the fact that the founder of the Bank of America was a son of a national group which has been discriminated against and belittled in the most vicious way in many American communities."

A communication to A. J. Gock, Chairman of the Board of Directors from Lovic E. Howell, District Chairman, Proteetive Order Dining Car Waiters, Local 465, regarding question of employment relations of the Bank states:

"The majority of members do business with some branch of the Bank of America. These members are interested in knowing what your policies are in employing employees for such positions as: Stenographers, Clerks, Tellers, etc. I was instructed to send this communication to ascertain this information since the majority have substantial savings with the Bank of America banks."

This fight can be won. Have your church, Lodge, Union, or Social Club:

1. Write to A. J. Gock, Chairman, Board of Directors, of America, 660 S. Spring S Angeles, Calif.

2. Phone Mr. Gock at ...on 57211 and tell him ... think of the Bank's hiring.

3. Write to L. M. G... President of the bank, ... Montgomery Street, San ... cisco.

Prosperity Starts Move To Liberia

Two hundred Jamaicans will establish new homes in the Negro republic of Liberia, on the west coast of Africa, within the next few months.

The migrants are making the 8000-mile journey in groups of 20 to 25 by Pan American World Airways Clipper.

The first group left Kingston, the island capital, August 16. They clippered to Miami, Florida, where they stopped overnight before continuing to New York to board one of PAA's trans-Atlantic flights.

The "back to Liberia" movement started last March when an advance echelon of 21 men, women and children left Kingston on a special PAA flight to establish themselves in the only free Negro republic of Africa.

Word of jobs and prosperity in Liberia has encouraged the migration, and it is estimated that approximately 200 Jamaicans will migrate to the republic within the next few months.

One wonders what the Federal Government will do in the years to come for employees. It used to be that the educational and experience requirements were too stiff; nowadays, the guy who wants to work for Uncle Sam has to almost prove he is too dumb to think.

In Wallace Lunch Brigade

When the fashion is politics women will be found out in front participating in the various activities to bolster their candidates. But the Women for Wallace in Southern California have planned to combine pleasure with politics in a chain of luncheons to reach more than 13,000 women in Los Angeles county in the 80 days left to vote for Wallace.

Women for Wallace are planning to reach out to communities all over Southern California; to name a few, Long Beach, Venice, Laguna, and Ventura.

The first luncheon will get under way today at 1:30 p.m. in the Aviation Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel with Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, National Co-Chairman of Women for Wallace, as the honored speaker on the national convention of the Progressive Party. Mrs. Jean Sibroty, treasurer of Women for Wallace, Southern California division, will give a moving personal account of the founders of the new party entitled, "The People, Yes."

Included on the calendar of events are a reception honoring Paul Robeson and Elinor Gimbel, who is National Chairman of Women for Wallace at the Laurel theatre on August 25, a glamourous aquacade on August 28, a theatre party, House and Garden Auction, fashion show, series of film previews in September, and a dinner-dance at Slapsie Maxie's in October.

The Wallace Luncheon Brigade is open to all who would like to join. The office is open five days a week from 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. at 2960 West 7th street.

Boy Scouts Do Good Turn at Camp, Home

The Boy Scout division of the sixth annual summer conference at Thousand Pines, sponsored by the Western Baptist State convention in cooperation with the Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society and the Southern Baptist State Convention, made an unusual contribution to the camp life at housand Pines.

Among the good turns chalked up to the credit of the Boy Scouts are: serving the camp as ushers for chapel and vesper services; color guards for raising and lowering the flag; acting as messengers and guides for the camp staff and visitors. Each day a group of Boy Scouts served as a service patrol for a 24 hour period, to be called on at any time to assist in the work of the camp proper. With all this the Scouts also carried a heavy schedule of training through hiking and games, which aided in the advancement program for the boys.

The Scouts, upon their return from camp, served in a capacity similar to that at Thousand Pines at the 58th session of the Western Baptist Convention of California, held in the Metropolitan Baptist Church, August 2-8, Pasadena; and at the national conclave of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity held in the Hamilton Methodist Church, 18th and Naomi, August 11-14.

Only You Can Start A Forest Fire!

Vacationists this week were urged by Red Cross officials to observe "the rule of five" to prevent forest fires. These important procedures to be practiced are:

1. Break every match in two.
2. If you must build outdoor fires, first ask if the law requires a permit.
3. Drown every fire with water, or smother fire with earth from which leaves are removed.
4. Crush out thoroughly your cigarette, cigar or pipe ashes.
5. See that every member of your family knows these rules.

Land Grant Colleges Surveyed for Project

A survey of the research facilities of the Negro Land-Grant colleges and associated institutions is to be made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to explore the opportunities for utilizing them in carrying out projects under the Research and Marketing Act, Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan announced this week.

A Negro specialist, trained in research techniques and acquainted with the personnel and facilities of these colleges, will be appointed by early September to make the study, Brannan said. It is thought that the survey will require about four months.

Ingram Fund Grows

NEW YORK—Receipt of contributions last week amounting to $289.71 brought the Ingram Defense Fund to a total of $41,255.47, the NAACP announced today. Contributions received last week included $152 from the East Side Ingram Club, Detroit; $12 from the Thrifty Twelve Savings Club, Akron; and $5 from the Committee for Civil Rights, Brooklyn.

For Housing Fund Is Huge Success

More than two hundred and fifty persons turned out to attend the "Kick-Off" Banquet of the Alpha Phi Alpha House Campaign Committee at the Park View Manor, Tuesday evening, August 10th at 7:00 p.m. Addresses were made by Barksdale Brown, western vice-president; Rudolph Henderson, chairman of the coordinating council of Alpha Chapters in Los Angeles; and Attorney Ivan J. Johnson, III.

A piano duet by Samuel H. Brown, music teacher at Jefferson High School, and Charles Cabellero, holder of the Alpha Phi Alpha scholarship at the University of Southern California, thrilled the audience as they played Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine" and Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

A distinguished visitor, Andree Hobel rendered Rachmaninoff's "Pelude in C-Sharp Minor"; and Miss Mary Notrica, soprano, accompanied by Miss A. Chandler, sang two beautiful numbers.

After a delicious five-course banquet had been served, the master of ceremonies, Herman K. Barnett, who is chairman of the Alpha House Campaign Committee, gave a synopsis of the aims and purposes of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity's goal in the present campaign. Stressing the need of additional scholarships in medicine, law, music, business administration, physical education, dentistry, etc., it was stated that it was the aim of the fraternity to raise sufficient money so that deserving high school graduates with high scholastic averages could pursue to a successful completion their college careers regardless of their economic conditions. Participation by the fraternity in community activities was also emphasized and it was suggested that a program to aid in a solution to the problems concerning juvenile delinquency would be initiated.

Finally, in order to achieve these goals, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity decided to raise sufficient funds for the purchase of a fraternity house.

In accord with the basic motto of the fraternity, "Servants to All," it is its primary objective that this house will serve as a center of community activity, providing adequate housing at reasonable prices, and promoting wholesome contact for its occupants, so that upon completion of their college work, they may successfully enter into their chosen fields of endeavor.

We Don't Think So Either, But Try It

The new position, to be known as Chief Accountant (Payroll), calls for someone with a college degree or the equivalent, who has had courses in accounting or business administration, and five years of responsible supervisory accounting experience.

Card Game Quarrel Leads To Shooting

DETROIT—If money is not the root of all evil, it appears to have many faulty branches according to what happened last week between two men whose friendship ended in the shooting of one, and the landing of the other in police headquarters charged with the crime.

The victim of gunshot wounds is Fred Edwards, 42, 935 East Alexandrine street. Police said Edwards was shot by Alonzo Cobb, 61, 3932 Hastings street. The subject is in the Receiving Hospital in a critical condition.

Cobb told police that Edwards had lost $5.00 to him earlier in the day in a card game at his home, at 3832 Hastings street.

We Still Think Some Guys Will Drink It

SACRAMENTO — Net revenues from the gasoline tax of $11,218,352, after refunds for non-highway use, resulted from June distributions of gasoline, a gain of 54.6 per cent over the total of June, 1947, according to William G. Bonelli, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization. Despite a 1.01 per cent drop in the total gallonage distributed, there was a gain in highway fund revenues because of the increased rate of tax in effect since July 1, 1947, and a reduction in the volume of refunds made during June for industrial and other non-highway use of gasoline.

Dairy Day Scheduled At The Pomona Fair

POMONA—In recognition of its immense importance to this area, the dairy industry will be featured at the return of Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 17 through Oct. 3 with a notable exhibit of dairy products. As an innovation this year, Thursday, Sept. 23, has been set aside as dairy day and the event will be punctuated with special events that promise to make it one of the distinctive highlights of the big exposition.

The confusion about everything else has detracted attention from the banditry that is being practiced in apartment rentals. Only the extremely naive can believe now that inflation can't happen in the face of the one hundred dollar per month rentals a thirty dollar a week laborer has to pay if he wants to live indoors with his family.

Check This At Once

Up to the age of twenty, Los Angeles women outnumber men in visits to the doctor for venereal disease, but by the time they reach twenty-five men lead two to one in seeking medical advice for VD.

This is according to findings released by Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, who summarized a study made in city clincis during recent months.

"Perhaps the most outstanding group in seeking early medical treatment for venereal disease is that between the ages of 25 and 29. After 30, people seem to wait longer after the onset of the disease before seeing a doctor," he said.

It is "most urgent," he pointed out, that victims of venereal disease see a doctor early so that the disease can be cured and future body and brain damage checked. And, he added, early treatment stops the spread of the disease to others.

34th Conclave of Sigmas Rated as Most Outstanding In History of Fraternity

The 34th annual conclave of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity opened its sessions in Los Angeles, with 185 registered delegates representing 85 of the fraternity's 127 active chapters answering the first roll call. Dr. R. Johnson, National President, in calling the conclave to order stated, "This is the largest opening day representation in the fraternity's history."

George A. Beavers, Jr. vice-president of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, and member of the Phi Beta Sigma chapter of Los Angeles, highlighted the afternoon session with a sterling and challenging address in which he urged the delegates and visitors to "measure up" to the challenge of the times by fully integrating themselves into the nation's economic system, and lauded the fraernity's efforts in the promotion of thrift among minorities through its program of "Bigger and Better Business."

Dr. Ambrose Caliver, Director of Adult Education, U. S. Department of Education, Washington, D. C., thrilled a capacity audience at the Hamilton A. M. E. Church at the first public session of the conclave Wednesday evening with an address on "The Essentials of Leadership." Dr. Caliver pointed out that the great need of today was for leadership because of the changing trends and conditions in world events. These changing conditions, stated Dr. Caliver, has resulted in: 1. "The Desire for Security"; 2. "The Desire for Self Expression"; 3. "The Desire for New Experiences"; 4. "The Desire for Recognition". Dr. Caliver in a brilliant display of oratory concluded his address with an appeal to his audience to use its influence by precept and example, in helping to create an atmosphere that will be conducive to the growth and nurture of the oncoming leaders of our group" as an enraptured audience thunderously applauded.

Musical selections on the program were rendered by Madame Roena Muckelroy Savage, nationally famous concert soprano; Netta Paullyn Garner, professor of music, Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo., whose piano renditions drew repeated encores; Roy Leeland Hopkins, Houston, Texas, rendered selections on the console.

National officers in attendance at the conclave were: Dr. R. O. Johnson, president; Felix J. Brown, M. D., Richmond, Va., Vice-President; Julius C. Thomas, junior vice-president; Lynwood W. Brown, Richmond, Va., national executive secretary; George L. Hightower, M. D., Atlanta, Ga., treasurer; George A. Parker, director of social action; S. Edward Gilbert, St. Louis, Mo., director of bigger and better business; and Horace F. Johnson, Chicago, Ill., director of education. Delegates representing chapters in 12 states from as far east as Massachusetts, and as far south as Florida were present in what is acclaimed the greatest annual meeting of the fraternity's history. A full social calendar was sandwiched between the business sessions by the host's chapters and the local Greek letter groups.

One thing certain about the probe now being carried on by the Thomas Committee; they have the power and if they choose they can lambaste every official in Washington until the general public will believe you have to be a member of the committee or the Ku Klux Klan to be a good American.

Muriel Pays $300 Per for An Apartment

EAST COAST—It's easy to find an apartment if you're making the kind of money singer Muriel Rahn draws down per week from concert appearances.

The rate for that dream cottage where the famed singer and her husband are spending their vacation is at Negro-owned Le Haven Beach Club, and amounts to $300 a month.

It includes a $50 membership, two bed-rooms, maid service and kitchenette.

For that kind of loot it should include a Cadillac coupe to boot. Voot!

Brother, What a Congress!

The Economic Outlook exposes the 80th Congress as about the worst Congress in American history, pointing out facts that the people should know. It said:

By putting Congress in the spotlight we can put our enemies on the spot and find out who our real friends are. The issues must be clear. All of us working people must make our desires known to our representatives. Last but not least, we must keep careful track of how each of them votes. Then when election day comes, we can roll out the vote and show we remember what happened.

The record of Congress so far ought to make us all fighting mad. Some of us CIO members have been keeping a tally sheet on what it has done, and the resulting report card is certainly terrible, counting no action as zero, excellent action as plus 10, and a lot worse than nothing going down as far as minus 10.

Naturally this is pretty rough but it gives the general picture. We ourselves hadn't realized just how bad Congress was until we started this tally sheet, and we probably weren't the only ones. A lot of workers, even CIO members, don't understand what this record does to drag down our level of living.

The Republicans have to take most of the blame, because they were in clear control of both Houses of Congress. They had it in their power to pass laws that would have helped us all. But they decided they'd rather help big business.

But don't forget, it's our fault that they got a chance to do these things. Too many of us stayed away from the polls in November 1946 and didn't vote at all. And a lot of people who should have known better fell for big business propaganda.

Votes on important issues in Congress showed that although we had friends in both major parties, most of them were listed as Democrats. The Senators with the best record included 21 Democrats and two Republicans, and the best Representatives included 59 Democrats, two Republicans, and one A.L.P. man. The worst Senators included 22 Republicans and four Democrats. The worst Representatives included 140 Republicans and one Democrat.

Selecting states, each of which had one Democratic and one Republican Senator so that the effect of other differences is eliminated, the Democrats on the average were right on 11 issues and wrong on two, while the Republicans averaged right on two issues and wrong on 12.

If these figures seem unfair to the Republicans, they can be changed but only by better votes, not by calling us names.

To hammer home the damage done us by Congress, let's look more closely at the main issues.

Let the People Speak

We are sensitive on the point of that old adage, "Birds of a feather flock together."

It has come to the attention of the California EAGLE that in a hearing last Friday night parents of the children of 28th Street school went to the meeting in good faith to give testimony of what they knew and bring charges against principal Mrs. Nell Haas, those present were given no time or space to express their views.

But a Mrs. Edward Suchman, who it is said claims to be the 'only white Jew in the community,' was given all the opportunity to testify against the CIO representatives and all others present to protest the anti-Semetic and anti-Negro attitude of Mrs. Haas.

The Suchman woman who on many occasions at public meetings has voiced anti-Negro sentiment is unpopular in minority circles.

And it is believed that this Mrs. Suchman is a worshipper of Gerald L. K. Smith because she has been seen and heard at the Smith meetings in Los Angeles. Were it not for this, many people, parents and otherwise, might give Mrs. Haas the benefit of the doubt in being prejudiced against jews and Negroes.

However, Mrs. Haas' personal feeling toward these minorities in our opinion certainly should not become a part of her teaching profession. The strongest evidence against Mrs. Haas' antagonistic, racial feeling is a letter she sent to the Board of Education asking that no more Jewish teachers be sent to HER school.

We feel that the refusal to hear the people's protest of this sort of thing by the Board of Education, places that body in the position of a dictatorship. It's about time some group informed the members of the Board of Education that not some of the citizens but all of the taxpayers hire them to carry out the will of the people and not their will.

We shall not cease fire on the Board of Education until these irregularities are corrected.

Cecil Brown Hits Nail on Head

In his early morning radio broadcast, Wednesday, August 18, Cecil Brown spoke clearly and to the point on the function of the so-called un-American Activities Committee by pointing out that all the work of investigating un-American activities carried on now by the Parnell Thomas Committee was performed some three years ago by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The EAGLE editor thinks perhaps any further use of government funds for investigation of such matters, should be used to investigate the investigators—Thomas, Rankin, et al.

There is one thing sure, however. Our people must be taught to respect our government. As Cecil Brown indicated, we are not concerned with the manner of government operations in Russia, as it relates to the freedom and liberty of its people. We have a Bill of Rights here in America, which guarantees freedom of speech, fredom of assembly, and freedom of the press to all citizens, and a Constitution that provides for the protection of life, limb, and liberty of all our citizens. This is our concern.

The Parnell-Thomas committee has been occupying the public spotlight for months, daily promising a big bust the next day.

In about three years this un-American Activities Committee has spent, it is estimated, half a million dollars, and uncovered just about nothing.

These unholy gymnastics of the un-American Committee, the fact that they are so evidently wasting the taxpayers' money, is enough to make any serious minded person wonder about our government. Have we suddenly gone crazy? What's happened to us?

Then when that same person is made heart-sick by the stories of lynchings he can hear almost every day, by the miscarriage of justice such as that of the Ingram case, by the fact that the decision of the United States Supreme Court in regards to restrictive covenants, is openly being flaunted. When he goes with a group of young folks, Negro and white, to a bath house such as the Bimini Baths, and hears the manager refuse them admission because "We don't take Negroes," what in the name of common sense is that person to think of our government?

Will such conduct instill into him a reverance, a respect, a love for the government which winks at such flagrant disregard of all that is just and true and right?

As we reap we shall sow. If we make our government one that the little people will love and be willing to die for, no ideology in the world, native or foreign, could shake the faith of our people in our American government. We would have no need of investigating committees. Like ancient Sparta every American would be a stone in the wall protecting it.

But continue on the road we seem to be traveling on so fast, and neither investigating committees, nor jails, nor concentration camps can root out the dissatisfaction which leads to revolution.

The Newsboys' Fight

A group of citizens, interested in the newsboys' demand for an immediate election so that negotiations with the Hearst papers and The Daily News for improved wages and better working conditions can be completed, went on the air Monday evening, August 16, over KLAC, voicing their protest against conditions under which newsboys must sell their papers to the public.

This story, according to the announcer, is one that never gets into the papers. It is the story of three powerful newspapers—The Los Angeles Examiner and The Herald-Express, both owned by William Randolph Hearst, and The Daily News published by Manchester Boddy. These three newspapers have cancelled the union contract they had with their newsboys' union, Local 75, CIO, and refuse to negotiate for higher wages and better working conditions.

In rapid succession Hugh Wilkins, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and a World War Veteran; James Daugherty, State President of the CIO and State Director of the Utility Workers Union; Mrs. Anne Pollock, outstanding representative of American Jewish activities; John Lovell, chairman of the Political and Educational Committee of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor and publisher of The California EAGLE, and introduced as one of the outstanding spokesmen for minority groups; Atty. Herbert Ganahl, member of the American Legion; Norris Helford, chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of the American Veterans Committee; and finally William Axelrod, secretary-treasure of the News Vendors Union, Local 75, CIO, told their views of the present struggle of the newsboys union.

"A fight that affects all organized labor. If the publishers can hide behind the Taft-Hartley act to deprive one union of its hard won social gains, then no union is safe from any employer." "The news vendors have struggled for 11 years to build their organization and raise wages from flophouse levels. They finally won a U. S. Supreme Court ruling in 1944, ordering the publishers to negotiate with them. But the publishers refused to do so.

"Short-sighted." "A quick election—that is what the news vendors seek, and what the publishers are apparently trying to avoid—can best serve the interests of all." "It's high time employers assume a more enlightened attitude toward decent collective bargaining." "Telephone and write The Daily News, The Examiner, and The Herald-Express, and DEMAND that the newsboys get a fair deal."

These were a few of the sentiments expressed by the citizens met to back the demands of the newsboys. Mrs. Bass, the only Negro present, spoke simply and feelingly in comparing the struggle of the newsboys to that of minority groups.

"Minority groups in Los Angeles," she said, "and in America, have long known the struggle against low pay, poor working conditions, economic discrimination in general. That is why, I believe, we can so readily understand the plight of these newsboys. As a member of the Citzens' Committee I attended their negotiations last year. I saw the hard time they had getting their present low guarantees. I know that before their court victory and union contract, they would sometimes work all day—10 to 12 hours even—and take home the most meager earnings. Sometimes only a few cents. They like minority people, until they organized, were at the mercy of the publishers who were callous enough to take advantage of them. I most vigorously recommend full public support of their union security and wage demands."

William Axelrod told again how the publishers were stalling on an election, pretending they wanted one yet doing everything to prevent one. Out of a membership of 700, he said, the vote was 13 to 1 for a strike. IF the publishers forced one upon them.

You who read your paper in the comfort of your home this evening, think of those newsboys. Think of the struggle they have had simply to organize a union. Think of their pitifully small wages. Their long hours. Then drop your newspaper at once, and call up those three papers—The Daily News, The Herald-Express, The Examiner—and give 'em hell.

Not content with that, you write them a letter, and tell them in no uncertain terms that you won't read their papers anymore, if they can't play square with their news vendors. That'll make 'em sit up and take notice.

A tall blond gentleman moved along Central avenue, Monday, August 16, and it appears accidentally let fall from his pocket the above card.

A California Eagle representative who incidentally walked close behind the man, saw the card fall, bent down, picked it up, and very courteously offered it to the owner. But to the amazement of the newsman, the mysterious character denied ownership of the card.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

BY MARIAN INGLEWOOD —

The filibuster in Congress which killed the anti-poll tax bill in this special session, and so President Truman's Civil Rights program, has been called a talkathon. That, you understand, is a quip on the big event of the Olympic Games, the Marathon race.

The Marathon race, however, is held to commemorate one of the deeds which was done for freedom more than 24 centuries ago. In the little country of Greece, the land which has been called the birthplace of freedom.

What Hitler tried to do in the 20th century, Darius, king of the Persians, attempted in 490 B. C.—conquer the then known world. He sent his army of 120,000 men to capture the city of Athens, and conquer all of Greece. They landed on the little plain of Marathon, with a sheltered bay to the front and rugged mountains in the rear.

The Greeks were outnumbered 10 to 1. They had only 10,000 men, drawn up at the foot of the mountains. But without waiting for the Persians, they rushed pell-mell down the mountain and swept like a tempest over the plain. They pushed the crowded Persians before them, back to their ships. The Persians lost 6400 men. The Greeks 192. A great mound, nearly 50 feet high, is still there on the plain of Marathon. It contains the bodies of those who died that day to save Greece from Persian slavery.

The Greek general chose his swiftest runner, Pheidippides, to go to Athens and tell the glad news. Pheidippides had just gone to Sparta and back, but he received his new commission and raced to Athens. He reached that city exhausted. As the people crowded around him, he gasped out, "Rejoice. We conquer." And fell dead.

The great race of the Olympic Games is now held in his honor. The distance run is 26 miles and 385 yards, the distance from Marathon to Athens. It is a gruelling test, and only the very strongest men compete in it.

The Marathon race, however, did not become a part of the Olympic Games until 1896, when they were resurrected, as it were, from their ancient past and were made a part of the life of the world today. Those great Games themselves are thousands of years old. They were held in Olympia, a beautiful wooded valley in Greece, surrounded by snow-capped mountain peaks, in honor of Zeus.

How long ago those youths of Greece ran races, wrestled, or threw the discus to give honor to Zeus, is not known. But as far back as 776 B. C. the Greeks began to keep a record of the victors in the Olympic Games, and that date marks the beginning of real history for Greece. The games were held every four years. The four years between the games constituted an Olympiad.

At first only Greeks were permitted to compete. But after Greece had been conquered by Rome, the Romans also were allowed to take part. They were held uninterruptedly every four years until 394 A. D. when for some reason or other the Roman emperor Theodosius forbade them.

No one thought anything more about them then until in 1878 the ruins of the stadium where the games had been held, were excavated. People began looking up the history of those ruins, too, and began wondering why some of the glory that was Greece could not be duplicated in modern times.

Finally in 1896 some of the finest young athletes in the world met in Athens, in a modern revival of the Olympic Games. The Marathon race, which had been added to the contests, was fittingly won by a young Greek, S. Loues. The athletes compete, not for money, but for glory and honor, as the Greek youths did. But any winner in any Olympic contest today, even as in the days thousands of years ago, is a world hero.

Today athletes from every nation in the world may enter, not from only one nation. And the sportsmanship evinced, the fact that young people from everywhere can play together, makes the Olympic Games the great factor in world peace. If we can play together, say those young folks, why can't we work and live together?

They played together in London, the youth from 61 nations of the world, the past few weeks in the games of the 14th Olympiad which ended last Saturday. They were planning to play together again four years from now in the 15th Olympiad with Helsinki, Finland, as the host. Why—why do we, the common people of the world, who love play, and who want to work and live together as neighbors all, why do we permit our leaders to talk of war, to smear us with suspicion, to create fear within us, to arouse hatred of each other?

We can play square in our work as well as in play. And if we the common people really want that atmosphere of peace and abundance, we can have it. In work as well as play. In Congress as well as in the Olympic Games.

W. J. Wheaton Says

Politics, and POLITICS!! The caldron has begun to boil. Three political parties last week invaded the Capital city of California. Sacramento was the scene of three political parties; two major and one minor, and one other baby, Phoribition, failed to register. The minor baby, Independent Progressives, was a pretty husky babe, and did not lack lung power. Their platforms, with a few local exceptions, were replicas of the national platitudes. When President Truman called the 80th Congress back he gave them a program including the Civil Rights Bill with other emergency measures. The GOPs, believing that the anti-Poll Tax would be less controversial than any of the other civil rights measures, brought it up for consideration.

Thereupon the Dixiecrats inflated their bellows for a filibuster and a fight for States Rights. They nominated their relay team and proceeded to elucidate. A half-hearted motion for cloture was termed out of order by the presiding officer of the Senate (Vandergrift, GOP, Mich.). The GOP platform is loud in its championship for civil rights and equal opportunity for all citizens, irrespective of race or origin of birth. If the party of "LINCOLN?" was sincere in its platform declaration it would have made, at least, a gesture toward its fulfillment. But, as this column has so frequently said, "The declarations of the GOP, in regards to the fulfillment of its promises for equal citizenship, as far as one minority group is concerned, has been, and is now, a lot of phooey."

There's an old Chinese saying: "Fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me."

For the life of me! it is hard to believe that one can be fooled for the past fifty or more years and feel the blush of shame when the same political presidigitator comes up with the same old trick, political legedermain.

It is an acknowledged fact that there is the Negro Esau. The pseudo leader who places the Mess of Pottage above principle. They are legion. More numerous than the "Spies" named by the ex-Communist, Miss Benchley. We think that lady has the vivid imagination of a Baron Munchausen to list so many, prominent in governmental circles, as disloyal to their government. Why wait until now to bring up imaginary happenings, of more than a decade? "The Devil was sick; the Devil a Monk would be. The Devil was well, A Devil a Monk was he." It took a long time for the Devil in this case to have a change of heart. To even think that many of the men named would be disloyal to their government, and spy in the interest of an alien power, is mere idiocy. What would be the incentive? This un-American, disloyal scare is becoming a matter of political hysteria. The GOPs are taking time by the forelock; that is, as far as opening their campaign is concerned.

Governor Warren, GOP candidate for the vice presidency, has started already on a campaign speaking tour that will carry him across the country from coast to coast. He intends to confer with his chief, Gov. Dewey, and plan their campaign strategy. Say what you will . . . It's a thousand to one they can't win . . . but the Progressive party is causing many a political headache, and that in spite of the incubus of communism which majority parties are trying to burden them with.

The Diviecrat State Righters are such a nonentity that they are not even considered. It is doubtful that their candidates will carry their home states. By the way, we are rather anxious to learn the outcome of the South Carolina tift. Since the Negro is given his vote, which is essentially Democratic, he has the means to select the lesser of the two evils. We were talking, recently, to a young man whose home is in Charlotte, S. C., and he said that now that the Negro has a vote, he is going to return. He says that the rumor that all white people in that section are Negro haters and intolerant is not so. There are many who deplore the fiendish acts perpetrated and are as fearful of their existence as are the Negro. Since so many of us have seen service against the Japs and Germans, the burning of the Fiery Cross means nothing any more, he said.

San Francisco is in the throes of a redevelopment plan which will affect any number of the Negro home owners as well as any number of whites in the lower income bracket. As we have before stated, under the guise of redevelopment, the realtors, as well as the politicos, are trying to create a segregated district near the Hunters Point, a part of the city near the south bay. We learn that there are a number of our Negro realtors who are encouraging that move. We are of the opinion that segregated districts create a Ghetto and Ghettos are breeders of disease and crime.

We have seen many cases of segregated areas and never have we seen that district kept within the bounds of sanitary decency.

We have, right here in San Francisco, obvious evidence of that condition in the congested Fillmore area. The sanitary conditions are deplorable and there are many sections of that area that is a menace to health. True it is that many of the tenants in

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

There'll be a great camp meeting shortly when some of the best brains and brawn of this confused nation will meet to endure internment for the duration of the war that is brewing in a dozen different cauldrons throughout the land. Consider for a moment the long list of un-American Americans who must be counted out for all practical purposes during the next waltz with death. Imagine the wide sweep of the witch's broom being wielded by Elizabeth Bentley, and evaluate, if you can, the significance of a Russian woman's jump from the window of the Soviet Embassy in New York.

Recall, with some trepidation, that whole unions have been written off as un-American, and remember that the best rank and file leadership of labor is set down in the records as pro-Russian, and it comes to you naturally that somebody in these United States has got to do a whale of a public relations job before we drop the first atom bomb on the Russians, otherwise we'll be embarking on this blood bath with divided forces. It won't work too well this time to try the old hocus-pocus with words about us being on God's side, or God being on our side, because there are too many Americans who are asking, "Why not bring God into it now, before the shooting starts?"

What is there about the American ideal that makes criticism of the present fascist military leadership intolerable in the minds of some people? Since it is possible for a Board of Real Estate Brokers, working only for dollar profits, to propose an amendment to the constitution that will make it possible to exclude a man from living in certain sections of the country because of his color, then certainly it is permissible for that man and his friends to band together to oppose that proposition and all other propositions that make race and color and religion a penalty in this land of vaunted democracy.

How do the militarists plan to mobilize the labor forces they have divided so cynically? Will they separate the workers in the war plants according to their adherence, or failure of adherence to the Thomas-Tenney-Clarke line, or will they manufacture their instruments of death by using only the skill of those who are not, or never have been, nor ever thought of being members of a certain 142 organizations? It is doubtful that the labor forces now in disfavor with the reactionaries, will readily forgive the devastating smear programs they are presently enduring.

Where are the forces of moral and spiritual leadership? Where indeed! They must be on the side of those who favor peace or they are bankrupt, yet they dare not speak openly for peace, for in so doing, they will be speaking on the side that is unpopular. The pulpits of the nation will unite when war comes to tell our bewildered youth how to march against the enemy with courage and the full knowledge that our prayers go with them, but is there no prayer that can be said now to prevent the coming war? Peace should be the preoccupation of every sincere leader these days; there is no consideration of greater value.

That great camp meeting that must come should we go to war, need not happen if we get together now and open an unending camp meeting dedicated to peace; a camp meeting of all Americans of all races and creeds, with no divisions, based simply on brotherhood, which is greater in meaning and practice than Americanism and democracy combined.

Little Lessons In Democracy

By PAUL FRENCH

In recent days the "spy" melodrama being shown for free by the Rankin-Thomas Un-American Committee has added a new act, entitled "Who Kidnapped Whom?" or "The Mystery of the Missing School Teachers."

All the horrible details have appeared in the mad-dog newspapers. No need to repeat them here. But there is need to point out some other details which make the story look differently than the accepted anti-Soviet propaganda.

Anti-Soviet propaganda isn't anything new. For years it has been trying to make Americans believe that the Soviet people hate their government. But that particular lie is refuted by the magnificent heroism of millions of Russians whom everyone knows fought with exceeding bravery to defend their government during World War II. This all-important fact is not refuted by another, but less important fact, that, among the some 200,000,000 people of the Soviet Union, there are a few who don't like it, or who are gullible fools and could be bribed by promises of an easy life in America, to turn against their country.

These school teachers seem to belong to the latter type. And at least the man teacher, Samarin, was coaxed to do so, by anti-Soviet ("white") Russians, who, it is plain, were helped by American government officials. The woman, 50-year-old Kosenkina (and by her age we know she was a relic of old Czarist Russia) seems to have a slightly different role.

First, induced by "friendly" persuasion to go to the "White" Russian camp 30 miles from New York, she very clearly regretted having done so. Or why did she then write a letter to the Soviet Consul telling where she was and asking to be rescued? But, when this was done, she, a simple-minded and evidently timid person, was made the center of a great international brawl. Crowds gathered outside the house, newspaper headlines shouted her name as mixed up with spies, the radio blared every 15 minutes that she was sought by American police with writs demanding her to appear in court. Above all, she was under subpoena to appear in Washington before a committee of Congress, to be questioned about spying.

If you put yourself in her place, and consider yourself an old American lady, who had been in Moscow, and had also been subjected to all this terrific uproar and called upon to appear before a Soviet high government committee to be questioned about anything at all, you will begin to understand how, after having made her first mistake in being coaxed to go to the "White" Russian camp, Kosenkina became frightened at everything and everybody and wanted to end it all by killing herself.

One can understand this complicated affair only by understanding a lot more affairs; particularly the spy system of the U. S. government, exposed last week, and accused by Dorothy Thompson (L. A. News, April 17) of "conspiracy, terrorism, lies, plots, star-chamber courts, dynamitings, murders and kidnappings."

For months now, the U. S. spy system has been trying to find some Russians who would "seek refuge" from the Soviet Union. They badly needed such a story to take the curse off the bad impression left by American citizens, one after another, both men and women, leaving their jobs at the American embassy in Moscow, and telling the world that they would rather renounce American citizenship and live in the Soviet Union, than return to the land of lynch law and Rankin "democracy."

U. S. spies tried this game of kidnapping once before, and got the British to help. That story sheds a great light on the kidnapping of these school teachers, and is so well-verified that it absolutely proves what is behind all this uproar in New York and Washington. Just listen:

Several months ago, a Soviet army officer, one Lieutenant Colonel Tassoyev, on duty as part of the occupation force in Germany, was approached by an American named Clem, who had business relations with Tassoyev.

Clem was supervisor of the Port of Bremen, Germany, and Clem "made friends" with Tassoyev. On April 23, Clem invited Tassoyev to come to Clem's house for supper. Tassoyev accepted what he thought was a friendly invitation. But, when he got inside Clem's house, he found no "supper." Instead, he was seized by several British "intelligence" officers, put in handcuffs, loaded on a Royal Air Force plane and taken to London.

There, at 16-23 Bishop King's Road, in a flat leased by the British War Office Intelligence from a woman named Mrs. Wiggin (all this is proven by records), Lieutenant Colonel Tassoyev finally got — not supper — but breakfast. He also got something else, he got many beatings because he kept refusing to agree to play the role of a "refugee from Soviet tyranny." In short, Tassoyev couldn't be bribed by fine promises, like the school teacher Samarin, to renounce his Soviet homeland.

After 10 days or so, Lieutenant Colonel Tassoyev escaped from his kidnappers, and, not knowing anything about London, he walked around till he reached the Olympic Exhibition grounds, where, at loss to know what else to do, he started shouting to passersby that he was a Soviet army officer, and demanding to be taken to the Soviet embassy at once.

Police and reporters came running. Reporters from the Yorkshire Post, the Daily Mail, the Daily Telegraph and the Morning Post, all saw Tassoyev at this time, and wrote up the story. But, on the heels of the police, came Tassoyev's kidnappers, the British spies who, with the help of the American, Clem, had kidnapped him in Bremen. They wouldn't allow the police to take Tassoyev to the Soviet embassy. No, they kidnapped him all over again.

Only, this time, seeing that the whole thing was coming out in the newspapers, the kidnappers gave up the game as a bad job and flew Tassoyev to Berlin, where he was sent into the Soviet zone.

That kidnapping is all a matter of record, and even came up in the House of Commons, where Member of Parliament Blackburn demanded an investigation on June 9, this year. But Foreign Minister Bevin dodged the question. Bevin said: "I get a lot of these cases; cases will crop up, and I cannot have a prolonged inquiry into every case."

This seemed to promise more kidnappings. And there were more. Only, this time, they came in New York. But the kidnapping of Lieutenant Colonel Tassoyev explains the motive behind all this uproar about the school teachers. Tassoyev, although beaten by the British, refused to pose as a "voluntary" refugee. The school teachers, evidently, were easier prey, were coaxed by people who spoke Russian, their native tongue, and were of the breed who can be bribed.

But it would be highly dangerous if anybody gets the idea that the Soviet people as a whole want to be "rescued" by armed force, and therefore a nice little war against the Soviet Union would be a push-over. There are lots more Tassoyevs in the USSR than there are Samarins.

That coterie of young women, the Carpe Deims, are to be congratulated on their efforts toward civic betterment and the interest taken in the public welfare of the community. We wish there were others of the same type.

We have a very nice letter from the three Mary Anns, and will, with their permission, give a few excerpts next week. There are some very interesting things in it.

Roach Goes to Sea Bottom for Economy

Supervisor Leonard J. Roach says that Davey Jones doesn't get everything that goes down to the sea in old ships.

Systematic salvage of over-age ships headed for the scrap heap often results in bargains to the County, he reveals in a report released today.

Giving an example, Roach says that much of the kitchen equipment in the Long Beach County General Hospital was taken from dismantled over-age ships. The equipment had been installed on old ships which were put in service during the war to transport troops.

Roach says that in one instance the County paid only about $4,000 for almost new ship's equipment which had a value of over $13,000. Included in the purchase were sterilizers, 40 to 80 gallon kettles, stainless steel sink cabinets, and work benches and tables.

problems of all kinds, and sex education. No child psychology is done, except in the case of adolescents. Testing in the vocational and psychological fields is done for clients desiring this service.

Mrs. Branson comes into the field well prepared, having received her pre-medical training at Boise College, Boise, Idaho, Denver University, and University of Utah. Her advanced work was taken at Pasadena Nazarene College, and is being continued at UCLA, where she will be a student this fall.

In spite of being totally blind, Mrs. Branson passed her counselling certification examination with the highest score in the western division area. She has opened her offices on Saturday to the Adolescent Clinic being sponsored by the United Colored Women's Clubs, for parents and youth whose problems need the attention of counsellors. Assisting with the clinic work on the special Saturday service, are Dr. Mary E. Horment, Dr. O. F. Okada, Dr. Carl Dent, and Dr. Elain F. Loh.

Mrs. Branson is married to Ralph J. Branson, also blind, who is taking training at UCLA to qualify in this field also. The Bransons have two daughters—Lyn, six years old, and Sharon Ray, three and one-half. In spite of the handicaps involved in this family, they have continued with their schooling ,and both intend to take their Ph.D. with a psychology major. Mrs. Branson is 32, while her husband is 43.

tained by Mattie Comfort, wife of the noted bass player, set aside.

Previously, Mrs. Comfort had been awarded all of the community property and attorney's fees and court costs. The order setting this forth was nullified Monday when Attorney Wright appearing as counsel for Joseph Comfort, argued that the court in which Mrs. Comfort was awarded the decree did not have jurisdiction because of the lack of proper service of the summons and complaint on Joseph Comfort.

Attorney Wright won a reversal for his client on a point that is usually a difficult one to prove. His success in this case is one of a long string of victories achieved recently. As for Joseph Comfort, he's on a tour up North with the King Cole Trio, and he's really travelling in comfort too.

on a decisive campaign against Sears with picket lines every Friday night, the passing of leaflets, telephone protests to the management, postcard protests, petitions and mass meetings. At one time as many as 300 pickets were on the line.

Sears fought back with divide and conquer and red-baiting tactics. Confusion was created among the Negro supporters of the campaign, and Barnes was influenced to repudiate left-wing support. The Council passed an anti-picketing ordinance, enabling police to interfere with and break up picket lines. Some intimidation was effected.

Sears sought and obtained a court injunction against the picketing, and charged the United Committee charges were false. They claimed 11 Negro employes out of a total of 300. They did not indicate that the eleven Negroes were janitors and cleaning people—not clerks and cashiers.

Wide support was given the campaign by trade union, church and community organizations. Press support came chiefly from the California Eagle and the labor press. Sears' present activity in the courts indicate the campaign is getting results, and prospective customers have signed pledges not to buy at Sears aSnta Monica until the hiring policy is revised to include Negroes in a higher category.

Shanghai and Yokohama, humanity actually had become as animal life—begging, stealing, crawling for food, filthy with disease and rotting away.

Our young American lad learned much about what is responsibile for such conditions. He was but a short time in the service of the Merchant Marine before he learned the whole story that made the background for what he saw in these countries and the growing depression in his own.

On the ships that plied trade between our country and Europe, big profits were made by the ship owners while starvation wages and the worse sort of living accommodations and food were allowed the seamen. He also discovered that Negroes who found their way into the service were singled out for the indignities others received and persecution by way of discrimination added.

Billy Farrell who had left home in search of a better world believed that something could be done to correct these evils that were destroying the peace by dividing the races and nations; making the poor, poorer, and the rich, richer. But the workman himself, he thought, would have to do it.

His second visit to San Francisco brought him in contact with other seaman who were thinking as he was... that something would have to begin for better or worse. Billy heard that there was a man called Harry Bridges who was organizing a seaman's strike for higher wages. He investigated and found that all of the workmen on the docks along the West Coast were ready for action and the East, on a slower scale, was being pressed for action.

Bridges, he thought, was a bundle of dynamite. The men who left the ships and struck were truly on short rations and as winter approached they shivered from the cold winds and hunger that swept over them. But they did not give up the fight.

When the bosses found that these workers had reached the cracking point in endurance and were determined to get their earnings a wage that would provide sufficient food and clothing for themselves and their families, a barrage by the shipowners and the Wall Street bankers broke loose.

Foremost among the strikeleaders who encouraged the men to stick by the fight was Billy Farrell. He went from dock to dock encouraging the men and saying that through such mas action only, could they win the fight for a better life.

He also pointed out that there should be no difference in the treatment and wage for Negro workers. As the battle waged the men became more determined to win the fight. Equally determined were the shipowners to break the strike and keep the workmen in starvation.

After every effort to break the will of the people's determination to better their working and living conditions failed there was that last resort. The bosses appeal to the outside sensitive world... this is a Communist inspired trick to confuse you, they said over the radios and in the metropolitan newspapers.

But the people were hungry. They are not yet satisfied. Though this fight for survival was slated by Billy Farrell and other American workers back in 1932, the victory is not yet completely won.

If America is to survive as a free democratic nation it will have to recognize the rights of the people—the Jew and the Gentile, the White Americans alike. The fight started when Billy Farrell went to sea, goes on and on. Home Is The Sailor is dedicated to a good life, FOR ALL THE CHILDREN, OUR OWN AND ALL THE OTHERS.

knocked from the bench upon which he was seated by Brownie and while he was on the floor Alston twice kicked him in the rectum.

As a result of the wound inflicted upon him hospitalization became necessary. Doctors have told Willis that he will suffer with intestinal trouble throughout his life. After three weeks in the hospital he is still being treated for the inch and a half hole in his rectum.

Willis charges that Alston was the most cruel of the officers involved and that Alston continued to hit him after he was bleeding. This is the first arrest for Willis and this he did not resist.

Willis is one of three suspects in the murder of Arthur Jordon. John Malone, a cousin of Willis', stated that he heard two shots fired in the apartment next to his and which was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jordan. Then he saw Richard Willis and Mrs. Jordan leave the apartment together. However, Mrs. Jordan says that she doesn't know who murdered her husband as her eyes were clouded.

Willis is an employer at Grayson Heat control, 300 Imperial Highway, Lynwood, as a metal finisher. Attorney Earl Broady, noted criminal lawyer, is representing the cases of Mrs. Arthur Jordan and Richard Willis.

charges during the first six months of this year. According to evidence in possession of the Federal rent agency, Anderson obtained rentals amounting to 300 to 400% of the legal rent after he took over the property at 340-340½ Western Avenue, Long Beach, while giving receipts for smaller amounts.

John W. Johnson, 2259 N. Gower Street, Los Angeles, is being sued for $500 in overcharges during the past two years on three apartments at 2261-5 North Gower.

Mrs. Rae Lander, 2608 Wellington Road, Los Angeles, owner of a rooming house at 2403 S. Grand Avenue, is being sued for $567.55 in over-ceiling rentals she charged six tenants during the past year. According to one tenant's statement, Mrs. Lander coerced her into returning her original rent receipts and issued her new ones indicating that the rent was being paid on a daily, rather than a weekly, basis.

Thomas and Mary Bosio, 1803 South Ivar Avenue, Rosemead, are sued for $315 in overcharges for rent during the past eight months on an apartment over a garage in rear of their home.

John N. Dovalis, 635 Flint Street, Long Beach, is sued for $270 in overcharges on an apartment at 812 E. 4th street, Long Beach, during the past two years. The tenant alleges that Dovalis required him to supplement his rent payments with checks marked "For Cash," which in reality represented over-ceiling charges.

Joseph H. Gordon, 4633 Russell avenue, Los Angeles, is being sued for $220 in overcharges on two apartments at 4614 and 4618½ Hollywood Boulevard, Hollywood, during 1946-6 to 1948.

Lizzie Jones, 932 Hemlock street, Los Angeles, is sued for $442.50 overcharges on a rear house at that address during the past four years.

Ralph Monkarsh, 1777 South Ogden Drive, Los Angeles, is sued for $1151 in overcharges on ten cabins at 1726 East Slauson avenue, Los Angeles, where, according to the agency, he attempted to put rents on a daily basis at nearly twice the former rental by styling the property a "motor court."

According to investigators' reports, tenants received no linens, laundry service, nor utilities, the cabins were virtually unfurnished, no parking was provided, and other features of a motor court as provided in the rent law were lacking. OHE also asks the Federal court to halt a series of evictions being sought by Monkarsh and asks that he be restrained from further violations of the rent law.

men who were patrolling the neighborhood in a squad car, and was asked his name, address, and where he was coming from. He couldn't show any identification because his wallet with the identification had been lost the day before. Then the interrogating officer asked a most insulting and personal question, which Mr. Smith refused to answer.

The officer who had remained in the car, then came to the aid of the one asking the questions, and together they began using force. Mr. Smith was struck twice in the solar plexus. When he fell to the ground, he was told he would be kicked in the mouth if he didn't answer. At this point a lady and gentleman called from the window of the house before which the struggle was taking place, and asked the policemen to quit beating the man.

Mr. Smith was then hustled into the police car, and without his knowledge was written up on the charge of suspicion of burglary, taken to the University Police Station where he was booked on this charge, carried upstairs to a small room where he was struck on the jaw by another policeman who suggested that he be given another working over.

For 36 hours he remained in a cell and was not permitted to send out a phone call, although he asked each jailer on each shift to make the call for him. This in spite of the fact that a property slip is given each inmate taken to jail that his jailer will make phone calls for him of a business nature, if requested to do so. The call of Mr. Smith was to be to his superior officer, stating his predicament.

Before being released, Mr. Smith was photographed both from a frontal and a lateral view, given a number, and his picture placed in the rogues gallery of the Los Angeles Police Department.

"During the 28 months of my employment at the Veterans Administration," says Mr. Smith, "I have held responsible positions, and I have been absent from work only five times because of illness. My economic security and that of my two children depends upon my maintaining an unblemished social record. On each employment application, a person is required to state if he has ever been arrested and the reason for that arrest. You can see exactly how reluctant any personnel manager would be to hire anyone whose record carried the stigma "suspicion of burglary."

Mr. Smith has served 9 months as personnel officer in the Army in domestic service, and 24 months in foreign service. He was awarded a certificate of merit for displaying exceptional administrative ability. He graduated with an A.B. degree in 1938 from Fisk Uunversity, and received an M.A. degree from the University of Iowa in 1940. He worked for his Ph.D. degree at the University of Southern California, and has two years chalked up to his credit, 1940-42.

Mr. Smith is the only Negro employed as a counselor by the Veterans Administration Center at Sawtelle. He has written to Helen Gahagan Douglas, member of Congress from the 14th District, asking for aid in redressing his grievances.

The Road to Healt

"You probably think I was silly to call you in," Mrs. Anderson apologized, "but now that it's summer, I'm terrified of infantile paralysis. When June said her neck felt stiff, I lost no time in phoning you."

"On the contrary, Mrs. Anderson, you did the right thing," I told her. "The child has nothing serious, but a stiff neck is a frequent symptom in infantile paralysis. Well relieve that neck, and don't worry about it."

I could understand how Mrs. Anderson felt when six-year-old June became sick. I admired her foresight in sending for me promptly when she suspected infantile paralysis (also called poliomyelitis, or just simply "polio"). Like all mothers, she dreaded the thought that her child might have this disease and be left a cripple. Although we still have no known specific cure for polio, prompt treatment under medical advice can prevent or make less serious the crippling that polio sometimes causes.

Many people think that polio means the person who gets it will always be crippled, but that's not so. More than half those attacked by the disease never suffer weakened muscles or paralysis. And among those whose muscles are paralyzed, more than half recover without serious crippling.

June's mother wanted to know if June couldn't be given some shots to keep her from getting polio. I told her no, but that while we do not have a vaccine against polio like we do against smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, there are a few precautions parents can take for a child's protection in a community where cases are occurring.

Children who have been playing so hard they are all tired out are mroe likely to get the paralyzing form of the disease than those who have not been allowed to get exhauste have plenty of rest. W know that sudden chill w a person's resistance to sease. So it is unwise to cold water too long or to into icy water after being hot sun. Swimming in polluted water is always ous.

When polio occurs in munity, doctors advise ing tonsil and adenoid tions because children more susceptible to a form of polio infection time of and for a whil these operations. During epidemic, it is also sens keep children out of crow away from any sick child, it is thought the child ha a cold."

Any parent who has the est suspicion of polio in child should call the do once. Among the first sym are headache, fever, upse ach, or a cold. The child be put in bed in a room b self and be kept as quiet sible. The most important however, is to consult th tor without delay.

The Eastside Veterans have been operating for about three years on a voluntary fee basis and, according to a spokesman, seeking to obtain a franchise for their more than thirty cabs operated by some seventy-five drivers. Difficulties, which according to the spokesman, arise out of racial considerations, have plagued the Vets, and they have sought to make a living by circumventing the law.

Andrew Willis, Van Coleman and Brink Ley, operate the Cab company and they express themselves as being willing to comply with the law and obtain a franchise if one is made available to them.

Information received from the offices of the Board by the California Eagle indicates that the Board is anxious to cooperate with the Vets, and has been waiting for three years for them to come back to act on an application made previously. The requirements for a franchise are stated in printed matter handed out by the Board, and it is only necessary for the operators to qualify, according to Mr. Levehart of the Board. One of the several operators of unauthorized cabs on the Eastside told a California Eagle reporter that a franchise would be obtained if the various operators would get together and cooperate to that end.

calling attention to the unwarranted firing of the seventeen County employees and the buck passing tactics of the Supervisors in announcing the responsibility for hearings for reinstatement as a matter to be considered by the Civil Service Commission.

The picketers carried a huge scroll urging the rescinding of the loyalty check and the reinstatement of the seventeen dismissed employees. Several observers signed the scroll. Photographers, believed present for the purpose of intimidating the pickets, took unauthorized photographs.

The Board of Supervisors decided that the seventeen dismissed employees will be given a hearing by the Civil Service Commission on September 23 at 9:30 a.m. It was pointed out that there is some irregularity present in the circumstances where it is possible for the Board of Supervisors to determine when the Civil Service Commission shall hear appeals for employees that were dismissed by the Supervisors themselves.

The United Committee has for its foundation most of the County employees who refused to sign the loyalty pledge, those who signed part of it, and those who signed all of it under protest.

Mexico Honeymoon Follows Brilliant Ceremony Uniting Gloria Bunch - Stan Malone

Before an altar formed of celestial candelabras and a beautiful background of white flowers and fern, the former Miss Gloria Bunch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bunch became the bride of Stanley Malone, at the home of her parents in Pasadena. The Rev. Robert Hill of Scotts Methodist church officiated the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A quiet simplicity reigned at the ceremony, that was attended by members of the bride's family, the bridegroom's family and a few close friends. Following the singing of bridal hymns "Because" and "Through the Years," the bridegroom, attended by best man, James Gordan, took their respective places, wearing dark suits with matching grey ties.

The bride's younger sister, Lulu Marie Bunch, then entered wearing a gown of pink eyelet with matching hat. Her bouquet was an array of colorful summer blossoms.

The bride chose a gown of white eyelet featuring a slight Bertha, and full length train. She carried a prayer book, covered with gardenias, Stephnotis and Lily of the Valley. Her hat was of eyelet, with tulle streamers. The ceremony was double-ring.

The wedding reception followed with more than 200 guests attending. The yards of the Pasadena Residence were inclosed in a canopy making a perfect setting for the serving hostesses, who were led by Mrs. Jacqueline Bailey, and Mrs. Ramona Penn,

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

A WANING SUMMER finds our dear ole southland at an all high with social events of every description. Interesting visitors will always be reason enough for key hosts to put out the welcome mat, doing honor to the sojourner. So went a goodly part of the activity on the week-end calendar. To start with, Vivian Wilson, petite brown skinned member of the L. A. Police Department, doffed the badge and uniform, for a smart cocktail ensemble Saturday during the twilight hours, and played the part of a most charming hostess at a Champaign fete, that paved the way for a smart circle of Angelenos to meet the lovely Claudia Jackson, who hailed from Birmingham, Alabama, and was appropriately garbed in a strapless creation, just for the affair. All of the chatter, and what have you, took place around the blue blue swimming pool that centers the rambling grounds of the Cris Wrights home. Umbrelled tables, added a colorful note to the fete, that was gay with chatter and bubbling champagne. By the way, Herbie Swanigan, Vivian's brother, along with Bill Benfield and another gent, served the ladies in attendance, whose names ran on this order—Helen Jenkins, smart in black satin; AKA's Lucille Bonnette, Mrs. Nat Cole, who has a winning personality and very good taste in dress; Evelyn Green, whom we hadn't seen in ages; Angelle Stratton spending most of the time chatting with Helen Wright and sister, Hazel Lyons. Clara Fentress, with more dash than a "Powers Model," wearing a very frenchy black and tan outfit, bespeaking success as a top designer, Helen Maupin, Jean Watkins, Lillian Birkbeck. Charming school marm, Hortense Allweine, Nancy Harris, who made a very late entrance, Gloria Amour, and we could go on naming, for it was quite an affair....

T'was a joint birthday celebration at Hazel Washington's abode Saturday, and all was quite informal as the noted leather craft artist shared the natal observance with a well known 4th estater of the Chicago Defender, Lucious Harper. The out of town visitors were just as plentiful as local well wishers. Crystal Malone, who made her way to the Angel City to attend the marriage of her brother Stanley and Gloria Bunch, was there with Catherine Garcia, a former Washingtonian. Gladys Peoples, Louise Beavers, Libby Clark, who by the way, entertained in honor of the visiting Harpers at her Montclair home a few days ago helped to make the guest list. Understand it was quite a jolly celebration. Many happy returns of the day....

Still on the same evening, the Phi Beta Sigma entertainment reached a finale. The Iota Phi Lambda's local chapter gave the affair and the scene of the fun fest, was Nadine Cole's hill top home. Nadine, who has won the heart of the local set, was quite the gracious hostess. The Sigmas, who had a very successful

Freda DeKnight Pioneers As Foods Authority

Press parties, autograph sessions and all the fan fare that goes with the launching of a new book, has been enjoyed by Mrs. Rene DeKnight, better known as Freda DeKnight, foods editor and leading Negro authority on the art of cooking. The charming young foods editor of Ebony Magazine has pioneered in the field and has blazed a trail that will make it much easier for future young food experts of color.

Mrs. DeKnight's grandest contribution was made a few months ago, when "Date With a Dish" was published by the Hermitage Press in New York City. On the publishing date, the main offices of this nationally and internationally famous publishing house was decorated with flowers from well wishers, and crowded with foods experts of all leading publications to give the book "Date With a Dish", its proper sendoff, and to let its author know the sentiment of her colleagues.

Mrs. DeKnight, who is schooled in the art of cooking and has taught in various institutions throughout the country, is solely interested in seeing to it that the universal idea of Negro cooks, is changed from the "Greens and corn bred" stereotype, to the many other dishes that have been made famous by cooks of color. Her more than 2,000 recipes hail from all parts of the U.S.A. The book "Date With a Dish" has answered a great need for a non-regional cook book with recipes and menus from and by Negros from all parts of the country and not just the south. Freda DeKnight didn't just think up the contents of "Date With a Dish" over night, the thought has been with her since she was a little girl helping her adopted parents, Paul and Mamie Scott cater parties in Mid-Western States. It took this thought 20 years to develop. These years included testing, tasting and collecting of recipes.

During Mrs. DeKnight's stay in Los Angeles, she has been honored by the Metropolitan press, has lectured at the Brown Derby and has been interviewed over several radio shows.

"Date With a Dish" marks the first book to be written by Freda, however, our own Golden State Insurance, was the first to publish some of her recipes in book form, when last year, the pamphlet on "Golden Cooking Hints" was given its subscribers.

We should all feel proud of Freda DeKnight, author and food authority, for she has done, and is doing a grand job of blazing a trail. To date, she is the one recognized Negro food's authority in the country. You will find her eager to help others in the field, for she considers her whole job a mission for the people.

The book "Date With a Dish" can be found in the book store of J. W. Robinson and other leading book stores downtown. In the community the Hugh Gordon Book Shop.

Freda DeKnight's "A Date With a Dish" takes a critical stand in saying it's unfair to assume that Negro cooks, chefs, caterers and house wives understand only the Southern fried chicken and hot bread school of cooking.

Climax to Gay L. A. Visit Luncheon Proves Fitting

As a fitting climax to their leisurely vacation in the Northwest and West before turning their faces eastward toward home, a group of visiting ladies had a gabby afternoon of holiday casualness with luncheon and coffee hosted by Alice Kennedy Jacobs, assisted by her aunt, Mrs. Emily Lobbins, and by her great friend, Mrs. Homer Dean.

Pineapple roasted ham was the piece-de-resistance of the copious buffet, with frequent replenishments of tiny hot biscuits and pots of hot coffee. Coolers and stingers were optional, and cabana-like simplicity available only at the kitchen sink.

The honorees, two teachers from St. Louis, Miss Juanita Stokes, who had included a six weeks summer session at U. S. C., and Miss Mercedes Cunningham, and seven others who were so glad to be away from it all, namely: Mrs. Rex Armstrong, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Charlie Wright, Mrs. Mary C. Smith, and Mrs. Lillian H. Boyd, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Martha V. Clarke, of St. Louis, the charming and youthful mother of Mercedes, who always shares her daughter's vacations, and Mrs. Mame Mucker of Pasadena, hostess to the Chicago group.

convention, rated this ingathering a perfect climax. Iota girls, Ruth Mars, Doris Galloway, Evelyn Brown, Marion Jackson, Lucille Reynolds, to name a few, were much in evidence seeing to it that their many guests enjoyed the evening.

ALL FOR CHARITY

In the annals of charity, and more charity affairs, I know of none any more successful than the Turnabout Charity Club's benefit cocktail party last Sunday evening. J. T. Gipson, was perfect as a master of ceremonies, and the talent was highlighted by the singing of Joe Turner, wiht Happy Johnson's orchestra in the background, Pretty Suzette Harbin, another noted figure who does her all for sweet charity, made an appearance, along with gents from the Slim "G" Trio, Kitty Bilbrew White and a host of ohers. The main project of the Turnabout club is to send youngsters to camp. Proceeds from the Sunday event will be used for the late summer camping before school opens. More than 400 guests milled in and out of the lovely residence, 1919 S. Harvard Blvd. Caught a glimpse of Symanthia Hester, who was wearing her fall outfit of 'warm brown' topped by a fur scarf. Lillian Lomax was introducing her visiting cousins from New York, Velma Lockley, Clif and Bill Allen. Had a bit of hello chatter with Harold Faulkner, Bert Kenner and Joe Green, who helped the turnabouts by donning aprons and juggling the cocktail shakers. From the young deb realm, came Vivian Townes, Johnnie Delgardo, Stanley Robertson, Sally Jones, Betty Linley, to name a few. Turnabouters, Betsy Green, Hariette P. Johnson, Jane Hampton, Mel Blocker, Ruth Kenner and the rest were as busy as bees, selling much script. The Ernest Browns, wearing twin suits, dashed in for a quick swing around the dance floor, while Windy Golden and Bill Holland, spent the evening, going over old times with friends. Betty Alston's mother, Mrs. Yarbrough was making introductions of her new daughter-in-law. Sara Jones and Leonard Grimes were much in evidence as was Fay Hopkins and Clyde Grimes. Getting a last fling before making his way back to the Berkeley Campus of Cal U., was Chester Hill, Roy Loggins, who just returned from a trip to N. Y. and other points East, was the gent of the evening, along with Leonard Beavers, Dan Ferniel, Robert Wilson. Believe me, the affair was so well attended and so very gay, it's hard to give you the high points, so we will leave the Benefit by saying it was one big high point with a very good cause. The Turnabouts way, the club charter will soon be back from Sacramento, marking the charity organization one of the first, in the realm of younger charity clubs to obtain a charter.

Speaking of benefits and the like, the new Mother's League will take over at Ralphe Porter's Casa Raphael on Sunday with a benefit fashion show. Mrs. Leslie King Sr., will show several gowns from the Philippines along with her exclusive New York designs. Julian Dempsy will be featuring some of his fall creations. Little Teddy Vaughn, Gloria's pride and joy, will show what the Nursery School Miss will be wearing next season.

Mrs. Velva Henderson, wife of the noted Rev. J. R. Henderson of Second Baptist, has turned her hobby of millinery, into a real business line. A very exclusive showing on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson, will mark her debut. More than 20 originals will be presented, they will be colorful and tremendously wearable for fall and winter. The following Sunday, the public at large will get a glimpse of the Velva Originals when she shows them in a church sponsored review.

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

Looking around the other day to find that youths, my forgotten proteges, are enjoying the summer vacation a great deal. Many have been going to beaches and on picnics quite often, while still more have gone to Summer School. However, the summer session came to a close last week in this city. So did the first session at the universities, and it looks like the high school kids are through for a month. But the college second sessioners will keep on banging away for some time. Think it's safe to say that juvenile delinquency is not so potent as at other similar periodrs. The rate of youthful crimes will increase, however, when the depression hits its worst level a year from now. When youths are no longer able to work on jobs and earn their money, some will resort to obtaining same in other ways. The good deed of the day for the adult citizens is to hire as many young people as possible in business concerns and spend more time trying to make the home pleasant.

RUSSELL'S MIGRATION OF NEGROES

Governor Russel, of Georgia, would have three and a half billion dollars of government money set aside to be used in Negro abandonment of the undemocratic south. That is, if they are displeased with conditions. He does not realize that the proposed fifteen hundred dollars for moving and relocating the colored families would build better homes, schools, health clinics, and hospitals in the south. Nor does he know that more whites than Negroes would want to make use of the fund. Too, the job of educating and housing the southerners in the north would be tremendous when their fifteen hundred dollars ran out — which would take about a day and a half in Los Angeles under present prices. The colored people have made the south what it is through their hard work . . . Governor Russel's kind, through such idiotic and ungrounded ideas, has made it what it isn't . . .

But I want to see a migration of Negroes, too, as a matter of fact. I want to see them migrating from a certain "enclosed" form of life and standard of living to the heights of the Sugar Hills and the Beverly Hills and any other hills that would accentuate the success of the Negroid race in this America . . . although brought here against their will, enslaved for a couple of centuries, and denied all that freedom which runs from the mouths of some people like a brook. I want to see them migrating from ghettos and slums and the poorer sections to the highest government and business offices and set the standards of living for the country . . . a mighty high standard. But nobody can do it for you; it has to be done individually. The first step has to be made and then God will make his two in your direction. The time has come. In going forward, keep in mind only the question: What would the race be like if everyone did as I am doing?

NIGHTMARE OF REAL ESTATE

Whether you know it or not, they're still discriminating against minorities, especially Negroes, in real estate transactions. If you've ever been whacked in the face with a deteriorating fish, you'll know what it's like to have "THE OWNER WON'T SELL TO NEGROES" thrown at you. It's nothing new, or sensational. It's happening every day, in Los Angeles and everywhere else. Recently, Mr. Nathaniel King Cole paid a cool eighty five grand for a "little cottage" in one of the "exclusive" districts. They're wrangling and grunting and groaning all over the place . . . the audacity to question his right to live there. Comment: Eighty five thousand dollars and the boys who died in the World Wars say you have the right to live anywhere you chose.

Now you might say it's fantasy or just something to talk about. But call any broker of "exclusive" district stuff and inqurie about restrictions. If you use the right tone of voice, a Ctucasian voice if possible, I guarantee you'll get something like: "Well, it is restricted as much as possible under the new Government law . . . Of course, it does say they can buy anywhere they like."

After that, pick up your jawbone and put it back in place. Then if you actually want to buy a home, head for that "exclusive" district armed with that good old currency. Incidentally: you'd better ask the price of the place while you're using that "Caucasian" voice, or you'll pay four or five grand more—when they see you.

THE ARMY

To the colored boys who'll soon be drafted into the army: With segregation in fourteen states, including Missouri, the home of Mr. Truman, that Civil Rights President, all sorts of restrictions and crnaky acts of discrimination in the other thirty-four states, hadn't we better retch some agreement and conclusion as to what we're going to fight for? Or are we content to fight for the right to fight, as they've done twice in the past?

INDEPENDENT COMMUNISTS

Or are there such things? What happens to the person who believes in the idea of Communism, and is not, in any way, connected with Russia? What happens to the independent communists in the United States? Has their party been outlawed? Then why are we chasing them around so almighty fast? It's undemocratic to unofficially outlaw a party and then chase its members around as though they were common criminals. Believe me: With methods complementary to the Gestapo, such as we're using today, when the communists are done away with—confiscated—the minorities are next. You'd better join the fight now for democracy. Remember: Bilbo proposed to ship Negroes back to Africa hardly more than ten years ago. That idea might still be alive, somewhere, in the mind of someone . . .

FOOTNOTES: Had a nightmare last night. Dreamed two Republicans and a Democrat were chasing me . . . HAPPY BIRTHDAY, THERESA!

Boys! Here's a Camp Special For You

Pilgrim House Ends Summer Program; Move Sept. 1st

Pilgrim House has to its credit for its summer program the unique feature of giving a week's vacation for some boy or girl in the suburban home of a friend: Glendale, Whittier, Eagle Rock, etc. So popular did this prove that a story, "Bronzeville in Glendale," was published in a widely read magazine, telling the story of a Pilgrim House girl in a Glendale home.

About 200 children per week have been oriented by Pilgrim House: in the East 28th Street YMCA plunge; outings with the Intergroup League; (Pilgrim House was second in basketball standings); Scout camps; overnight hikes; daily contests and games in the Pilgrim House once a week to parks for the older children; once bi-weekly for the smaller children. In addition to these activities, a full-rounded program with a continuous vacation school has been carried on within the building.

Pilgrim House will move to its new location, 150 North Los Angeles street, about September 1. This is the present Filipino Christian Church Center. The Filipinos will in turn become the tenants of the present Pilgrim House. Open House in the new home will be held September 12. The last general picnic will be held in Griffith Park, August 24.

Leon W. Stewart is chairman of the board of managers of Pilgrim House. Miss Marjorie Gusteluis, a senior from Pacific University, and Mrs. Emma Mae Duke, pre-school teacher, supervise the daily play and outings.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Dorcas, A Woman of Good Works. Lesson Text and Outline Acts 9:36-42. Motto Text Matt. 25:40.

Introduction

The character and work of Dorcas are "typical of the influence of Christianity in the world; distinguishing it from all other religions; caring for the weak, lifting up women, sanctifying sorrow." In particular her Christian charity has set in motion innumerable needles and has inspired countless women with the spirit of service.

Comments

1. Dorcas was a disciple, one that had embraced the faith of Christ and was baptized; and not only so, but was eminent above many for the works of charity. She showed her faith by her works, her good works, her good works, which she was full of, that is, in which she abounded. Her head was full of cares and contrivances which way she should do good. Her hands were full of good employment; she made a business of doing good, was never idle, having learned to maintain good works, to keep up a constant course and method of them. She was full of good works, as a tree that is full of fruit.

Many are full of good works, who are empty and barren in good works; but Tabitha was a great doer; no great talker. Among other good works, she was remarkable for her almsdeeds which she did, not only her works of piety, which are good works and the fruits of faith, but works of charity and beneficence, flowing from love to her neighbour and a holy contempt of this world. She is commended not only for the alms which she gave, but for the almsdeeds which she did. Those that have not estates wherewith to give in charity may yet be able to do in charity, working with their hands, or walking with their feet, for the benefit of the poor. And those who will not do a charitable deed, whatever they may pretend, if they were rich would not bestow a charitable gift.

2. It is promised to those who consider the poor, not that they shall never be sick, but that the Lord will strengthen them upon the bed of languishing, at least with strength in their souls, and so will make all their bed in their sickness, will make it easy. They cannot hope that they shall never die merciful men are taken away, and merciful women too, but they may hope that they shall find mercy of the Lord in that day. Dorcas friends and those about her did not presently bury her, as usual, because they were in hopes Peter would come and raise her to life again; but they washed the dead body, according to the custom, which, is said, was with warm water, which, if there were any life remaining in the body, would recover it; so that this was done to show that she was really and truly dead. They tried all the usual methods to bring her life, and could not.

They laid her out in her grave-clothes in an upper chamber, was probably the public meeting-room for the believers of that town; and they laid the body there, that Peter, if he would come, might raise her to life the more solemnly in that place. The request which her Christian friends sent to Peter to come to them with all speed, not to attend the funeral, but, if it might be, to prevent it. Their friend was dead, and it was too late to send for a physician, but not too late to send for Peter, is an absurdity. Let not faithful ministers grudge to be at everybody's beck as far as they have ability.

3. It is much more honourable to clothe a company of decrepit widows with needful clothing for night and day, who will pray for their benefactors when they do not see them, than to clothe a company of lazy footmen with rich liveries, who perhaps behind their backs will curse those that clothe them; and it is what all that are wise and good will take a greater pleasure in, for goodness is true greatness, and will pass better in the account shortly. They showed the coats, not ashamed to own that they were indebed to her for the clothes on their backs. Those are horribly ungrateful indeed who have kindness shown them and will not make at least an acknowledgement of it, by showing the kindness that is done them, as these widows here did.

Those who receive alms are not obliged so industriously to conceal it, as those are who give alms. When the poor reflect upon the rich as uncharitable and unmerciful, they ought to reflect upon themselves, and consider whether they are not unthankful and ungrateful. Their showing the coats and garments which Dorcas made tended to the praise not only of her charity, but of her industry, according to the character of the virtuous woman. They take notice of what good Dorcas did while she was with them; but now she is gone from them, and this is their grief. Those that are charitable will find that the poor they have always with them; but it is well if those that are poor find they have always the charitable with them.

We must make a good use of the lights that yet a little while are with us, because they will not be always with us, will not be long with us; and when they are gone we shall think what they did when they were with us. It should seem, the widows wept before Peter, as an inducement to him, if he could do anything, to have compassion on them and help them, and restore one to them that used to have compassion on them. When charitable people are dead, there is no praying them to life again; but, when they are sick, this piece of gratitude is owing them, to pray for their recovery, that, if it be the will of God, those may be spared to live who can ill be spared to die.

Dorcas was laid in the upper room where they used to have their public meetings, and, it should seem, there was great crowdings about the dead body, in expectation of what would be done; but Peter put them all forth, all the weeping widows, all but some few relations of the family, or perhaps the heads of the church, to join with him in prayer. Thus Peter declined everything that looked like vainglory and ostentation; they came to see, but he did not come to be seen. He put them all forth, that he might with the more freedom pour out his soul before God in prayer upon this occasion, and not be disturbed with their noisy and clamorous lamentations. Peter with the submission of a servant, who is under direction, therefore he knelt down and prayed. By the word, a quickening word, a word which is spirit and life: He turned to the body, which intimates that when he prayed he turned from it; lest the sight of it should discourage his faith. But, when he had prayed, he turned to the body, and spoke in his Master's name, according to his example: "Tabitha, arise; return to life again."

Power went along with this word, and she came to life, opened her eyes which death had closed. Thus, in the raising of dead souls to spiritual life, the first sign of life is the opening of the eyes of the mind. The good effect of this miracle. Many were by it convinced of the truth of the gospel, that it was from heaven, and not of men, and believed in the Lord. The thing was known throughout all Joppa; it would be in everybody's mouth quickly, and, it being a town of seafaring men, the notice of it would be the sooner carried thence to other countries, and though some never minded it many were wrought upon by it.

Comment on the Motto Text

The good works of the saints, when they are produced in the great day. Shall all be remembered; and not the least, not one of the least, overlooked, no, not a cup of cold water. They shall be interpreted most to their best advantage, and the best construction that can be put upon them. As Christ makes the best of their infirmities, so he makes the most of their services. Christ espouses his people's cause, and interests himself in their interests, and reckons himself received, and loved, and owned in them. If Christ himself were among us in poverty, how readily would we relieve him? In prison, how frequently would we visit him? We are ready to envy the honour they had, who ministered to him of their substance. Wherever poor saints and poor ministers are, there Christ is ready to receive our kindnesses in them, and they shall be put to his account.

From the lowest depts there is a path to the loftiest height.

Rev. Buford Resigns Pastorate Of Brown Temple AME Zion Church

Rev. K. L. Buford, pastor of the Brown Temple A.M.E. Zion Church, 1201 East 43rd street, resigned as pastor of that church and also, in his letter of resignation to Bishop W. C. Brown, presiding bishop of the South-West Rocky Mountain Conference, he stated that he wished to withdraw from the A.M.E. Zion connection.

Rev. Buford has organized a church known as the Faith Tabernacle Community Church. He and his new organization were accepted into the membership of the Community and Independent Churches Ministerial Alliance of Los Angeles on August 2, and they will now seek admission to the biennial Council at present meeting in the Neighborhood Community Church.

Rev. Buford came to Brown Temple last year from the pastorate of St. Luke's A.M.E. Zion Church at New Castle, Pa. During his pastorate at Brown Temple, membership was almost doubled, and he instituted one of the most progressive church programs to be found in the city. "The Bells of Zion," a radio broadcast each Sunday evening, is one of the notable features credited to Rev. Buford. His program among the youth of the church was outstanding. He led the congregation in forming the first complete Scouting program among Negroes on the west coast.

Rev. Buford is a member of the Inter-Denominational Ministerial Association. He is the chairman of the Association's committee representing them on the Senate Re-Apportionment Committee, a member of the Crescent Club of the Phi-Beta-Sigma, of which he is the chaplain and the parliamentarian; a member of Field Commissioners, the committee on Inter-Racial Service of the Boy Scouts of America; a member of Spiritual Mobilization, and he was appointed only last week a member of the Inter-Faith Committee of the Community Chest.

It is not known yet who will succeed Rev. Buford at Brown Temple. The Rev. T. P. Headen, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district, and the Rev. Roger Willis have occupied the pulpit the past two Sundays.

Here In 17th Biennial Session

The 17th Biennial Session of the Council of Community Churches is convening this week at the Neighborhood Community Church, San Pedro and 47th Place, the Rev. H. Mansfield Collins pastor. Having opened Tuesday, the session will end Sunday evening with a worship service conducted by Rev. Divers of Alabama. The Neighborhood Community Church and its pastor are host to the session.

Election of officers will take place Friday afternoon at the Peoples Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, where the convention will meet for one of the vital sections of the session. It is expected that the Rev. Clayton D. Russell, national Biennial president, and pastor of Independent will contribute to the panel discussion scheduled for Friday evening on such issues as "The Church and Industrial Relations," Civil Rights, Fair Employment and Political Action. Participating will be Dr. Kaplan and Mr. Warren of the UCLA Institution of Industrial Relations.

The Biennial session is convening at a time when plans for a merger with the National Council of Community Churches is close to realization. Already moved forward by approval of executive groups, the proposal, originally made by Rev. Russell, will be acted upon during the present meeting. Saturday will be sightseeing day for the delegates with Dr. Collins as host.

The Independent and Community Churches of the Western Regional Council are: The People's Independent Church of Christ, The People's United Church of Christ, The Neighborhood Community Church, Trinity Independent Church, Bethel Community Church, Metropolitan Community Church, Christian Community Church, Zion Temple Community Church, Capernaum Community Church, People's Metropolitan Community Church and Faith Tabernacle Community Church.

Rev. Price Squared In Money Deal

Members of Ward Chapel, A.M.E. Church, were more than glad to obtain the complete story concerning one of the most prosperous and fastest growing churches in this city. As everyone knows, untrue rumors have a tendency to travel farther and faster than tht more beneficial things of life.

The story is this. When Rev. J. W. Price was pastoring Ward Chapel, the Stewards Board voted out to him the sum of $4700, and for several months the public has been led to believe that the Rev. Price has obtained the funds unjustly. The citizens of Southern California know of the humiliation of Rev. Price and his followers. They have suffered for several months about this, as the matter was made a public court issue. All of Rev. Price's personal funds and several of his members' personal funds were attached by the court.

When Bishop D. O. Walker, presiding bishop of the Fifth District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, visited the West Coast, he found this condition existing. Then in a public meeting, standing on the rostrum of Ward Chapel, he issued this statement:

"Any thoughts regarding the dishonesty of Rev. Price and his followers are definitely out of order. For the Rev. Price and the Stewards Board were within their legal rights. This matter must be withdrawn from the court before the annual conference. If any minister attempts to sue his brother-in-the-ministry, I will refrain from appointing him to any charge at the annual conference."

We, the citizens of Southern California, wish, first, to thank God, and secondly to extend our hearts' gratitude to our bishop for this just stand that he has taken.

Metaphysical Institute Opens Classes

The Metaphysical Bible Institute of Progressive Christianity Inc. begins fall classes, August 30.

Why not learn to solve your own problems? Also, help others. You can learn through systematic study of the Science of Metaphysics as lived and taught by Jesus Christ. You may know the art of having a peaceful, happy, healthy and prosperous life just by taking a little time each day to learn what these things are, and how to use the Divine Law for your wellbeing.

We realize the need for better trained counselors, instructors, practitioners, ministers of metaphysics and personal spiritual growth among all people everywhere. Therefore, a provision is made for your graduation when you have completed the requirement for the above courses.

A correspondence department is maintained for those who find it inconvenient to attend the regular classes. However, there are class schedules to meet every convenience. You may write a letter or post card and get full information about the terms and time.

Address all mail to Dr. Lucy Johnson, June Cobb Institute Bldg., 1195 East 55th St.

A free lecture on The Seventh Sense will be given on Sunday Aug. 22nd at 4:00 p.m. Questions will be answered after the lecture, on the Subject of Metaphysirs and its many uses, by Dr. Johnson. No donation or offering will be taken at this time. 9-2

Baha'i World Faith

Faith Is The Answer will be the subject of the lecture given by Mr. Winston Evans at Los Angeles headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday, August 22, at 11:00 a.m.

By faith is meant first, conscious knowledge, and second, the practice of good deeds. What profit is there in agreeing that universal friendship is good and talking of the solidarity of the human race as a grand idea? Unless these thoughts are translated into the world of action, they are useless.

Christian Science Lesson Topic 'Mind'

"The Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding." This declaration from Proverbs will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Second Chronicles relates that God appeared "unto Solomon, and said unto him, Ask what I shall give thee. And Solomon said unto God, . . . thou hast made me king over a people like the dust of the earth in multitude. Give me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who can judge this thy people, that is so great? And God said to Solomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, wealth, or honour, nor the life of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life; . . . Wisdom and knowledge is granted unto thee; and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and honour, such as none of the kings have had that have been before thee, neither shall there any after thee have the like."

"God is not separate from the wisdom He bestows," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man."

"Mellow" voce Dinah Washington is sporting the title of "mother", gave birth to a baby boy weighing 8 lbs. and 9 oz. . . . "G.G." (sis Gert) writes from New York that Count Basie and Billie Holiday are breaking things up at the Strand . . . they are setting a new record! The two Zephyrs are also on the bill. . . . Queen of the vocals Ella Fitzgerald is at the Appolo and after closing there will plan her trip to London which will be a month long and will have the "Queen" leaving the second week in September. The reports from overseas are that some of the clubs are planning to make September 2nd, Ella Fitzgerald Day in honor of her acclamation as the peeress of vocalists. "G.G." also states that the organ music at Joe Wells' Music Bar in Harlem is realy on . . . the only thing lacking in New York she says is just this California weather. . . . (is she kidding????) Aside to the Eagle's managing editor . . . "I love you, yes I do." . . . Seems as if Johnny Hodge is enjoying the "limelight" and will not be numbered among those who will go back with the Duke, however, here's hoping that the Duke will get all the old gang back in the harness.

Melba Alton is receiving her mail in Las Vegas, she writes that she's down there on vacation . . . ho-hum, we wonder . . . Aside to Callie Mae McGruder, I have something for you, get in touch with me . . . "Petite and Fine" Jean Young is sticking pretty close to home base . . . is she in love . . . could be. Maybe it's the smog and then again it could be love. I'm talking about the daze Laura Spann is going around in. She's as happy as a mouse in a barrel of cheese!! Remember the name, Irma Jean Juniel . . . we predict that she is really going places . . . not only is she an accomplished musician . . . but she can act!! . . . Cousin Bettie Scott still has her head up high, although still confined . . . she still has a "smile" in her voice.

SOUNDS IN THE NIGHT

In the Crenbar: "Mary had a little wolf she fleeced him white as snow" . . . In the Memo: "He says he's never married because the itch is better than the scratch" At Dynamite: "Can you remember the first man you kissed? Heck no . . . I can't remember the last one" . . . In the Last Word: "Isn't she a model? Don't know, but she looks more like a horrible example if you ask me." SO YOU KNOW IT TOO DEPT: Three kinds of men that don't understand women. (1) Old Men, (2) Young Men, and (3) Men of Middle Age! Hope "G.G." gets tired of New York and flys back real soon, 'cause if puttin' this column out hasn't been a job, then put it down as just having been a TASK!!

King Cole Trio On Ciggie Show

The King Cole Trio, complete with new bassist Joe Comfort, seems to be set here on the coast for quite some time. Immediately upon their return from a Palomar Supper Club engagement in Vancouver, the "gleesome threesome" will open at the Red Feather Cafe in Los Angeles for four weeks. This date is to be followed by two stanzas at the Club Moderne in Long Beach.

The Trio's lengthy stay on the coast is due to the fact that Nat and the boys have been signed to do eight guest appearances on the Chesterfield radio program from Hollywood. The show also features Peggy Lee and Dave Barbour who have been signed as regulars.

PRETTY SINGING STAR

Eunice Wilson will be seen in the feminine lead soon when the recently completed All-Negro cast cinecolor film, "No Time for Romance" is released. The feature cast full length film, is the first of a series of six, being prepared for the screen by the newly formed Norwanda Pictures, Inc., a Negro owned production company which will make pictures employing Negro actors in important key roles. Byron G. Anderson, Chicago and Detroit businessman, is president of the company as well as executive producer. Featured in the film "No Time For Romance" with Miss Wilson are, Bill Walker, Austin McCoy, Joel Fluellen, and Shirley Haven.

For national and local coverage of the theatrical profession from Harlem to Hollywood, read J. T. Gipson, an exclusive Feature in The California Eagle.

THE THREE ROCKETS

THIS TRIO OF top tall dancers, comprised of at bottom, Andrew Jackson, Babyface Roberts and Johnny Thomas, are known throughout the entertainment world as the Three Rockets. They left here last week for an engagement at an ultra swank Lake Tahoe Inn. Upon their return to the film capitol, they are due for some negotiations leading to a possible television program contract. The Three Rockets made their return to the coast via Reno and Las Vegas, Nevada. They enjoyed tremendous success in those two divorcement capitols.

Luvenia Nash Singers Will Appear in Redlands Bowl

The Luvenia Nash singers will appear in theRedl ands Bowl on Friday evening, September 3, in Redlands, California, under the auspies of the Redlands Music Association. They follow that up on September 12th with a concert in Pomona, California.

As a concert singing group, they have won recognition as the top choral group of the west. They feature spirituals and operatic numbers, and stopped the show a couple of weeks ago at the Biltmore hotel when they appeared there as featured artists for the Palestine benefit, under the auspicies of the Hadasha Women's organization, the largest Jewish women's organization in the world.

Proof of their versatility is the fact that they sing in several different languages, and on the night they appeared in person at the Bilitmore for Palestine relief the vast audience rose to their feet and paid homage to the the Luvenia Nash singers. They sang Ali Ali and other Yiddish numbers.

The Luvenia Nash singers are under the management of Maceo B. Sheffield.

Arnett Has New Version of Song

BALTIMORE — When Arnett Cobb resumes his band leading activities at the Royal theatre here this week he will have another great treat in store for his fans in a third version of his famous masterpiece "Flying Home."

The "wild man of the tenor sax" first gained national prominence with his brilliant solo on the jazz classic. He then made his first recording. The reception was so enthusiastic that he had to make the second version. And now with his popularity at an all time peak, he has ready another thrilling version for his legion of admirers.

Winsome Wini Wins

Wini Brown, the singing beauty who won the heart of the nation with her recording of "Gone Again," while with the Lionel Hampton orchestra, scored a decided hit in her first major night club engagement when she opened as headliner of the new show at NY's famed club 845.

TOLEDO, OHIO

The Ink Spots, famed singing quartet, have been signed to appear at the popular Paramont Theatre, in Toledo, beginning October 7. The world-famous singers will be featured at the Toledo showplace for a week.

Little Miss Cornshucks, the top femme blues-singing entertainer in the biz opens at Esvan Mosby's Last Word cafe for a limited engagement beginning Wednesday, August 25. Miss Cornshucks (who comes out on the stage dressed in regalia just about as cornshucky as the stage name she uses) has been going like a house a-fire on her recent cross-country theatre-nitery tour and her records are best sellers on juke boxes.

She has a style on the order of Dinah Washington, which surely won't hurt her rep any.

Esvan Mosby and Joe Harris really rate a nod for presenting to the public top entertainment at the Word. The boys in the back room used to say Central avenue was dead. It was, and some of the sad acts brought to the stem killed it! But with top acts like L. M. Cornshucks returning to the stroll, the stem will have just the shot in the arm needed to perk up nitery biz.

Along with Miss Cornshucks will be the top M.C., Bill Day. He needs no introduction. His work is well known. He's tops. The 5-Bits of Rhythm will be charge d'affaires of the music department with the Esquires (top dance duo) being held over for an additional four weeks.

Lauretta Butler To Present Kiddies Capers

When Lauretta Butler presents her forthcoming revue at the Embassy Auditorium, on Sept. 17th, 60 talented children will be seen in one of the most brilliant productions that she has ever given.

These children are beautifully trained in song, dance and poise, many of them have been seen in moving pictures.

Mrs. Butler has for many years been known for her wonderful success in training children from two years old up to the teen ages.

Her productions are always looked forward to with eager anticipation by the public.

New Approach

Up until now Roy Rogers has been able to stave off the many youngsters who daily request a lock of his hair for a keepsake with the explanation that there just isn't enough to go around. That worked fine until the other day some unusually bright tots in a middle-western school figured out a different approach. "We'd like a lock of your hair," they wrote, "in order to frame it and hand it down to posterity to preserve forever the memory of one of the greatest men of our time."

Home Sweet Home

William Elliott is elated over his assignment in Republic's forthcoming "The Missourian," a story of the James boys. A good portion of the picture will be filmed on location near Kansas City, Missouri, where Frank and Jesse operated during part of their careers, and Kansas City happens to be Elliott's home town. It'll be his first visit back there in almost 10 years.

Ford in Cleveland

Billy Ford, author of the song hit of yesteryear, "I'll Live True To You," opens at the Club Rendezvous, Cleveland, August 27 in the Teddy Blackmon revue.

JUDY CAROL is the name of the cutie in the above picture. She's a top singer of sultry-styled songs made to order for the cozy Downbeat Room where she's appearing nitely with the famous Marl Young Band. Judy formerly chirped with Lucky Millinder's ork.

Nellie Lutcher Returns to NY

Nellie Lutcher, following several successful engagements here on the coast, boarded the Chief last Sunday for New York City where important engagements will keep her active until late in the fall. Following dates at the Biltmore Hotel in Wildwood, New Jersey, and at Ciro's in Philadelphia, the "real gone gal" will open at the Apollo Theater in New York for one week and then will return to Cafe Society Downtown for ten weeks.

The last time Nellie appeared at Cafe Society she had just begun to cause excitement in the music business. It has been a little more than a year that her first records turned the entertainment world upside down and this time she will go in at ten times her original salary!

And Now Dizzy's Searching For a Gal to Sing Be-Bop!

Dizzy Gillespie, the high priest of be-bop, has announced his intention of engaging a vocalist for his band. He plans to have selected the lucky larnyx lad or lassie in time for his forthcoming engagement at the Royal Roost night club on Broadway, New York.

According to the famous trumpet playing bandleader he will audition several singers when he returns to New York. He will make his selection only after having given every aspirant a full hearing. According to Mr. Be-bop the singer may be either male or female.

Gillespieis currently doing several one nighters after completing an engagement at the Cricket Club here. He will start the long trek East in about ten days. Before leaving, however, he will give an ear to any candidates who care to apply for the singing spot with his talented group of distinctive music makers.

Any singer who desires to get a hearing from the maestro can write him c/o Willard Alexander, 30 Rockfeller Plaza, Radio City, New York.

THEATRE — NITE SPOTS

J. T. Gipson, Theatrical Editor

• J. T. GIPSON

The Gipson Gossip: Jimmie Robertson, the singer (you're welcome, mister) and Hazel Watkins, the shapely domesticutie, are acting like people in luff. . . . Alvin Washington is toting a torch brighter than the one the Statue of Liberty is toting in her paw! . . . Gloria Labauve, of the westside social coterie, has a California EAGLE reporter (not this one) wearing his heart in a sling. She broke it in two places—top and bottom. . . . Connie Alexander, a doll prettier than anything Rembrandt ever painted, with "Baby Pie" Weaver (another chic chick) at the Cricket club and ah-tracting more attention than Diz Gillespie's torrid trumpetooting. . . . Elihu "Black Dot" McGee celebrated his birfday Monday last and told a lie bigger than the one Buddy Gracia told upon his return from a recent fishing trip. Said he was "27" years old! "Nobody asked you how long you've been in California," a bystander cracked, "We wanna know your AGE!"

J. T. GIPSON

On the Bronzeville Scene: So the col'm isn't read in Hllywd? Fellow at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio saw the item here a coupla editions ago and wanted to know more about Esther Kamin Brown. "Any girl as pretty as you say she is," my favorite talent scout intoned, "oughta be in pickchas!" Esther looks like something out of a dream, and next to Betty Grable in a bathing suit, she's the loveliest thing since Cole Porters' "Begin the Beguine." . . . Sportsman Artie Graves (who's suing Ciro's nitery on a discrimination complaint) would like to meet the guy, gal or persons who put sugar in the gas tank of his '48 Cadillac. So would we, Artie! . . . Lola Roy and Zelda Grissom (singer Dan's wife) are charge d'affaires of the Memo club kitchen. How do they expect a guy to eat his meals with lovelies like that around?

Covering the Town: Happy Johnson and his zippy little band were featured artists over CBS Monday night. Their brand of playing is hotter than a forest fire in the middle of July. . . . Every time I hear a lark I think of Lena Horne's singing. A much-improved chirp who sings from her heart—not her mouth! . . . Farris Donison, Johnson Bathhouse masseur, and Joe Adams (KOWL's very popular "Mayor of Melody") discussing politics and other subjects the other Satday. Giving credit where credit is due, Joe Adams rates a nod for doing a wonderful job as the only regularly employed Negro disc jockey in the state of California. Some few fools are envious of Joe's success. They've called him more names than you can find in the telephone directory. They say he's "gone Hollywood." He's high hat. He's stuck up, and other lies. But there's one thing about the guy—he's a gentleman and the top sepia disc jockey in the b'sness!

Joyce Steward, the lovely-to-look-at president of the Turn-about Charity club, will become a bride soon. Why should we mention his name? What more break does he want than being the husband of Joyce Steward! . . . They're trying to compare Wynonne Harris' singing with the vocal artistry of Joe Turner. G'wan, that's like stacking a couple of poached eggs up against Jane Russel. There just ain't any comparison, that's all! . . . And now they have JT and Gertrude Gipson purchasing a mansion on Sugar Hill! Some guys'll column anything to fill space. Why don't they get their facts right? In the first place, Gertrude's name will soon revert back to Lomax, and if they were selling steamships for 2c apiece, JT Gipson couldn't buy a rowboat! . . . Bill Day, a fave MC over at our house, flattened a heckler the other evng with this witty wordage: "Go stick your head out of the window, feet first!" . . . At a recent zoociety poddy the other Sundown, John Lee, the California EAGLE's paunchy (please put an "a" in that word, Mr. Printer) Managing Ed, was discussing Wallace and other interesting subjects with the wife of a famed local physician. Suddenly he burped. The matron was shocked. Lee leaned forward and niftied, "And what did you expect, madame, chimes?" . . . A top musician wanted to Joe Louis the husband of his girl-friend 'cuz she didden keep a date with him the other Sunday. He's got more nerve than an abscessed tooth!

Idle Thawts While Peckin' at a Portable: Some music publisher oughta lend an ear to George Bledsoe's latest lullabye, "What Am I Gonna Do Next Christmas?" It'll out-sell King Cole's "Christmas Song." A few of us privileged bums were given a sneak preview of the tune the other evng. It's lilting melodic wordage tugs at the heart! . . . Gloria Cora (who works for Leon Rene) is one of the nicest dolls we've met in this (or any other) town! Wotta personality!!! . . . Leonard McClain (one of the town's top bail-bondsmen) is my idea of a top basketball player, and athlete. "Mac," as he is affectionately known by his many friends, once had an offer to go with the famed Harlem Globe Trotters, but turned it down to go into the business of getting you guys outa jail. He's in solid with the Bronzeville crowd and a guy loved by all!

Ha! One of those conceited entertainers walked up to Choe Adams the other early ayem and complained that "California is so crowded this week that every place is jammed. Adams fang'd with this lolla-pa-looza: "Every place but the club you're working in!" . . . Sudden Thawt: Don't be angry at any of your enemies. After all, you made them! . . . Buddy Garcia oughta be on the stage. His droll sensayuma is funnier than a Rochester quip. The other peeyem Buddy broke up an interesting session with this one: The Census Bureau was interested in the youth population of a small town, and asked one of the natives why there were so many children being born there. "Well," the native drawled, "you see, about 4 o'clock every morning a train passes through; blows its whistle and wakes everybody up. It's too early to go to work, and too late to go back to sleep!"

Names in the News: Have you heard Gloria Roberts toy with a piano? She's what the piano manufacturer had in mind when he invented the keyboard. When my life is through, and the angels ask me to recall the thrills of them all, I'll tell about the time I first heard Gloria play Chopin's "Polonaise." I don't know which I would rather do, listen to Gloria's playing or kiss her. (Musically, that's a compliment. . . . He'll hate me for this, but who am I to hold good copy from a news-hungry public? Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., a grand guy in ev'ry sense of the word, was secretly wed a few wks ago to the VERY beautiful, Ethel Sissle. The late Arthur Brisbane said a "GOOD" writer should never use the word, "Very." NUTS to Arthur Brisbane!

Barbara Jean Anderzo, the colyum's favorite little debutante, isn't my favorite little debutant eany more. Said she likes John Lee's col'm better'n ours! (Oh well, some folks even like spinach!) . . . Things I never knew til now (but which you prob'ly knew all along): Maceo B. Sheffield, society's pet photographer, once held down the aerial photographing spot for the Los Angeles Times, and made the only aerial shots of Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh's return from Paris in '27. (Yeah, but he ain't as pretty as photographer Vera Jackson!) . . . Arthur Garcia fell off a horse and broke his ANKLE. (Ha, fooled ya', didden I?) . . . Levi Burnley, the col'm's "shadow" is spending his time in Watts with a kewpie named Laura Moore, who has a shape like the figure 8. He was offered a job body-guarding a famed musician, but turned it down to starve in our employ. Loyalty? Uh, uh, he just doesn't like musicians! . . . Johnny Beavers is in bed with A Cold. (A. Cold who?)

Marl Young Returns to Downbeat With Hottest Combo on Central

Marl Young and his highly competent swing crew returned to the Downbeat club on Central avenue Tuesday night and they are the hottest musical combo to play the 42nd Street jive sector in many a moon.

Young goes out of his way to satisfy by keeping a constant eye on customer reaction to his tune and tempo choices. Simple, melodic arrangements are spotlighted throughout the ork's library with Young's keyboarding providing the solo highlights.

Marl has been around for quite a spell, having worked in most of the big name class spots on the Eastern seaboard. He was featured at Joe Louis' famed Rhumboogie club in Chicago for nearly two years and supplied the background music for most of the terrific blues stylings on wax with Little Miss Cornshucks. Young gets more out of his group than can be found in many aggregations twice the size.

Young gives the customers a well-rounded selection of song items, using plenty of vocals by luscious and shapely Judy Carol and drummer man "Spoons" Donaldson and a quartette made up of sidemen and Judy.

Miss Carol's subtle style is deep, soft and whispery and scores sensationally. Her charm serves as quite an impressionable trimming for her talents as a singer. She's as sure-voiced with a novelty or rhythm number as she is with a ballad.

LOCAL AND TALENTED Gloria Roberts is California's answer to Hazel Scott. She's an accomplished musician and queen of the keyboard! Miss Roberts, who returned recently from a two-year study at the Julliard School of Music in New York, will be presented in concert recital Sunday afternoon, Sept. 19, at the 1st A. M. E. Church, 8th and Towne. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Roberts, she holds a music degree from the University of Southern California, and played for the famed Archie Savage dancers at the Embassy and the Vanguard theatres prior to her journey to New York. Miss Roberts features classical numbers, and the way she plays them is truly artistry in rhythm. This will be her first concert appearance since returning home.

His Column We'll Take; But His Singing? NOoo!

JT Gipson, EAGLE Theatrical-Sports Editor, will appear in person Thursday evening, Aug. 26, over station KWKW (Pasadena), where he will be interviewed by the popular staff announcer and disc jockey, Hal Nelson.

The Gip will tell of his 10 years experience covering the nite spots and interviewing the various Screwballs And Celebrities. He will also sing a couple of blues numbers, accompanied by the Lorenzo Flennoy trio.

Nelson's program is a daily feature over station KWKW (1430 on your dial), and heard Monday through Friday, 7:30 to 7:45 p.m.

Ella Raines, featured prominently with William Powell in Universal-International's Nunnally Johnson production, "The Senator Was Indiscreet," proves a striking caricature subject for the celebrated cartoonist, Basil Wolverton.

Sandtown Cafe In New Location

Sandtown's back, and the Eastside's got it! They had to burn down the building to get Sandtown out of its original location, and now it's back, bigger and better, at 1117 E. Washington Boulevard. Martin and Lucille Wilkins are both on hand to give you that famous attention that makes you feel that you are the reason they opened the place.

Regular customers of Sandtown will be happy to hear the old greeting, "Leave it to Martine. He fix," and one you visit the place you'll like the idea too. Some of Hollywood's great are charter members of Sandtown, and you may get to see some of them while you're enjoying your meal or your drink at prices that are right.

Byron And Beau Featured In Sepia Produced Film

Byron and Beau, one of the classiest dance acts in Hollywood, created quite a furor last week when they performed their classical boogie act before the cameras in the motion picture, "Sun Tan Ranch." The producer, cameramen and front office bigwigs were deeply impressed with the Byron-Beau act and requested them to personally appear with the picture when its premiere is held.

This is an all-sepia picture with beautiful color photography, making it the first time in motion picture history a Negro-produced film has ever used color photography.

The stars and co-stars in the flicker are made up of local actors and actresses, namely, Eunice Wilson, Mildred Boyd, Joel Fluellyn, Austin McCoy, Bill Walker and others.

Getting back to Byron and Beau (we don't want to stay away from them even for a paragraph; they're GREAT!), the newest dance team to hit the coast this year, you of course remember petite Louise "Beau" Harris, of motion picture fame and Rochester's leading lady, and recently of the stage hit "Two in a Bed." Beau is lovelier than ever as a sanseuse and has eye-appeal in her delivery that really sells.

Byron, a clever, versatile and very agile dancer and former student of the great Archie Savage and Janet Collins, can hold his own with the best in the biz. The two combine to make a terrific showing and with the right handling should skyrocket to the top rung on the ladder of success.

Both Byron and Beau have worked in movies, among the pictures they have appeared in are "Cabin in the Sky," "Stormy Weather," "Thank Your Lucky Stars," "Ziegfeld Follies," "Every Girl Should Marry," and others.

INK SPOTS

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Guests at the swank Hollendin Hotel, in Cleveland, have been walking around the lobby humming such tunes as "I Didn't Care," "Just For Now," and "The Gypsy" for the past two weeks. The reason for the sudden interest in these particular songs is the Ink Spots famed singing quartet, who have been appearing here since August 5.

NEW YORK, N.Y.

First class passage has been booked on the Queen Mary for songstress Ella Fitzgerald who takes off for London on September 15. The popular singer will appear at the London Palladium for a month beginning September 27 and is tentatively scheduled to begin her return to the United States on October 30.

Cootie Denies Rumors

Cootie Williams, Esquire's All-American Trumpeter, took time out before leaving on a brief vacation last week to deny persistent recurring rumors to the effect that he was planning to enlarge his band before the fall season.

According to Williams there are two reasons for his determination to maintain the smaller band. He says that present economic conditions make such abbreviated units more practical and further, such aggregations are far more flexible and therefore adaptable to a larger variety of musical chores. To a group of newsmen, who interrogated him Williams had this to say "You can say without fear of contradiction, it'll be a long time before I re-enter the large band field. It is just too tough a proposition at this time."

THE TIME TO ACT IS IN NOVEMBER, THE PLACE IS IN THE ELECTION BOOTH.

Toni Harper

Toni Harper, the youthful ing starlet, now appear the stage of the Chicago with Sara Vaughn and Fields' (if you'll pardon pression) Sextette, will br over NBC on a coast- hook-up Sunday, 10:30 a.m. (our time) over stati A Shirlie Temple and Harper comes along onc lifetime!

The Sporting Scene

By J. T. GIPSON

On particularly dull days when I can find nothing interesting to discourse upon, I usually waddle over to the Sanitary Barber Shop on 41st place and Central avenue and chin with my sportsman friend, Charlie Vincent, better known as The Gas King! He's always interesting copy.

The other evening we were sitting around discussing the anatomical structures of feminine bodies (I was discussing the anatomical structure of feminine bodies; Charlie was giving Joe Shipp a Gas) when suddenly the conversation turned to the death of Babe Ruth.

"It's a funny thing," my favorite barber philosophied, "All the club owners, and everybody in the whole world shed a tear for Babe when he died, yet while he was living HE COULDN'T EVEN GETTA JOB COACHING A TEAM IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES!"

Charlie's statement made sense. Next to seeing lots of hair on a doll's legs, I would rather have seen the Bambino in an official capacity with a major league team. But no, he couldn't even getta job! How's that for loyalty to the man who literally made the game of baseball a national institution?

Ruth, a few years prior to his death, asked the Yankee bigwigs for a job in a managerial capacity. They turned him down. This is the same Babe Ruth whose power at the bat and colorful personality built the Yankee Stadium! Most of the fans paid to see RUTH, not the Yankees. He went from team to team in search of a managerial job. He was turned down with amazing regularity. Why? That's the $64 query. "Maybe he wasn't capable of holding down a manager's job," Joe Shipp looked out from under a wet towel and said. "Maybe he wasn't," your mischievous little newsboy sarcasm'd, "but he was good enough to lure the crowds into the stadium and he should be good enough to get some sort of reward from the people he made rich other than a wreath of flowers at his funeral. But they ignored him completely!"

I wasn't moved by the sentiments expressed by the Baseball Big Shots (dot the "i," Mr. Printer) at the time of Ruth's death. It's always easy to say something nice about a guy after hes' dead, but the time to show a feeling for his friendship is WHEN HE'S LIVING! That's life, son!

Vincent, who is really the Gas King of California (meaning he konks your hair without burning and does it better than any barber), looked up from his work and asked a simple question.

"Wonder what'll happen when JT Gipson dies?"

He got a simple answer.

Nothing.

Kid Gavilan decisioned Buster Tyler last week in a fast and furious 10-round bout. Gavilan is the Cuban contender for Ray Roybinson's welterweight crown.

Keith Nuttal, Henry Armstrong's protege, won another one the other evening up in Ogden, Utah, when he belted out a clear-cut decison over Felix Bueno (no relation to notches) in 10 fast rounds.

Joe Adams, who makes this col'm this week because he, too, is a sportsman (he takes SITTING UP exercise; meaning every morning before broadcast time he runs to the nearest bar and sits up there for a couple hours) was getting a massage the other Saturday over at Johnson's Bathhouse when Bob (who owns the palatial establishment where sportsmen, lawyers, doctors, and even newspapermen go for an afternoon of complete relaxation) looked at "The Mayor of Melody's" physique and asked: "Why don't you take more exercise, Joe?" Adams, who usually picks up nothing heavier than a knife or fork, gave Bob one of those looks that needed a bath and bob hope'd: "I'll get enough exercise being pallbearer at the funeral of my exercising friends!"

Jackie Wilson, who is a great lightweight fighter (one of the best if you ask me; and even if you didden) will write the col'm for us next wk. while we again run up to Elsinore and hide from our creditors until next pay day.

Artie Graves and Boyd "Mac" Pinkston are developing into a duo of classy golfers. Hey, Mac, who helps Artie lift up the clubs?)

Joe Louis promised us a guest col'm and we're not worried about him keeping his word. Always does.

Buddy Garcia's "God's Little Acre" ranch up in San Berdoo is really a sweligent place to spend the week-end. Last time we were up we spent the week-end riding horses, and you can imagine what a weak-end we had!

Henry Armstrong Now A "Bookie!"

Henry Armstrong, former welter, light and featherweight worlds title holder opened a swanky suite of offices last week where he will establish headquarters to handle sports bookings under the label of Henry Armstrong Triple Champion Enterprises.

The former boxing divisions title holder, who already has several boxers under his banner, plans to book fights and fighters for boxers and boxing managers throughout the United States, Europe and South America. Sports writers who have visited the Armstrong quarters are loud in their praise for this undertaking. hey feel it will prove a distinct service and savings for boxers and managers.

Nicky Smith Is Classy K.O. Artist; Rates Top Fights!

One of the most discussed fighters in boxing circles here is a handsome lad named Nicky Smith, who was undefeated as an amateur and turned pro in 1946. Smith won all of his 11 amateur fights by the knockout route. After dropping his first pro fight to Joey Alvano, Smith went on from there to win 17 straight bouts.

The scene of most of his fights took place at Ocean Park, where the former Jefferson High School athlete and graduate has built up quite a following.

Smith, a whirlwind type of glove-slinger who throws leather from all angles, was sailing stratisphere heights in 1946 and went into the Army, where he served 18 months. He came out in '47 and has had 17 fights, winning 15 (mostly by knockouts) while dropping two split decisions.

He fought his first 10-round main event last Easter Sunday in Mexicali, Mex., where he pounded out a merciless beating to Torrito Ramos who six weeks previously had won over the highly-touted Paulino Montes. Montes holds wins over Carlos Chavez, Buddy Garcia and other top fighters.

Nicky's second main event (a couple of months ago) was at the Olympic auditorium on a talent show featuring a double main event. He beat the highly-regarded Freddie "Babe" Herman, winning 8 out of 10 rounds.

He has never been knocked out, and at 21 years of age is rated one of the ring's most dangerous lightweights. He has challenged Alfredo Escobar, Lauro Salas and Fabela Chavez, but none of the above-mentioned ring warriors want any part of him.

I've witnessed several of the kid's fights, and I'm interested in only one thing. It's the $64 question. Why in the other word you and I know for Hades isn't he given more work?

He's tops in his field, and his field is boxing!

USC Football Team to Start Practice Soon

Coach Jeff Cravath will greet 22 lettermen when University of Southern California football practice begins September 1 on Troy's Bovard Field, with a likelihood existing that another monogram-winner may also appear for opening drills.

Nineteen of the 22 listed on the tentative Trojan roster earned monograms last year. Under Pacific Coast Conference rules practice starts on September 1. Cravath, now in Chicago for the annual college all-star game as assistant coach, says that two-a-day drills are the schedule for the first week of practice.

Opening game for the Trojans is against Utah at the Coliseum, Friday night, September 17.

Satchel Paige in Shutout Over Sox

Leroy (Satchel) Paige, the Old Man River of the ball players, keeps on rolling along winning ball games for the Cleveland Indians.

The famous eccentric pitcher, who waited 25 years for his chance in the major leagues, made up for lost time last Friday night before a capacity crowd of 51,013 citizens in Chicago when he hurled the Cleveland Indians to a 5 to 0 shutout victory over the Chicago White Sox, to pitch the Indians back into first place in the hot American League pennant race.

It was Satchel's second start since joining the Indians July 9, and his first complete major league game. The great Paige, whose age is nearer 50 than 40 (the rumor man say) delt out only five singles and did not issue a single base on balls. He has been used mainly in a relief role, and has made nine relief appearences with the Indians being victorious in seven of them.

Magnificent exhibitions of swimming and diving, mermaids in paddleboard ballet and formation swimming, sensational fire dives, comedy acts galore, and a host of other aqua specialties all rolled into the biggest aquatic spectacle of the year, will make up the Aqua Gala of 1948 which is being readied for presentation at the Los Angeles Olympic Swimming Stadium next week.

Sponsored by the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department, this third annual Aqua Gala climaxes a summer-long program in which thousands of aquatic-minded folks from all sections of the city and ranging from tiny tots up the line to champion professionals, have had a part.

A cast of more than 400 performers, the best produced at the city's swimming pools and beaches, plus some of the Pacific Coast's leading swimming and diving champions has been lined up for the presentation, which will be augmented by an orchestra and chorus of 100 voices.

First Singing Cowboy

John Wayne, who is currently starring in Republic's "Wake of the Red Witch," claims the unique distinction of having been the first "singing cowboy" in Hollywood history. In 1931 he made a picture directed by Bob Bradbury called "Singing Sandy." In it he played a guitar and sang—the voice being dubbed in by Bradbury's son, Bill. The picture went over so well, that three more were subsequently made before Wayne withdrew in favor of other roles.

HARRY JEFFRA

BALTIMORE — The United States Circuit Court of Appeals last week upheld the draft evasion convictions of Harry Jeffra, former world's bantamweight boxing champ.

Can Do More Besides Act; It Sez Here

Tennis-playing Tommy Cook, featured in Monogram's "Michael O'Halloran," has hung up another court record.

In Los Angeles he recently emerged as junior singles champion in the Metropolitan Public Parks Tournament, and with Oscar Johnson grabbed off top score in the doubles.

The two cups he won in that tournament have been added to the 18 he previously has received as a tennis player.

Turkey Thompson

Turkey Thompson returns to Hollywood Stadium Sept. 10 to do business over the 10-round route with a hard-punching gent named Bill Petersen, recognized as the Northwest heavyweight champion.

Turkey Thompson Knocks Out Tex's Champ in First Round

Turkey Thompson, a heavyweight fighter with dynamite-laden mitts, exploded his lethal left paw in the kisser of one Whitey Berlier last Friday evening at Hollywood Legion stadium and won by a knockout in the first two minutes of the first round.

This Berlier is no slouch when it comes to throwing leather, but the Turk was just a bit too much for the Heavyweight Champ of Texas. Up until the time Turkey's powerful paw exploded on Mr. Berlier's chin, the boy from Tex's had all the best of it. He twice shook The Turk with hard rights and lefts to the head but the Turk fought like a champ, cautiously, patiently just waiting his chance, which came a few seconds prior to the close of the first round.

Turkey looked in the peak of condition minus the added poundage he put on during his stitch in the Army. He's now fighting at a trim (for him) 208, and if he puts a few more fights under his belt he'll be ready for Louis, or any of the other heavyweights you can name. Turkey Thompson is an improved fighter!

Trojan Quintet Mapping Games

Mapping of a 24-game schedule for the 1948-49 University of Southern California was completed today by the veteran Trojan cage mentor, Justin M. (Sam) Barry.

Barry said that his experienced Trojan quintet, which was runner-up in last season's southern division race, will play a 12-game schedule in the conference plus a dozen non-conference games both before and during the regular conference schedule.

A pair of intersectional games at Pan-Pacific Auditorium on December 21 and 23 against Wisconsin and Northwestern of the Big Nine highlight the card.

The schedule will open on November 30 against Loyola in a game dedicating the new gymnasium on the Loyola campus at Del Rey.

Olympic Champ Signed To Make Republic Picture

Duke Kahanamoku, one of the greatest Olympic swimming champions of all time (he set four world's records in the 1912 games), has been signed by Republic for an important featured role in its John Wayne-Gail Russell starrer, "Wake of the Red Witch."

Duke, who has been sheriff of Honolulu for the past 10 years, has just arrived from Hawaii to begin the role, which is his first since 1929. He will play the role of a native chieftain in the filmization of the Garland Roark best-selling novel.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Caliente Old Mexico: It took a good fillie to beat some good colts in the feature event last Sunday at Caliente. It was "The Tulare" for three year olds at one mile Harihar, the fine looking daughter of Chatmoss-Kumsis, made a show of her field when called upon by Jockey J. D. Porter. Laying in third position while Double Regret and Go Silver were setting the early pace, Porter was just waiting for the two to exhaust themselves.

Thats exactly what happened, and Porter timed his move just right. Turning into home strech Harihar took a two length lead increaseing it with every stride, to win by eight lengths, altho she could have won by more then a dozen if Porter cared too. She paid in the mutuels $4.00 as the favorite.

In the secondary attraction "The Mathias" at six furlongs Ronnie Boy, held at five to one in the books beat the hot favorite Monoak by two lengths to pay $11.00 straight. Three longshots brought joy to the players that like to beat the Chalk. Piute Pass winner of the fourth race paid $26.40. El Tejon victor of the fifth race paid $57.60, $22.40, 7.60 across the board. Ameadeo winner of the ninth, paid $38.80, $15.00, 6.60 and for good measure the last race was won by Red Crusader paying $27.20, $14.00, $9.20.

The daily-double combination of Fortress who won the second race and Ray Heuvelton victor of the third paid $39.20. While the Quniela backers received $138.80. When Red Crusader was first Daddy finished second. Walter C. Marty general manager of Caliente will stage three feature events this Sunday. Main attraction will be "The Palm City"" at six furlongs. "The Flynn Springs" the secondary and "The Jacumba" the third feature. Nine other races will support the well balance program. Well it was Beach Comber again to show his fast heels to the best greyhounds on the grounds. Installed favorite by the public who wagered with confidence the champion paid $3.00 for two. Kopper Tex was second and I Will third. No Refund who beat Beach Comber finish in the rear in the seventh race Atomic Energy and Jovianne who finished in that ordér paid the lucky quniela holder $116.00. Popular General Manager William (Bill) Collier is planning more feature events for local Negro organizations. The Negro Shriners wil be the next event and again plans for the Dennis Post Drum and Bugle Cord.

Babe's Gone But Not Forgotten!

The bambino is gone! Babe Ruth, who was probably Sportsdom's most colorful athlete and surely one of the most beloved, died last Monday in a New York hospital following a lingering illness.

Bob Meusal, once a part of the Yankees' famed "Murderer's Row," expressed the opinion of the world when he said last week: "Babe Ruth will never die. He did more for the game than anyone. As long as baseball is played, he'll live. There is only

Has Thriving Poultry Business On Avalon With Willie Sampson

By JT Gipson, Eagle Sports Editor

In spite of the many lucrative offers he has had to return to the boxing ring, former State lightweight champion, John Thomas, last week denied he will return to boxing. The rumor of his return to the squared circle has been circulating around the boxing gyms, in barber shops, in pool halls and wherever sportsmen gather, but Thomas last week emphatically denied the persistant rumors.

The other afternoon I waddled over to 4021 S. Avalon where the once Kingpin of California lightweights operates a modern up-to-date Poultry market with his friend and business associate, Sportsman Willie Sampson. Getting Thomas off in a corner for a few minutes conversation is almost as easy as climbing the highest mountain in a football suit. He's like a bundle of energy, and has more pep than a vitimin pill. Always moving about like a streaking rocket!

But we cornered him long enough to get the following information: (1) he turned down an offer for a match with Bernard Docusen and Beau Jack. (2) he has a nice business going and (3) his wife and mother asked him not to return to the ring.

Thomas was the boxing king of lightweights from 1944 to 1947. In his fight career, which dates back to 1937, he has had 89 bouts, losing 6 with 1 draw. He was stopped only twice in his entire career. Both times by a Bolanos named Enrique. He won one and lost one to Hammering' Henry Armstrong, three times world champion.

He was managed by Bert Lewis one of the finest gentlemen in and out of the boxing profession. Thomas' paramount interest now besides his Poultry market is his plan to open a boxing gymnasium in the rear of the market and teach kids how to box with free instructions being given by the "Little Champ" himself.

He has hung up his gloves for good, but John Thmoas will never be forgotten.

In the hearts of all sportsmen, he will always be a champ!

Len Morrow Stops Fitzy In 2 Heats

Fightin' Fitzy Fitzpatrick ran up against a stone wall last Tuesday night at the Olympic Auditorium in the form of one granite-fist gent named Len Morrow, recognized as the State Light Heavyweight champ, and found himself sprawled on the canvas after 2m. 50s. of the second round in what was billed as a 10-round contest.

Thirty days ago this same smooth-working, cool, deadly punching Morrow belted the same Fitzy out in the same ring, only then it took five rounds before the stubborn Mr. Fitzpatrick would call it a day via a TKO at the hands of Len.

JACKIE WILSON

Jackie Wilson, one of the classiest and deadliest fighters in the ring, goes to Honolulu Aug. 31 to meet Frankie Fernandez at the Honolulu Stadium. Jackie does a guest SPORTS column next week for the California EAGLE.

quisite. The men were summer formal attire.

The bride was lovely in an ivory satin gown and train, designed and made by the groom's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Kelley. The beaded French net bertha of the gown had been part of the gown imported from France and worn by the bridegroom's grandmother when married many years ago.

The full length illusion veil was wreathed with tiny orange blossoms and edged with lace. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

"Something borrowed" was an antique gold cross and chair loaned by Mrs. Ethel Tabor of Venice.

Soloists were: Mrs. Sherman D'all Jones, "The Lord's Prayer"; Mr. Leroy Antoine, "I Love You Truly"; and Miss Marjorie Day, "Because."

In the wedding party were Mrs. Elzina Petty Lewis, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Evelyn Tabor, maid of honor; Almira Blakeney, and Althea Warren, bridesmaids; S. H. Kelley, best man; Lloyd Thomas, Jordan Daniels and Delmas Davis, ushers.

Twins, Diana and Delores Payne, flower girls; John Charles Moore, ring bearer; Jocelyn Henry and Clarence Tabor, pages.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Venice. Many relatives and friends wished the popular young couple success and happiness. The many beautiful gifts were displayed in several rooms of the house. The newlyweds left during the reception for a honeymoon down Mexico way.

PORT WASHINGTON, WIS.—If it's tiresome walking that makes your gardening a chore, your problem is solved. Bolens Products Division, Food Machinery Corporation, Port Washington, Wisconsin, are now making this 8 H.P. Huski Ridemaster tractor. Combining power with light weight and easy handling, the new Bolens Huski Ridemaster does a large share of the work on gardens and truck farms, and supplements the larger tractor on large farms.

No clutch, no shifting, even an inexperienced operator can make instant stops and quick back ups. Equipped with a tool bar, the Ridemaster provides a seat for the driver close to the ground and directly over the implement. Only 83 inches long, it turns in its own length, and makes it possible for the operator to utilize every inch of his land and increase his yield per acre.

WHY WAGE-EARNERS WORRY—The above chart shows how prices have risen to their highest peak of 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average on June 15, 1948, according to the consumers' price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. This was a rise of 0.7 per cent since mid-May; 9.3 per cent higher than a year ago, 21.8 per cent more than in June, 1946, and 74.1 per cent above the August, 1939, level.

You're paying MORE for chops nowadays ...but LESS for the gas to broil them!

GAS COSTS YOU EVEN LESS NOW THAN IN 1939!

No matter how you economize, your meat bill, too, is considerably larger than before the war. One consolation, however, is that you can broil chops, braise beef or bake ham with little concern for the cost of the gas. While other prices went up and up, natural gas stayed down. It actually costs you less now than in 1939!

Our own expenses have soared like most of yours. New extensions, for example, cost us 2½ to 3 times more than just a few years back. But we have met rising prices and still kept gas your household bargain by 1) serving more gas to more people... 60% more customers than ten years ago... and 2) "keeping on our toes"... constantly striving to find new ways to achieve greater efficiency and more economical operation.

NOW MORE THAN EVER YOUR HOUSEHOLD BARGAIN IS GAS

As your cost of living goes up, gas becomes a bigger bargain than ever. Its truly low price... and superior performance in modern automatic appliances... is why gas is first choice in Southern California for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

By His Deeds Shall Ye Know Him

The Truman Record

- Soon after Mr. Truman became President of the United States he began his crusade for equal opportunity by openly requesting that the Rules Committee report out the FEPC bill.
- His January 3rd, 1946 message to Congress contained a request for the enactment of FEPC legislation. He thereby became the first President to make such a request officially of the Congress of the United States.
- Mr. Truman made history when he made the precedent breaking appointments of William H. Hastie as Governor of the Virgin Islands and Irving C. Mollison as Judge of the United States Customs Court.
- He appointed a special committee of distinguished Americans and charged them with the responsibility of reviewing the entire status of minority groups in this country.
- This committee known as the President's Committee on Civil Rights, presented its report to the President. He did not file it away. He ordered it released officially and it has become our charter of freedom.
- February 1948, in a special message, President Truman called upon Congress to enact Civil Rights legislation.
- On July 26, 1948, President Truman issued two executive orders which initiated a program for the end of segregation and discrimination in the armed forces and Federal government.
- President Truman has refused to back down in the face of great pressure by those who would sabotage his Civil Rights program.

Match These Deeds With Dollars

The Truman record speaks for itself. It's up to us to match his deeds with our dollars.

By making this great stand for freedom and liberty, President Truman has lost the financial support of those who would deny you your right to manhood under the Constitution. What else can you do but rally to his side? The chips are down. Your dollars count. What better use could you find for your dollars than investing them in your own freedom and pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

Back the man who has withstood all pressures to change his stand! Mobilize all forces to work for and vote for the re-election of President Harry S. Truman. We urge you to send a contribution for yourself and one for every member of your family. Act today!

There Won't Be Another

The season's first band concert in South Park has been scheduled for Sunday, August 22nd, Councilman Kenneth Hahn announced Tuesday.

Hahn said arrangements have been made with the Los Angeles Bureau of Music to present a 48-piece symphonic band under the direction of Arthur J. Babich in a two-hour program of music ranging from the classics to popular favorites. Mark Cook will be featured soloist.

South Park was included on the 1947 schedule, but lack of support caused it to be eliminated on the 1948 list of concerts. However, the August 22nd program is being presented at the request of Councilman Hahn and if attendance is sufficient to justify other programs, South Park will be added to the weekly schedule.

South Park is located between 49th and 51st Streets and between San Pedro Street and Avalon Boulevard. The program will begin at 2 P. M.

Alcohol Blamed for Youth Delinquency

The Los Angeles County Juvenile Association and the Northern California Juvenile Officers' Association, with the cooperation of the Los Angeles Police Department, are making a survey to find the part that alcohol plays in juvenile delinquency, and to find the remedy for it.

It is a widely known fact that alcoholism plays a dominant part in crimes where the child is involved as a victim. In Los Angeles City, a recent check shows 3% of the juvenile arrests are for drunkenness, while approximately 75% of the cases, where a child is found to be the victim of neglect, are due to adult drinking.

Dusty Fletcher To Visit City

Dusty Fletcher, complete with flabby shoes and ladder and still doing his same "Open the Door, Richard" routine, is currently starring nitely at New York's famed 845 Club.

Dusty, who became an overnight sensation on the strength of the Jack McVea recording of the tune (tho he, Dusty, has been doing it ever since John Lee was a baby—or maybe it just seems that long!) is planning a California vacation and wrote the Eagle Theatrical that he will be in town "to vacation" next month.

Watts Youth Given Recreation Center

Additional recreation opportunities for children and youth in a congested southeast Los Angeles area will be provided by the Watts Youth Recreation Center, 10123 Beach Street, which were opened recently with ceremonies arranged by the City Recreation and Park Department.

The center, formerly a U.S.O. facility, is expected to take care of a youth attendance of approximately 12,000 per month, based on previous experience, and will offer day and evening recreation services.

The center is to be operated as an adjunct to the Watts Playground with Stafford Lott as director in charge. In addition to offering municipal recreation activities and programs, the center will be used by youth groups of the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., C.Y.O., Red Cross, and other youth agencies.

Motor City Prices On Meat Take Drop

DETROIT—Meat prices dropped ten to sixteen cents a pound in some of the Motor City chain stores last week, according to a press release, but the facts apparently are unknown to thousands of Americans who continue to flock across the border to Windsor, Ontario, Canada, to do their shopping from early Monday morning until Saturday night.

It is estimated that Saturdays alone upward of 10,000 Detroiters of both races do their week-end shopping in Canada. $5.00 spent in Canada will produce about as much as one cares to struggle with back across the border.

London—Illuminating oil was successfully produced from coal in France and England. It was called gasoline by Dr. Abraham Gesner of Prince Edward island in 1846.

Suffering Layoffs

DETROIT — Steel and parts shortages continue to cut the production of automobiles in the Motor City's automobile industry.

Last week the Packard Motor Car Company announced the shutdown of its assembly lines. A spokesman for the firm said 3,000 auto workers would be idle.

The Briggs Manufacturing Company closed its Conner Street plant which produces Packard parts. Walter O. Briggs, Jr., a vice president of the company, said about 3,500 workers would be affected.

Other plants affected by the parts and steel shortages last week were the Hudson Motor Car Company, where 20,000 workers were sent home, and Lincoln division of the Ford Motor Company, where another 3,500 are laid off.

An automobile industry spokesman estimated supplier strikes and steel part shortages have idled more than 60,000 auto workers in the Detroit area.

Relief Payments Grow

Direct payments for relief to the needy in Los Angeles county for 1947-48 totalled $74,495,665, 46.5 per cent more than the $50,853,869 paid out in the county for relief during 1945-46, the first postwar year, California Taxpayers' association reported today. Relief paid out in the county during 1946-47 amounted to $60,744,566.

Val Verde Picnic

The Val Verde Improvement Association and the Val Verde Civic Club invite the Val Verde Property Owners and their friends to an old fashioned basket picnic at Val Verde county park, Sunday, August 22.

This outing is proposed to give everyone an opportunity to meet the 800 and more property owners and to see the improvements in this beautiful mountain resort. There will be swimming, dancing, hiking, and games. Bring your own lunch. Ice cream and cold punch served free.

Frank D. Godden is chairman of the picnic committee.

SYMPATHY

The giving of Sympathy is one of the easiest and most universal ways of expressing love, pure and unadulterated, that any being can know.

There comes a time in all of our lives when the sympathetic ear of a friend seems to be the only cure for the burdens on our hearts . . . when the only relief from fear, worry and anxiety comes in "telling it all' 'to one who can listen quietly without offering unasked for advice, with patience and tender interest.

We generally choose for friends those persons who can share our triumphs as well as our troubles, our doubts as well as our dreams. The test of our own metal comes when we are called upon to listen patiently and speak the encouraging word —for this is the only way in which we can repay the debt of sympathy which we all incur sometime during this rectic and uncertain existence which is called life.

A.G. Will I ever learn the truth?

ANSWER: Probing into the matter I find that you are worried because your husband will not confide in you about his financial standing. It seems that once you have proven to him that you are a capable manager and not a spendthrift, he may again display confidence in you.

F.W. What does the future hold for me?

ANSWER: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals that you are very disappointed because of your love affair. hTe man in question isn't worthy of your affections because of his unfaithfulness. Dismiss him from your mind and interest yourself in someone else.

O.T.G. Dear Prof. Herman: I enjoy reading your column each week and believe you can help me as you have helped others. Will my wife and I ever find happiness together?

ANSWER: The joy you seek may not be in vain . . . If you are more understanding and loving. Confidence in each other and love are the important basis for a happy marriage.

A.T. Why is there so much unhappiness in my home?

ANSWER: The friction in your home is being caused by the presence of your brother. tI is natural for you to want to help him. However, knowing him to be so indifferent, it would be wise for you to ask him to move in order to keep your home together and maintain peace with your husband.

HPA MEETS

The Home Protective Association will meet Friday, August 27, at 8 p. m., in the apartment of Mrs. Charlotta Bass, president, 4073 South Central ave.

The HPA was organized several years ago to fight restrictive covenants, especially the case of the Henry Laws family, ordered out of their home on East 92nd street because they are Negroes. The case was brought to a successful conclusion by the ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court that restrictive covenants are contrary to the Constitution of the United States.

All members of the HPA and all interested are urged to attend the meeting on Friday evening.

NEGRO BABIES PUT IN JAIL

MARY MICHELLE COPELAND—10 months old, is shown receiving an "Oscar" for 100% Beauty and Health from Miss Yvonne Richelieu. (See story.)

Negro Kids in Reno Sent to Adult Jail

RENO, Nev.—The two little kids—babies, almost—accused of setting fire to many of Reno's proudest business places while playing with matches, were arrested and sent to jail the same as if they were adults.

The children are aged eight and nine years. They confessed they started the fire, just to see something burn. They are little Negro children.

Miss LaVerne Busch has been making a heroic effort to counteraht this particular type of injustice. Together with the Reno branch of the NAACP, they succeeded in having the children taken out of the adult jail, although they are still in the custody of the police.

Fred Frye is president of the Reno branch NAACP. Bertram Edises, member of the National Lawyers Guild, Reno branch, is cooperating with Mr. Frye and the NAACP and is representing the children in court.

POLICE BRUTALITY reached in the midst of a happy family of hard-working, law-abiding citizens and left one of the most horrible official murders of recent years on the record. There is only grief and memory for his wife, mother, father and brothers of Herman Burns as they make arrangements for his funeral. Bobby Yeager, prominent fighter, an eye-witness to the fatal beating of Herman Burns said it was one of the cruelest murders he had ever known. A white friend of the family's stood by in their hour of trouble. More than any recent incident, the police murder of Herman Burns has aroused the wrath of Los Angeles citizens. The scenes showing the murdered man's family, above, are more graphic than words. (See story.)

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

California, beautiful California, I am proud to call you home. More than 35 years ago when I first landed on your shores, you were a budding maid, battling other states in the Union for a place on the map of the USA that would some day classify you one of the first. That day has come.

The growth of California has out ranked any other of the 48 states. Its increase in population over the past five years is amazing.

I am jealous of the reputation of the state in which I sank my early roots.

The citizens of the Golden State are aware that California has the most varied crop production of any state or section, and is one of the richest farming areas in America; that it holds the leadership in farm mechanization, in the use of electric power on its farms, and boasts of paying the highest agricultural wages in the country.

Such achievements are a tribute to California, if along with them we could truly say that the state leads also in democratic processes. But it is a sad reflection on California as a coming industrial empire with a heterogenious population, to note the backward trend in racial, and political understanding.

In California the reactionary elements are at work, using scare words in the press and on the radio. The liberties of the people are being suppressed by the Tenney Committee, and the un-American activities advocates who are aping the methods of that Committee.

Los Angeles, to a great degree, is in a police state. Negroes and Mexicans are being subjected to brutal attacks. These attacks are weekly occurrances. This week a young Negro worker was a victim of a police mob. He was beaten to death when he went to the rescue of his brother who was being beaten by the same officers who killed him.

In the case of the Mexican youth who was slain by a policeman, the public, especially the Mexican and Negro public, was not sufficiently aroused to impress the police that such killings were unwarranted, and certainly not according to democratic processes.

As the Voice of the people, this newspaper stands four square for law and order, But it believes with equal fervor that the rights, lives, and liberties of the people should be protected.

Little Mary Michelle Copeland, 10-months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Copeland, 602 East 21st street, is the proud winner of an "Oscar" award trophy for being 100% perfect in health and beauty in the Hollywood Baby Festival held August 11 at the American Legion Club House of Hollywood.

The picture shows Miss Yvonne Richelieu, 1439 N. Curson ave., Hollywood, presenting the "Oscar" to Baby Mary Michelle. Miss Richelieu, together with

Sears Pickets Win Point In Court Hearing

The temporary restraining order limiting the picketing of Sears Roebuck in Santa Monica by the United Committee to end job discrimination originally issued by Superior Judge Clarence Hanson was modified last week by an order handed down by Superior Court Judge Thurlow T. Taft.

As the result of Judge Taft's ruling, four pickets were allowed at each of the five entrances to the store last Friday evening instead of the one picket decreed by the original ruling. In modifying the order Judge Taft noted that in restricting the picketing to one person, the order "went beyond the reasonable discretion lodged in the court."

The matter is scheduled for

Falangist Massacre Protested

NEW YORK—A horrible massacre of 22 Asturians by civil guards and Falangist militia of the Franco government in Spain has brought a demand for prompt United Nations action. The demand was made by Rowland Watts, national secretary of the Workers Defense League, in a letter to Secretary of State George C. Marshall, which also urged that a protest be made to the Spanish ambassador in Washington. Watts quoted from a letter by Indalecio Prieto, minister of war in the Spanish Republican government, who describes the gruesome details of the murders.

Progressive Endorsement Assures Election of Negro

NEW YORK — Election of at least one Negro candidate in Brooklyn was assured last week after the American Labor Party endorsed Bertram L. Baker, progressive Negro Democrat, for the state assembly, and nominated Mrs. Ada B. Jackson to run for congress on the Henry Wallace ticket in the tenth congressional district. Brooklyn has never before been represented by a Negro.

The New York borough was assured of a Negro assemblyman when, under pressure from the local Wallafe for President Committee, the Democrats withdrew a white candidate and put up Baker, who was promptly endorsed by the Wallace party. The Republicans had already nominated a Negro candidate.

The assembly area is about 50 per cent colored.

Mrs. Jackson, the first Negro congressional candidate in Brooklyn's history, has lived in Brooklyn for 27 years. She is chairman of the Brooklyn Interracial Assembly, a director

OAKLAND—Paul Robeson added his mighty voice to the fight to free Wiley King at a meeting attended by more than 1000 Saturday night.

Wm. Jackson, Negro Scout, Awarded Highest VFW Honors

COLUBIA, Mo.—William Jackson, Jr., Negro Boy Scout of this city, has been selected as the winner of the 1948 Veterans of Foreign Wars scholarship, consisting of $500 and a gold medal, it was announced last night (Wednesday) by Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

Rank Rankin Rants Way Back To House

JACKSON, Mississippi—Old White Supremacy himself, John E. Rankin, Congressman from the first district here will be back in the house for his fifteenth term. He won easily over two opponents this week in a campaign that was based on personalities.

Negro voters took little interest in the campaign since there was little choice between Rankin and his opponents, all three of them are for white supremacy and against President Truman's Civil Rights program.

Bimini Owner Gets Fine In Rent Case

Fred Paulos, owner of the Bimini Lodge Hotel, satisfied a judgement against him Monday for the sum of $554 obtained by action of Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods recently. Paulos eluded service in the action for some time and was finally tracked down at the Alta Vista Hotel at 3rd and Grand where he had been allegedly hiding out.

The judgement against Paulos was determined following a hearing on numerous complaints that he was overcharging residents at Bimini Lodge. Mary McIllon is manager of the Hotel.

Police Beat Man to Death in Street With Clubs and Billies

"But you don't understand. They killed my husband."

A young mother, overcome by grief, sobbed to EAGLE representatives at the Connor-Johnson funeral home. As two members of the press listened to the tragic fate of the Burns' brothers, the family cast sympathetic glances toward the victim's wife.

"We were happy and having such a good time. I hardly missed him . . . And they were outside killing my husband," continued the grief-stricken wife.

Herman Burns, 28-year-old victim and deceased husband of Virginia Burns, was brutally murdered by members of the police department, eye-witnesses proclaimed. But Sergeant Dykes of the University Police Station said that as far as the police are concerned, Burns died of a heart attack.

Yet the Coroner declared that he didn't know the cause of the young man's death. He described it as one of the most mysteri cases he had ever heard Physically, the body was in p fect condition. No traces of liq or ailments of any kind could found.

Author Decries Race Stereotype

Book publishers are afraid of the American people and do not trust their intelligence. Proof of this may be found in their adherence to the beaten path, the stereotype and what they call the tried and true, writes Deaderick F. Jenkins, author of IT WAS NOT MY WORLD and the recent LETTERS TO MY SON, in an article titled How I Defeated the Big Publishers appearing in the August issue of the magazine NEGRO ACHIEVEMENTS, published in Fort Worth, Texas.

Jenkins maintains it is ideas and ideals, and not so much the fear of losing money, which frighten publishers. Some concessions have been granted in writing about minorities today, writes Jenkins, but the Negro pattern was set years ago and big publishers are determined to keep this pattern set. The writer who wants true freedom, says Jenkins, must reach the people in spite of the big publishers.

Six More Breathers For County General

Making a total of 12 authorized within a week, six additional respirators for treatment of poliomyelitis were ordered by the county this week for the General Hospital, according to the office of Supervisor Leonard J. Roach.

Delivery of the first order of six of the mechanical lungs will be made to the hospital this week.

Three of the machines authorized by the Board of Supervisors left Boston Monday of this week by air freight. Three others are being shipped to Los Angeles today.

ARTHRITIS

RHEUMATISM—NEURITIS—MISERY

Arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis and other miseries can never be corrected until the blood stream is cleansed of toxic poisons. "Putrefaction germs produce highly poisonous toxins, many of which closely resemble the venom of snakes and minute quantities are capable of producing the most alarming and distressing symptoms. A good example of the ill effects of these poisons is expressed by contact with odors arising from a dead mouse in a closet or under the floor. Although greatly diluted with air may give rise to headache, nausea, loss of appetite and other unpleasant effects. If breathing these diluted poisons will produce unpleasant effects, how much more grave must be the effects when through the retention within the body (constipation) of these foul substances their poisonous contents are sucked up into the blood and circulated through the body. In other words, when a person through constipation throws off through the lungs, kidneys and skin a large part of the poisonous matter which ought to have been discharged through the bowel how great must be the mischief done. The ultimate effects are colitis, biliousness, gastritis, gall stones, skin diseases of various sorts, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, apoplexy, paralysis, nervousness, insomnia, mental depression and even insanity. Every case of constipation is curable."

TO CORRECT THE ABOVE DISORDERS, THE CAUSE MUST BE REMOVED.

Dr. Charles A. Tyrell, M.D. says, "The physician can no more perform cures than the farmer can make his crops grow. In each case, all that can be done is to employ all the methods that cumulative wisdom can suggest to make the conditions as favorable as possible, and leave the rest to Mother Nature, who is not in the habit of making mistakes, and whose unerring methods would cure 90% of all diseased conditions, if her beneficent intentions were not frustrated by well meant, but nevertheless pernicious, drug interferences."

"My object in publishing this statement is to point out the true cause of disease, together with the means for its prevention and cure, and that, too, by a simple and inexpensive method of hygienic treatment, which has proved eminently successful in tens of thousands of cases, which is perfectly harmless and natural in its action, and absolutely free from even the suspicion of a drug. An impacted colon is a prolific hotbed for the wholesale breeding of disease germs, microbes—those organisms which science has demonstrated to be the cause of many phases of disease, or rather, the toxins (poisons) they produce, cause disease."

"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me, it has passed beyond the theoretic stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under my directions, with the most astounding results, scarcely a disease known to humanity but has been relieved, and in ninety-five per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."

Daniel C. Munro, M.D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Prof. Ehret says: "Disease is an effort of the body to eliminate waste, mucus and toxemia. Not the disease but the body is to be healed; it must be cleansed, freed from waste and foreign matter, from mucus and toxemias accumulated since childhood. This system is not a remedy, it is a regeneration, a thorough housecleaning, the acquisition of such clean and perfect health such as you never knew before."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having an office that practices NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. This office is a haven for those who suffer; where the cause may be removed. We specialize in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poison. Rid yourself of toxic poison. If suffering come to our office at once for a thorough cleansing using NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. Office treatment only. No medicine, drugs or surgery. Rose Bairpaugh Wins Radio Station Honors

Club and civil leaders hail Miss Rose Alberta Bairpaugh as the spirit of Progress. Again she has reflected credit not only to herself but upon the community for outstanding achievements.

On Tuesday, August 3 Miss Bairpaugh was cited by radio station KFI as "Gracious Lady" for her outstanding work in charity, civic and educational centers.

Miss Bairpaugh was the first from the Negro group to receive such a distinction. In the same week California's little lady of noted achievements was named by the California State Federation of Negro Women's clubs to head the Citizenship and legislative departments of the organization.

And while Miss Bairpaugh was being showered with honors, she too, did some honoring. Having lost her own mother more than a year ago, she selected her own and her mother's friend, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, to become her Delta mother.

Shortly Miss Bairpaugh will sojourn in Mexico, stopping off at San Diego where she will attend the state convention, September 13.

J. T. and Gert To Dissolve Partnership

LOS ANGELES (NPB) — J. T. Gipson, sports and theatrical editor of the California Eagle, and long recognized as one of the nation's top news writers, Wednesday filed suit for divorce charging his wife Gertrude with cruelty.

Gipson identified his wife as a feature writer and columnist on the same newspaper where he is employed. The brief reciting the issues to be aired before the courts was prepared in the law offices of Atty. Walter L. Gordon Jr.

The newspaperman declined to publicly enlarge on the simple issue of cruelty. Both litigants are prominent members of the local and national newspaper family. Atty. Gordon is of the opinion the issues in the case can be ironed out satisfactorily for all concerned.

The couple were married in 1944, and have one child, a 3-year-old daughter named Reve Lemerile.

Noted Artists Create Murals Showing Pioneer Contributions

A graphic historical account of California from its earliest days, depicting the contribution of pioneer Negro citizens, will become a part of the lobby of the new home office of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company when that building is completed early next year. Hailed nationally as one of the most significant steps yet undertaken by a Negro enterprise to promote cultural and historical interest, and to call attention to the masterful skill of Negro artists, the record will be preserved for posterity in the form of two murals to be painted in their New York studio by artists Hale Woodruff and Charles Alston.

Woodruff and Alston, both artists of international repute, were presented to the press, and formal announcement of the beginning of the research, attendant upon the actual painting of the murals, was made at a luncheon tendered at the Clark Hotel by officials of the Golden State Mutual Company last Thursday. George W. Beavers, chairman of the board, and Norman O. Houston, company president, outlined the unprecedented project and presented the artists and their research assistants: Paul Williams, architect for the new home office building; Titus Alexander, pioneer Los Angeles resident, authority on early California history; and Miss Miriam Matthews, librarian of the Washington Irving branch, and author of several books on historical and sociological themes.

Immediately following the luncheon, the noted artists embarked upon a tour of the state. They will visit the site of the first mission established in California, and follow the Mission Trail north to San Rafael. During the course of their tour they will visit and take notes at some of the sites and locations that are the foundation of the history and lore of the state. Their notes will be concerned with such names as Jim Beckwourth, discoverer of the Beckwourth Pass, Charles Tulley and Biddy Mason, Negro members of the pioneer wagon trains.

Leonard Grimes, assistant in the company's public relations office, will accompany the artists and make a photographic record of the tour. Following their return, the artists will consult with authorities and officials in order to determine the phases of their compiled record that are to be the subjects for the murals. It is expected that they will return to New York in three weeks to begin the actual work of putting history down on canvas.

Woodruff is presently on the are faculty of New York university's school of education. He is formerly director of art in the Atlanta university, and he has exhibited extensively in this country and in Paris. Notable is his painting of the "Amistad" case of 1839.

Alston, widely and affectionately known as "Spinky," is a prolific contributor to magazines such as Fortune, Red Book and The New Yorker. He has done book illustrations for leading publishers, and pieces of his sculpture and some of his paintings are held by Edsel Ford, Benny Goodman, Lena Horne, the Detroit Museum and others. He has taught such artists as Jacob Lawrence and Romare Bearden. His murals in New York's Harlem hospital depicting the history of medicine have been widely acclaimed.

Titus Alexander has lived in California since 1897. He is a fighting pioneer citizen and was employed by the Bureau of Power and Light in an engineering capacity for 20 years. He has an endless knowledge of early California history and he has colloborated with several authors of historical works.

Campaign to Resist Jimcrow Draft

Working for an order or a law that specifically outlaws segregation in the armed services, the L. A. branch of the Campaign to Resist Military Segregation is going forward with plans for civil disobedience against the jimcrow draft.

Tomorrow night, Friday, at Wesley Methodist Church, pre-Registration Day activities will begin with a five-man panel in an informative discussion. Saturday morning, members of the campaign will join with other resisters to the draft in a poster walk, beginning at the Spring Street entrance of the Federal Building, at 10:35 o'clock.

Sunday at 3 p.m., Manuel Talley, who refused induction in a jimcrow army in 1944, will participate in a panel discussion of the draft at the First Methodist Church, at 8th and Hope.

Information and leaflets are available at campaign headquarters, 321½ E. 56th Street. Telephone AD. 3-3984.

Christian Would Deport Zionist Jews

Gerald L. K. Smith, a thoroughly American American, fearlessly stood before the delegates at his Christian Nationalist Party's Convention in St. Louis last week and excorciated certain members of the Jewish faith. Shouting that a "Jewish clicque now controls the atom bomb," the typically American leader of the un-Christian-like Christian Party, said that all Jews who profess to be Zionists should be deported.

Smith, who claims to represent the true feeling and purpose of Christian Americans, accused Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter of having manipulated "a political underground in Washington," and of having "violated the rules of conduct for jurists."

Delegates from thirty states attended the convention that was held at a time when hysteria and a planned campaign against progressive thinking was at its height. Smith is not a member of any of a certain 142 organizations.

John Simmons Charges Wife With Cruelty

An action for divorce has been instituted by John Simmons, nationally famous musician against his wife the beautiful Carolyn Simmons, former "thrush" for leading name orchestras and one time brilliant luminary on the nation's entertainment horizon. The complaint which was filed through the office of Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, charges the curvaceous Carolyn with desertion and mental cruelty.

Simmons, a local boy who started his career in local bistro and went on to become one of the world's top flight string bass players, has won international fame and was named on Esquire's All American team last year. It was Simmons along with several others who revived New York's famed 52nd street as the "cradle of jazz" after the post war slump, and made it once again the swing center of the world.

Mrs. Simmons is now residing in Chicago while her husband is in Los Angeles and is currently appearing at the exclusive Mocombo Club on Hollywood's Sunset Strip, with the Phil Moore musical aggregation. The couple have two children, both girls.

Summer Graduation At Summer College

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Several of the most enjoyable campus and social function activities of Florida A. and M. college commencement season were those in which graduates of the immediate summer school played a major part.

The highlights of the activities was the senior chapel program, held in the Lee Auditorium, with patrons, friends and faculty joining the class in the festivity. This program was begun at 11:30 a.m., and delivering the inspiring class address was the class president, Roy Lee Caldwell, whose message was concerned principally with building.

Others who had part were the Rev. W. A. Jones, member of the class; a male quartet of the class; Louise Deal, who presented the speaker of the day; Mrs. Bessie Gibson, who rendered with much feeling a vocal solo; and the president of the college, Dr. William H. Gray, Jr., who responded in his usual charming way.

He was a leader in the movement to bring Colorado River water to the five cities and 175,000 persons that comprise the West Basin.

Woman Stabbed For No Apparent Cause

DETROIT—A 22-year-old woman was stabbed to death Saturday night by a man who without a known cause, came to her room and warned, "You are going to die tonight," then plunged a long switch-blade knife into left chest.

The victim is Gertrude Wigham, 3158 Canton street. She was rushed to the Receiving Hospital in an ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival. Police said the woman died from chest wounds inflicted by Andy Roland, 40, of the same address.

Truman Condemned for Arrest Of Communist Leaders

President Truman and Attorney General Clark were "strongly condemned" this week by nearly 400 Negro citizens for jeopardizing the rights of minority groups by the recent "hysteria-breeding arrests of national leaders of the Communist Party."

This condemnation is expressed in a "Statement by Negro Americans to the President and Attorney General of the United States," endorsed by 395 citizens in thirty-seven states, including 17 southern states. Additional endorsements are being sought through publication of the "Statement" this week in a number of Negro weekly newspapers under the caption "THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE."

The project is sponsored by Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, New York City; Roscoe C. Dunjee, publisher of the Black Dispatch, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Attorney Charles P. Howard, Des Moines, Iowa, keynote speaker at the recent Founding Convention of the Progressive Party; and artist Paul Robeson.

Asserting "we raise here no defense of the principles of the Communist Party," the "Statement" declares: "Our concern is to defend the right of political and other minorities, especially the Negro people, to fight for the kind of society they consider democratic and just." The Negro leaders further declare: "We agree fully with . . . Henry A. Wallace: 'Defense of the civil rights of Communists is the first line in the defense of the liberties of a democratic people."

Press Freedom Threatened by Suit Against Liberian Editor

MONROVIA, Liberia—A threat to freedom of the press, isolated to the extent of the distance between this capital city and continental United States, but intimately related to the attacks on progressive thinking and action there, was made known this week when C. Frederick Taylor, publisher of the African Nationalist newspaper, and a former campaign manager of Liberia's President Tubman, was notified to appear for trial on August 23rd to answer charges of criminal libel. The libel charges grow out of the publication by Taylor, in his "letters to the editor" column, of a letter that attacked President Tubman for frequently absenting himself from state duties.

The letter charged that the President had "vacated his office by leaving the country on a foreign ship not in his official capacity or business." Should he be found guilty, Taylor faces a six month sentence in the dreaded Belly Yella prison and a fine of $1000.

The libel suit, Taylor believes, is another reprisal for his opposition to the granting of a 3,000,000-acre 80-ton iron ore concession to Col. Landswell Christie, and an overall concession to Edward Stettinius, former U. S. Secretary of State. Because of his opposition at that time, Taylor was evicted from the building housing his publishing equipment, and part of it was stolen and some of it ruined by the heavy torrential rains.

Last May 1, Taylor charged in his paper that 250 acres of landed estate were being forcibly occupied by H. Lafayette Harmon, advisor to President Tubman. Harmon is the father of Emmett Harmon, the president's secretary, believed to be touring in the United States at present.

It is reported that Jacob Browne, Associated Negro Press representative here, has not handled the Taylor story because of his fear of reprisals.

Information Sought On Gladstone King

Information is being sought of the present whereabouts of Gladstone King on behalf of his minor son toward whose support he has failed to contribute in over two years, as a result of which he is at the present time in dire need. Gladstone King, a negro, was born in October 1906 and is a native of the British West Indies.

He served in the U. S. Navy from 2/26/44 until 9-13-45. Prior to his induction he was employed in the capacity of a pantryman on the diner of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Anyone aware of his location is requested to communicate with the National Desertion Bureau, 105 Nassau Street, New York 7, New York.

"THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE"

Statement by Negro Americans To The President And Attorney General Of The United States

Roscoe C. Dunjee W. E. B. DuBois

WE, the undersigned Negro Americans, strongly condemn your hysteria-breeding arrests of national leaders of the Communist Party, and call upon you to take positive action to protect civil rights instead of persecuting political minorities.

We raise here no defense of the principles of the Communist Party. Our concern is to defend the right of political and other minorities, especially the Negro people, to fight for the kind of society which they consider necessary to give full expression to the principles of American democracy.

We agree fully with the declaration of Henry A. Wallace:

"Defense of the civil rights of Communists is the first line in the defense of the liberties of a democratic people. The history of Germany, Italy, Japan and Franco Spain should teach us that the suppression of the Communists is but the first step in an assault on the democratic rights of labor, national, racial and political minorities, and all those who oppose the policies of the government in power."

The obvious purpose of these Gestapo-like arrests of Communist leaders is to frighten people away from the Wallace Movement and progressive people's organizations generally, practically all of which have been slandered as "communist" or "subversive" by the Attorney General and the Un-American Activities Committee.

Here, clearly, is an attempt to strengthen the current drive to war and reaction in general by intimidating all political opposition to such a program.

It is significant that the indictment of these Communist leaders does not even charge them with any attempt to use "force and violence," for political or any other purpose. Indeed, the asserted basis of their indictment has already been overruled by the Supreme Court of the United States—in the "Schneiderman Case," where the late Wendell Willkie served as defense attorney.

We take special note of the fact that two Negro leaders are among those involved in the recent "Communist round-up"—one a veteran, the National Administrative Secretary of the Communist Party; the other a lawyer, whom some 60,000 citizens voted to elect to the Council of the City of New York. The significance of these facts will be understood by the Negro people.

We call upon our Government to halt its fascist-like attacks upon opposition minorities, and to act for the protection of minority rights.

We call upon the Attorney General to use the power of his office to defend the lives and liberties of the Negro people in the South.

We call upon the President to give more than lip-service to civil rights (while acting to destroy them)—to use his executive authority to abolish discrimination in federal employment and segregation in the armed forces; to throw the full influence of his office into the fight to have Congress repeal the poll tax, establish a national FEPC and outlaw lynching.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Do-Nothing Republicans

From the latest report the State Republican convention followed close on the heels of the pattern set by the 80th Congress. It met in the State capital, August 8-9, and as to accomplishing anything that will benefit the people, did nothing.

The 80th Congress answered the call of President Truman to meet in special session. O. K. It met. And in 13 days succeeded in wrangling, bungling, and doing absolutely nothing beneficial to the people.

The record shows the anti-inflation and housing measures it passed are useless for stopping inflation or building houses in the rent bracket that those who need houses can afford,

Of course there will be those on the Dewey confusion band-wagon who will tell the people that the 80th Congress passed a housing bill and other bills that will relieve the housing needs and curb inflation. But will the people believe that?

Just what the Negro tail-end Republicans are going to sell the people as Republican benefits to them in the coming presidential campaign, is a guess.

The way the situation shapes up now, about the only difference between Republicans and the Dixiecrats or those Southern bourbons is this: The Dixicrats frankly declare their determination to maintain a gap or dividing line between the citizen rights of Negro and white Americans, which they term white supremacy, using States Rights as the basis for this contention.

The Republicans, on the other hand, profess an unswerving devotion to Negroes and keen sympathy for them in their fight to gain human dignity and recognition as first-class citizens. But they do absolutely nothing, except make promises.

For instance, the Sacramento State Republican convention. The Negroes were there, all right, but not one was on the platform committee. Nor were they on any other important committee. Their one civil rights recommendation was treated to the trash pile.

Governor Warren, vice-presidential nominee on the Republican ticket, has awarded Negroes in the State practically nothing of importance. An appointment on a commission here and there. That's all.

Both Republicans and Democrats, however, are hysterical about the Progressive Party. Henry Wallace, leader of the Third Party, they know is an honest man, interested in the future of his country, the proper distribution of its abundant resources to the end that all of its citizens may enjoy life and liberty. That on a basis of equal education, equal advantages and equal wages for equal work, they may all live decently. They can produce no argument that makes sense against this philosophy. So they climb up on the house tops and scream that Wallace is controlled by the Communists.

Today Henry Wallace answered this false accusation, saying, "I am not a Communist, never have been, and never expect to be."

To our Republican and Democratic friends alike, we say, "Why not come out with the truth, and settle the question once for all time? You know it is the Negro question and Wallace's stand on it, and not Communism that is disturbing you."

Stop saying what you don't mean, and mean what you say, Brother and Sister Elephants and Donkeys. Every road, every period, every cycle ends. Today we are coming to the end of the road where one group of human beings can be classed as higher or lower than any other. We are entering the classless society which Jesus preached centuries ago, whether you like it or not.

So—you'd better get off your Donkey and Elephant merry-go-round, and come out fare and square for what you know will eventually win.

We Will Stop Rankin

John Rankin, advocate of white supremacy and States Rights, has been nominated on the Democratic ticket of Mississippi for the 15th term to represent in Congress more than a million Negroes and the few whites who vote for him.

The Progressive Party, however, will be on the ballot in Mississippi in November. We, the people, can stop Rankin. And we will.

Loyalty Checks for Our Teachers

The Los Angeles Board of Education, following in the footsteps of the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors, has designed a series of checks now for the Los Angeles school teachers, similar to those which the county employees were subjected to.

It has all to do with Communism, and those horrible "Reds" who, the frightened members of the Board of Education fear, will teach things to the young and impressionable minds of school children that they should not learn. Such as, for example, that God hath made of one blood all nations of men, and that therefore girls and boys of all races, colors, and creeds should work and play together—as members of one big world family.

Children should not need to learn such a truth, by the way. If left to themselves, they would follow that line of thought as naturally as they learn to walk. The trouble among children is caused by the false ideals taught to them by adults—ideals which they must unlearn, if racial trouble is to be avoided.

But anyway, the Board of Education has instructed the superintendent to confer with the county counsel to recommend procedures which might be followed to bring to the Board's attention "any subversive activities engaged in, either within or without the school system, by employees thereof."

It is the dark cloud of Fascism settling down upon the school system of Los Angeles. It is making teachers afraid to speak up for truth and right. It is making children wonder what is meant by the words, "land of the free." (They have been wondering for some time about that phrase, "with liberty and justice for all.")

If we here in America are so afraid of our boasted democracy that we cannot let anyone discuss any other ideology, then our democracy is dead. It is the freedom to discuss, to debate, to argue in Pershing Square, in the schoolroom, everywhere, that makes America the land of the free.

"If there is any fixed star in our Constitutional constellation," said the United States Supreme Court, "it is that no official, high or petty, can prescribe what shall be orthodox in politics, nationalism, religion, or other matters of opinion, or force citizens to confess by word or act their faith therein."

The Citizens Committee for Better Education, of which Dr. H. Claude Hudson is president, is protesting this action of the Board of Education. Dr. Hudson has written to the Board, pointing out the grave dangers at this time when the people are agitated by spy scares, and urging the members of the Board to grant a public hearing in which the community can be represented before such drastic action as a loyalty check is finally taken.

Each one interested is also urged to write. We have been writing and wiring to our representatives in Congress. Here is an opportunity to do the same good and patriotic deed right at home.

These Are the People

In another part of this paper there is a large advertisement headed, "The First Line of Defense."

Leading the line are such names as Roscoe C. Dungee, W.E.B. DuBois, Paul Robeson, Charles W. Howard, William Z. Foster, and Benjamin J. Davis.

These are strong men who are not afraid to do what will guarantee all the right to live as free men. They are for Henry Wallace, because they feel that he believes as they do, in the dignity of mankind. These are the true leaders of the Negro people of this nation.

The wishy-washy leadership that has led the people up a blind alley for more than 80 years must be relegated to the dump heap.

Only a clear call will henceforth be heard by the people who are on the march—a march agaisst false promises asd paid mis-leaders—a march against Jimcrow, the lynch mob, the poll tax, racial restrictions, and police brutality.

The people are on their way. Freedom is their goal.

Alexander Graham Bell, Scotish-American scientist and inventor of the telephone, was born in Edinburg in 1847 and died in 1922. He was, also, an authority on elocution and speech.

The Push-Over

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

It was Kiddies' Day at Pershing Square last Saturday.

It was the day of the annual Pet Show, sponsored by the Downtown Business Men's Association for the children of Los Angeles and vicinity, before they must pick up their books and trek back to school.

The youngsters came from far and near, bringing their pets, big and little, old and young, funny and cute, all bedecked with flowers and ribbons—all of them wondering what on earth it was all about, most of them looking exceedingly bored and tired, some of them scared out of their wits and clinging fratically to their little master or mistress, and a few appearing very wise and nonchalent as if enduring under protest this silly idea of human beings who were forever talking about kindness to animals, but who never semed able to learn what the animals themselves really want.

Not a Pet Show, we'll bet, if left to a vote of the pets themselves.

But anyway, there they were. A great Brahma long-horn steer, whose horns could have gouged tigers or lions or elephants to death in his native jungle land, but who was placid enough in civilized Pershing Square. His name is Jiggs. His master, Julian C. Smith, Jr., sat astride his big pet, acknowledging the wondering exclamations of the crowd, while Jiggs calmly chewed his cud. Jiggs won the prize for being the largest pet at the show. How could he help it?

Seven-year old Bruce Rothschild had a baby alligator for a pet. Its name is "Alley." A turtle by the name of Finnery was judged the best-dressed. Can you imagine that? His master Richard Hudson had dolled him up in a new-look outfit, with ribbons and furbelows all over his hard-shell back.

A baby raccoon by the name of Sammy, who was fed with a bottle by his master, James Hoyt, won the prize for being the most unusual. A pretty lamb, named Peanuts, scampered away with the prize for the most beautiful animal in the miscellaneous division. Its little mistress is Patty Windbigler, aged nine.

Of course there were cats, and rabbits, and dogs, and birds galore. There were beautiful Shetland ponies. A kitten only two days old, that didn't have its eyes open yet. A tiny guppie fish that darted about in its bowl, frightened, of course, but showing off its beautiful colors to perfection. A Calico cat, judged the most unusual among the cats, because of its unusual colorings.

But the most beautiful of all, was Pepper, a seven-months' old cocker spaniel. owned by Charles Bailey, a student at St. Catherine Military School. Coal black, his hair shining in the sun from the brushing Charles had given it, Pepper won the hearts of all the youngsters and the grown-ups at the show, as well as the decision of the judges.

Pepper won the trophy as the most beautiful in the dog division, and then went on to greater honors by winning the grand prize of the show—a cup so large Charles had to call on his Daddy to help him carry it off the stage. Pepper remained cuddled up in the arms of his little master, regardless of any and all prizes and trophies that he won. He lives with Charles at 13113 Woodruff street.

There was a grand parade through the park to the judges' stand, preceding the awarding of the prizes. It was led by a 30-piece drum and bugle corps from Troop 379, Boy Scouts of America, composed of Chinese-American youngsters. A Boy Scout honor guard, and an auxiliary Junior Police color guard also took part in the parade.

These youngsters, followed by the children with their pets, aroused the usual habitues of the Pershing Park benches, and they forgot their arguments on politics, religion, and what-not, to stand on tip-toe and crane their necks to see, the same as the proud parents of the kids were doing.

It was a happy scene in Pershing Square last Saturday morning. Maybe it was mere wishful thinking, but one couldn't help visualizing a time when adults as well as children would come together to display their pets—the things they love and cherish, and to discuss how best to care for them, in an atmosphere of friendliness and neighborliness. Couldn't that come true?

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

In The American Tradition

JOHN M. LEE

Last week in Holden, Missouri, Norman Bailey, 25 year old leader of a strike against an elevator concern, was snatched from a picket line and tarred and feathered; this was in the American tradition. Those of us who were three years old or over when World Blood Bath Number 1 was being run, can recall that American bigotry, narrow-mindedness and, (as we came to realize later), American fascism were expressed by tarring, and feathering, and running out of town. It was a sportive demonstration that was frequently concurred in by whole communities. The custom fell into disuse in recent years, due, perhaps, to the high cost of pitch, or the scarcity of feathers.

....It is difficult to tell what Bailey's reaction to an old American custom was. No doubt he was humiliated, and perhaps whole patches of his skin came off in spots where the adhesion between the tar and the feathers and his skin was strongest, but he must have gotten some satisfaction from knowledge that none of the members of the mob that scorched and seared his body were members of a certain 142 organizations; they were what is referred to in official circles as "loyal Americans."

Bailey must not permit his anger to blot out the significance of his tormentor's behavior; he must remember that this is America, and is America, we do things in the democratic way. While the mob did show bad taste in putting on its demonstration in public, it was at least open and honest about it. Admittedly there was no furtive plot to overthrow the government of the United States by force and violence; no furtive attempt it is true, but rather, a bold, open defiance of local state and Federal authority.

The Marshal, charged with keeping the law in the community, said none of the mob was recognized, and it follows logically that no one will be apprehended. Here again the American tradition is proven superior. No one will come forward to purge himself of the ignominy associated with the cowardly attack on Bailey. They have faded back into the ranks of the great one hundred per cent American organizations presently occupied with the project of making this country the kind of place they want it to be.

There will not be an investigation of the Bailey incident by the Thomas committee, nor is it likely that the Attorney General will make an impressive-sounding pronouncement, or add American mobs to his lengthy list of un-American organizations. We must endure tar and feather mobs as we must endure the Ku Klux Klan and Gerald L. K. Smith. Bailey, and all of us for that matter, must soon accept mob violence, and the Klan and bigotry as the true American way, or there will be more tar and feathers parties.

Official United States must be abysmally stupid if it cannot recognise that the Klan and the violent mobs it inspires are the real forces that are already undermining the government by force and violence. Every lynching, every Klan demonstration, every act of a mob against an American citizen is action (not thoughts or plots, mind you, but action) against the very foundation of this nation. We are already a nation of captive people, imprisoned by our own deceit that made it possible for the advent of fascist control of the government while we taught hate and fear.

The tar smeared on Norman Bailey's body is also smeared on the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and it is running hot to congeal there with the blood of other men of labor, and Americans who were hung and shot and quartered because they had souls housed in a non-white skin. Deny if you can, that this is in the American tradition.

White Reporter Passes For Negro In Deep South

The sincere desire to discover what it's like to be a Negro made Ray Sprigle, white, tan his skin dark enough to pass for a Negro and go into the deep south for four long crawling weeks.

A Pulitzer prize winning staff member of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Sprigle wrote in a series of 12 articles the experiences of that trip into another man's world.

Sprigle is a top-flight reporter and not a showman. He has high regard for truth and facts. It is this reason he is able to report that as a Negro he found:

"My rights of citizenship ran only as far as the nearest white man said they did." Sprigle, who had some difficulty in trying to convince people of his masquerade until he tanned considerably, reports:

Southern whites have long taken the position that when a man says he's black, as far as they are concerned, he is."

W. J. Wheaton Says

A very interesting letter from my farmer friends; which tells me that everything is working smoothly, that Mr. Yamiati, the Japanese who has been taking care of the acres on shares, has been wonderful. He is with them still, and has been of great help in showing Josh how to irrigate. It seems that there is difference in tilling California soil and that which Josh has been used to. They are only situated about one mile from the school and Mary Ann 3rd has already made any number of contacts.

"I guess I'll just prepare myself to entertain a lot of youngsters, and sure will miss you," she writes.

And I sure do miss you, Mary Ann. She asks us to write some news; things like we used to talk about. Well, the first thing that comes to mind is the political muddle, and the Spy Hysteria that is as mysterious as "Who shot Cock Robin." If the testimony of the reconverted Americans, that is Americans who became conscious stricken, and threw off the cloak of Communism and their, acknowledged, treasonable activities of a decade past, is to be believed, then it's a wonder that Joe Stalin is not in the White House, and Molotov isn't Secretary of State.

It will take more than the smear testimony of Communist, who seeing the evil of their ways, go to the Mourners Bench, and seek forgiveness of their transgressions by the accusation of persons, who were high in the Government. The debatable question is: If the accusers were aware, and had evidence of the communistic activities of the accused, why did they not at that time expose them? We are not defending Communist ideology or any of its form of government, but we can not stretch our imagination to vision that many of the persons named as traitors to his country, in giving to an alien nation, secrets that are of natoinal importance, secrets that could well destroy the nation.

We heard one man call another a Communist because he agreed with the President in his stand for Civil Liberty or equal opportunity for all citizens alike. As we listened to the harangue we tried to define what they meant by communism. We do not know that the term has been applied to one who has been as loyal to his Government and as stable as the storied Rock of Gibraltar.

Franck R. Havenner, the present incumbent in Congress, and who seeks reelection from the FOURTH DISTRICT, is one American who sincerely believes in, and acts, Democracy. Havenner has been smeared by the term, but his record places the negative on the veracity of his accusers. This campaign for the presidency promises to be one of the most bitter in the history of the nation. Especially so in the State of California. California has a candidate for the vice-president, but already the voters are saying "It's all right for Warren, but we can not vote for Earl without voting for Dewey." So the boys say: That's THAT!! The Negro vote can be a very potent factor in determining the result of the national elections this coming November. They are somewhat the position of the AFL in 1908-1912. . . . We think our political memory is correct . . . that Samuel Gompers, then head of the American Federation of Labor, laid before the two major parties a plea for the support of certain measures that would prove of benefit to teh workers.

One of the major parties objected; the other accepted. The AFL did not engage in partisan politics at that time, but Gompers suggested that it would be well for the workers to support the party that would support those measures. It was figured that 90 per cent or more heeded Gompers advice. The Democrats won.

The Republican platform contains a plank on Civil Rights. The same Party has been including such planks for a half century or more. When the anti-Polltax measure was brought on the floor of this, present, Senate for debate, it was known that the Southern Dixiecrats had girded

Our Brother's Country

By RUAMA MADDOX

One of the most beautiful spots on this globe of ours, peaceful, beautiful and lovely Haiti, has been the victim, not of our greed, war or intolerance from other nations, but of just being overlooked. Situated where it is, on the western portion of the island of Hispaniola, just below Cuba, a courageous little republic, consisting mainly of mountains and valleys and a beautiful coast line, it seems to be one of the last quiet unspoiled spots in the world.

Since obtaining its status as a republic in 1935, this independent little nation has performed improvement of their country. almost unbelievable feats in the Schools, civic improvement, medical facilities have all been started and one of the most difficult and earliest of their projects has been the consolidation of health and education.

Due to the heat, unsanitary cooking and eating utensils, bacteria develops at an amazing speed. Five years ago a move was made to improve such conditions. As cooking utensils of any kind not made from their own clay are both expensive and scarce, far-seeing educators saw that they would have to develop and make their own articles for cooking and eating. As intestinal diseases are prevalent over any other in Haiti, the health program and educational program must work together.

In 1945, Dr. Glen Lukens, ceramic instructor and associate art director at the University of Southern California, was sent to Haiti to work out this problem, and it has been since then that the United States has become aware of this friendly, quiet little nation, attending to its own affairs and asking help from no one. During Dr. Lukens' stay on the island, before his supplies from this country arrived, he searched and scoured the country for supplies that the people could use that were at hand. He discovered after much search a wonderful clay in unlimited quantities and small deposits of lead and copper. He developed and taught the making of cooking utensils, making them sanitary and fireproof ;taught them how to make simple kilns from their own clay; taught them how to make simple glazes; taught them the practical side of clay and they wove into their work beauty and feeling from the spirit they carried within themselves.

In his work, Dr. Lukens was assisted by several of the students in the schools of Haiti and for 18 months the work of research and development went on. At the end of that time Dr. Lukens returned to the United States, leaving these young men to proceed and teach what had so far been accomplished. Each semester a scholarship student is sent to the United States to study at the University of Southern California, sponsored and helped by Dr. Lukens. At the end of one semester, during which they received a very intensive training course, and during which they also had practical experience by working in some ceramic industry, they are sent back to Haiti to carry on this work of helping both in the health, educational and spiritual advancement of their country.

Thus far, in addition to the ones Dr. Lukens left in Haiti to carry on the work, two young men have been trained and sent back to carry on. The scholarships are awarded, the jobs are offered, transportation is secured in some way, but when the students are trained and ready to begin their work, arrive home, they need glazes, colors, tools and supplies with which to begin work.

The program for the develop- has been a few planned centers, ment of this work in rural Haiti where ceramics is to be made and taught. Each center will be permanent, and one teacher will handles several. A small kiln will be made and kept there, glazes will be made on the spot, partly from supplies from this country and partly from their own materials.

Two very fine teachers have been trained and sent back during the past year. The program until recently has been that the government of Haiti would sponsor and finance five such centers. Because of the fact that a fair will be held in 1949 which will be very costly, the financial support of the government has been withdrawn and an attempt made to partly finance and encourage the two young men returned to do this work.

Materials of any kind are exhorbitantly high in Haiti, labor is cheap and the plans thus far have been to purchase supplies here which are shipped directly to the teachers of the small centers and thus the work is slowly proceeding. Friends, people interested in the development of people everywhere, are rallying to this cause and help from many unexpected sources has arrived.

A group consisting of people from many professions, business people, teachers and housewives have grouped themselves together in this common interest to raise money to buy the materials for the work to go on. The money is being earned by barbecues, musicals, a festival and bazaar which will be given on dates to be announced later.

Any spot in the world which is helped and made better makes the whole world better. Haiti has the spirit and all she needs is this small lift. A young priest recently wrote Dr. Lukens regarding his church and the importance of ceramics: "I have a fine new church to dedicate; four days of the week we will give to ceramics and three to the church." And this same little church, on this almost forgotten island, is important enough that the wife of our recent president, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, go down to and dedicate some time soon.

"Stop! Look! And Listen!"

By PAUL FRENCH

Before the American people (and that means YOU!) allow the mad-dog militarists and bankers who are running this country, to provoke a needless and horrible war with the Soviet Union, they (and this means YOU!) had better follow the old sign at the railway crossing, and "Stop, Look and Listen."

No one who sees the daily and hourly lies, insults, aggressions, spy frame-ups, kidnapping yarns and general hell-raising that the U. S. State Department is building up against the USSR, can doubt that it is all done to prepare the mind of the American people for war. All these tales about how the Russian people are simply wild to "escape" from Russia, are told to get you to believe that war will be "easy," and thus get you to accept, first the idea, then the fact, of war.

A whole crop of "historians" has been busy trying to convince us that the Soviet Union could not have defeated the Nazis, except that "we" furnished the arms and food; and that even then "we" had to open the second front or else the Hitler armies would have whipped the Soviet armies.

This is just a lie. During the whole four years from 1941 to 1945, the British and Americans, together, furnished the USSR approximately 10,000 tanks, about the same number of artillery guns and aircraft. But—each year Soviet industry itself produced 30,000 tanks, 30,000 motorized artillery guns, 40,000 airplanes, 120,000 ordinary artillery guns, and 100,000 mortars. This means that, of the most important arms, Britain and America furnished only some five or six per cent of what the Soviet armies used to defeat Hitler.

Of food, clothing, raw materials and manufactured goods, Britain and America furnished the Soviet Union with only four per cent of what it used.

The Soviet Union never denied that this help was very useful. But when American imperialism, now, pretends that it was decisive, it is just lying. Since the total help given was only about five per cent, nobody should expect the Russians to be more than five per cent grateful, and talk about them being "ungrateful" is just vanity or, more likely, propaganda for war. What makes such talk insulting is the added fairy tale that U.S. and British armies "saved" the USSR and really "won the war."

On June 22, 1941, Hitler threw 240 divisions against the Russians. But in the first four months, Hitler lost in killed, wounded and captured, more than 4,500,000 men. There was no second front then, nor even the landing in Africa! Hitler had to renew his divisions from fresh reserves.

Only by drafting more men, did Hitler again have 240 divisions on the Soviet front when, in the winter of 1942-43, the Soviet armies passed over to the offensive at Stalingrad. Of Hitler's 240 divisions, 179 were German, 22 Romanian, 14 Finnish, 10 Italian, 13 Hungarian, one was Slovak and one was Spanish. In three months after the Soviet offensive began, it had routed 112 divisions of these Hitler forces. That offensive began on November 19, 1942, and where were the Americans and British then? They were just beginning their operations in Africa—and Hitler didn't have to withdraw a single man from the Soviet front to meet that comparatively, piddling operation.

The Soviet Union was, therefore, fighting the war singlehanded. And it continued to do so. By "super-total mobilization," Hitler rebuilt his destroyed armies on the Soviet front, and by November 1943, even had 257 divisions there, of which 207 were Germans. But his best troops had already been buried in the good earth of Russia, where the warmakers of Wall Street want to send a few million American boys today.

During that year—1942-43—the Soviet armies had engaged and whipped the Nazis in several tremendous battles; at Orel-Kursk; at Kiev; at Korsun-Shevchenovsky in the Ukraine. In each one, millions of men and tens of thousands of artillery pieces and planes were engaged. And where were the Americans and the British then? They were still "planning" the second front;

The second front, finally, came in the Spring of 1944. But it was just a microscopic spot on the map of the French coast, when the Soviet armies, in June and July of 1944, surrounded and annihilated the central group of the German army in White Russia, and destroyed Hitler's southern group of armies in the Jassy-Kishenev area, when Soviet troops crossed the Carpathian mountains, knocked out Romania and Bulgaria, and penetrated into East Prussia and Hungary.

In that summer of 1944, the Soviet Army had destroyed 120 German divisions. And Hitler, still unafraid of the second front, again tried to build up his forces facing east. By November of 1944, he had 204 divisions fighting the Soviet Army, of which 180 were German. At the end of December 1944, as some Yanks, who were there may remember, Hitler launched an offensive in the west—in the Ardennes; it pierced the American - British front and threatened it with disaster.

On January 6, 1945, Churchill appealed to Stalin to help save the US-British forces, by opening up a wide attack on the Soviet front. If Stalin had failed, if he had refused, there are tens of thousands of American GIs now living, who would have been dead. But on January 12, Stalin and the Soviet armies came to their aid with an offensive in the east from the Baltic Sea to the Carpathian mountains, calling into action 150 Soviet divisions and great masses of artillery, tanks and planes.

This Soviet offensive broke the German front in the east, drove the Nazi armies hundreds of miles, penetrated deep into Germany and emerged at the approaches to Berlin. And, the very day that Soviet offensive began, the Germans cut short their offensive against the Americans and British, and withdrew their Fifth and Sixth tank armies from the west, transferring them to the Soviet front. This, then, allowed Patton's tank army to resume the offensive in the west.

These are cold facts; facts proven by the records. They show that, had not the Soviet armies fought, and fought singlehanded in the most decisive battles, the Anglo-American forces would never had been able to open, or to hold—if they had opened—any considerable ground of France in the long-promised and long-delayed second front.

Today, any number of liars are engaged in attempts to make us forget these facts. Because these facts prove, beyond doubt, that the people of the Soviet Union have fought, and will fight to defend their country, their government, and their socialist way of life. The Wall Street war-makers want you to forget these facts, to drown them out with stories of kidnapped school teachers and what not.

But, if you—and I mean YOU!—don't want millions of American boys to be buried on top of the millions of Germans who died on Soviet soil, then you would do well to remember these facts—and "Stop, Look and Listen!"

Accept It Proudly You Have Earned It

"Earned insurance, not charity" is the way James H. Smiley, Manager of the Los Angeles social security field office described Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits. The number of people who apologize for themselves when they file claims with his office of the Social Security Administration caused him to make the explanation.

"Old-Age and Survivors Insurance," he emphasized, "is not a dole, but an annuity based upon the wage earners' contributions, their own by right of purchase, something to be proud of."

their loins and inflated their bellows, for a filibuster. The anti-Polltax measure is very essential to the Negro, more so than to the poor white of the area which promotes it; and yet, an overwhelming Republican Senate refuses to enact a cloture, and stop the filibuster because the presiding officer (Vandenberg, Rep, M) rules against it.

The measure is one advocated by a Democrat President: It was defeated by a Republican Senate. HOW WILL THE NEGRO VOTE? It is obvious how he SHOULD VOTE!! Will he?

The Redevelopment plan which the city planners of San Francisco have suggested have given a number of residents of the Western Addition the jitters. Many of them invested in homes in that area and many have built up business in the district. As the property was bought or partially paid for during the boom times of the late war; it is more than possible that, under condemnation proceedings, many will quit loser. Then the question is, "Where are we going? As quiet as you keep it; there is a move to segregate some of the minority groups. Hunters Point is pointed out as a most desirable place for one of the groups. There any number of buildings are being erected by private builders and corporations, but unless you are a member of some particular group: Try and rent one!

POTPOURRI

Henry A. Wallace, candidate or president on the Progressive Party ticket, will begin a six-day trip into the Deep South, Sunday, August 29. He will speak only to non-segregaded audiences, and will cover seven states: Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Tennessee.

Wallace opened his campaign for president last Saturday, August 21, when he spoke at an evening outdoor rally in Bridgeport, Conn. On Tuesday, August 23, he addressed a convention of the nation's largest Negro fraternal organization, the IBPOEW, in Cincinnati. Following this, he flew to Louisville, Ky., where he addressed a mass meeting sponsored by the Progressive Party of Kentucky.

A busy man!

It takes as much yardage to uncover Betty Grable in one dress in 20th Century-Fox' "That Lady In Ermine," as it would take to cover 63 women in one of the "new-look," full-skirted, long hemlined dresses of today!

When Gregory Peck robs a bank for a scene in "Yellow Sky," a couple of studio police will be on guard to keep anyone from getting the money away from him.

The film studios, 20th Century-Fox revealed, are guarding their fake money these days as though it was the real thing. Coins suspected of having been used in pictures have been showing up in coin machines in Los Angeles.

Prominent members of the Democratic Party met last Friday evening, and adopted a resolution calling upon all Democrats to vote for Henry A. Wallace for president.

"The candidate for president on the Democratic ticket does not represent the true principles of the Democratic Party," the resolution stated. "Therefore for the preservation of true Democratic principles, we urge all members of our party to vote for Henry Wallace."

The 67th Assembly District Progressive Party sent a delegation to the City Council last week, to protest the passage of the proposel increased sales tax. Among those speaking against it was Mr. Raymond Cox, business man in Wats, and chairman of the 67th A. D. organizing committee of the IPP.

Instead of raising the sales tax, as the City Council proposes to do, the IPP suggests the following: 1. A graduated tax on real estate transactions involving over $1200. 2. Taxes paid on subdivisions for resale should bear some relation to the huge profits realized by the speculators. 3. Higher taxes on big office buildings.

No more babies to be wheeled about in food containers at public markets! Councilman Kenneth Hahn, chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee of the City Council had an ordinance adopted to that effect by the City Council last week.

The, relenting slightly, as an after-thought, the new ordinance states: "Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting the use of special seats, platforms, or other devices especially installed on basket-conveying devices, for the purpose of transporting children."

A crosstown bus on Slauson avenue, from Overhill Drive to Huntington Park, was advocated by Kenneth Hahn, Councilman for the 8th District, when he appeared before the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation Commissioners recently. Councilman Hahn pointed out that from 20,000 to 30,000 people need this bus line.

The Board of Public Utilities said they would take the proposition under advisement.

Traffic signals at 55th and Hooper, and at 55th and Compton Blvd. have been approved. Their erection was urged by Councilman Kenneth Hahn, of the 8th Councilmanic District.

New lights on the easterly side of Broadway between 43rd street and Slauson Ave., have also been erected at the suggestion of Councilman Hahn.

The Road to Health

Report Cards and Health by
R. H. Carter, M. D.
Instructor, Medical Information
Atlanta University School of Social Work, Atlanta, Ga.

When a child keeps coming home from school with low grades, his parents frequently try to "fix the blame" for the bad report cards. They might scold the youngster himself for being "lazy and inattentive." Or they might feel that "Johnny just can't seem to get anywhere with his teacher this year."

There are children who have special problems, of course, but I'm afraid that parents themselves are sometimes to blame for the bad marks. Responsibility toward Johnny's learning does not end with merely registering him at school. Johnny will get the most out of school if he is healthy and stays healthy, and it is up to his parents to keep a check on the child's health.

I have a young friend who was graduated from high school last June with the highest honors. He hopes to go to college soon and plans to study law. But years ago, when he started elementary school, it certainly didn't look as if little Dick Irving would ever take any honors.

Dick got through the first few years of school without serious mishap. It was in the fourth grade, as studies grew more difficult, that the trouble began. Throughout the fall and winter of that year, his report cards grew steadily worse. The child seemed to be losing weight. He grew listless and irritable and seemed to hate school and everything connected with it.

Finally Dick's teacher visited Mr. and Mrs. Irving. She startled them when she told them she suspected that Dick's grades were low because he wasn't seeing or hearing well. Unfortunately, there was no school doctor or nurse at the time in that particular school and the teacher advised the Irvings to take Dick to his family doctor for a check-up.

The boy's parents were alarmed and brought him to see me the following night. I found that Dick had an accumulation of wax in his ears that was impairing his hearing. With treatment, his hearing improved rapidly. His defective vision took a little longer to correct, but with good medical care and the proper eyeglasses, Dick's sight was greatly improved within a few months. His grades steadily got better and he led his classes in the seventh and eighth grades.

Sometimes a child who seems to be dull and inattentive in school, actually has some physical disability that is responsible for his low marks. The parent who forms the habit of bringing his child to the doctor periodically for a check-up or consults the doctor at the first sign that something is wrong, takes wise steps to insure the child's well-being.

Rent Gougers Face Charges On Complaints Made By Expediter

Thirteen landlords were sued this week for a total of more than $7600 in illegal rent overcharged in suits filed in United States District Court here by the Office of Housing Expediter. The federal rent agency asked that the court compel the landlords to repay their tenants this amount, and also enjoin the landlords from any further violations of the Housing and Rent Act.

Largest amount was a suit for $1648.50 against George Velonis, 1078 E. 7th Street, who is accused of overcharging that amount on eight apartments located at 1867 Atlantic Avenue in the beach city.

Tenants told OHE investigators that Velonis last year had raised monthly rents from $30 and $32.50 to as much as $94, on the theory that he had changed the property into a motel by adding breakfast rooms. He failed, however, to furnish linens, auto parking facilities, and other services required by Federal rent law to qualify a property as a motel.

Another landlord, Daniel J. McCarthy, 6724 Plaska Drive, was sued for $1263.50 in overcharges on two apartments at 9108-9108½ Wadsworth Avenue, Los Angeles, during the past year. McCarthy allegedly doubled the rent on a $7.50-a-week unit and also collected $24 weekly for an apartment on which the legal rent was $25 a month.

Others included:

Sadie R. Norton, 3654 Ocean View, Mar Vista, sued for $1370 in over-ceiling rentals on an apartment at the same address during the past two years.

Ellyn Mikol, 1420 W. 12th Place, Los Angeles, sued for $238.50 overcharges on an apartment at 1424 W. 12th Place. OHE investigation revealed that Mikol, who had been awarded an increase in rent ceiling from $27.50 to $42.50 because of major improvements made on the property, proceeded to boost the rent to $15 per week.

Joseph Hilton, 1009 E. 29th Street, Los Angeles, sued for $668 in overcharges during 1947 on a rooming house at 820-22 E. 47th Street, where rents were raised sharply and in some cases nearly trebled. A former manager of the property for Hilton told OHE investigators that she had been instructed to accept payment in cash only, and not to give receipts. Other rent overcharge suits previously have been filed against Hilton, OHE records show, including a private suit in which a tenant recently obtained judgment for treble damages. The overcharges allegedly were paid during 1947 by Ida Culpepper, Eddie Watkins, Fred Tarvin, and Dicey Clayton, tenants.

Police Beat

When Mrs. Tomalson and J. S. McGee, friends who accompanied the father and two brothers to the District Attorney's office, they were denied the privilege of an immediate inquest and swearing out a warrant for the arrest of the special officers, Willie Harrison and Clifford Davis.

However, the brain has been sent to Dr. Corvell, brain specialist, whose report won't be ready for two weeks. Dr. E. D. Newbarr, deputy coroner doctor, said that they'd remove food from the victim's stomach to analyze it for poison but the same food was eaten by other members of the family who weren't poisoned.

On Saturday evening, August 21, the three Burns brothers attended a dance given by the Royal Revelers at the LaVeda Ballroom, on Vernon near San Pedro Avenues, with two of their wives. And in the words of John Burns:

"There was a disturbance in the hallway of the dance hall. Herman and myself rushed to the front to see what had happened. We saw our brother, Julius, bleeding. So we tried to rush Buddy (Julius) to the hospital.

"Our car was parked on 45th near San Pedro. By the time we got four doors from where we had just left two special officers started following us. By the time they reached the spot where we had Buddy, three plainclothes detectives and six uniformed policemen arrived on the scene.

"Two special officers seized Herman and Buddy while three uniformed officers held Herman by his arms. The two special officers began to beat on him and handcuffed me. We told the officers to leave us alone because we were trying to get Julius to the hospital.

"They kept beating him. A tall heavy set special officer beat Herman with his blackjack and club on the side of his head, on his neck and wherever they could get a blow. Two white uniformed officers beat him in the side and all over his body with their blackjacks until he fell helplessly to the ground.

"They beat Julius and he fell across Herman's chest. I guess Herman was dead then.

"Shortly afterwards, the ambulance came. Then I was taken to University station and charged with assaulting an officer with a deadly weapon. That was very untrue. They held me at University station from 1 a.m. Sunday morning until five that afternoon."

Julius was released from General hospital Monday afternoon at which time he first learned of the death of his brother. He suffered head bruises and minor injuries.

Herman Burns, oldest of three brothers, resided with his wife and two children at 1238 South Hobart blvd. He and his brother John worked together as plasterers, while Julius worked as a latherer.

Dr. Frank Webb, medical examiner, will examine the records for any loop hole that might have missed the attention of the investigators.

"No more pictures, please," begged Mrs. Herman Burns tearfully. "You don't understand. I have two children and they killed my husband. He was good. He never was in trouble and never hurt anybody. . . . Everybody loved him."

Negro Kids

The hands of justice seem to move very slowly at times. In this case it is surely up to the members of the NAACP of all the western states, as well as the national office in New York City, to unite in seeing that justice is done to those little Negro children in Reno.

The question cannot help but arise: Would little white children have been imprisoned in an adult jail for a similar offense?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I wish to give to the public through your great newspaper my honest opinion on this ever-increasing menace, "Police Brutality." I remember several years ago in Oakland, Calif., this same kind of situation was completely out of hand. Those thugs in uniform and plain clothes will certainly continue to operate unless some corrective measure is used.

In Oakland a prisoner was beaten to death in jail, of course in custody of the police, so to speak. This is what happened. Several women's clubs got together, went to the City Hall, contacted the proper officials, and demanded this brutality be stopped. And it was stopped.

Fighting these cases in court individually will not have much effect. I think that the women's clubs in Los Angeles, working in close harmony with the NAACP, can and will get results. I believe the new secretary of the NAACP will put new life into the organization. I myself will apply for membership this week.

Generally speaking, the Negro male seems to be completely spineless. He has accepted all kinds of silly excuses and alibis from police officials, knowing good and well those cops are being protected in their outrages against Negroes. Who cares when the victim or victims are Negroes? Not even Negroes themselves.

It is indeed a pretty sad picture when men will submit to such outrages, seeming to think, "Well, they won't beat or kick me. I am Mr. Biggie."

You may be next, Mr. Biggie. Your wife or your daughter.

Wishing to remain,
Yours respectfully,
Orlando Lacey Dickerson

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I am writing you for two reasons: one is to tell you what a fine and inspiring speech you made at the meeting at the Willowbrook School. It was the finest I've heard on the subject of women's rights and the Third Party in a long time. My sister was just as enthusiastic about your speech as I was.

Another thing I've been intending to write you for some time — since the time, some months ago, when my sister subscribed to The California Eagle, our whole family has been reading the paper each week. You might be interested in white subscribers. We all find the Eagle a most interesting paper. My younger sister is interested in following the items and column on the music and theatre page; my older sister likes the political news, especially 3rd Party news and comment; and as for me, I like the column, "Raisin' Cain," and the editorial page, and find the Eagle consistently highly readable. (It has much higher readibility and interest than a certain left-wing daily published in S. F. . . . they ought to take a few tips from your paper!)

Sincerely,
Mary Campbell Craig.

To the editor:

Sorry not to have had the chance to say goodbye but at the last minute everything went wrong.

We would be very pleased to have a subscription to the EAGLE as we hardly get news. Send us the amount and we will send a check.

The women here, in general, are very elegant, but not terribly pretty. The people are simply wonderful. No words to describe them. The minorities here walk down the street shoulders straight, head held high.

Cheese, flour, sugar, coffee, bread and butter and cooking oil are rationed. Milk and chocolate are for children only. The average worker makes $50 a month and up to now ate meat twice a week but three days ago the price of meat went up.

For the benefit of all, here are your legal rights. Neither immigration inspectors nor police officers have the right to delve into the private affairs of anyone under arrest.

Immigration inspectors and police officers often misrepresent their authority to question persons being interviewed, and they often intimidate those persons into believing that they must answer their questions.

The general rule is that no one is required to answer any question, except when ordered to do so in a courtroom before a judge who instructs a witness on the witness stand that he must answer the question put to him.

Immigration and police officers often distort or misrepresent what is told them by persons being interviewed. A person being interviewed or arrested should therefore make it a matter of principle and policy never to answer a tions put to him b lice, except poss name. Bigger and Better Busine

During the past two or three weeks, you ha about the promotion and development of big better business among Negroes. From its incep Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Inc. has focused much and interest in this program. Commerce, in all o cepts, is the standard by which the fundamental principles of a man's existence may be raised or lowered in proportion to his ability. Now, what does this mean? Just how are we going to raise our standards of living; based on a Bigger and Better Business program, so that a larger number of our people may live and enjoy the more abundant life?

DR. ZETAR

Let us break this down into its component parts. Yes, let us make an analysis and place the responsibility where it rightfully belongs. Allow me to make this personal reference just for clarification, and that you may gleam a little light of the true facts as they exist today. In the year 1934, I made this observation in the City of Los Angeles and its environs. There were registered and practicing about six Negro Chiropodists compared to several hundred whites. Three Chiropractors compared to over three thousand whites. X-ray and Laboratory Technicians none accounted for. Masseurs and physical therapist, one. Brooks bath house.

I coull go on and on with this line of thought, because the same principle applies to other professions, vocations and trades etc, etc. Now, let me wedge this light into your consciousness just a little bit more. In the year of 1938, I graduated from the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic with a class of 36, but I was the only Negro. Since then I have proclaimed Chiropractic as a great healing science and a very fine profession and have encouraged many young Negroes to investigate its possibilities. To day it is my happy privilege to inform you that my prayer is being answered. Can you imagine with me just what would have happened if, just ten years ago:

500 Negroes would have taken Chiropractic.

350 Negroes would have taken Chiropody.

150 Negroes would have taken X-ray and Laboratory Diagnosis.

350 Negroes would have taken physical Therapy.

Then apply this same line of thought to every large city in America using a like number of individuals for other professions, vocations and trades.

I contend that all one has to do is to acquire scientific training. Then impregnate your consciousness with the indomitable will to find a way to apply your skill or make one. Negroes have the mental capabilities and the intestinal fortitude to forge ahead in commerce just as they do in athletics and music if they will only apply themselves in larger numbers.

In the field of athletics, they are known the world over to be the best. In music they are tops. The promotion and development of bigger and better business, means whatever line of business one is engaged in. It is not enough just to be good. One ought to be a specialist in order to grow and expand on a solid foundation. Example, a cafe operator should know something about food values, its nutritional affect on the human today. The proper preparation of food and the services or maneer by which it is served to the customers. All of this is good assurance of a sound and successful business.

In keeping with established principles of promoting bigger and better service to our patients we wish to announce at this time, that we have a new addition to our office personnel. He comes to us well trained and thoroughly qualified for the position. I refer to Mr. Lucius E. Collier, graduate of the Institute of Medical Technicians in X-ray and Laboratory diagnosis and also the Los Angeles County General Hospital School of X-ray. Mr. Collier is a student of advanced training ogy and therapy. He i of staff in our X-ray a tory department. I highly commend him that type of service. years experience in de X-ray and laboratory t qualifies me to inform this young Negro can own with the best in

Child Guidance Welfare Club Stages Successful Showing

The Child Guidance and Welfare League, one of the younger clubs of the city, organized with a good purpose of educational and philanthropic work, gave its first big affair on Sunday afternoon, when the members chose Ralphe Porter's Casa Raphael as the setting for a top forecast of fall fashions. Some of the city's leading designers and milliners contributed to the showing, that was capably presented by Mr. Herman Yarbrough, master of ceremonies.

DEMPSY, JOHNSON, MAURICE

Julian Dempsy, by far one of the leading designers in the city, described his works as they were shown. Mrs. Leslie King, one time resident of the Philippine Islands modeled three gowns. The first two were sent to her by the only woman judge on the Philippine Island, Judge Lopez. The gowns were colorful and typical of the foreign country, that has a definite American influence, even in the national style of dress. The gowns were called Ternos, and were identified by lovely stiffened sleeves, or "Angel Wings," the principal point of identification. In delightful contrast, Mrs. King showed a New York creation that was styled from fine materials. With this she carried a huge feathered fan. These gowns were fitted by Julian. The last gown to be described by Julian was one of his own designs created for and modeled by Mrs. Jessie Beavers. This was neither a street dress or an evening gown, but belonged to the whole new race of dresses recently coming into prominence, "the important late afternoon dress." Julian called it "The Five O'Clock Habit," for it incorporated the spirit of the old fashioned side saddle riding habit with most of the latest fall trends, namely the slim front, no shoulder pads, the new slightly shorter skirt and explosive interests all concentrated to the back.

Hats by Beulah Johnson were shown by lovely Julia Harrison. Feathers were much in evidence. Annette Taylor, who modeled her own creation, also showed an oriental hair style by Maurice. Little Gloria Vaughn Jr., modeled two lovely dresses by Mrs. Frances Winston.

Other models were Jane Hampton, Edith Cartwell, Gloria Crouch, Dorothy Gay, William Luke, Vaino Hassen, Velma Yarbrough, Master Stephan Nukes, Jacqueline Landell, Master Damon Lee III and Master Herman Yarbrough, Jr.

Throughout the fashion showing, a musical program was presented. Taking part were Jane Johnson, Mary Louise Whitby, Dan Ellen Mabry, James Herrod, Eddie Green, Norma Green, and Jean Jackson.

Proceeds from the successful affair will go to the club's fund and will be used to forward child guidance lecture series. The president of the club is Mrs. Florance Nukes.

Jackie Moore Wins Honor In Vincent Creation

Charming and petite was Jackie Moore as she walked away with the highest honor, the "Roosevelt Trophy," at the national meeting of Federated Club women, recently held in Seattle, Washington. Mrs. Moore, now has in her possession, a beautiful "Loving Cup," which the State of California was very proud. WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THE CAREFREE GAIETY of the Mexican Fiesta reigned supreme Monday evening when charming Mrs. Louisa Roan entertained with one of her famed buffet suppers, with much emphasis on the south of the border menu. Holding down the honorees position, was her house guest, Mrs. Lucille Jenkins, Oakland's busy club leader, who has been vacationing in the dear ole southland for the last week or so. The evening's fun fest got under way, when the party attended the fall opening of the C.B.S. "Beulah Show." They observed the acting, and what have you, from the sponsors booth, as guests of the Beulah Star, Hattie McDaniels. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bates of Davenport, Iowa, and their son Roland, found the whole evening much to their enjoyment; Mrs. Arline Walden took the opportunity to show her visiting sister, Cleo F. Haley of Battle Creek, Michigan, a few more of the Angel City highlights, while Mrs. Anna Webb, who has been sojourning here for the past few weeks from Chicago, marked the evening as the high point of her trip.

Hattie McDaniel, guest listed at the buffet supper, found the Roan bill of fare just to her liking, as did her niece Mrs. Marion Chatton and son Elsie. By the way, the latter mentioned could pass for a brother sister team any day. Becky and Billy Farrington were much in evidence assisting the hostess with the affair that proved quite delightful. Mrs. Jenkins returns to Oakland late today (Thursday); she plans to resume her duties at University of Cal's Tri-Delta House. Believe me, we had quite a time of it, and as a side liner, ye scribe is out to get one or two of the Roan recipes for a cook book, that is receiving much use nowadays. . . .

INDIAN SUMMER

This late summer seems to be giving many a person the go ahead sign, to get that vacation while the time is at hand. . . . My ace photographer, Vera Jackson, her hubby Vernon, and the Ralph Jacksons (Evelyn) motored to Mexico over the past week-end. All are quite devoted to the art of photography, so most of the time was spent in taking color shots and moving pictures. So happens that Ralph and Evelyn specialize in moving pictures while Vernon and Vera stick to the speed graphic. . . .

Ruth Cage, former Crop member, has bid farewell to Angelenos and entrained for points east. Two weeks were spent in Chi with Alma Collins, who is still busy working on her doctorate at the University of Chi. In a few more days, Ruth will be in New York, where she will carry on with her social work and do a bit of side study in the field of journalism at Columbia University. Jane Criner, her very good friend, has spent the last few weeks, getting her 'new look' wardrobe in shape for a jaunt to New York. She will vacation there for some two or three weeks, returning in time to continue her medical studies at USC. Also hear that Alma will return home to write her thesis. . . .

Received word from Marco and Jerry Peterson, who are seeing the sights of the windy city. . . . Gertrude Gipson is home again and as per usual, aglow over the big city N. Y. . . . Dr. Frank Peterson will make his second trip in four months, to Alabama, where his dad is prexy to one of the leading colleges. Reason for the quick return is to take part in his sister's marriage that is slated for Sept. 4, with much fanfare of pre- and post-wedding events. Dr. Peterson, one of L. A.'s youngest and most eligible bachelors, has decided to leave the single realm, (so they enlighten ye scribe), and is all set to take vows with a Chicago debutant before Christmas. . . .

Dr. Darrington Weaver's youngest son, Paul, has made his way up to San Francisco and the Hastings Law School. He will be staying with the popular Earl Gladmans while preparing himself for the legal field. . . .

As the natives leave, newcomers arrive. The newlywed, Andy Razafs, he, the famed composer of many hit tunes, and she, the former society leader of Madison, N. J., made their entry in the city bright and early Tuesday morn, and are now temporarily set at the S. P. Johnson Manse on West Adams Blvd. If they should find the angel city interesting enough, they will more than likely make it their permanent residence. Am quite sure it will measure up to their liking, for I am told, that your associates are over half the battle in determining whether or not you like a place. The Razafs, well known in both professional and social circles, have a host of friends here, all eager to show them a grand time. Just about two months ago, they were receiving the best wishes of friends in Washington D. C. where they took their marriage vows. One of the outstanding social events given in their honor was a fashionable yacht party, hosted by Dr. and Mrs. William Goodloe, one of DC's most fabulous couples, who vacationed here last summer. The Razafs were met at the station by their old friend Edith Loving King. . . .

Another little lady who believes in transplanting, is Miss Evelyn Carter, who has taken up her stake in Johnson City, Tenn., for a spot in the L. A. sun. She will be teaching in the system here in another week or two.

Younger Set Hears Vows Spoken by Donna Jean Strickland — Julian York

The beauty of the late Sunday afternoon and the mood of romance, pervaded the socially prominent wedding and bridal reception when the town's younger set and family friends witnessed the nuptials of lovely Donna Jean Strickland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strickland and Julian Gaylord York, son of retired Army Captain and Mrs. Edward York.

Before the flower decked fireplace of the Western Avenue home of Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Boswell, the young couple took their marriage vows, with the Reverend L. C. Cleaves of Philips Temple officiating.

Donna Jean, a petite young debutant, was beautifully gowned in traditional white satin, fashioned along the line of simplicity, and created especially for her, by her mother. The lovely neckline, slightly off shoulder was complimented by an inset of exquisite "spider web" lace. Her brocaded headdress was bonnet style, finished in seed pearl, and from it fell a finger tip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias that fell in a cascade.

The bride's attendants were in identical gowns of bouffant taffeta brocade in satin. They wore tiny French bonnets covered with roses, and the bouquets were of "Better Time" roses.

Miss Evelyn Strickland was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of yellow and her bonnet was trimmed in matching flowers. Wearing Ice Green, Janice Fortier served as the bride's maid and little Miss Edith Gaynella Greenwood, wearing pink taffeta, was the flower girl.

Completing the entourage were Walter Miles, best man and Cornell Ridley, usher. The men were attired in summer formal.

GARDEN RECEPTION

At the reception in the Boswell Gardens, Mrs. Arthur Strickland received in a gown of fuchia crepe, and Mrs. Edward York, the bride groom's mother in blue crepe. Both wore gardenia corsage. Assisting as senior hostesses were, Mmes. E. Allen, the bride's grandmother; E. A. Jones, B. L. Boswell, Rosa Jones and Mamie Fortier. Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

In Europe, when the first World War ended, many nations had to shoulder the attempt of feeding and rehabilitating the starving children. In many cases their short-handed efforts failed and poverty set in for the next decade. Huge loans from other nations were made and later had to be repaid or cancelled, thereby aiding in making the system of World Economy unstable. When the United States was defeated by depression as late as '29, Europe had been snowed under long before.

These facts may look or sound interesting when written up in history books, but one had better think twice, for they led directly to the Second World War. The people had suffered and starved and gone clotheless for ten years almost when Hitler began to sweeten their thoughts like sugar plums by telling his people that they were the Master Race. The younger group had never known anything better than miserable poverty, so they lent a ready ear. A large number of young people thought it wise to join the Hitler Movement, and did join, under the intoxicating propaganda of a better life.

We cannot feel remorse toward the people who listened to Hitler under the true impression that a better day was to come and better conditions were to exist. It would have been comparatively easy for communism or a movement such as Hitler started to develop in our own country, had we been subject to like conditions for so many years.

The main point of concentration by Hitler was youths. He had all the young people from five years to military age, both boys and girls, enrolled and engaged in activities benefiting to his movement. Now the same thing has happened again. At his death, Father Flannigan, of Boys Town, was studying the conditions under which European boys and girls are living. Among the facts he had gathered, it was learned that sixty percent suffer from malnutrition; in other words, slow starvation. Many do not have sufficient clothes, some of the villages have improper school and educational facilities. Twenty percent of the young Europeans below twenty years of age suffer from venereal disease.

However, you do not hear of these things often on your newsbroadcasts. Nobody seems to take the time to uncover the facts. The truth of the matter is that they're not so sensational as people jumping from windows and the Allied powers, without any Russian exception, are busy blocking each other out of Berlin. The British blockade their zone, the Russians, the Americans. And as soon as a blockade goes up, suddenly the other two nations want to enter that blockaded zone, although they haven't any business, title, or right to enter. The young people of Western Europe and Russia go on suffering.

The Congress did pass the Marshall Plan, knowing too, that it would not aid Russian boys and girls, who're starving and suffering too. Don't forget, Hitler drove to within thirteen miles of Moscow. And at least one person out of every Russian family was killed in the war. They readily admitted that it might be extended to China and other Asiatic countries later, although their leaders are common crooks and would probably use the aid for advancement of 'selects.' Still the aid sent by America would not reach all the people, and even if it were, it would not be sufficient to meet the demand. The young people who will fight when another rabble-rousing diplomat with a bag of promises comes along, go on suffering.

Actually, young people in some parts of America are suffering from malnutrition, tuberculosis, polio, and other illness which lack only proper care and treatment. That's why so many people get so angry when President Truman is willing to spend an annual three and a half billion dollars for arms, and Russel, as Governor of Georgia is willing to set aside the same amount for moving Negroes from one part of the country to another. Peace conferences can only be expected to fail with such poverty and starvation and illness and with such dim-witted leadership.

We have a decision to make, right away. We can either feed the people, help them to secure medical care and education and better understanding of our own American ideal, or, we can plan and prepare to kill them off by the millions within the next few years. Are you content to have our President decide to kill them? No less action has already taken place. It took place with the abolition of UNRRA; it went into effect with the peacetime draft act, and with the ousting of the Russian Consul.

In your thinking, don't say it's too late to do anything about Russia. It is not. The name of Franklin D. Roosevelt, from a reliable authority, is more meaningful in Russia than in America, because of lend-lease and his helping the Russian people to drive Hitler from their country. Under U. N. R. R. A., Russia too was receiving aid—badly needed aid. But that wasn't according to the Truman-Republican philosophy, so they wiped it out.

In the killing of UNRRA, the last good plan to help the people was dead. The Marshall Plan will do more harm than good. However, I still have hopes of salvaging the youths of other nations. It's highly important that they are aided in regaining a foothold on life and on prosperity. If ever we are to see peace again, the youths of the world will establish that peace. Now I recommend letters written by American boys and girls to young people abroad. Just the time taken for writing a letter can repay with a warm friendship. Colleges everywhere should promote the exchange of students. We should, over all, however, see to it that aid through the United Nations reaches the people again, and soon. The Marshall Plan should be discontinued. The hate and disunity campaigns should end now. World unity and mutual aid, friendship, respect, and trust can do much. Even more important, however, is to end the suffering and sickness among young people of other nations.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Ananias, Disciple At Damascus. Lesson Text and Outline. Acts 9:10-20. Motto Text. Psalm 40:8.

Introduction

Ananias of Damascus rendered remarkable service in connection with the conversion, baptism, church fellowship, and early ministry of Saul of Tarsus.

Comments

1. Christ very well knows where to find out those that are his, in their distresses when their relations, as it may be, know not what is become of them, they have a friend in heaven, that knows in what street, in what house, and what is more, in what frame of mind they are; he knows their souls in adversity. The reason why Ananias must go and enquire for this stranger, and offer him his service is because he prays, and his coming to him must be the answer to his prayer.

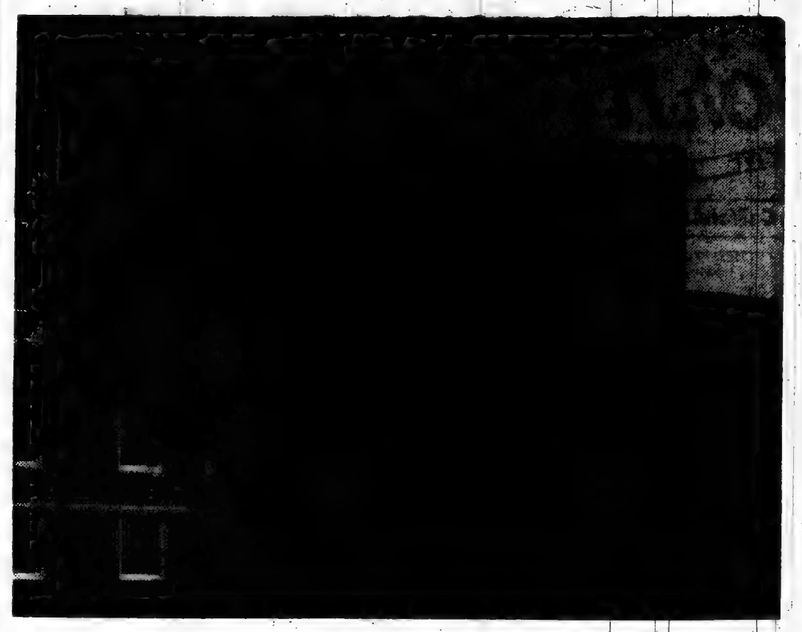
This is the reason, why Ananias did not need to be afraid of him, as we find he was at one time. There is no question, saith Christ, but he is a true convert, for behold he prayeth. Behold denotes the certainty of it: "Assure thyself it is so; go and see. "Christ was so pleased to find Paul praying, that he must have others to take notice of it.

Regenerating grace evermore sets people praying. You may as soon find a living man without breath as a living Christian without prayer; if breathless, lifeless; and so, if prayerless, graceless. What God has promised we must pray for; he will for this be enquired of, and particularly for divine instruction. Paul had seen in a vision such a man coming to him, to restore to him his sight; and Ananias coming to him must answer his dream, for it was of God.

Now this vision that Paul had may, be considered, as an immediate answer to his prayer, and keeping up of that communion with God which he had entered into by prayer. He had, in prayer, spread the misery of his own case before God, and God presently manifests himself and the kind intentions of his grace to him; and it is very encouraging to know God's thoughts toward us. As designed to raise his expectations, and to make Ananias' coming more welcome to him. He would readily receive him as a messenger from God when he was told beforehand, in vision, that one of that name would come to him. See what a great thing it is to bring a spiritual physician and his patient together; here were two visions in order to it. When God, in his providence, without visions, brings a messenger to the afflicted soul, an interpreter, one of a thousand, to show unto man his uprightness, it must be acknowledged with thankfulness as his praise.

Paul was a vessel in which the gospel-treasure should be lodged, in order to effect the conveyance of it to many; an earthen vessel, but a chosen vessel. The vessel God uses he himself chooses; and it is fit he should have the choosing of the instruments he employs. Christ's name is the standard to which souls must be gathered, and under which they must be enlisted, and Saul must be a standard-bearer. Those that bear Christ's name must expect to bear the cross for his name; and those that do most for Christ are often called out to suffer most for him.

Saul must suffer great things. This, one would think, was a cold comfort for a young convert; but it is only like telling a soldier of a bold and brave spirit, when he is enlisted, that he shall take the field, and enter upon action, shortly. Saul's sufferings for Christ shall redound so much to the honour of Christ and the service of the church, shall be so balanced with spiritual comforts and recompensed with eternal glories, that it is no discouragement to him to be told how great things he must suffer for Christ's name's sake.



2. Converting grace opens the eyes of the soul, and makes the scales to fall from them, to open men's eyes, and turn them from darkness into light. This is what Saul was sent among the Gentiles to do, by the preaching of the gospel, and therefore must first experience it in himself. The good work that was begun in Saul is carried on wonderfully; this new-born Christian, though he seemed as one born out of due time, yet presently comes to maturity. He received his bodily strength. He had continued three day's fasting, which, with the mighty weight that was all that time upon his spirits, had made him very weak; but, when he had received meat, he was strengthened.

The Lord is for the body, and therefore care must be taken of it, to keep it in good condition, that it may be fit to serve the soul in God's service, and that Christ may be magnified in it. He associated with the disciples that were at Damascus, fell in with them, conversed with them, went to their meetings, and joined in communion with them. Paul had lately breathed out threats and slaughter against them, but now breathes love and affection to them. Those that take God for their God take his people for their people. Saul associated with the disciples, because now he saw an amiableness and excellency in them, because he loved them, and found that he improved in knowledge and grace by onversing with them.

Paul preached Christ in the synagogues. To this he had an extraordinary call, and for it an extraordinary qualification, God having immediately revealed his Son to him and in him, that he might preached him. He was so full of Christ himself, that the Spirit within him constrained him to preach him to others. Where did he preach?—in the synagogues of the Jews, for they were to have the first offer made them. The synagogues were their places of concourse; there he met with them together, and there they used to preach against Christ and to punish his disciples. What he preached, he preached Christ. When he began to be a preacher, he fixed this for his principle, which he stuck to ever after. We preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus our Lord; nothing but Christ, and him crucified. He preached concerning Christ, that he is the Son of God, his beloved Son, in whom he is well pleased, and with us in him, and not otherwise.

It was to Christ his meat and drink to go on with the work appointed to him; and the reason here given is, Thy law is within my heart; it is written there, it rules there, it is an active commanding principle there. It is meant of the law concerning the work and office of the Mediator, what he was to do and suffer; this law was dear to him and had an influence upon him in his whole undertaking. When the law of God is written in our hearts our duty will be our delight.

NEW $500,000 SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST Riverside sanitarium and hospital, Nashville, Tenn., to be dedicated Sunday, September 5. Local representatives will attend.

7th Day Adventist Hospital Dedicated

Local Seventh-day Adventist representatives left this week for Nashville, Tenn., to attend the dedication of the Riverside sanitarium and hospital, beautifully located on the banks of the Cumberland river just outside the city of Nashville. The dedication of this $500,000 building Sunday, September 5, brings into reality a 10-year-old denominational dream to erect in the South one of the finest institutions of its kind in the United States.

This institution, equipped to take care of 100 patients, is spoken of as the "Battle Creek of the South." Its progress has been so steady that it is approved by the American Medical Association and the American Hospital Association. Dr. J. Mark Cox is medical superintendent.

Rev. Owen A. Troy, Glendale, departmental secretary of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, is a member of the board of trustees of the Riverside sanitarium and hospital, interracial in character, headed by Rev. W. H. Williams of Washington, D. C.

Antioch Notes

PHOENX, Ariz.—Rev. Johnson, assistant pastor of the Antioch Baptist Church, preached the sermon at the 11 o'clock service last Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. N. Holt, who is enjoying a much needed rest. He preached from Matt. 25: 31-32. Four persons joined the church, and there were two candidates for baptism. The program rendered by the Junior Women was quite a success.

Church Councils Join for Race Unity; Russell Co-head of Union

A merger of the Biennial Council of Community Churches and the National Council of Community Churches was voted Wednesday, August 18 in Los Angeles by several hundred delegates representing churches all over America and Canada.

The Biennial Council is composed largely of Negro congregations. The National Council is mostly white congregations.

In a statement to Time magazine representatives, Dr. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church of Christ of Los Angeles, and national president of the Biennial Council, said: "This action will advance interracial unity in several ways. It will unite both groups nationally, provide an interchange of pulpit and administrative staffs of both groups, and put both races on a broader basis for action in religious fields."

Dr. Roy Burkhart, pastor of the First Community church of Columbus, Ohio, is president of the National Council. He extended the invitation for this union and through his leadership assisted by Dr. Russell, the executive bodies of both groups merged into one group in Chicago last fall with Burkhart and Russell becoming co-chairmen.

The Los Angeles Federation of Church Choirs will hold its elimination music scholarship contest Sunday, August 29, at the Morning Star Baptist church.

There will be four contestants in the elimination: Miss James Vaughn, age 13; and Viola Mae Wilkerson, 9, from the Macedonia Baptist church; and Ernestine Williams and Cartha Matthews, each age 9, from the New Hope Baptist church.

Two choirs recently became affiliated with the federation, Faithful Central Baptist Choir and the People's United Independent Church Choir. This makes a total of eight choirs which are members of the federation.

The federation has previously given away two scholarships in music, to Edward Moore of the Morning Star Baptist, and Carl Yarban of the Independent church.

The public is invited to this musical affair.

Second Baptist Dédicates Chapel

Sunday promises to be a big day at Second Baptist Church. At a 6 a.m. Sunrise Prayer Service a beautiful chapel will be dedicated. It was furnished at a cost of about $3000 through the efforts of the "All States Tea," under the capable leadership of Mrs. Vassie D. Wright. New lighting has been installed, new rubber tile flooring laid, an altar platform carpeted as well as the aisle, and new seats installed. Two beautiful paintings, especially prepared by Henrie Goode, artist, will be unveiled. The chapel will be open to the public Griffith Avenue entrance, daily for meditation and prayer. It will also be used for small group meetings and small weddings.

Breakfast will be served by the Cheerful Club, Mrs. L. M. Ervin, president, from 7-11 a.m.

At the 11 o'clock worship the Senior Choir will render special music and Dr. Henderson will deliver his final message before motoring to the National Baptist Convention at Houston, Texas. The sermon topic will be, "The Guidance of God." Several candidates will be baptized following the sermon.

The 7:30 p.m. service will be in charge of the Missionary Society.

While the minister attends the convention, the pulpit will be ably filled. Dr. J. R. Evans, Minister in the great Metropolitan Community Church in Chicago will preach on the first Sunday morning in September. The Rev. Percy Williams, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Chattanooga, Tenn. will preach for the Men's Day Services on the second Sunday in September.

(Thanks to my sis Lil who really did a bang-up job of pinchhitting so back from "the apple" and the "windy city" gotta lot of eastern news for ya)

AND THIS IS NEW YORK!!!

Busy, fast moving New York, hot or cold, rain or shine, the hurry and bustle always remains. . . . Dining in Frank's ran into folks like "Sneek's and Anfel," the famous Two Hot Shots, who insist there's nothin' like good old L.A. (as tho we didn't know) but there's nothin' like working steady either, huh fellas? They've just finished an engagement in the Bronx and now opening at a swanky downtown nitery. . . . Strollin' down 125th St., on every juke box, blasting away, Louie Jordon's "Run Joe" but for my money I'd rather hear Ella Fitzgerald do it any day, that is providing she will sing it on record like she sang it at the Appolo Theater, where she is the featured attraction, along with the band of Boyd Raybourn, speaking of Boyd Raybourn, he has a 20-year-old Canadian fella that'll blow the top off of any joint. He's great in every sense of the word. He had them out in the aisles jumping . . . and back to the "first lady of Swing," La Fitzgerald, noticed that she had her hubby on bass Ray Brown, along with the other members of his trio to accompany her; it's a good thing Ella can sing, 'cause the fiddlin' of Ray Brown didn't move us. . . . Wynonnie Harris and his blues yellin' (oops, I'm sorry, I mean "singing") can be heard nitely at the Baby Grand. . . . Met the idol of Harlem, Willie Bryant, who has one of the best disc jockey programs I've heard for many a moon. . . . Willie "insisted" that we come up and be his guest and spin the platter. Of course you know how much he had to insist! . . . There's a fella that's really going places but quick! . . . Downtown to the Latin Quarters where there's a crowd all the time, a well rounded show in America's most exciting Night Club. . . . The beautiful Costella Twins, as pretty and shapely as when seen in the lavish Earl Carroll revue . . . and comedian Willie Shore had you laughin' every minute. . . . Then around the corner to the famous ROOST where there's always good entertainment, this time the spot-light was on that sweet singer of songs Billy Ecksein, with music being supplied by the combo of Charlie Ventura and other "Be-Bop" musicians. . . . Please believe me when I say that "the apple" is really on that Be-Bop kick . . .

GERTRUDE GIPSON

DOING THE APPLE . . .

At the Strand, "Lady Day" lookin' like a million and sounding like much more, well received by a full house, as graceful as ever with a few extra pounds to her advantage, backed by the swingsational band of Count Basie, who held them all spellbound as he tickled the keys of that Hammond Organ. . . . Talking with Maceo Birch, who is still talkin' about the days when he had the famed Cresbar, now manages the Apollo Bar equally as great, you're nowhere at all if you don't drop in nitely at Maceo Birch's Apollo Bar. . . . For your entertainment there is a portion of the great Ellington Band headed by the great Johnny Hodge and includes: Billy Strayhorn, Sonny Greer, Tyree Glenn, and other swing greats . . . and then the vocalin' of Al Hibler, who was celebrating his birthday . . . and strollin' in to pay his good wishes, back from his trip abroad the Duke Ellington . . . Ran into an old friend of mine from the coast, sportsman Louie Haywood. He was suffering from an abnormal condition of vision in which single objects appeared double (in short he was drunk!!!)

ROUND TOWN IN HARLEM

Smalls Paradise still putting on three shows nitely with Norma Miller in the producing spot . . . so surprised was she at our appearance, that the entire show was dedicated to your columnist . . . a fast and furious show, a little bit of this and also some of that. . . . Norma labeled the show "Towers of Manhattan"—show was em-ceed by the versatile Byron Wilson . . . and in the bandstand the band of Bobby Sands. . . . Down by the Theresa Hotel (the meeting place of all) chatted with Bill Moore who is doing O. K. with a nice combo and wife Lee, as cute as ever but says she'd give anything to be back in L. A. . . . And before I forget . . . Norma Miller all smiles when tellin' us about her coming marriage to Lips Page, that torrid trumpeter. . . . Patsy Hunter, [illegible] the angel's top producer, has now given up show business and now working as a bar maid in of the apple's top spots . . . Then over to the Bronx to the club 845 . . . and upon entering saw first Oscar Harrioson who couldn't believe his eyes when I walked over to him. . . . The entertaining show M.Ceed by one of New York's best M.Cee's, Sammy Foushe . . . who brought out such stars as Wini Brown, who is terrific as a single and gets much more of an opportunity to show off that terrific tonsil ticklin' . . . Then there was Archie Savage, who has teamed with Cleo Hays, and they do have quite a clever act. . . . Archie bookin' great and his dancing in top form, then the gorgeous Zanzibeauts with their clever dance routines . . . and can't remember when I heard such a good interpreter as John Kirby who also appears on the show. . . . Saw Mantan Moreland ringsiding, and Leroy formally of Chuck and Chuckles. . . . In the Theresa lobby met Wendell Smith, Courrier sports editor, just returning from the Olympic games with some other fellas, and then there was Floyd Smalson raving about how great Billy Holiday was (he's her press agent, of course). . . . Over in Atlantic City Joe Ziggy Johnson has a terrific show at Club Harlem that stars Jimmy Smith on the dancing Vibs. . . . Looks like I'm gonna run outa space, so if it's O. K. with ya (and even if it isn't) I'll tell you all about Chicago next week . . . So until then, it's great to be back to you, 'cause I love every one of you . . .

Sherman Williams, King Perry In Battle of Music at Elks Hall

The first local "battle" of music between two bands in quite some time will be held Sunday evening, Aug. 29th at the Elks auditorium, when King Perry engages in musical combat with Sherman Williams and his famous orchestra.

Perry's outfit is a well-balanced group of youngsters who play swing like swing should be played. They dish out danceable and listenable music in a modern manner. One of the best assets of the band is leader Perry himself, an accomplished musician as well as a good showman. His sax tooting gives an added musical pitch to the smooth rhythmic tempo of his zippy little band.

As for Sherman Williams, Brother Williams is one of the smartest band leaders in the b'sness today. He gets great effects from his band. Topper, of course, is the fine selectivity he shows in picking tunes that are ideally phrased for his band. He give each tune, whether oldie or newie, full value and doesn't throw away tunes with one or two choruses. Unlike many jump bands, when the tunes up you're pretty sure to know what he's playing all the way thru.

The "battle" of music between these two versitile bands is a music lovers delight. Both are tops in their field, and their field is SWING!

Dance starts promptly at 9 p.m.

SHERMAN WILLIAMS and his famed recording orchestra will do business in a battle of music Sunday night, August 29th, at the Elks Hall between two or the Angel city's most popular and swing-sational dance bands. Perry made musical and $ history on his recent recording of "Money's Getting Cheaper," while Sherman Williams' version of "Hello" rocked the juke-boxes throughout the nation.

PICTURE ABOVE is a caracture of Dizzy Gillespie, famed as the Trumpet King of Be-Bop. Diz, his trumpet and his orchestra will be featured, along with ohter famous "names" of the theatrical profession on Sunday afternoon, September 12th, at Wrigley Field, in a mammoth Jazz Cavalcade program of steller entertainment. Dizzy's trumpet-tooting is the talk of the profession, and his new style of music is a Be-Bopper's delight!

Roz Russell Plays Hostess To Local And Chicago Guests

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Hazel Washington, wife of Lieutenant "Rocky" Washington, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Nelson were guests of Rosalind Russell at R.K.O. studios last week, along with the Lucius Harpers, of Chicago.

The party was highly entertained with a sneak preview of Miss Russell's latest picture, and a well-prepared luncheon.

Mrs. Nelson, wife of the Dunbar hotel proprietor, commented "I find Miss Russell a most charming and gracious hostess, as well as a ravishing siren on the screen at all times. I was at ease in her presence."

Meeting Scheduled

Dizzy and Big Names Slated For Jazz Cavalcade Blowout

Bigger and better will be the fourth annual Calvacade of Jazz, produced by Leon Hefflin and scheduled for Sunday afternoon, September 12th.

Headlining the all-star show to be held at Wrigley Field is a talented array of musical artists whose names read like a "who's Who" from the page of the theatrical book of top performers. Dizzy Gillespie his trumpet and his orchestra, will be featured along with such stellar entertainers as Jimmie Witherspoon, acclaimed the new blues sensation of 1948; The International Sweethearts of Rhythm, who recently concluded a smash tour of one-night dance and theatre engagements; Joe Liggins and his famous Honey-Drippers, featuring the terrific tenor sax tooting of James Jackson; Peppy Prince, top drummer; Little Willie Jackson, whose "swingsational" baritone sax playing has won him more popularity polls than any other baritone star since Duke Ellington's Harry Carney; Little Miss Cornshucks, famed femme blues chirp now appearing nitely at the Last Word Cafe, and many other stars too numerous to mention.

Joe Adams, the popular "Mayor of Melody," heard daily over radio station KOWL, Santa Monica, has been signed as "guest" Master of Ceremonies. Mr. Adams will be aided and abetted by such famous names as Hunter Hancock, JT Gipson, Bill Anson and a host of other top-flight local announcers, who will be on hand to keep things moving along at a lively pace.

For an afternoon of the best in musical entertainment, it's the 4th Annual Calvacade of Jazz at Wrigley Field, September 12th, from 2 p.m. until early sundown. Doors will be open at 1 o'clock for general admission. Tickets are now on sale at Karl's Cut Rate Drug Store, 4314 So. Central Ave.; Westcoast Service Bureau, 4229 S. Central and Brock's Service Bureau on the Westside.

If you like music, swing, Be-Bop, Blues and downright solid entertainment, you'll like the Calvacade of Jazz at Wrigley Field, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12th.

It'll be an outstanding affair, and I'll be out standing in line for a ticket!

Memos From Melrose: Dear Mr. G., letter on the desk from Gaynell Taylor. Remember her? Ardent admirer of the col'm for years. Gives you the dickens for saying (a coupla col'ms ago) you didden have any "friends." Claims she's one. . . . And wotta 'bout this one? An unsigned (aren't they nearly always?) letter says if you don't stop writing about the bogus fifty $ bills now being widely circulated on the Eastside, you'll get the same thing Mickey Cohen almost got. Turned his epistle over to the F. B. Eyes for fingerprints. . . . You'd be surprised at the number of bets that you won't get your divvorce.

J. T. Gipson

(Wanna bet?) . . . Oh, say, boss, how 'bout a plug here for Nadine Coles (your fave gal-pal), whose singing has more sex than the Kinsey report — and we didden even know she could chirp! . . . Hazel Simpkins was secretly wed Friday last to a Nawth Clina Doctor. You may confirm this by contacting Oscar Morris, her former b. f. . . . A famed National mag wants data on you for a future feature story. Have you heard, or don't they give you yer mail overit the office? . . . Dorothy Donegan, your pet pianist, has a sensayuma that'll remind you of Roz Russell. . . . Annie Robinson, who counted her birfday candles 8-13-48, is expecting a little bundle from the heavens any day now. . . . I think you'll be interested in the newest excitement to our town. She's a lovely thing to look at named Marilyn Something-or-other, vacationing here from Tex's and drives a Packard Clipper and lives in the vacinity of forty-8th street and looks like Lena Horne usta look twenty yrs. ago and thass all I know about her. . . . Artie Graves, the sportsman, wants 20 grand for that recent Ciro's "incident." . . . That noise you heard the other Sunday evng. that sounded like the boom boom of a zillion rolling bass-drums was the many hearts being broken when Gloria Bunch (your pet deb) got married. . . . Jean Anderson (whose lgs. are prettier than any song Cole Porter ever wrote) was frightened out of her dreams the other middle of the yawning when her pet peek-a-neeze glided across the floor and knocked over a lamp. . . . Ha! Joe Adams woke up the other ayem with a headache built for a Hippopottamus. He was suffering from a hangover. His favorite colyumist came by and asked: "Ya' want me to fix ya' a Bromo, Joe?" . . . "Hell, NO!" he roared, "I couldn't stand the noise!" . . .

What's the real reason Harry Weber left town so hurriedly? Did he welch on a gambling debt, or was it because of another guy's gal? That's the only way most chumps get hurt on Central avenue, fooling around with another guy's doll. . . . The Podden-My-Yawn set refer to the ladeez-of-the-Eve'g as "mentertainers." . . . Hadda Brooks is in town, but isn't working. (So's a lotta other people.) . . . In case you wanna society item, the Wilshire Bohemians Boys and Girl's social club, will stage the biggest and best affair of the season in Sept. Beverly Anderson, a debutante sweeter than a Wayne King sax solo, is prez of the group—and that along is enuff to put the affair over with the proverbial bang! . . . They tell you a columnists' divorce settlement (coming up vedy soon) will match the National war debt. (Oh, not yours!) . . .

Floyd Turnham's band (at the Bal Tabarin) is easy on the ears. They oughta be "discovered" by a talent scout! Here at last is a local band whose playing doesn't give you cauliflower ears! . . . Terrible brawl between two well-known society beauties over the affections of a "pimp." Had to be pulled apart twice last wk. . . . Isn't Jacqueline Pyante due in town any day? She's Ohio's prettiest advertisement, and built like a brick ship-yard! . . . Why's all the columnists sooooo excited over the current love affair between a famous local singer and the wife of a swanky Hollywood nite spot owner? She's reech as Rockefeller, and all he can do is sign. (Ha! 'Zat so?) . . . Sammy "Klotz" Montgomery was down from Frisco the other day. They tell me he's making more money up North than the Mint! . . . Oh, hey, boss, what's the name of Camille Canady's pretty sis? Drives a club coupe and looks like something outuve a dream! . . . People wonder why the sudden stoppage of caustic comments on Almena Davis? Gettin' yellow, soft or old? . . .

Lillian Lomax's colyum last wk. sounded something like Gertrude. That's what comes from being taught by a guy named Gip. . . . 'Ja ever meet a doll named Dolores Dobbs? They say she's sweet, pretty and ooooo-la-la! . . . Remember Mary Hicks? (How can you ever forget such an ah-tractive face; afterawl she was your nurse at the hosp), well anyway, boss, she's getting married on September five to an Atlanta, Georgia, medico—and that'll just about break your heart! . . . Allen Moore (he's Len Morrow's mgr; Len's the light heavyweight king of California) dropped by the office on a social call. Wanted to thanx you for the "swell mentions" of his fighter. . . . Have you heard anything about Anna Mae Winburn? She formerly lead the International Sweethearts of Rhythm all-girl ork. She's gonna have a baby, and if it looks anything like Anna Marvelous Winburn—she'll be a little doll-face. . . . Hey, boss, why don'tcha getcha facts right? In last wk's memo's you wrote about Louise "Beau" Franklin and her dancing partner, Byron Ellis. Good story, and all that sortatheeng. You built her up to the peak of perfection. She looooved the story. My complaint? You had her down as Louise HARRIS! It's Franklin, ya' dope! . . . What's this I hear about music biggie Marvin Levinsohn publishing a song you wrote titled "I Don't Want Your Kisses If I Can't Have Your Love?" Now you're writing SONGS! What're you gonna do next?? . . . Do you know of all the grand guys you've been writing about, you've got yer first time to mention a fellow named Mose Laurent? He's the Dunbar hotel's favorite bell-boy, and has a personality as friendly as a handclasp from the late FDR. Good guy, too! . . . If you think Lena Horne has a pretty smile, you oughta see Connie Alexander's! (You can tell she comes from California. You can tell it by the sunshine in her smile!) . . . Harry Anderson knows a guy who crossed an Owl with a Billy Goat and got a Hoot-Nanny! . . . And in case you want a political piece, howz this for one (?): Under the late FDR a family could save 85c by not buying a pound of butter and a pound of Steak. Under Truman you can save $1.40! . . . And you didden tell anyone your Adopted "Mom" is a grand person named Bessie Nelson Jenkins, sis of Dunbar hotel owner James Nelson. She's everybody's "Mom," and everybody looooooves her! . . . What's this between Joe Harris and a San Francisco debeauty? He says he's in luff with somebody else. She says he's in luff with HER. (P. S., boss, don't bet against her!) . . . So you finally found an apartment, eh? Guess the age old adage is true, towit: "'Taint WHAT you know; it's WHO you know!" . . . You tell everybody Geraldine Lung is "jes a li'l sis," but other people are saying the friendship is more than platonic. Hey, boss, G'wan and buy that Skunk farm so's people will keep their nose outuve yer b'sness. . . . Buddy Garcia tells everyone he's "Pig-Meat." I'm not saying Buddy Garcia is an old man, but we hear from reliable sources he was the Head-Waiter at the Lord's Supper! . . . Hey, Les Hite, will you contact the boss, please? (JTG; ADams 9770) . . .

Frank Rucker, in case you don't remember old friends, is an old school chum and wants ta know why 'n' 'ell you don't plug old school chums in the col'm? He left for Frisco Monday last on a vacation visit. . . . Bill Day (a favorite M.C. over at your desk) was looking for an apt. last wk., and a Real Estate agent asked, "Wanna See A Model Home?" . . . "Sure," cracked Bill, "What time does she get off?" . . . Did or didden you promise a write-up here for Inez Coleman, Rose Mary Coles, Theodore "Chubby" Johnson and Louis Brown? They work at Dynamite Jackson's Paradise Lounge where the drinks are better and cheaper than any-other-place in town! All grand people, too! . . . Mustard Arnold, whose first name is Raymond, says Chalky Wright is two years younger than God, and his pedigree is 2 blocks shorter than route 66. . . . Ooh, yeah, how about a columention for a Woodard named Geneva? She's Reet, Petite and GONE! . . .

Jackie Robinson Scheduled for Game Here

The Sporting Scene

By J. T. GIPSON

DROPPING THE AX

The other evening in one of the juice joints a very prominent boxer was soused to the gills. Do I hear some character in the second row answer, "So What?" Nothing, under ordinary circumstances because now-a-days the favorite indoor sport (okay, one of the favorites) is the indulgence in stagger-soup. Like love, whiskey drinking is here to stay. But this certain prominent boxer (tell ya' why I wont use his name further down in the story) is in training for a bout he has coming up at the Olympic Auditorium. "Say fellow," we said by way of getting the conversation off to a merry start, "why the hell (and those are exact words I used, so leave 'em in Mr. Printer!) are you drinking so much? He gave me a look that needed a bath and snapped back, "Why the hell are YOU drinking so much?" . . . "Aren't you in training?" I asked, ignoring the heck out of his question. "Yeah," he retorted, "are you." . . . "Yeah, but not for fighting," was the snappy come-back.

He went on to tell me of his martial troubles, and he drank to keep from worrying and smiled to keep from crying. All that is okay, knowing what martial troubles can do to a man I fully sympathized with him. But here's my argument. He has a bout coming up soon. WHY IN THE NAME OF HENRY A. WALLACE can't he wait until AFTER his fight to drink? That much he owes to his public.

I'm not a reformer by any means, and I condemn no one for ANY "sport" whatsoever they desire to indulge in, because maybe I have a favorite sport that people would condemn me for. Six in one hand. Half a dozen in the other. But if you must make the other word you and I know for "donkey" out of yourself, do it in private—NOT in public! 'specially when you're a top-notch fighter with a top-notch fight coming up soon. Get my point, men?

This fighter I'm talking about is one of the nicest guys we've met in this or any other town. He's a gentleman both in and out of the ring. And it isn't fair to other fighters for me not to mention his name. But every man is entitled to another chance. God forgives. Why can't a Sports-Editor? He has a family, and one of the sweetest wives I've known or have ever met. To print his name here would humiliate his family. He's having martial troubles. Personally, I hope it can all be straightened out. But for Pete's sake when he drinks whiskey like it was water, let him do it in private—not in public!

I've got $2 bet on him in his forthcoming bout, and I'd hate like hell to lose it!

Ride Your Bike But Follow the Rules Carefully

During 1947, five hundred and seventy-six collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles were reported to the police in Los Angeles. Seven juveniles were killed and one hundred six received severe injuries while 465 received slight injuries.

Those are cold figures, but they represent the fact that lives have been taken and injuries have left many of our fine youths with broken bodies, loss of eyesight, hearing, impaired minds, broken arms, legs, backs, and wrecked nervous systems.

Ninety per cent of the accidents involving bike riders are caused by carelessness and the failure to obey the traffic laws.

Youths are asked to observe the following safe riding rules for bike safety:

To keep myself and others safe, I will:

1. Keep off busy streets whenever possible.
2. Obey all traffic laws, signs and signals.
3. Give proper arm signals before turning or stopping.
4. Ride alone, never ride anyone on the handle bars or cross bar.
5. Ride on the right side of the street.
6. Ride single file.
7. Walk my bicycle across busy streets.
8. Avoid riding my bicycle on sidewalks.
9. Keep my bicycle in good mechanical condition.
10. Always enter the street carefully from a driveway, from behind a building or from behind a parked car.
11. Give the right of way to other vehicles and pedestrians.
12. Avoid showing off when riding my bicycle.
13. Wear white or light colored clothing and have my bicycle properly lighted at night.
14. Park my bike in a safe place and lock it.
15. Have my bicycle licensed and registered.
16. Be courteous at all times.

In the state of California, a bicycle is considered to be a vehicle and is subject to all laws that reasonably apply in its operation.

Safety in the operation of bicycles is most essential to the welfare of children, and the cooperation of parents is urged in explaining the above bike riding rules to their children to insure bike safety on the highways.

Jackie Robinson To Play Here With KC Royals

Winter league baseball fans were assured of seeing Jackie Robinson, star second sacker for the pennant bound Brooklyn Dodgers, this fall when Billy Feistner, veteran promoter from Long Beach, announced last week that he had signed Robinson to a one game contract to be played in Wrigley field in October. The exact date depends on the outcome of the tight National league race. If the Dodgers hit the jackpot, the game will perforce be scheduled near the middle of October.

Jackie at press time was hitting 298 and had batted in 64 runs plus nine round trippers. Although he is not getting the publicity he stirred up last year he is playing much better ball and is more valuable to the team. Until Burt Shotton took over the Bums Jackie was playing the initial sack one day and then over several steps to the second bag, therefore it was difficult to get settled but since remaining at second base Jackie has come into his own.

Robinson will play with the Kansas City Royals, managed by Marshall Armstrong; and the opposition will be the major league all stars. A real celebration is being planned for that day and might well develop into a "Jackie Robinson day." A reception for Jackie will be held at the Club Congo that evening.

The winter league schedule will be held in abeyance until the major league races are settled and then watch this paper for important announcements regarding the big Satchel Paige day and the winter league debut of Jackie Robinson.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico — The formplayers took a bad beating last Sunday at the world's greatest Sunday race course. Three horses that looked outstanding on form failed to reach the charmed circle. In the first race B'ar Land held at 4 to 5, was beaten by Bonsima, an outsider. Timber Tac, another odd on favorite in the third race, failed to get in the money. And in the seventh race Martensport, getting away slowly and finishing second, was the third odd on favorite beaten. Lucky choices that reached the payoff line were, Lakeside Hope in the fourth, and Sir Meldoy in the twelfth. Longshot players had a field day. Who Dat, winner of the second race, paid $63.20, while Hi-Willow, victor of third, rewarded $22.60. With the daily-double payoff of $222 on these two winners, a rare feat of training was witnessed by horsemen when H. C. McBride sent a fit horse to the post that hadn't been to the races for more than a year. It was in the tenth race the horse "First of All" had been working very impressive and was held at even money on the moring line. But the public refused to bite. He won like a good thing to pay the unusual across-the-board mutuel payoff of $8, $8.80, $8.40. The nitecap known as the Quiniela rewarded its backers of Sir Melody and Lucky Lawson, who ran in that order $16.00. General Manager Walter C. Marty announced for this Sunday three big features to support the 12-race program. "The Coronado" handicap at six furlongs will be the featured attraction. "The Silver Strand" secondary and "The North Island" third. All these feature events will be at six furlonsg and the speed burners will are expected to burn up the track. Two distance races also had been carded. Popular General Manager William (Bill) Collier of the greyhound races has given your writer the go-ahead sign to stage what will be one of the biggest nights at the races. The Dennis William Drum and Bugle Cord Unit No. 310, who made a great hit, will lead the parade. Isis Temple No. 102, Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order Nobles Mystic Shrine of North and South America and Jurisdictions, Inc., will be the guest of honor. The winner of the "Shrine Handicap" witch will be the feature attraction will be crown by a noted beauty named by the temple. All in all this will be the nite of nite at the greyhounds.

Sportswriter Is More Than Disgusted With Angel City Dons Team

By Halley Harding

The Los Angeles Dons, the local entry in the All-America football conference and sponsored by the man who made the telephone popular, Don Ameche, are the biggest enigma in the sports world today. Their intentions and their chances vitally affect thousands of suntanned sports followers. They have been in training at their Ventura summer camp for the past six weeks and honestly, from the exhibition put on last Wesdnesday night at the Rose bowl against the San Francisco '49ers led by ("I see several weaknesses") Frankie Albert, one would have to believe the players and the coaches played gin rummy most of the time.

We have followed the Dons up to their intra squad game and down to the aforementioned debacle in Pasadena and we confess we have some very potent questions to ask someone. The '49ers beat the local Amechites an easy 42 to 24. That doesn't look so bad on paper but the game. WHEW. The first touchdown the Dons got Burr Baldwin who the local press agents are trying to build up, caught at a pass, knocked it up in the air, then fell down on his back. The ball plumped right down on what is commonly known as his belly and he hung onto it. A touchdown, yes, but can you depend on that kind of a performance more than once a season.

Another six pointer came when a pass was thrown to the left end. He was covered by a '49er. The ball was falling short so the defender came up in front of the would be catcher and speared the ball. The Dons was BEHIND the ball catcher and the officials (bless their hearts they earned their pay) called interfence and gave the Dons the ball. There is 12 points, a pure gift. Can you expect that to happen all season. Now the local "eggsperts" gave the Dons all the best of it and soft pedaled their criticism. We like the Dons and hope they have a good season, therefore we are putting down facts as we see them and you may take them for what they are worth.

It is a known fact that all the boys at camp had some experience in the gentle art of removing an obstacle from the path of a ball carrier. In the '49ers game that lesson was lost in transit. Those northern boys acted like they wanted to play football. They started someplace and thats where they wound up. The '49ers started practice the same time as the Dons and even if the new Don coach, Jimmy Phelan, is putting in a new system, some of the boys had played it before and are they morons or is the single wing system only good for Phi Beta Kappa key men? That's no excuse. The coaches have been sleeping, eating and working with grown men for some 42 days and unless the boys are mentally unequipped a beter showing should have been made to date. If the Dons wake up and play football, this writer wil gladly eat every word printed here because he, in view of the fact that the squad carries several sun tanned lads, is in complete favor of the Dons winning every game but it can't be done if someone won't tell somebody the-real-facts-of-football-life.

Regarding Jimmy Phelan we have our doubts. We will wait until the returns are all in but I went to the bowl to see Ezzerret Anderson, Bert Piggot, and John Brown play and they were conspicious by their absence. Linwood Sexton played defense mostly until Allyn Beals tricked him in plain sight and then he put rosin on the seat of his pants to keep from falling off the bench.

It was a sucker play but it was noticeable that after Sexton left there was no one with the speed of a snail to bother Frankie. At least Sexton was there where the ball was being thrown. That's more than can be said about the others. The material is there. Wake it up Jimmy Phelan and see what happens and to you Phelan I say, "this is America," that's the name of your conference and so you be—just a plain American.

ing relaxation following a hot day's work was told point blank at the cashier's counter that he would not be admitted to the pool. Why? It is the policy of the management.

Protests by the white members of the party were to no avail. The Negro was not allowed to enter the pool although there were members of other minority races seen in the pool. The objection certainly was not made on their account.

Following the refusal, the party related the experience to some of their friends. The friends telephoned Bimini and inquired. They were told that Negroes are barred at Bimini Baths.

It has been suggested that telephone calls be made to Bimini Baths in protest against this new racial policy; it has also been suggested that telephone calls be made to city councilmen and state assemblymen asking them to use their influence to end the discrimination against Negroes at Bimini.

A third Negro candidate, Thomas L. Jones, is being backed by the Wallace party in Brooklyn for county judge.

NO! OH! NO!—The Lafayette Players will never die. When the "Music Town Showcase Theatre," of L. A. opens its doors to the public with the production of Oscar Wilde's "Salome" on Sept. 15, '48. It will mark the beginning of a new era—the birth of a new Stock Company for the West Coast, "The Laura Bowman Players." Laura Bowman, veteran actress and ex-Lafayette Player, terminated her 3-year engagement with the "Anna Lucasta Co." to return to L. A. for the completion of her dream of many years. That of forming a Stock Company for this generation as a monument to the Lafayette Players of the past. The only organization of its kind to travel from coast to coast. Watch for further news. become the most valuable weapon of union-busting employers. This, he said, is another victory in the newspaper publishers' campaign to deprive newsvendors of all social security rights. The Gearhardt Bill, excluding newsvendors from unemployment and social security benefits, passed by the anti-labor 80th Congress, was the first 'victory.'"

Part of Axelrod's statement follows:

"I warned the managements of the Herald-Express, Los Examiner, and the Daily News not to find too much comfort in this decision. For 10 years the publishers have tried every shady trick to deprive the newsvendors of their right to organize. They failed. They will not succeed now!

"Any attempt by the publishers to use this decision to refuse collective bargaining rights to the newsvendors will show that they want to provoke a city-wide newspaper strike. In San Francisco, newspaper publishers have signed contracts with the newsvendors as 'individual contractors' for the past 11 years."

eign Wars, will present the $500 scholarship check and gold medal to young Jackson next Thursday, September2, at the Kiel auditorium in St. Louis, during the national encampment of the veteran's organization.

The story of how those four boys rescued the five Glascow children, the oldest only 5 years old, reads like a thriller from a story book or a movie. It happened on October 10, 1946, when fire destroyed their home while Mrs. Glascow was away on an errand.

The Scouts, returning home from football practice, came upon the blazing dwelling. Finding the front door locked, they broke a window. Scouts Jackson and Stapleton entered the house and passed two children through the window to the other Scouts.

Heavy smoke forced the two Scouts to leave after they tried to force the locked door of a room where they thought there might be other children. They tried again a few minutes later and forced the door open but the smoke and heat halted them. Then crawling on the floor they saw the legs of a crib, when they heard the cries of other children.

Enter Smoke-filled Rooms

Jackson felt around in the smoke and grabbed one child by an arm and another by a leg and ran with them out of the house. They still heard another cry. Stapleton entered the smoke-filled room, found his way to the crib and came out with the fifth child, an infant. Then to make certain, all four Scouts crawled into the room again, felt everywhere but found no one else.

Scout Jackson averaged Grade "A" in his senior year at Douglass High School, Columbia, Mo., this year. An honor student, he was president of his sophomore class, a member of the school band, and a letterman in football and basketball. He also helped to edit his school paper.

Jackson was president of the Youth Group of the Baptist Church he attends regularly and is a member of its choir. He was secretary of the Church Youth Conference held in Kansas. As a "good turn" he often cleans the church yard.

He took a leading part in a Scout show to raise funds so that his Troop could attend summer camp where he was a leader. He appeared in numerous school assembly programs and before the Kiwanis Club at Moberly, Mo., to promote Scouting.

He directed traffic before and after school to make crossing streets safe for young pupils. He gave blood for the war effort and once for a dying girl. He helped to oil streams to combat polio and once averted a possible accident by reporting an open sewer to city officials. He has earned his honor.

ened with extradition unless Gov. Earl Warren refuses to release him.

Robeson, addressing a spellbound audience which also heard the great artist sing many of their favorite songs, hit hard at the callous indifference of the old political party leaders, such as Warren, to the fate of the Negro people and "all working people."

The meeting which was held at BoBoo C.M.E. Memorial Temple, responded to an appeal by Hursel Alexander, chairman of the Wiley King Defense Committee, by contributing more than $700 to continue the fight to free King.

The following resolution was endorsed:

WHEREAS Wiley King has been imprisoned for two months awaiting action by Governor Warren on the request of Mississippi authorities for extradition to that state, and

WHEREAS Wiley King was unjustly convicted and jailed, was released to what he thought was complete and honorable freedom and has lived an exemplary life since his release by Mississippi prison authorities 21 years ago,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we thousand people assembled in BoBoo C.M.E. Memorial Temple to hear Paul Robeson speak on behalf of Wiley King, insist that Governor Earl Warren refuse the request of the State of Mississippi for the extradition of Wiley King, and order of the evening was prayer, minutes of the previous meeting, communications, reports on finance, and membership.

A committee headed by Rev. Leahman, previously named to interview Mrs. Zella Taylor with the stipulation that, only if she refused to continue in the capacity of executive secretary, would her successor be named, reported that Mrs. Taylor could no longer serve. Miss Mary Alton Cutler was named as her successor.

Miss Cutler has been highly recommended for the position, having served during the absence of Mrs. Taylor, who is on vacation. Miss Cutler gave a brief but very satisfactory report on the work of the organization for the past few weeks and enumerated some well laid plans for operation.

The new cases of police brutality were discussed, especially the Burns murder of last Saturday midnight and plans to attack what appears to be unnecessary beatings and murdering of citizens.

As a gift from the Broadway Federal Loan company, headed by H. A. Howard, Mr. G. William McKinney, an employee of the Federal Loan, had been sent to Sacramento to observe what went on at the political conventions held in the Capitol city August 8-9. Mr. McKinney's report was read by Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, president. It dealt with the news of the Republican and Democratic conventions, but nothing from the Progressive Party convention was given due to the fact that the two major parties had space in the Capitol building while the Progressive Party met in Memorial Auditorium near by.

Mr. McKinney's report named as Negro representatives to the Republican convention headed by Louis Cole, editor Leon Washington, Mr. Braden, Mrs. Betty Hill, Mrs. Echo Stanton Robinson, and Mr. Frank White. This committee, he said, offered a strong civil rights plank but there being no Negroes on the Republican platform, the suggested plank was toothless and had no bite.

In lieu of a report from the Progressive Party Mrs. Bass was invited to make one in writing to which she consented.

The new membership drive was launched and the kickoff will be given September 12 with Dean William Pickens as the honored speaker at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets.

Indian Maidens Hold Pawaw After Successful Affair

At the home of Elizabeth Mitchell, members of the Chieftains, Indian named club was hostess Sunday to more than 200 guests. Varied booths were in the sawdust trail with dancing later in the evening. Drawing for a corday purse made by the supreme chief "Laughing Water," Cornelia Rogers went to Mrs. Zorda Dostor, 11200 Stanford Avenue.

Signs for the Gypsy Queen, the fortune tell, Madam Fufu, were originated by Arnold W. Bankston, noted artist and was portrayed by Elsie Miller.

Hot Dogs and Mexican food was served by Isabelle Smith, Anne Brown, Jewel Smith and Daisy Cherry. "Chief Running Water," Evelyn Brown was in charge of the "Wheel of Chance" with several winners gaining prizes. Among those lucky were: Robert Brown, Willis Rogers, George Anderson, and U. S. Cherry.

Recently charming "Chief Redwing," Anne Maye, was hostess to the chiefs at a gala beach party at Cabrillo. Next pawaw of the Indian Maidens will be at the home of Chief "Laughing Water" on E. Imperial Highway.

HAVE FAITH IN GOD

What plain simple words these are, yet so full of meaning of what God wants to do for those in need. We must feel our need, our lack, before we ask for help.

God can see our condition and knows the needs that we have before we realize them ourselves. He lets us go till we feel our need and then we are ready to look to Him for help.

Everyone of us puts faith in someone or something, in some way or other. We just naturally expect to go on living and seeing the sun by day and the moon and stars by night; the vegetables, flowers, and birds.

Lest we forget from whence these wonderful blessings come, or our benefactor, let us practice faith in God.

I.G.S. Dear Prof. Herman: Your column was brought to my attention by one of your readers and I have found it very interesting and trust you will be able to assist me with this problem: What is wrong with us?

ANSWER It seems that you and your husband need some special medical attention and the best and first step for both of you to take is to consult a physician at once.

B.R. What became of my keepsake?

ANSWER My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals this article has been overlooked. I suggest your searching again carefully in one of your suits of clothes for it.

M.M. Is it over now?

ANSWER I am of the opinion life has seemed somewhat cruel to you, my friend . . . but I want you to dismiss this unpleasant thought. We all have our ups and downs, but must keep climbing to reach the "sky of success." I vision there is much happiness in store for you and this is no time to give up.

R.C.B. Please name the seven wonders of the ancient world.

ANSWER They are namely: The Hanging Gardens of Babylon; The Statue of Zeus (Jupiter) at Olympia; The Temple of Artemis (Diana) at Ephesus; The Pyramids of Egypt; The Colossus at Rhodes; The Mausoleum at Halicarnassus; and the Pharos (lighthouse) of Alexandria.

Canada Celebrates Emancipation Day

WINDSOR, Ontario, Canada—More than 150,000 persons attended Canada's three-day celebration held here "to commemorate the passing of slavery in the British Empire, 116 years ago.

It was a record crowd of both Americans and Canadians, black and white, and they came from cities, towns, villages, and the country districts of both Canada and the United States.

Mayor Arthur A. Reaume welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city of Windsor, and proudly proclaimed, "All men are equal here in Canada."

Rev. Dr. Archibald Carey, pastor of the Woodland AME Church, Chicago, was the principal speaker for the occasion.

"There's one message the world needs to hear," declared Dr. Carey. "It is this: 'Ye shall not see my face unless thy brother be with ye.'

"That includes all mankind," said Dr. Carey. "Black, white, Jew, Gentile, Christian. All the little people of the world who have been oppressed for years have decided they are going to take their rightful place in the world. They are tired of being kicked around. Now they are going to do a little kicking themselves.

"Some of these people are workers, Jews, and Christians—marching together for their rights, and nothing will stop them until they have reached their objective. The little people of the world have reached this conclusion together: Before I'll be a slave, I'll be buried in my grave."

Miss Carole Benford, of Detroit, was crowned the Emancipation International Beauty Queen for 1948. A crowd of 50,000 witnessed the beauty contest and coronation.

New Trade Era With Liberians

NEW YORK — A new era in West African trade relations with the United States began July 26 when the Republic of Liberia marked its 101st anniversary by opening its new $20,000,000 deepwater harbor to serve the capital city of Monrovia.

The new port of Monrovia, largest and most modern on the African West Coast, will be operated jointly by the Liberian Government and seven American companies interested in the development of Liberian trade. Brought together by the U. S. State Department and formally chartered as the Monrovia Port Management Company, Ltd., these companies are: Farrell Lines, Inc., Firestone Plantations Company, The Liberia Company, Liberia Mining Company, Ltd., Mississippi Shipping Company, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company and The Texas Company.

Prune B'fast Cereal

BERKELEY, Calif.—An inexpensive, healthy and tasty breakfast cereal can be made from sieved prunes, the University of California has announced through its food technology division, whose laboratories have developed and tester new methods of obtaining such a cereal.

In one procedure tested, a dough was made of whole wheat flour, white flour, bran, corn, sugar, yeast or baking powder, and sieved prunes. The mixture was baked in small loaves, sliced and dried. Then the slices were crushed and sieved to "grape-nut" size.

According to the laboratory, cereal obtained in this manner contains more than 50 per cent of dried fruit.

Soap has a drying effect on linoleum and paint, so should always be rinsed off carefully. As for gasoline and other similar grass solvents, they should never be used on linoleum in home cleaning.

Numbers Racket Halts

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Two men who carried the big time number racket into the Kaiser-Frazer plant at Willow Run, Michigan, and nine others felt the full weight of the law enforcement agencies in this small college town recently. Two Detroit racketeers were given jail sentences.

The assistant prosecutor estimated the daily numbers playing take in the plant at $5,000.

A total of 31 persons have been arrested since police cracked the operators hideout.

Project Robbed

DETROIT—The office of the Brewster Center Housing Project was held up recently by two bandits who fired one shot, struck the manager of the project over the head with a revolver, scooped up $700 and escaped. The victim of the holdup and attack is Harry Wooten, 52.

California Eagle

A PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER FOR ALL PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

Ten Cents

Vol. 69—No. 22 Los Angeles, Thursday, September 2, 1948 44 AD. 9770

VIVIAN STANFIELD and Margit Markowitz had their freedom arrested by a reactionary cop last week. In the California Eagle offices. Vivian points to a picture of Abraham Lincoln and says, "Lincoln was assassinated for freeing the slaves, and Wallace is being crucified on the cross of Southern bigotry for bringing the message of freedom to all the people." Margit agrees. (See story on this page.)

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands—one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

If I understand the pledge to the flag of the United States, and I believe I do, and I dedicate my every effort as a law-abiding citizen to do my part in enforcing it, I feel that this in itself is the test of my loyalty.

I want to ask a few questions of Mr. Davis Lee, Negro publisher of The Telegram, of Newark, N.J. who in an article published in the Alexandria, Virginia, Gazette, recently declared that the entire race problem in America is approached in the wrong way. He thinks that we expend all our energies and spend millions of dollars trying to convince white people that we are as good as they are, that we are an equal. And he offers, to substantiate this argument—Joe Louis who is not looked upon as a Negro, but as the greatest fighter of all time.

In another breath Mr. Lee says, "The whites in the South stay with their own, and the Negroes do likewise. This one fact has been the economic salvation of the Negro in the South."

In the case of Joe Louis, our Jersey editor argues that an American should fulfill his obligation for first class citizenship on the basis of his ability to qualify. But he limits this to the fight arena.

Joe Louis is the heavy weight champion of the world, the standard bearer, not of the Negroes, but of the American people.

Now, Mr. Lee, what about Marian Anderson, and Paul Robeson. You will admit that they are outstanding in their profession. Are they great Negro, or great American singers?

Do you remember Dr. George Washington Carver? Did his scientific discovery of the many uses to which the insignificant peanut has been put, benefit Negro or all Americans?

When you come forth with the type of argument as that expressed in your "A Northern Negro Assays Civil Rights," you are playing into the hands of not so much the enemies of the Negro people, as you are in the hands of the enemies of the Democratic way of life.

I ask you, not as a Negro, but as an American, why are we, the American people, all alike, in a land of plenty being threatened with starvation because of the high prices placed on food stuffs—meats, bread, milk, butter—which threaten the health and even the lives of our children?

And rents. Our American people in this same land of great resources, are living in ghettos, slums, and river bottoms not fit for the habitation of animals.

And think, Mr. Editor, in all of these abuses, the Negro American gets the brunt.

North and South, property restrictions are directed against Negroes.

In the South only Negroes

Women Victims Of Intimidation By Two Officers

"Is this America?" Wallace asked a hysterical mob who egged and tomatoed him in North Carolina.

Catherine Vivian Stanfield and Margit Markowitz asked themselves the same question last Thursday evening when, while enroute to the Eastside, they were stopped by two policemen on Washington blvd. near Naomi and searched.

In a gruff and haughty manner one officer fired this question at Miss Markowitz. "Where did you pick her up?" referring to Miss Stanfield. They proceeded to ask her where had she been and where was she going and what kind of meeting had they attended.

"What kind of cigarettes do you smoke?" the officer demanded.

"Phillip Morris," she volunteered.

"Sure of it?" he retorted.

Burns Brothers Released and Arrested Again

Conclusive proof that Herman Burns was beaten to death by police and special officers because of a minor breach of the peace was shown in Superior Court Judge Thomas Ambrose's Court early this week when the district Attorney's office failed to file charges to substantiate the previously made charge against the brothers for assault with a deadly weapon.

Herman Burns was clubbed to death last week by police who followed him from a dance hall from which he and another brother were taking a third brother to the hospital.

With the failure of the District Attorney's office to file against the surviving brothers, the City Attorney made a complaint against them for disturbing the peace. Judge Ambrose refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus, and the brothers were rearrested and taken to the Lincoln Heights jail.

NEW YORK—In one of the dullest of primaries in history, Congressman Adam Powell won nominations on both the Democratic and American Labor Party tickets from Harlem's 22 district for a return trip to Congress while veteran Hulan E. ENGAGED—Rev. and Mrs. Ernest S. Redd are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Olivia, to Frank Herman Cloud, Jr., son of Mrs. Lillian A. Cloud of Birmingham, Alabama, and Frank H. Cloud, Sr., of Los Angeles. The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Southern California, and is presently employed by Travelers Air Society. She is a former national officer of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, and holds membership in several honorary and professional groups. Mr. Cloud was graduated from Talladega College, Talladega, Alabama, nd will complete studies in mechnical dentistry at the University of California Extension this month. He is a captain in the California National Guard, having served as a first lieutenant during World War II, and is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity. No date has been set for the wedding.

Predicts End of Segregation In Southern Graduate Schools

NEW YORK—Phophesying that the end of segregation in graduate schools in the South is now in view, Walter White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, hailed the fact that the University of Arkansas had admitted its first Negro as a medical student on an unsegregated basis. "This action," he said, "adds more impetus to the forces which are pushing segregation in education into the limbo of undemocratic practices."

The student to be admitted is Miss Edith May Irby of Hot Springs, a graduate of Knoxville College. She was 28th in an aptitude test given to determine the 90 students who would make up the freshman class. Dr. H. Clay Chenault, vice president of the university, said she would enter the school next month and "will be a part of her class, just like any other member, without segregation."

Mr. White pointed out that after the NAACP won its first victory against the University of Oklahoma last winter in the Supreme Court, the State of Delaware opened the doors of its graduate school to Negro students without segregation. Maryland has been admitting Negro law students to its university since the NAACP won a court case there in 1935.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS REQUEST SOCIAL JUSTICE FOR NEGROES

NOTRE DAME, Ind.—Upwards of 3,000,000 Catholic students in the United States were pledged to work for greater social justice for American Negroes in resolutions adopted at the closing sessions Sunday of the thirteenth national conference of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade.

Held at the University of Notre Dame, the four-day conference was attended by 3,600 student delegates representing Crusade units in thousands of American communities. Several hundred Negro delegates had prominent parts in the conference, which also was the largest missionary meeting ever held in the United States.

Introduced by Robert Smith Shea, Executive Secretary of Xavier University, New Orleans, La., the resolutions on the Negro held that "prejudice and unjust practices against Negroes are based fundamentally upon ignorance of the history of this group of Americans and a lack of regard for the Christian ideals which demand recognition of the God-given rights of all human beings."

Helen Worthing Death Believed Self-Imposed

Helen Lee Worthing will finally get the peace she had sought for so long following the eclipse of one of the most phenomenal careers in show business. The remains of the exglamorous Ziegfeld Follies queen who reigned during the fabulous twenties will be buried in Inglewood Park Cemetery this afternoon (Thursday) following funeral service at Edwards Brothers Chapel.

Even as she goes to her final rest there is controversy concerning the ill-fated beauty. A report by autospsy surgeans made following her unexplained death in a dingy back yard house last Thursday, shows that it is possible that she took her life with a barbituate. Certainly there was an indication that she was contemplating suicide in the words scribble don a page in a book found in the house: "I

Burns Killing Is Gangsterism Goldner Says

(Editor's Note: The following statement was made on the Burns killing by Dr. Sanford Golder, president of the American Jewish Congress.)

The ghastly murder of Herman Burns brings to a climax the series of killings and beatings received by Negro, Mexican and members of other national minorities at the hands of the Los Angeles police.

The people of this city believed they were rid of police gangsterism with the ousting of Mayor Shaw from office some years ago.

The American Jewish Labor Council and its 35,000 affiliated trade unionists, Jew and non-Jew, decry the shameful indifference exhibited by the police department and Mayor Bowron to such acts of criminal violence and, far from urging, demand an immediate oublic hearing and trial of the officers involved and an unmistakable repudiation by Mayor Bowron of these Nazi-like police blackjackings and shootings.

Rally Condemns Daily News Smear and Police Brutality

All attempts to minimize a gigantic mass meeting staged by the Wallace forces in the South Carolina avenue district last Wednesday evening, August 25, were met with a rebuke from the people. Some 2500 of whom crowded into the main auditorium of the Elk's building to hear Paul Robeson and Elinor Gimbell of New York City speak.

All attempts to minimize a gigantic mass meeting staged by the Wallace forces in the South Central avenue district last Wednesday evening, August 25 were met with a rebuke from the people. Some 2500 of whom crowded into the main auditorium of the Elk's building to hear Paul Robeson and Elinor Gimbel of New York City speak.

Opening the program with a salute to the flag and a message from the Youth for Wallace, Horace Alexander, who was introduced by Congressional candidate Sidney Moore, Master of Ceremonies, said that he was "impressed with the Negro-white unity at the Philadelphia founding convention. The young Progressives are and must pave the way for a new day not only for the South but all America.

The Progressive party is the only party to deal with monopoly control which is the real enemy of the people. The young Progressives are playing a leading role in this campaign. In 30 days we recruited over 30,000 members. The young Progressives are staging a gigantic demonstration September 18 in opposition to the draft." He closed his remarks by inviting the public to join them.

As Mrs. Bass rose to speak a tremendous ovation greeted her. They waved handkerchiefs and cheered a woman, a Negro leader who dares to speak up for the rights of all the people.

"We are on the mareh and we should know in which direction we're traveling. My heart is full and my mind running over. In every crisis a leader has come forward. George Washington came forward as the father of the nation. Abe Lincoln came as the saviour of the nation, and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, as the defender of the nation. We thought that Harry Truman would carry on the work started by Roosevelt—that was his inaugural promise but he has failed us. And now Henry Wallace is ready to take up where Roosevelt left off.

Yesterday Rankin was elected for the 15th term to Congress. If one million Negroes and Southern Progressives were permitted to vote, Rankin would not have been elected.

He was welcomed by friends and relatives alike, who entertained him royally on his brief sojourn to his native home.

Wallace Blasts Dewey, Truman Before So. Audiences

Defying Jim Crow traditions, Henry Wallace swung through the Deep South this week on a presidential campaign tour through six states.

Forced to sleep in a private residence last week when a Louisville Hotel refused to rent rooms for Metz Lochard, former Chicago Defender editor traveling with Wallace as a press representative, Wallace was prepared to sleep in his train or at private homes when necessary.

Wallace is insistent on speaking only to non-segregated audiences.

This week's tour started Sunday when he left Washington, D. C., for North Carolina, and was scheduled to end Sunday, September 5, after an address in Knoxville, Tennessee. The trip was routed through Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi.

Wallace's tour followed a trip to Cincinnati where he addressed the national convention of the Improved Benevolent Order of Elks and charged that Governor Dewey "has carefully and brazenly whitewashed lynchings and attacks on the citizens of his state."

In an attack upon both Dewey and President Truman for refusing to actively work for civil rights for Negroes, Wallace said:

Berman Passes Comment About Jim Crow Shown Satchel Page

No nation with the possible exception of England has ever stood more stalwarthy for the principle of freedom of speech, for the inalienable rights of all men to express themselves, to speak their piece.

Yet recent events in the United States should give each and every one of us cause to wonder which way we are heading as a nation. The direction is indeed ominous and can be interpreted as a reflection of the general climate of hysteria creatd by fear ridden investigations.

At the end of the first World war, somewhat the same situation prevailed. Thousands of Americans were cruelly punished for their beliefs but after a few years had passed a genuine sense of shame haunted the nation.

One of the most bewildering paradoxes in the modern world is posed by this question. Why does a nation that so proudly fluants its democratic crede to

Don't Build Brother Until You're Sure

A warning to persons purchasing property fronting on private streets was issued today by Robert E. Alexander, president of the Los Angeles City Planning commission.

Alexander said prospective home builders appear before the Planning commission each week seeking approval of private roadways. Private roads, he said, must be approved before building permits can be issued, and many property owners find themselves unable to proceed with construction plans due to inadequate access to their property.

Those Mussels Are Still in the News

Prosecuted on evidence procured by County health department inspectors, Tom Coos, operator of a bait stand at the outlet of Ballona Creek, was fined fifty dollars on a charge of selling fresh mussels for fish bait in violation of the State Quarantine.

Robeson Rally Condemns Daily News Smear, Police Brutality

gro Republicans continue to mislead the people, their day is coming when they'll have to answer for that deception.

One daily paper named me along with others as a Communist. I'm suing the Daily News for that accusation because I'm sick of their lies.

I believe in law and order. I believe that criminals, Negro and white, should be given the same treatment. But I don't believe that the people of the Eastside should receive one kind of treatment from the police department and the people of Hollywood another. I'm not saying that all policemen are bad. But I do believe that the police department has some members who are trigger-happy brutes that misuse their power. Those, I say, should be taken off the force.

We're on the march. We're no longer at the tail end of the line, we're moving to the front. We'll march forward to victory." Mrs. Bass was at her best as the applause indicated.

Chairman Sidney Moore then introduced John Burns, brother of the deceased victim of unmerciful beating at the hands of police. He related the tragic story of the unwarranted killing after which Mrs. Bass read a resolution demanding full investigation and bringing to trial the three officers involved. It was moved and adopted by 2500 gatherers.

Elinor Gimbel, guest speaker and chairman of the Women for Wallace, said "Because of these kinds of things, these dreadful things, there is a need for the Progressive Party. As mothers and wives, the women feel these awful things more than men.

And that is why the Progressive Party is important to women. For this is the first time such a party has come out for the women. Henry Wallace understands what the housewife needs. He wants to make women first class citizens, economically and politically.

There are more women than men. If the women get out and work, they can elect Henry Wallace alone. We want to put a man in the White House who will not send our sons off to war and who is working for peace, freedom, and abundance for all."

When Paul Robeson entered upon the stage, he was met by thunderous applause and loud cheering. Before the intermission he sang two numbers, 'The House I Live In' and 'Water Boy.'

Then Carlton Moss, screenwriter and author, was introduced to raise funds for the Wallace campaign in the 14th Congressional district. "Several weeks ago," began Moss, there appeared a sensational story in Time Magazine entitled 'I Was A Negro for 30 Days.' It was bad, he said. Just terrible!

He was a Negro for 30 days. Well, I've been a Negro for more than 30 days. I've been a Negro for more than 30 years and I'm pretty tired of people investigating me, examining, peering, and studying me. I want a man like Henry Wallace who will accept me because I am a Negro."

And with that introduction Moss raised $1200, the first $100 being donated by a shipping clerk, who gave two weeks salary.

With even greater drama Paul Robeson closed the meeting with this message:

"I've just come here from a long journey across the country. I've been in North Carolina, Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, and will go back to Mississippi and Arkansas when I leave here.

The Negro people and their allies are determined that there shall be a new life for the Negro people. In every part of this land terror is stalking. I'm sorry to come to Los Angeles tonight and find out this terrible thing (the Burns case). We must fight it. We must show them that they can't use their power against the people in such manner.

Traveling across the world I've been a part of the struggles of all peoples' movements. This is a song about the freedom of a people at the top of the African continent, who I know will help bring freedom to the people below them.

Some people were startled when I said that I would give up my profession to fight for what I hoped to be a better world to live in. But I sensed here what happened in Spain, France, Czechoslovakia, the Munich of England.

I haven't given up my art. I have taken it to the people. I feel my responsibilities as one of my people and as a citizen.

What forces are behind the terror in the nation?

Oppose Check On Teachers

Announcing that a loyalty check in the schools means an end to free and democratic education, the Los Angeles Federation of Teachers called upon Los Angeles citizens last week to take action necessary to prevent it.

Pointing out that a loyalty check means the intimidation of the teachers, the suppression of freedom and thought, and the institution of a regime of fear, the Teachers Federation, through its president, Harold Orr, urges citizens to write or wire protests to the Board of Education, and to communicate with them at their offices at 711 W. 17th st., Los Angeles 15, in order to ascertain how organized community effort can be used to forestall this inquisition against the school teachers.

PAUL ROBESON brought the message of the Progressive Party to Long Beach last week and an overflow crowd greeted him with their enthusiasm and financial support. He is shown above with Levi Howard, Mrs. E. Jefferson, Charles Watkins and Ernest McBride following the meeting.

Robeson Says Warmongers Control Republicans, Demos

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Paul Robeson, famed Negro singer and actor, leader in the fight for true democracy, was presented in a program of song and commentary at the Masonic Temple in Long Beach, Tuesday evening, August 24th, according to Ben Goldstein, Chairman of the Long Beach Committee.

To an enthusiastic audience, which jammed the largest auditorium of the Masonic Temple, Mr. Robeson sang a full program of songs to the accompaniment of Mr. Larry Brown, pianist with whom he has worked for many years. His songs included selections from four languages, English, French, Italian, and Spanish, and they reflected the experiences and struggles of the people.

In a moving speech he explained the need for devoting efforts to building the Independent Progressive Party and to electing Wallace and Taylor in November. He declared that it is now known that the selfish interests and "WARMONGERS" in this country are now controlling both the Republican and Democratic Parties. Because of this, as in Lincoln's time, there is an urgency to build a New Party, a real party of the people, a party that will fight for the people's rights.

He pointed out that if Truman really means what he says about civil rights, he can prove it very easily and could have done so long ago. He said, "All he needs to do is pick up his pen and write an executive order to abolish segregation in the armed forces and it would be done." Robeson further said that the people are no longer fooled by words—they want action, and they know Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor mean what they say.

Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, national chairman of Women for Wallace, spoke to the audience, making a special appeal to the women to work for the New Party and elect Wallace, as the only means of securing lasting peace, lower prices, and freedom from fear.

George Shibley, well known Long Beach attorney and progressive leader, introduced Ben Goldstein, the Chairman of the Long Beach Committee for the Independent Progressive Party, who presided at the meeting. Mr. Marco Infanta, Mexican American leader, and Judge Stanley Moffatt, Independent Progressive Party candidate for Congress in the 18th District, gave brief talks, and Mrs. Elizabeth McArdle, Independent Progressive Party candidate for the State Assembly in the 70th Assembly District, was introduced.

An admission was charged for the meeting and there was good response to the appeal for contributions to the funds of the New Party, and to membership in its organization.

Slogans seen hanging in the entrance hall included: "Vote for Wallace, Taylor, Moffatt & McArdle!"; "Jim Crow Must Go!"; "Join the Independent Progressive Party!"

Won't Be Long Now! Renters Get A Break

Barring a shortage of materials, housing construction in Southern California may well reach the 200,000 mark in 1948 as a result of the new housing law passed by the special session of Congress. This figure will top the expected 1948 total by 75,000 units.

This prediction was voiced this week by Vern R. Huck, president of the Building Contractors Association of California.

"Rental housing will make up a much larger percentage of this new housing than has heretofore been built," said Huck, "due to the liberalized features of Section 608, F.H.A., which have been included in the new law. Thousands of families who have been unable to buy new homes, or who have not wished to purchase own homes, will be able to obtain new living quarters in the rental units which are anticipated."

Airbone Packages Inaugurated Here

Ceremonies inaugurating the new nationwide and worldwide air parcel post service were held at 11:00 a.m. Wednesday on the Spring Street steps of the Fed-Federal officials, and other promeral Building. Many City and inent citizens took part in the event.

The occasion celebrated the inauguration on September 1 of the new airborne parcel post service enacted into law by the 80th Congress. The new service provides that all packages over 8 ounces and not exceeding 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches in combined length and girth can now go by domestic air parcel post to any point within the United States and its possessions.

The rate of postage on domestic air mail weighing eight ounces or less will remain at 5 cents per ounce and that the rate for air mail packages over eight ounces will be determined on the basis of the eight postal zones. He added, however, that the rate would never be less than 3 cents per ounce for air parcel post.

Entertained At Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Paul Robeson visited Long Beach August 24th during his recent trip to the west coast, it was reported today by Ben Goldstein, Chairman of the Long Beach Committee. He was honored at a reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Howard, 1028 East Twelfth, on his arrival in the city. Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, National Chairman of Women for Wallace, was also an honoree at the reception.

During the afternoon, over two hundred and fifty guests, including citywide community leaders in many walks of life, called at the Howard home for the privilege of meeting the internationally known and loved singer, and fearless fighter for the rights of his people and of all peoples.

Gold and rust flowers decorated the house, and during the afternoon, Mrs. Christine Potter Rice, Mrs. Jefferson Gabriel, and Mrs. Elizabeth McArdle, assembly candidate in the 70th Assembly District, served at the punch bowl. A varied assortment of canapes and hors d'oeuvres were served with the punch.

The highlight of the reception was a short program with Mr. Robeson and Mrs. Gimbel making talks, in which they stressed the importance of all out support of the New Party—the Independent Progressive Party, with Wallace as its candidate for President.

Mr. Robeson reminded those present that "In 1944, Mr. Wallace, with the Vice-Presidency in his hand, said, 'Jim Crow must go!'," and he added, "And except for this he would be our President today!" Mrs. Gimbel appealed to the women in particular, the wives and mothers, to talk with their neighbors and friends, to let them know that Henry Wallace is fighting for a lasting peace, for security, and for abundance for all.

Democrats Lose Bill Lawrence

William S. Lawrence, International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union regional director in Southern California, resigned from the Democratic county central committee last week because "I cannot support President Truman for reelection without betraying all that I fought for under Roosevelt and without betraying every worker in the country."

Lawrence made his resignation known in a letter to committee chairman Glenn M. Anderson. He said he was "going to fight like hell" for Henry A. Wallace and let the "chambers of commerce and Wall St. bankers do their own job of campaigning for Dewey and Truman."

Publishers Balk on Newsboy Contracts

An attempt by a committee from the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild to get some sort of agreement with the publishers of the Daily News and the Herald-Express failed last week, when the publishers refused to enter into any agreement that would set up working rules for their newsboys. The publishers are invoking the Taft-Hartley aw in order to circumvent signing a contract with the newsboys.

Lately, the publishers have been setting forth temporary conditions in their relations with the newsies by telegram. It is because of the uncertainty of this arrangement that the LANG committee seeks an interim agreement that will hold until the parties concerned can meet around the conference table. The publishers have resisted every effort to get them into conference.

AID GIVEN CZECHS

Supplies to meet immediate emergency needs of Czechoslovak refugees in Germany are being made available by the American National Red Cross, according to word reaching Los Angeles chapter officials this week. They include comfort items stored overseas and ready for speedy distribution, and will be augmented by more than 10,000 garments being shipped from this country.

Donor Center Back On Western Avenue

Los Angeles Red Cross has reopened its blood service program at an address which attracted nation-wide attention during World War II—925 South Western Avenue.

The blood service center was opened last week following withdrawal from the Pershing Square location where the mammoth peacetime project has been carried on for the past three years. At the Western Avenue address, the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter, during the war years, set blood collecting records which placed it among the top three depots in the nation when whole blood and plasma were being directed overseas.

"As many as 10,000 pints of whole blood per week were donated by patriotic residents of Los Angeles and vicinity when Red Cross maintained its wartime center," Chapter Chairman William T. Sesnon, Jr., declared. He added that "only a small percentage of this record-breaking pace need be maintained in order that Red Cross may reach its peacetime quota of 500 pints per week."

Gross Returns From South; Went Over Big

Felix Gross and his popular recording band returned two weeks ago from a successful tour of the Southland playing theatres, night clubs, and the reason the news is two weeks old is the fact that your corpulent and collapsible nightclub correspondent forgot to put it in last week's communique. So there, too!

At any rate, Gross and his six pieces of solid swing, expect an early engagement at the Million Dollar Theatre as co-stars of a planned star-studded revue. They're appearing nitely at the Zanzibar club, on the East Side, and drawing raves aplenty with their zippy musical arrangements and the piano stylings of Ralph Bateman, rated one of the top pianists in and around this neck of the woods.

Book Club Features Selection On Labor, Klan, Civil Rights

NEW YORK—Formation of Our Book Club, Inc., which will commission good writers to prepare books dealing with contemporary American problems affecting labor and the common man and distribute them to members at half the regular retail price, was announced today by Joseph Gaer, president of Boni & Gaer, book publishers, and director of the new book club.

"There is general agreement among labor and progressive educators," Mr. Gaer said, "that a vast audience exists for books on labor and other issues important to the people, providing the prices are low enough and distribution can be properly arranged. Our Book Club was set up to meet this need."

The club will have four annual selections, including fiction and non-fiction. Members will receive four clothbound books, each a regular $3 or $3.50 trade edition, for a total of $6, plus a free premium book on joining. Payment of a year's subscription in advance will entitle members to two premium books.

The initial selection of the club will be the first collection of short stories about labor ever published in the United States. Entitled "Our Lives"—American Labor Stories, it includes such authors as Sherwood Anderson, Erskine Caldwell, Dorothy Parker, O. Henry, Jack London, Hamlin Garland, Frank Norris, John Steinbeck, Thomas Wolfe, Upton Sinclair, and others.

The second selection of the club will be a book by Stetson Kennedy, author of "Southern Exposure." Tentatively entitled "The Klan Unmasked," the book will concentrate on the effect of the Ku Klux Klan on labor, and on the Negroes, Jews and Catholics. Kennedy is a nationally known authority on the Klan, which has lately sprung into renewed activity.

The third selection will be a book on civil liberties by a well known author. An unusual novel on labor will be the fourth selection.

Merchantmen Not Exempt in Draft

In a circular letter to its nationwide membership the Emergency Merchant Marine Committee sent a prepared form that is to be attached to the draft questionnaires of wartime seamen. This firm states that the seaman holds a Certificate of Substantially Continuous Service and that this Certificate permanently exempted that seaman from the wartime draft.

Although Seamen were draft exempt from the wartime draft once they received the Certificate, no provisions have been made in the recently enacted draft law to provide draft deferments for these seamen. The President in his recent executive order on draft deferments made no mention of wartime seamen.

The Emergency Merchant Marine Committee is an independent organization committed to a fight for the blanket deferment from the draft of seamen who hold the Certificate of Substantially Continuous Service.

Venmar IPP to Fight Covenants In Culver City

Transforming platform words into progressive action, the Venmar and Culver City chapters of the Independent Progressive Party today announced its intention to spearhead the fight of Dr. Carl A. Dent, prominent Negro physician.

Dr. Dent recently signed a contract to purchase a home in a restricted tract in Culver City. Jim Crow residents of the tract called a meeting to oppose Dr. Dent's action and, after denying the majority IPP representatives a right to speak, passed a resolution in opposition to Dr. Dent, based on an antiquated restrictive covenant.

Members of the IPP branch, enraged at such a disgusting display of "white supermacy," met one hour after the resolution was passed and outlined a plan of action in opposition to it.

Last Sunday this issue was carried to the community by a series of petition and leaflet campaigns from door to door. Determined to oppose such restrictions wherever they appear, IPP branches in this area are mobilizing behind this action and intend to carry it through to a successful finish.

28th Street "Y" In Swim Meet

The 28th Street YMCA did exceptionally well in the YMCA sectional swim meet under the coaching of Charles E. Jones, Saturday, August 7, at Hollywood YMCA.

The junior class, ages 12 years and under, gave the big thrills with little Teddy Nelson, age 9; little George Copeland, age 7; also Jackie Copeland, age 11; and George Nelson, age 11. George Nelson took second place in a very fast 20-meter free style. Then Jackie Copeland stacked up more points for the junior class by taking a fourth place in the 20-yard back stroke, and fourth place in diving. The diving ability of Jackie surprise all, including the coach. The junior relay team in the 80-yard four-man relay took first in the trials in 52 seconds flat to return in the finals and place third.

One man represented the intermediate class, Solomon Crittendon. Solomon placed second in the 40-yard breast, third place in the 40-yard backstroke, and second in diving.

The senior class was represented by Henderson Pratt, who took third in the 100-yard free style, third in the 40-yard free style and fourth in the 40-yard backstroke, all of which was against some of the stiffest competition in Los Angeles.

The junior relay team placed fourth and consisted of Teddy Nelson, George Copeland, Jackie Copeland and George Nelson.

The senior relay team placed third and included J. D. Collins, Ace Adams, Carl Tyler and Henderson Pratt.

Elkdom Observed 50th Anniversary

CINCINNATI — Elkdom crowned its Golden Anniversary here in the mother city last week with a spectacular and colorful parade, the re-election of J. Finley Wilson to his 27th term as Grand Exalted Ruler, and with the decision to study a proposal for the establishment of a self-help industrial program to be capitalized at $100,000. The Grand Lodge voted also to take the 1949 Convention to San Francisco.

Progressives Make History Down South

DURHAM, N. C.—Despite attempts by a small group of rabid Dixiecrats to disrupt the proceedings, the State Convention of the Progressive Party was concluded here Sunday night at the Armory. About twenty men identified as "mostly war veterans," paraded through the convention hall prior to the appearance of Henry Wallace, carrying stupidly worded signs calling the Progressive Party standard bearer the "Hitler of Today," and demanding that Wallace be sent to Russia. Firecrackers were exploded in the hall, and while Wallace was speaking, he was interrupted by boos and catcalls.

The disruption ended when one of the interloners was knocked down by a delegate. The convention then proceeded with the business on its agenda and heard Wallace call for a $1,000,000,000 Federal Aid program for the South. Close to 2000 delegates and friends attended the convention, and they set up a chant of "We Want Wallace," when the disrouters went into action. Observers here say there is deep significance in the fact that a Progressive convention, well attended and enthusiastically supporter, has been held in a vital Southern State.

Book Review Well Received At Study Club

Our Authors Study Club had an interesting musicale and book review last Sunday afternoon book review recently.

Mrs. Emily Woody, teacher in the Los Angeles public school system, is to be commended for the very fine way in which she reviewed the first edition of the book, "Negro Who's Who in California," which was enjoyed by all who heard her.

The piano selections rendered by Mrs. Katie Miller, concert artist and teacher, and vocal selections by Mrs. Ever Brewer-Hudson, mezzo soprano, concert artist, was a musical treat for all music lovers. Mrs. Geneva Thompson also rendered a vocal selection.

Remarks by Mr. J. W. Roy and Mrs. C. Wynn.

Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, president of Our Authors Study Club, served as mistress of ceremonies.

Just Kidding!

Miss Clarinda Woofledust, age 23 (that's her story—the family Bible says 47), and Jonas Taikachantz were married last Saturday. The bride is a very ordinary girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jackrabbit and who never helped her mother more than three days in her life. The bridegroom is a first-class loafer—a virtue inherited from his father. He has been living off his folks at home all his life and isn't worth shucks. It will be a hard life!—The People's Voice, The People's Natural Gas Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NAACP Executive Secretary Resigns To Run For Congress

NORFOLK, Va.—Jerry O. Gilliam, executive secretary of the Norfolk Branch of the NAACP, resigned recently to run for Congress on the Progressive party ticket. In a letter to V. R. Skeeter, chairman of the Branch executive committee, Mr. Gilliam said:

"In order to avoid any possibility of embarrassment to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, either locally or nationally, I hereby tender my resignation as executive secretary and request that it be accepted as of August 29, 1948."

In a letter to the national headquarters of the NAACP in New York, Mr. Gilliam explained that he had decided to run because both the Democratic and Republican candidates for Congress are not in accord with the platform of their parties on civil rights and have announced their opposition to the same.

"Therefore," he wrote, "our people . . . have no one to vote for as Congressman from the Second District of Virginia."

Progressive Party Candidate Returns To Los Angeles

Welcomed home yesterday at the Standard Airlines was Marjorie Robinson, the Progressive Party's 15th Congressional District Delegate to the national convention. She was met by Maynard Omerberg and Frances Williams, Progressive Party candidates for Congress and the State Assembly.

She also pointed out that the California delegation had planned to visit Republican Congressman McDonough in Washington but that they had been informed that he would be too tied up to see them.

The delegation wanted tot personally inform the incumbent congressman that only legislation dealing with basic issues affecting the people . . . such as "red meat instead of red issues" . . . should be of any importance to the congress now in session.

Mrs. Robinson will begin immediately to address Progressive Party members in the 15th C.D. to tell its members the news of the convention.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

The Guilty Fleeth

The world looks on in amazement while American citizens throw raw eggs and ripe tomatoes at Henry A. Wallace, Third Party presidential candidate, in North Carolina.

Day by day the people listen to exciting accounts of Communist plots to overthrow our government. Men and women whom themselves and their forbears have dedicated their lives and their energies to the building of a great nation, are brought before the Un-American Committee to have their loyalty tested.

But with few exceptions, viz. President Truman and the governor of North Carolina, has there been a protest registered or an Un-American investigation made of the brutal treatment of Henry Wallace in North Carolina, which is supposed to be a part of the United States.

Truly God gave the nation a leader and a man in Henry Wallace. Undaunted by the hecklers, the egg and tomato throwers, he moves onward across the South, telling the people that make up the nation what is needed to insure domestic tranquility, to provide for the common defense, and to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

It is this doctrine preached by the Third Party leader that offends the money and power crazed monopolists, the political vampires thriving on the blood they suck from the veins of the poor, needy, and oppressed masses.

Because of statements such as this: "When I was Secretary of Commerce, I set up a special section for Negro businessmen," made in North Carolina, a shower of rotten fruit was Mr. Wallace's reward.

And even greater sins than this, even greater offenses against the provocateurs have been committed by Mr. Wallace. He has attacked the authors of the Taft-Hartley slave labor bill, the legality of the Un-American Activities Committee, discrimination against Negroes in the army and navy. His refusal to speak before audiences from which Negro citizens are barred because of their race, has gained for Henry Wallace and his followers the name of Communists.

In all the days of our memory, Henry Wallace is the only man aspiring for the office of President of the United States who has unequivocally, out in the open, declared that Negro Americans should be given full and equal citizenship rights.

Because of this and other statements attacking unfair labor practices, social legislation that infringes on the rights of minorities, the people who realize what is happening around them know that nothing that threatens the overthrow of the government either by word or deed, has been done by Henry Wallace or any of his followers.

Truly loyal Americans shudder when they realize what the people of Europe think about what is happening to one of our great American citizens in America. A local newspaper quoted a London mental scientist as saying that violence is always connected with guilt, and that guilt and fear and guilt and hate often stimulate each other.

So long have the inhabitants of North Carolina accumulated hate for their fellowmen of a darker hue, that their hate has turned to guilt. And now when one of their own kind stands before them, telling them that such hate will eventually consume them, they tremble with fear. Such fear is now satisfying itself with violence.

Europe knows, and we know, that such violence will not only destroy some, but eventually the whole of the nation and the world.

AMERICA IN DANGER

The national board of directors of the Civil Rights Congress, New York City, like Paul Revere is sending an alarm to every American city and farm to be up and in arms for the cause of American freedom. The threat to American liberty is as great as it was on that April day, in 1775. It is even greater, for it is more insidious, and the American people unaccustomed to hidden and covert dangers, cannot or will not see it.

The CRC refers especially to the indictment of the entire leadership of the Communist Party, upon the charges that they are thinking thoughts dangerous to the American government. They have not been accused of any overt act, for they have committed none. "Communism is an idea, and you can't destroy ideas with witch hunts. It has been tried many times in human history, and it has always failed," the CRC points out.

The board of directors is sending out a circular letter to all progressive leaders and organizations, asking them to sign a statement protesting the in indictment of the 12 national leaders of the Communist Party.

"The principles of Communism are not at issue in this case," says the statement. "The indictment makes clear that these men are not accused of overt criminal acts, but rather are to be tried for what their accusers allege to be their ideas.

"The clear and present danger to America's democratic institutions does not flow from those who have been indicted . . . It lies in the overt acts which this government itself has taken against freedom of thought and speech and the democratic institutions cherished by the American people upon which the sanctity of these freedoms rest. . . .

"It was because of such violence against the people that millions gave their lives in a war against the fascism that now threatens to engulf our beloved."

The protest is to be sent to President Truman and ends with the following: "We call upon you, Mr. President, in pursuance of your oath to uphold the Constitution, to order the Attorney General promptly to seek the dismissal of the indictments against the Communist leaders."

If you did not receive one of those circular letters, write to the President of the United States anyway, as an ordinary individual whose freedom of thinking is vitally affected. If the leaders of the Communist Party can be arrested simply because the government believes they aren't thinking as they should, so can you. So can anyone and everyone.

Every American is in danger—danger as great as that which threatened the farmers and villagers of Paul Revere's day. Like Paul Revere each and all must take it upon themselvs to fight that dangr. To arouse the people. To let our President in the White House know that we sense this danger. And to tell him in no uncertain terms that we expect him to do his part in combatting this threat to the liberties of every American that breathes.

Truth More Nauseating Than Fiction

Those stories of the deep South being told by Ray Sprigle in The Daily News should be eye-openers, at least, to the apologists for the South. If anyone who has lived in the South, can now hope to keep his northern friends still in the dark about racial discrimination, he must surely be naive to the nth degree.

And the sickening part of it all is, that this is the law in the South! "Don't tell me," says Ray Sprigle, "that Negroes are also discriminated against in the North. If they are, they have recourse to the law, and they usually win. In the South, that is the law itself. In a riot, in the North, both black and white rioters are arrested. In the South it is only the black ones who mount the gallows or spend their lives in jail."

Even the little children must be taught the differences between races. No little white girl may go to the home of a little black girl. Of course there are white schools, and Jim Crow schools—the poorest, most run-down, with the poorest paid teachers. But not even on the street may a little white girl walk with a Negro child, although their paths to their different schools may be the same for a short distance.

Roland Hayes who has sung before royalty, was beaten within an inch of his life, because Mrs. Hayes went into a store to purchase some shoes, and innocently sat down on the wrong bench. When told to move, she refused. And when Roland Hayes intervened, the police were called, and immediately started in doing their duty to preserve "white supremacy."

When a Negro woman wants to purchase a hat, the sales girl wil pin a cloth over her Negro customer's head, before she will be permitted to try on a hat! And this for every Negro, college graduate, as well as one who works in the field. It isn't the fear of lice. It's the race.

Everyone has heard more or less of these silly antics in the South. But few placed very great credence in the stories they heard. Now with first-hand evidence staring in our faces, with all the trifling nauseating details told in stark, plain English, what excuse can anyone offer for the horrid system which would keep one race so superior and the other so inferior? For no reason at all except that one person has a few more grains of pigment in his skin than the other?

Truly the situation is almost unbelievable. Yet we in the North need not be too complacent. Although the laws in most of our states are opposed to discrimination and the United States Supreme Court has ruled against restrictive covenants, we nevertheless are bound by rules of our own making which in essence are as vile as those of the South.

When, and when only, a man can stand upright in his own dignity, and command the respect of all of his fellowmen because he is a man, when there are no inner qualms in the soul of anyone, no slight hesitation, no reluctance to talk, to shake hands—then we, of the North, can say in truth that there is no racial discrimination here.

Facing the truth of the South, more nauseating than anything we had heard even rumored before, should make us take stock of our own selves. And fight more determinedly than ever to destroy every vestige of this horrible evil that will surely destroy us, if we remain complacent while it continues to fester and grow.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

It wasn't so very many years ago that all the world was condemning Germany for having military training in peacetime.

Thousands of young men from that country made their way across the Atlantic to the "land of the free' to escape this hated peacetime conscription. It was like a great skeleton hand reaching out of the dark, grabbing the unsuspecting youth and forcing them to spend part of the best time of their young lives in military camps, getting ready for the war which in both world wars which we have already suffered, Germany has stood indicted before the world as the criminal that caused those wars.

Now this same "land of the free" is hastening down the same road which Germany followed. The personnel for the draft boards in Los Angeles county have already been appointed. Beginning August 30 and extending through September 18, the young men of this county will appear before those draft boards, and will register for service in the army. They will be doing that in every nook and corner of the United States of America. Then, beginning September 22, hundreds of thousands of these boys will be liable for 21 months of military training and service, to be followed by additional years in the Reserves.

Exactly as it was in Germany in the days of the Kaiser.

The American people have been told again and again that we are drifting fast towards Fascism. That we have gone farther along that road in three years than the German people did in seven. But in this instance, we are going back farther than even Hitler's day, and are imitating the Kaiser of Germany, not Der Fuehrer.

The American people, however, are not submitting too peacefully to this militaristic scheme of the powers-that-be who would force our country to become an imperialist force of military dictatorship. Only recently churches all over the country united in protest to the draft act.

"We believe," said they, "that our political and military leaders should be given to understand that there are millions of citizens, members of churches, young men of draft age, and parents who still regard the arguments advanced against the passage of this act as valid, and to whom peacetime conscription remains a dangerous and iniquitous measure."

"Peacetime conscription is a threat to the democratic way of life. It is a further step in the process which has already gone much too far in placing the military in control of crucial areas of American life. In a tense international situation it is, we are convinced, a provocative measure, an evidence that the American government is chiefly depending upon military might as an instrument of statecraft.

"This comes at the very moment when religious leaders are agreed that the emphasis must be shifted to the use of moral and spiritual forces, to economic aid to needy peoples, and a supreme effort to bring about conferences among the major powers in an atmosphere of calm and goodwill, which might lead to an overall peace settlement."

Therefore these churches called upon all their members, and all who are interested in preserving the peace and international goodwill, to unite, not in a day of rejoicing and vain boasting, but in a day of mourning and prayer, a day of self-examination and repentance, as individuals and as a nation.

Some of those churches even suggested that perhaps it might be an act of patriotism and of real Christianity to refuse to conform to this act. To refuse to register. To refuse to submit to peacetime military training. To refuse to serve in the peacetime army that is being organized.

Others could not go that far, but simply prayed earnestly about it. Strange, isn't it, how we can always pray to God to help us out of the mess we got ourselves into, especially if we haven't the courage to do anything about it ourselves?

It is truly heartening, however, to know how earnestly the churches are being interested in the affairs of government at last. Perhaps if they had been as much interested some years ago, even two years ago, we would not have this monstrosity of a draft act to contend with now.

Remember it is the people whom we elect on election day who shape our government. And if we don't want military training in peacetime, then we'd better go to the polls in November and elect a government—President, Congress, Assembly—right down the line, which is opposed to peacetime military conscription, and which stands instead for homes, and jobs, and education, and all the other things which the Common Man of America wants.

And the churches of the country should take a lead in this.

BOOKS & AUTHORS

The ENCYCLOPAEDIA OF AFRICAN METHODISM, R. R. Wright, Jr., editor-in-chief. Foreword by Bishop R. C. Ransom, historian of the A.M.E. Church, and Introduction by Bishop W. A. Fountain, senior bishop of the A.M. E. Church; printed by the Book Concern of the A.M.E. Church, Philadelphia, Pa.; 688 pages 9x12 inches. Price $10.

"The largest book of historical and biographical research ever published by a Negro publishing house, and edited by Negroes." It weighs five pounds, and contains 1,500 biographies of the men and women who have built the African Methodist Episcopal church extending from Richard Allen, who founded Bethel A.M.E. Church in a Philadelphia blacksmith shop in 1787 and became the first bishop of the denomination in 1816, to Carey A. Gibbs, who was the last (70th) biship consecrated in May, 1948.

It contains the pictures of around 3,000 individuals, churches, educational institutions, departments, boards, etc., of the church, giving its gradual spread from Philadelphia westward to California; and how after the Civil War the Negroes of every Southern state flocked to the church, as the outstanding institution of race self help and inspirational life of the people, trying not only to give them worship, but education, cooperative organization, etc.; how in 1816 it organized the first publishing company of persons of color in America, the Book Concern, while in 1948 printed the Encyclopaedia; how it established the first and oldest university at Wilberforce, Ohio; the oldest magazine of the race, The A.M.E. Review; the oldest newspaper of the race, The Christian Recorder, now 160 years old.

It tells how hundreds of its churches were offered as elementary schools, and how communities came together to start high schools, and how the A.M.E. churches of each state in the South ventured to establish a college — long years before the state colleges began to flourish among us. The Encyclopaedia tells a thrilling story of the early pioneering of the A.M.E. church in such fields as missions; how, out of the poverty of the freed Negroes, they did not forget their poorer brothers in Agrica and the isles of the sea, taking the church to West Africa as far back as 1821 and to Haiti in 1827, and Canada in 1844, and South Africa in 1898, etc., now claiming over 100,000 members in these foreign territories and having more than 500 teachers in their mission schools.

The Encyclopaedia will be recognized as the "Who's Who in the A.M.E. Church," for almost every man and woman of this generation who has accomplished anything of importance is listed in the book. It also contains the first printing in book form of the minutes of the eventful general conference of the church that was held in Kansas City, Kans., May, 1948, giving the proceedings of each day, the elections, condensed reports of the various departments, the laws passed, the reports of general conference committees, assignments of bishops, the revision of the discipline, and pictures of the general conference in action, with a complete list of delegates who were members of the general conference.

The report of the financial secretary shows that during the quadrennium the "dollar money" raised for the general support of the church was $1,784,605.58 for the year, or over $445,600.00 per year. Amount raised for the Pension Department was $727,533.07, an average for the retired preachers, widows and orphans of over $180,000 per year. This was given to 477 superannuated ministers, 1,635 widows and 155 orphans, a total of 2,267 pensioners. The educational institutions in America were valued at over $4,000,000; and

By JOHN M. LEE

Listen Mr. President!

This is the week that draft business begins. It wil go down in history as the week of the great American contradiction unless we do something about keeping those kids who belong to one or more of those certain 142 organizations out of our army. I am personally acquainted with one young man who was recently kicked out of a County job because he couldn't pass the loyalty test, and he had the effrontery to tell me that he was going to register for the draft. Of course I knew he was only kidding, but I didn't let on because I knew that the FBI had him tabbed and he wouldn't get away with it, but I guess I was wrong.

JOHN M. LEE

It develops that in this business of nationalistic, patriotic murder, everybody goes when the wagon comes; and it seems that the wagon is here. So that kid will eventually don the army garb and be indoctrinated against the Russians, who are the unspeakable people we have selected for the next test of atomic disintegration. What's so ridiculous about it, is this kid was considered unsafe as a County employee because something one of the organizations of which he is a member stands for, parallels the Communist Party line. I think it has something to do with Negroes voting in the South. Anyhow, how can we trust this kid in our army when he stands accused of sympathy toward the very people we are about to slaughter?

There's a discrepancy here, and it probably crept in while you, Mr. President, were busy trying to hold a mock session of Congress against the terrific opposition of those unsportsmanlike Republicans who cooked up a spy hunt and crowded you right out of the picture; naturally such un-American behaviour confused you, and it didn't help any for you to recall that you had started this loyalty business and certainly you were entitled to those headlines. It was really the one big chance you will have to get a good press, and those Republicans loused things up for you; and this after all you had done for them in helping with the elimination of price controls and the FEPC. They really should have remembered about that FEPC deal; that was a slick trick that took some doing.

But to get back to those un-American American kids. We've got to keep them out of our army. Parnell Thomas and Jack Tenney are probably pretty busy, considering how many million people there are in the nation who don't agree with them, and we shouldn't, in all fairness, expect them to have to root these un-American American kids out of the army; it is your job, Mr. President, to see that don't get in. That'll show them. Let them miss all the thrills and the glory of the unbelievable horror we're prepared for those Russians who have the nerve to think they live under a better system than ours. Keep those kids out of the army and deny them the one hundred per cent American privilege of being on God's side in the next scheduled blood bath.

It's really too bad this draft business had to come up at this time. You've really got all you can do trying to keep a straight face while you talk about 'equality of opportunity' in the army, and fight off the Progressive Party at the same time, but the security of our nation is threatened, and you must act. The army has really been a source of trouble for you, and I sort of think you should've leaned toward the navy as did F.D.R. When you realize that any day now, some private over in Berlin who believes the Russians to be the soulless monsters our State Department says they are, might take a pot shot at a Russian Colonel and start the slaughter ahead of schedule, then Mr. President, you will understand why it is imperative that you act at once. You've got to keep those kids who belong to the wrong organizations out of our army!

W. J. Wheaton Says

Why is it that many men who have been sworn to protect its citizens and see that the law is observed and obeyed, think that the uniform they wear entitles them to exercise unwonted brutality? Stories of unwarranted actions by police are not isolated to any one section, but seem to be nation-wide. One can never scant a newspaper but he sees complaints where there has been unnecessary violence. Even San Francisco's "finest," that is, some of them, have been accused of brutal treatment of drunks and even divesting them of loose change. One thing about San Francisco, it does not pick any particular group on which to practice its whims.

Already the political cauldron has ceased to sputter and is nearing the boiling temperature. California's governor (Earl Warren), candidate for the second place on the GOP presidential ticket, is scheduled to address the vets' convention to be held in San Francisco September 3, and the ears of the politically minded will be attuned to hear what President Harry Truman will tell the nation when he delivers his first major political speech at Detroit, Mich., on Labor Day, Sept. 6. Strange as it seems, there is quite a difference of opinion as to Warren placing California in the GOP column. The reasoning of many is, voting for Warren for governor is one thing, and voting for Dewey for president is another.

Dewey is not so strong in California. The struggle for the congressional and state legislative seats are growing in intensity. There is going to be a heated campaign between Mailaird, GOP candidate, and FRANCK R. HAVENNER, Demo, incumbent in the 4th congressional district. Maillaird has already opened headquarters and promises a strenuous campaign. While there is no doubt about HAVENNER being the best qualified candidate, he has been hampered by inefficient management. He should have been, with the proper management, elected at the primaries.

According to reported plans, the campaign outline will carry President Harry Truman into the territory of the belligerent Dixicrats. It will be interesting, if such is the case, to note the reception given by the proletariat. That will determine how much of a hold the revolting leaders have on their constituency. It is reported that former Vice-President Wallace and aides were billeted in the homes of Negroes in their trip through Georgia. Thi swas done to avoid any embarrassment of southern prejudice that would be caused by his Negro aides. Talk or think as you may, the Wallace candidacy is keeping the major parties guessing.

This election will be no push-over for any aspirant. The Taft-Hartley bill will determine many votes. Labor will support the candidates who favor its repeal, and it goes without saying that those votes will largely determine the national result. Then: The labor situation will have considerable effect in the industrial areas. The managers of Truman's campaign have shown great political strategy in having their candidate open up the campaign in the strong industrial center of Detroit, on Labor Day. What the President says in that address will have a lot to do with the labor vote throughout the nation.

It is interesting to note the trend of opinions among the Negro political "leaders"? Many claim that they have a Negro following in key states sufficient to swing the tide of the political battle. The Negro voter of today can not be fooled with claptrap. Those old-time dyed-in-the-wool partisans who claim they had midnight conversations with the great emancipator and he advised them that the party he represented "was the ship and all else the sea," are as dead as the Dodo. This generation of voters think for themselves; they are not swayed by platitudes or emotional oratory. They are too busy seeking relief from the throes of economic ills and racial discriminations to listen to partisan propaganda.

Their history has taugh them that the party which Lincoln represented has ceased to exist; that is, in principle. The trend of democracy, as practiced in these United tSates, has caused them to shed the cloak of partisanship and to vote for measures which will aid them to fuller citizenship and for the men whom they believe will favor those measures. Really: We admire the independent thinking of this new generation. We recently attended a meeting of first voters. It was interracial and composed of groups classed as "minority." They all were versed in political problems: national, local and foreign. They were better informed on local and national problems than many of their elders who will cast their ballots in November.

It is that class of voters who have made a study—an intelligent study—of the bond issues so important in our domestic affairs, and in view of their knowledge of our local problems, we only wish that their numbers were greater. We may have missed it, but we have not heard or read of the King Mississippi are victims of the lynch mob, the Ku Klux Klan, and the sharecropper system.

Because of my personal observation from my office window, on the sidewalk, in traveling from one end of the nation to other, and finally on my constitutional right, I fail to agree with you on any point in your race relations survey.

How can there be a nation indivisible, and how can we divide liberty and justice for all according to your standards?

You say that you speak with authority because of your extensive tour of the South, and your contact with the agents who distribute 500,000 copies of your newspaper.

Yours is the divide-and-rule doctrine, Mr. Lee. As to your criticism of the Negro leader who occupies a suite in downtown New York, and bases his opinion of the South from the distorted stories in the Negro press. Do you consider racial segregation and discrimination in government positions, complained of by the average Negro press, except your own, I presume, distorted?

What about freedom of speech? According to your reasoning, Negroes should have a voice only in Negro affairs. They must live under a government, fight for its preservation, but have no voice in the making and the enforcement of its laws.

In my opinion, you and all who think like you, whether white or Negro, are enemies of our government and are subjects for investigation. You say in conclusion that white and colored people must understand that those who would destroy the cordial relations of the whites and Negroes, are persons at home and abroad who have no interest in seeing Southern whites and Negroes march towards a firmer economic base and higher standard of living.

There can be no higher standard of living for either whites or Negroes as long as we tolerate the growth of private power to the point where it becomes stronger than our democratic state.

And on the same level there can be no American way of life indivisible as long as a white American hates and refuses to live along side of a Negro American because of his race.

Your argument is not only dangerous to the peace which we Negroes and whites fought two world wars to achieve, but it is also a menace to our progress and safety.

Get from under the influence of Parnell Thomas and John Rankin, Mr. Lee.

The man who does not look up will look down, and the spirit which does not dare to soar is destined to grovel.

Two Views On Barber Picketing Against Westwood Village Shops

EDITOR'S NOTE: There are all types of confusion in the world today. There are those who are mentally blind to the real issues confronting Negro and other minority groups and are supporting the weaknesses in our democratic process, progressives are fighting against. Here is a specific example of that type of confusion in the matter of the mass picketing of barber shops which discriminate in Westwood Village.)

PRO:

The chicanery and hypocrisy displayed by the non-resident Negro, one Dick Evans, who is economically bound to some unnamed local business establishment in Westwood Village is in the best tradition of the ill-famed "Uncle Tom."

Unknown to himself, Mr. Evans in his frustrated mutterings and meanderings has insulted the whole of Westwood. Westwood Village knows that Mr. Evans has simply added more pan-cake to the false face, "barber picketing."

The Real issue staring Westwood in its bright face is the fact that of all of its businesses and professions, the barbershops are the only places that discriminate in their services on the basis of race. And on this point I would like to delve further into Westwood Village. As a joint property-owner who has resided in Westwood for years, I know Negro residents are served in the Village restaurants and drug stores. The bookshops, grocery stores, clothing stores, music shops, appliance shops, banks, department stores, shoe shops, cleaning and pressing shops, gift shops, hardware stores, service stations, candy shops, photography shops, sporting goods shops, all have and do serve Negroes. I have personally enjoyed spending my money alongside my white brothers on equal footing. The Westwood doctors, dentists, and optometrists that I have called upon, have all rendered equal service for equal pay. I have attended Westwood churches, he Christian ideals of brotherhood have prevailed therein.

As I see it, what we have here in Westwood is a great portion of the business men striving to maintain the democratic ideal, while three or four openly make light of the principles we as a country subscribe to. This racism practiced by the village barbers is distinctly foreign to the spirit of the American Constitution.

I say to Mr. Evans—Amerians aren't used to limitations, and the world can't use limitations. The peoples of the world must be permitted to grow into a full realization of their potential.

Robert L. Rogers

CON:

All sorts of different views have been expressed in the last few days on the recent mass picketing of Westwood barber shops. All of them were views of white people—supporting in varying degrees both sides of the question of whether Negroes should be given haircuts in Village shops on an equal basis with white people.

The opinion that, under present circumstances, the picket line is a mistake, was expressed yesterday in a statement to The Press by Dick Evans, a Negro who lives in Santa Monica and works in Westwood.

"The picketing," said Evans, "is such a trivial matter, so far as local Negroes are concerned, that it has not been brought up in the meetings of the Santa Monica chapter of the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People)."

A big issue, he continued, had been made of a small matter in a spirit of idealism.

"It is not realistic for a Negro to go into an exclusive white barber shop for a haircut in a town that is 100 percent white when he is within four or five miles of a Negro barber shop. And so it seems as if we have someone fronting for someone who is an opportunist. Such things as this destroy the advancement we have made as a minority race."

Evans pointed out that it is difficult to cut Negro hair, and rejected as impractical the suggestion that a Negro barber or two in Westwood shops might serve university students who wanted to get haircuts here.

"There aren't enough," he said, "to make an issue of it."

Evans emphasized that the issue of civil rights that has been raised here, in his opinion, includes equally the barbers. He made a distinction between Negroes eating in Village restaurants and the "personal service" of barbers. "Barbers should have a right to refuse to give a haircut to anyone," Evans said.

Evans said he has been working in Westwood Village for the last eight years and has "yet to experience the time when I am not treated as an American."

This will be a much better world to live in, he continued, "when every human will understand that there is a limit to everything, and to stay within limits."

As a Negro, however, Evans would like to see those limits extended. He criticizes the Students for Wallace picket lines as creating "an artificial issue that does not represent any of the fundamentals that the Negroes want: for example, equal pay for our skills—and the opportunity to use our skills."

POTPOURRI

Addresses will be made by Wallace, Taylor, Paul Robeson, Vito Marcantonio, Leo Isacson, O. John Rogge, the ALP's candidate for the office of Surrogate Judge; and others at a mammoth rally in New York. The program is sponsored by the American Labor Party and the New York State Wallace for President Committee.

The event will mark the opening of the ALP's campaign to carry New York State for Wallace and Glenn Taylor in the November elections.

William Green, AFL president and council chairman, said at a news conference: "We've got to get men into Congress who will vote for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law. That means regardless of party affiliations."

Green said the strategy committee of the Federation's Labor League for Political Education will meet with the council members tomorrow to consider plans for the coming Congressional and Presidential campaign.

NEW YORK—Cozy Cole, one of the nation's best drummers, will head a group of jazz musicians to entertain the crowds expected at the Yankee Stadium rally for Wallace and Taylor on the night of September 9, next Thursday.

The entertainment program will include choral singing of the Wallace campaign songs by a group of 12 men under the direction of Pete Seeger; songs by Avon Long, well known from "Porgy and Bess"; Richard "Dick" Huey and his quartet and many others.

ATLANTA, Ga.—Appeals to race prejudice, always the stock-in-trade of Talmadge bids for public office, have reached a new intensity as Georgia's September 8 primary election draws near. The Ku Klux Klan is hailing Talmadge as a "savior who will make Georgia safe for white supremacy."

Talmadge is opposed by acting Gov. M. E. Thompson, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, and is supported by former governor Arnall, well-known liberal of the South.

NEW YORK—"Senator I. Howard McGrath and Rep. William L. Dawson oppose President Truman's stand on civil rights," John H. Young, III, former member of the editorial staff of THE CHICAGO DEFENDER, and who for the past few weeks was an assistant to the director of publicity of the Democratic National Committee, charged last week.

In his charges, Young based them on three specific reasons. First, that he was a reporter with President Truman during his pre-nomination tour; second, that Dawson was a man who is betraying the Negro people by perpetuation of segregation; and thirdly, that there is no integration of Negro and white workers in the Democratic Committee.

The IBPOEW recently held its 50th anniversary in Cincinnati. This organization has a membership of more than 500,000 Negroes. J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler, also observed 27 years of service as "The Grand."

NEW YORK — Assemblyman William T. Andrews, of the 12th A.D. in Harlem, who has been in the tSate Assembly for the past 13 years, and was defeated for the first time since his career in the primary held here on August 24, by his fellow-Democratic opponent, Elijah Crump, will not ask for a recount of the ballots, but instead, will stump for the election of Crump in the coming November elections.

Says Kathleen Norris: "All that's necessary to get along in life is to accept the impossible, do without the indispensable, and bear the intolerable."

We've been doing that for some time now, seems like, especially in the matter of housing.

Not long ago American politicians, putting pressure on the Italian people, got the results they wanted in the Italian national elections. Now these same politicians are trying to capture the Italian-American vote in November by favoring the return of the African colonies to Italy. This former African empire of Italy's consists of Libya, Eritrea, and Italian Somaliland.

No less than half of Mexico's population has some trace of Negro blood, says an article in October Ebony, and judged by U. S. race standards would be classified as Negroes in the United States.

But colored people in Mexico today find freedom below the Rio rande, and a colony of 300 U. S. Negroes have settled there permanently. Many even renounce their American citizenship and become naturalized Mexicans, because there is no color line of any sort in Mexico.

Judge John W. Preston, former associate justice of the California Supreme Court, was named chairman of the Citizens Committee for Equal Representation at a dinner meeting attended by supporters of Proposition No. 13 on the November 2nd state ballot, which would divide the state according to population for state senator.

John B. Elliott was elected vice-chairman; Guernsey Frazer, secretary; Leo M. Rosecrans, treasurer. Executive Committee: W. J. Bassett, George A. Beavers, Jr., I. B. Benjamin, Nathan Newby, Sr., George W. Rochester, and Marshall Stimson.

Keynote of the meeting was sounded by John B. Elliott, who said: "It is inconceivable that all of the people of Los Angeles County will not rise up unanimously in support of this measure. Los Angeles County has almost one half of the population and wealth of California. How can we have adequate representation with one state senator out of forty?"

Hires Negro Stewards

William E. Pollard, General Chairman of Locals 456-582, this week announced the appointment of four Negro stewards on the Western Pacific Railroad. This is the first time that waiters have been promoted to stewards on the road. The four appointees have been assigned to the Lines crack Exposition Flyer operating between Oakland and Chicago.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (Special), August 30th—The Twenty Fifth Annual Convention of the National Association of Negro Musicians, Inc. Clarence Hayden Wilson, President held one of the finest gatherings of its 29 years as guests of the Columbus Branches, under the general chairmanship of Helen Carter Moses, one of the association's life members.

Musicians, Composers, Concert artists, Choral directors, Public school music teachers, and Professors of music in several of the leading colleges and schools were actively engaged in presenting the highly stimulating daily clinics, conferences which were designed to meet the needs of many of the delegates, and individuals representing the many branches.

Included in the Los Angeles delegation were Albert McNeil, Billie Lynthecom, Lorenza Cole, Yvonne Cole, Marjorie Carter, Lester Ortlicke, George R. Garnet, Alberta Joyce, Thelma Brown, and Mary Drye.

One of the largest delegations in the history of the association has attended this meeting and many progressive ideas have been presented for considerations by the national body. Musicians old and young worked hand in hand and for the good of a common goal for the future of music. The meeting has brought together not only a powerful group of cultural leaders, but a far reaching program has been presented for the musicians for the coming year.

With a score of the charter members of the N. A. N. M. present the younger musicians, and present leadership has gained a great deal of inspiration and information of the colorful history of the association.

Among these leaders of the group were Miss Nora Douglas Holt, Music Crotic-Editor of the AMSTERDAM NEWS, New York. Miss Holt was one of the first persons responsible for the setting up of this group. In fact, it stated that the first meeting of the group which set up the program of the present organization was called in her home in Chicago in 1919. Others were Mme. Martha B. Anderson Winn, Oklahoma City, Okla., J. Wesley Jones, Executive Secretary, Chicago, who has never missed a convention in all these years; George H. Hutchison, Treasurer, Chicago, Kathleen H. Forbes, Cleveland, J. Roy Terry, St. Louis; Ruth Allen Fouche, Chicago and W. C. Handy, (Father of the Blues) New York City and Board Member; Mary Cardwell Dawson, past president and founder of the National Negro Opera Company, Inc. Washington, D. C.; W. Russell Johnson, Philadelphia; Edna R. Redmond, Mississippi; Elmurs A. Simpson, Chicago; Lawrence Watson, Detroit; Jerene Macklin, Detroit; Katrina White, Baltimore, Md.; and Roscoe Polin, Indianapolis.

Highlights of the annual meeting were the Mass Meeting, held at Shiloh Baptist Church, when Citizens of Columbus welcomed the large delegation which had come to the city from distances as far west as California, and as far south as Mississippi, Texas, Florida, Louisiana, and as far east as New York, Maryland, Boston, Brooklyn, and Hartford. On this program a representative of the Hon. Governor Thomas J. Herbert, made a warm welcome to the musicians. On this program a large convention chorus sang, and Gloria Meade, a local soprano was the soloist.

In the evening the annual scholarship contest was held, and Roscoe Polin, chairman of the scholarship fund presided and presented some fifteen young vocalists from various branches to compete for the cash awards, in addition to eight pianists who has come as representatives from the branches.

Among the winners in the voice contest were Julia Perry, 24, soprano, Akron, Ohio, first place, Frederick Breedlove, 22, Knoxville, Tenn., Helen Colbert, 22, Philadelphia; and the winners in the piano contest were Arthur Lebrew, 18, Detroit; Bessie Whitted, 16, Indianapolis; Wilhelmenia Ware, 17, Cleveland and Margaret Edwards, New York City.

The judges were outstanding musicians, and were under the supervision of Mary Cardwell Dawson, former president of the association.

The daily clinics were held by Prof. Newell Fitzpatrick, Knoxville College, Tennessee (Voice) Margaret Bonds, composer-pianist, New York, (Piano) Theodore Charles Stone, baritone-music critic, Chicago, (Promotion-Publicity) assisted by Grace W. Tompkins, music critic, Chicago Defender, and Miss Holt of New York; Orrin Suthern, Dillard University, New Orleans, (Organ) assisted by J. Roy Terry, St. Louis and Kenneth Billups, St. Louis (Choral); Albert J. McNeal, Los Angeles (School Music).

Outstanding program were the Columbus Branch Night, which presented the finest talent of the host city. This program was presented Monday evening, August 23; The National Branch Night, featuring artists representing the various cities where branches are located. This program was of particular interest for it brought forward some of the finest talent of the country.

On Wednesday evening, with Albert McNeil of Los Angeles presiding the association held its "Honors Concert" with Miss Nora Holt, New York City; Miss Grace W. Tompkins, Chicago Defender Music Critic, all of the music teachers who have taught twenty five or more years, and all of the past presidents were guests of honor.

At this program Margaret Bonds, pianist; heodore Charles Stone, nationally known concert baritone and Thelma Waide Brown, soprano and teacher at Roosevelt College were guest soloists. The president, Mr. Wilson presented all presidents of the organization Certificates of Life Membership, on this occasion and made other awards to Miss Tompkins for distinguished service to the music profession, and paid tribute to Miss Holt for her idea of organizing this group.

Noteworthy individual contributions to the convention were made by Helen Thigpen, soprano; Lee Green, Indianapolis, tenor, Elmur A. Simpson, pianist; Frank White, pianist, St. Louis; George Pierson, pianist of Kansas City, Kas., The Jackson Trio, Chicago; Orita Wilson, Chicago; Clarens Francois, pianist, Dayton, Ohio and many others.

The national artists concert, the final event of the conclave offered Mattie Willis, dramatic soprano of Battle Creek, Michigan; Lorenza Jordan Cole, pianist of Los Angeles, and John Anglin, tenor of Columbus, at the Central High School auditorium. Memorial services were held early Thursday afternoon, for members who passed away during the year. The election of offers was held the afternoon of the last day. New board members: Albert McNeil, Los Angeles, Theodore Charles Stone, Chicago, Leslie Williams, D. C. Nora Holt, New York.

The 1949 Convention will meet in Los Angeles California, August 21st through 25th.

J. Parnell Thomas, Swindler And Pay-triot

By PAUL FRENCH

In the extraordinary circus staged by the House Un-American Activities Committee, headed by J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican, perhaps the silliest act has been Congressman Thomas's attempt to find out who's a liar, a Mr. Hiss or a Mr. Chambers. Thomas has even suggested that a "lie detector," a notorious unreliable mechanism, be used.

But if it is liars that the committee is seeking, there is surely one to be found, first of all, in the person of Congressman Thomas himself. Drew Pearson, noted columnist, although himself frequently lacking in veracity, recently produced such a mass of documentary evidence to prove his statements that Congressman Thomas is a liar, and swindler of the government and the taxpayers' money, that Thomas has not dared answer.

For four years, Pearson proved, Thomas, the notorious red-baiter, placed on the government payroll, at $1,200 a year, one Myra Midkiff, who was supposed to work as his clerk. Miss Midkiff, however, never worked at all. Pearson says "she never came anywhere near" Thomas's office, and Thomas himself collected her salary. That began on Jan. 1, 1940.

But, after swindling the government out of some $4,800, Thomas the "patriot" hunter-downer of "Communist spies," got more greedy. Miss Midkiff had got married, so Thomas got another gal to pad the payroll for his personal enrichment. On Nov. 16, 1944, he put on the government payroll one Arnette Minor, and this time Thomas raised the ante, and got her salary at the rate of $1,800 per year. She never did a lick of work for the government, being a chambermaid who cleaned the room of Thomas's secretary, a Miss Helen Campbell.

It appears that the arrangement with this chambermaid didn't last long, for on Jan. 1, 1945, Congressman Thomas got the government to put another lady on the payroll. This time, it was Grace Wilson, who, it turns out, was a very old lady who was the aunt of the wife of Congressman Thomas. This "honorable" congressman who, having gotten away with lesser crimes, began to collect wife's aunt's salary, collecting during the year of 1945 a total of $3,467.46 in the name of his wife's aged aunt.

This aunt, of course, never did the least bit of work for the government at any time. She lived all the time at Allendale, N. J., and never got a cent from Congressman Thomas. Indeed, her sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Wellington and Mrs. William Quaintance, had to support her. Thus, Congressman Thomas, who publicly and "pay-triotically" pursues "Soviet spies," privately was defrauding not only the government, but swindling his own relative.

This lasted until the summer of 1946. Then, Congressman Thomas's son having got married, and Thomas wishing to place his new daughter-in-law, Lillian, on the government payroll, he had to get this aunt off. So, although, in Congress, Thomas had always fiercely opposed relief payments to the poor and needy, he bethought himself of the idea of getting his wife's aunt provided for by Bergen County, New Jersey charity. So he wrote to one Peter Halsted, director of Bergen County Welfare Board:

"Dear Pete: You will recall that I suggested that you have one of your assistants contact Mrs. Thomas in the matter of her aunt, Miss Grace Wilson. It is very important that your organization get busy on the case. . . . It is important that your representative telephone Mrs. Thomas in order to make an appointment."

Drew Pearson doesn't say whether "Dear Pete" promptly put this aged aunt on relief or not. But, since Congressman Thomas is not only a big shot Republican, but also able to tag anyone who doesn't do what he wants them to do as an "un-American," his "Dear Pete" must have carried out orders.

Aside from putting into his own pocket many thousands of government dollars fraudulently collected by payroll padding, Congressman Thomas also made a few hundred dollars by what amounts to selling immunity fro marmy combat service.

Pearson produces documents to prove that Congressman Thomas, having gotten some $500, supposedly for "campaign expenses" from one Hyman Tiplitz, a clothing manufacturer of New York City, repeatedly used his congressional influence with the War Department to have George Tiplitz, Hyman's son, then drafted into the army, transferred to outfits where he couldn't get hurt.

Every time young Tiplitz heard that his outfit was to be sent overseas, he wrote Congressman Thomas, and the latter pulled wires and got him kept in America. On Dec. 6, 1943, after one such rescue from combat duty, young Tiplitz wrote to Congressman Thomas:

"Rest assured that no one knows nor has any idea about how this transfer is being effected. They understand that the pressure is being brought to bear by Fort Hancock. I have pleaded complete ignorance."

This shows the underhanded and secret nature of Congressman Thomas's wire-pulling to get the son of a manufacturer who had given money to Thomas, out of the way of any enemy bullets.

Get an eyeful of this Congressman Thomas, who is presently filling newspaper headlines as the Great Patriot and exposer of "reds" and "Soviet spies" and so on! Would YOU trust YOUR reputation, or YOUR money, to such a man? Why, then, should anyone trust him or give credence to his red-baiting?

As someone said of the Greek sophists, Congressman Thomas is ready "either to defend his country or to defraud it." And defrauding it seems to be his chief occupation. Such a man is, obviously, willing to sell his official services to those wealthy men and monopolies who want fascism in this country.

"Labor Day—Labor's National Holiday"

By John E. Hargrove
Labor Relations Consultant

The first national Labor Day holiday was officially declared by act of Congress of 1894, which set aside the "first Monday in September" ofr its celebration.

Since that time the popularity, growth and influence of Labor Day celebrations have spread itself throughout the length and breadth of the United States.

Without a doubt this September 6th, Labor Day, will be no exception, for there will be celebrations in a great big way in most cities and industrial centers . . . with gigantic rallies, street parades, Religious services, picnics and games of various kinds. Labor—Organized Labor, with all of its might will be sponsoring these celebrations, which is expected to attract the attention of persons from all fields of human endeavor.

It may be important for us to mention here that the first organization of Labor came into being in this country during the 1790's, when certain craftsmen in Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore organized into societies, which had most of the characteristics of our present day Local Trade Unions. They bargained over wages and hours, demanded improvement in working conditions, regulated apprentices and employed walking delegates to se that terms agreed upon were enforced. Similar organizations in other crafts developed in other cities during the next decades.

Since that time the workers of this country have given the nation and the world an example of dignity and responsibility . . . and in many istances in the face of discouraging odds. Progress of the Labor movement in America has been all but miraculaus. We proudly boast of more than 16,000,000 in the ranks of organized Labor.

Here are a few of the things we've done just to mention some:

Unparalleled wartime production, shorter work week (in most basic industries—Fair Labor Standards Act, Railway Labor Act, improvement in wages and working conditions, Social Security and Workmen's Compensation. Undoubtedly the standard of living of the American wage earner has been improved to the extent that this has reflected itself in the whole community and entire nation.

In all that has been said, done and gained by Labor, the Negro worker has played a very important and significant part. His activity and progress in recent years have been steady and substantial. Briefly speaking his progress in American Labor History is well studded with an account of his, loyalty, courage achievement and trustworthiness. Much more could be said but space and time will not permit us to elaborate here.

Let us consider for just a moment the question: Where will we find the Negro worker . . . The answer is, "There are at ltast eighteen major fields and industries in which he can be found, namely, (1) Building Crafts or Trades, (2) Railroad Transportation Industry, (3) Tobacco Manufacturing, (4) Textiles, Clothing and Laundry, (5) Longshoremen, (6) Miners, (8) Steelworkers, (9) Boilmarkers, (10) Automobile Workers, (11) Packing House Workers, Aircraft Workers, (13) builders, (14) Lumbering Wood Workers, (15) Hotel allied service workers, (16) mestic Service, (17) Agricu and (18) Government (State and Federal).

The impact of World We gave the Negro worker a velous opportunity, in whic could make a definite cont tion as always, and he did this . . . with his skill, his t his effort and his money. In his contribution and loyalt this regard went unquestio So a great and good Labor r nificant achievements . . . lectively and individually.

Of course his efforts to some of the above menti benefits have not been ea no stretch of the imagina The sacrifices, hardships humiliations which he has fered and undergone in the just to eke out an existenc maintain some semblanc economic stability, are a m of record and well known. ever, from perusing variou ports and actually obser what the following cities doing: New York City, De Philadelphia, Pittsburg, W irgton, Baltimore, Chicago, C Cleveland, Cincinnati, Colu and Dayton, San Francisco, Angeles, Norfolk and New News, Durham and Win Salem, Atlanta, Houston, Orleans, Tulsa, Tampa, Jacksonville, we can well there is a ray of hope a brighter day in the offing.

Current reports indicate civilian employment was at highest level in United S history during July, 1948, more than 61,615,000 men women gainfully employed the total 9,163,000 were empl in agriculture and 52,45 were engaged in non-farm in tries. A further breakdow this report indicates, how that of the total non-white the labor force 93.9 percent employed and 6.1 percent unemployed.

The future or employment look for women is encourag In such occupations as—Phy and Occupational Therap Professional Nurses, Medi Laboratory Technicians, Prac Nurses and Hospital Attend Medical Record Librarian, X Technicians, Social Workers Plastics. For the men—R Technician, Electronics, A nautics, Plastics and many o skills learned during the and the post-war period ma utilized in future. All in all, perseverance, peristence and scientious effort the Negro w er undoubtedly will continu progress in his chosen field.

It is hoped that within a sonable period of time, that vast majority of workers in riculture and Domestic se will become identified with ganized Labor in order that too may become beneficiari many of the gains and ben of organized Labor.

In conclusion, the Negro w ers, both men and women, be in the forefront of the ous kinds of Labor Day cele tions . . . for they too have their place and have helpe make this day possible which we are justly proud.

QUESTION: My husband, who is an engineer, and I, wish to move to the northern part of the state because the doctor advises that climate for our son. We'd like to make them ove as soon as possible . . . but want to be sure of employment . . . as the move would be a permanent one. (Mrs. P.W.C.)

ANSWER: Secure professional careers for architects and engineers are now being offered in our State Capitol, Sacramento, where many of the West's largest hospitals, state colleges, institutions and office buildings are to be constructed under the State's $250,000,000 building program. Your husband can be assured of a permanent civil service position with the State Division of Architecture at a rating consistent with his highest training and experience.

The State is looking for three categories of structural experts: draftsmen; civil or structural engineers; inspectors, estimators, and specification writers. Salaries range from $268 to $481 depending upon the category, the amount of training and experience. The most encouraging fact is that a few of the categories do not require graduation from college but make liberal allowance for experience. Engineers work a standard forty-hour week with generous vacation, retirement, sick leave and holiday provisions.

Sacramento is a city of 130,000 and is noted for its ideal surroundings for work, home life and recreation. The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce has set up a housing bureau in Sacramento to assist new state employees in locating rental or sale properties.

For full details, ask your husband to make a personal visit to the commercial and professional office of the Calif State Employment Service 969 West Seventh Street in Angeles. Or you may telep Michigan 8451, Extension 1 a copy of "California C Golden Opportunities for chitects and Engineers."

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

FROM THE COLLEGE OF PUGET SOUND, up Tacoma, Washington way, comes Elizabeth Brown; Kappa Sweetheart of Seattle, an AKA soror, with a major in sociology and, might I say, a wonderful personality. The deb, who attended Immaculate Heart College in our part of the country a few semesters back, is the house guest of Ida Prade, well known art student of Immaculate Heart College. Of course the two popular young ladies have been very busy, trying to crowd every minute of the visit with something exciting. When Oscar Levant thrilled the Bowl audience at the final symphony concert of the season, the two ladies were among those present. To go into the many liesurely activities, enjoyed by them, would claim the whole of this column, so bringing the spotlight to the highlight affair we present the following:

Since cocktail parties have a nack of always turning out perfectly, Ida, who is a popular member of the Ivy Leaf Pledge club, and a leading hostess of the younger set, invited the collegiate contingent to her home on Saturday night, to meet Elizabeth, and take it from ye scribe, a hilarious time prevailed. The honoree did her greeting in a form fitting (very nice form) black cocktail ensemble topped with gold slippers. Ida chose tan that featured a low back complimented by a bouquet of colorful posies. . . . So much for the garb. Usually most parties are crowded with visitors to the city. In this case, the entire affair wasn't crowded for, a select number was bidded. In the group were out of towner, Vivian Mead, who carries the title of a lovely Miss, from University of Washington. She is visiting relatives and will probably be in L. A. until Sept. 19. From Phoenix, Arizona, came Hazel Payton, who does social jottings for an Arizona weekly, and is quite familiar with the fourth estate. Then there was the dashing young matron, Irene Gilbert, who is sojourning from Topeka, Kansas, and attended the affair along with her cousins, Paul and Maxine Beck (newlywed) and from the neighboring town of Riverside came cute June DeBeal. Balancing the list of visitors, were Angelenos, Russell Brooks and Leonard Beavers, who kept the party moving at a very merry pace.

The appointed table, was the important spot of the evening, for the John Emery Joneses, (Ida's wonderful parents), kept Hor d'oureres of every description in readiness. They were assisted by Charles and Rena Valencia, who had a hand in mixing the drink of the evening. . . . Others in on the gay affair were, Willie Mae and Ruby Newman, Dorothy Clark and Edmond Smith, Allen LaMont, Gordon Clark, Howard Gamble, Stanley Smith, George Gopaul, Earl and Sylvia Estraugter (Perry) and to top the list, Rose Marie and Bob Long. The party lasted until the wee hours of Sunday morning.

The Labor Day week-end will find Elizabeth and Ida enjoying all the festivity of the Kappa Regional in San Francisco. The girls will make the trip up North with Mr. and Mrs. Jones. On returning to L. A., a brief sojourn will take place on Santa Catalina Island, then it will be back to studies at Puget Sound College for Elizabeth Brown . . . and . . . memoirs of a Southern California vacation well spent.

While admiring the new chapel of the Second Baptist Church, Sunday, had a brief chat with school teachers, Benzell and Catherine Graham, sounds like a sister combo, however, Catherine is the charming mother of Miss Graham. Both were full of info about their summer in Mexico City. Benzell did extensive studying at the University of Mexico, while her mother enjoyed the various points of interest. Next year their vacation calendar will red letter Cuba, and more study for Benzell who now speaks Spanish fluently. Back to the Chapel. Am quite sure you readers will be interested to know that the lovely addition to the Second Baptist Church is dedicated to Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, well known in YWCA and local club circles. The more than $3,000 used is equiping and decorating the Chapel was raised through the efforts of the "All States" tea, originated by Mrs. Wright. Congratulations are in order, for the Chapel represents a job well done.

Eagle music critic, Albert McNeil, will be in town any day now. The national convention of the Music Association was quite a high point on convention front this past month of August. . . . Albert was appointed to the Board. Also attending from L. A. were, Billie Lynthcom, Lester Ortike, George Garner and a host of others. . . . Delegates to the Delta Convention held in St. Louis are also homeward bound. Leola Beavers will arrive at the Union Station early Sunday morning. Haven't heard yet when Marion Jackson will make her return from New York and the Iota Phi Lambda confab, however recent jottings from the delegate enlighten us that '49 will find the Iotas celebrating their 20th Anniversary here in L. A. Albert McNeil jots that the Musicians will meet here next year with the several other groups who have selected the month of August and L. A. as their convention local. . . .

HERE AND THERE

On Friday evening, friends will be felicitating Mr. and Mrs. Theadore Lumpkin. The couple is keeping secret on names of participants in the wedding. Honored guest at the affair was noted piano artist, Earl Gardner. A host of friends attended the affair that was held at the Albritton home on Morgan Avenue. . . . Back to wedding vows, Dorothy Redd and Frank Cloud Jr., have decided to tie the knot. No date has been set. . . . This might come as a surprise to many . . . Goode-Farmer Vows Said In Elaborate Catholic Rite At Holy Cross Church

The picturesque setting of Holy Cross Catholic Church was the scene of the marriage of Adella Eulala Goode to Robert Oliver Farmer, Sunday, Aug. 29. The altar was adorned with beautiful seasonal flowers, and the popular young couple spoke their vows by candle light.

EXQUISITE BRIDAL GOWN

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron Goode, made a beautiful picture in an egg shell satin gown with a six yard train and a full length veil with lace applique. The gown was worn by her sister, and is being handed down in the Goode family.

The gown is designed with a tight fitted bodice and delicate work around the neck and waist. Her veil was held in place by a fitted tierra. She carried a prayer book covered with delicate satin steamers, that were tied with bouvardia and orchids.

In delightful contrast, the bridal party was gowned in white imported eyelet organdy. They were of ballerina fashion and featured the 'new look' length. Mrs. Grace Phillips served her sister as matron of honor. Beneath her white gown she wore a mauve orchid slip that peeked beneath the skirt of the gown. A matching sash, headdress, shoes and stockings, completed her dress. She carried a bouquet of multi-colored spring flowers. Miss Margaret Goode was her sister's maid of honor. Complimenting her gown was a yellow organdy slip and sash with matching shoes, stockings and headdress. She, too, carried a basket of multi-colored flowers.

The two bridesmaids completed their dress with slips of aqua and matching shoes, sashes, stockings and head pieces. Little Paula Phillips, niece of the bride and Leonora Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom were flower girls. They wore matching gowns patterned after the bridesmaids. Their accessories were of pink.

Strother Moore served the groom as best man, and Fernandez Goode, brother of the bride, Clarence C. J. Wagner were ushers along with Hulon Phillips, John Waller Jr., and Sidney Moore. All wore summer formal attire. Little Wilbert Phillips, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. The entire procession was under the direction of Mrs. Leontyne King.

The bride is a graduate of Manuel Arts High School, and is now employed in the exclusive Beverly Hills dress shop, 'Marusia's', as a cutter.

Welcome Home After Extended Vacation

By Vallie M. Kyle

George C. Pryce Jr. returned home last Wednesday after a six weeks enjoyable vacation with his mother, Mrs. Thelma Biram, in Detroit, Michigan. While there he enjoyed fishing, yachting and many other amusements, but the most beneficial was the lessons and practical experiences he received in Dentistry while working in his stepfather's Dental Laboratory.

The twelve year old lad lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Tabor and great-grandmother, Mrs. Rachael Sielski in Venice, California, and is a student in the Venice High School. He has attained high recognition with his teachers and Principal Homer K. Watson.

Last April 26 through 30 was designated "Public Schools Week" in Venice. The high points came on the 27th which was "Vocational Day" at which time Principal Watson spoke on "Vocational Guidance" and Mrs. Florence Murphy, a Supervisor of L. A. City schools, spoke on "Preparing for Getting and Holding a Job." The student speakers were Irwin Garfinkel, Agnes Lombardo, Geraldine Gengold and George C. Pryce. The Newspapers of the Bay District carried excellent articles on the affair and displayed pictures of Principal Watson and his student speakers while making plans for the event.

George C. Pryce Jr. bids fair for becoming a highly professional man.

Kappa Alpha Psi Welcomes Neophytes In Grand Style

One of the five Atwater Kent audition winners to be presented by the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity Sunday evening, Sept. 28, in the Philharmonic auditorium, will be Kenneth Chapman, talented baritone.

Chapman, winner of third prize in the 1947 Atwater Kent auditions, has been singing as long as he can remember. Even as a child, he would burst into song at the slightest provocation.

Kenneth Chapman

However, he made no public appearances until he sang the lead in the operetta "Pied Piper," presented under the auspicse of the Horace Mann junior high school and directed by Mrs. Pauline Daeney. Ken performed this feat while he was just 14.

At this time, he decided to make singing his career. When he was 17, his parents carried him to Mr. Hans Clemens, who at one time was a leading with the Metropolitan and Francisco Opera companies. Under the guidance of Mr. Clemens, Ken developed his vocal talent.

After ifnishing high school, Ken worked in an aircraft plant to pay for his vocal studies. In 1943, he entered the armed forces and served in the Army Air Force in the India-Burma theater. After 16 months of active service overseas, he was transferred to one of Melvyn Douglas' army shows. This gave him a chance to sing to GI audiences throughout the India-Burma theater.

In December, 1945, Ken returned to the United States and resumed his studies with Mr. Clemens under the GI Bill. After a year or more of work on vocal technique, he entered the Atwater Kent auditions of 1947 and sang Watson's "Farewell" from "Wallaure" and won third prize in the men's division.

At this time he met Katherine Hilgeaberg, winner of the third prize in the women's division. Later Miss Hilgeaberg became his wife. It was not until October, however, that these two met again while rehearsing "Lohengrin" for the Euterpe Opera Reading club. Ken sang the role of Frederick of Jelromund.

In January, Ken and his wife sang together on Cathryn Childs Dixon's Military Parade of Musical Talent presented over radio station KXLA. Ken has appeared in "Lohengrin," "Romeo and Juliet," and is now preparing for the role of Escamillo in "Carmen," and Don Pizzarro in "Fidelio."

Besides being engaged in opera, concert and oratorio work, Ken is also a teacher at the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and is a student of opera repertoire and dramatics at the American Operatic Laboratory.

Ladies — did you know that when a dress or blouse is made with one of the new style tucked yokes, the tucking is usually done in one factory while the garment itself is made in another? Well, it's true.

If you know someone who is speedy on the power machine, and the knife tucking attachment, ask her to contact the California State Employment Service at 1100 S. These knife tucking machine operators are so desperately needed by shops in downtown Los Angeles that they can be at work before the day is over.

History was made in Val Verde last Sunday when some 1400 citizens journeyed from Los Angeles to Val Verde for the annual "Val Verde Property Owners Picnic," which was held in the beautiful county park. Val Verde means "peaceful valley," and this peacefulness was in evidence everywhere one would glance. Happy children ran about the place, playing games, swimming, and hiking, while the oldsters lingered over their picnic baskets and reminisced with old friends.

Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins was the guest of honor and the main speaker of the day. He praised those who had worked hard to make Val Verde possible. He received a tremendous ovation from the crowds.

Rev. Judge Wiley, pastor of the A. M. E. Church in Val Verde was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Hattie S. Baldwin, one of the early settlers, told of the eight year fight to get the improvements for the park.

By CARL L. CAIN

A 'LITTLE GATHERING' LAST WEEK

Although I made no personal count of the people present, there were two thousand seats in the Elks Temple last Wednesday night a week ago, and the place was packed to the aisles and many people stood on the outside. So to say three thousand people present would not be to exaggerate. It was a successful meeting, sponsored by the Progressive Party, and Paul Robeson was the leading speaker. The tremendous power of his songs was not absent.

The audience was held breathless when told by Paul Robeson that on a visit to the White House some time ago he was told by the President—Truman—that it wasn't 'politically expedient" at that time to do anything about the lynchings in the South. I would surmise from the evidence therein set forth that it has now become "politically expedient" and therefore, without any feeling for Negroes, only thoughts of political advantage, the President feels it worth while to promise some Civil Rights . . . whatever that is.

At the same meeting, we heard a young man of this city tell of how, only three days before, he had seen the Los Angeles police beat his brother to death . . . but more about police injustice later. It wasn't sympathy the young man appealed for, but action by the people of Los Angeles and all other cities where such things are happening to prevent the same fate from befalling their own families. For the family, it's hard and cold experience; for the people it stands out as a lion in the streets ready to pounce upon you or your children. It's an incentive for immediate action on your part.

Further we learned something a little more gratifying; that a newspaper and a magazine will have to speak up or shut up when calling people . . . out of their names. I'd like to see a chain-reaction here of twenty-six named persons filing suit . . . and I do mean SUIT.

And soon we'll all know that it's only before that certain notorious "Committee" that we can call the people of this land vulgar names without an ounce of proof or evidence. Before the Committee is where people are allowed to hear themselves accused and if they talk out of turn it's contempt of Congress. Now, how is it that Congress proposes to represent the people and anything a citizen says to a Congressman is contemptible? An echo in a long southern drawl keeps ringing through my mind. I don't know where it came from, or how I came to have it stamped so clearly in my mind. But it goes, "'Don chew know das contempt of Cong-gress—boy!" (Say it fast.)

POLICE INJUSTICE

Periodically, there is a rise and then a decline of brutality in the city of L.A. by policemen. Perhaps it's the same in many other of our large cities. Instead of a crime-wave, there is a 'police-wave' and people are stopped and searched and beaten without being told why; citizens are shot down here and there without knowing the reason even for their arrest, in cases not too unfamilar to mention. And I don't think the police know why sometimes. During each of these 'police-waves' someone suffers. Some mother suffers whose son was shot down in cold blood, or some wife, or relative. And it's a bad thing. It's bad not only from the standpoint of suffering for some, but because of the psychological effect it has upon youths. They abandon respect for the law and the society and use police brutality as an excuse for crimes and acts which send them to reform school. Every cop is their enemy; they must hate them all, and outsmart them. They must plan ways of defeating them because of the satisfaction they get from it. And there is more suffering when the bitter and inevitable end comes to that idea.

Too, the police injustices are elements most damaging to the attempts by progressive Americans to wipe out racial strife. All the buried and hidden hates are revived in the minds of some people of both races, to come budding out anew. The oppressed groups bind together to defeat the oppressors and the whole circle starts anew.

You, the people, are paying the officers of this city to protect your children and your homes. You're paying for the billy-clubs they use to beat people with; you're paying for the guns and even the cartridges they use to gun down innocent citizens. But at the same time you think you're paying for that silken fabric of law and order in your society. Instead of getting it, however, we're getting a filthy and tattered rag of murder and injustices. Now, would you pay for a fresh, thick cut of steak and accept tainted tripe when the delivery boy comes?

FOOTNOTE—

ABOUT PEOPLE

In our society we have a type of people distinguished among other ways, by their continuous drawing back. You make one step forward and they laugh; you make two and you're a fool. Three and they go stark, raving mad. You just shouldn't try to do it! They're content to do nothing, know nothing, and to be nothing. They stifle when someone else makes an attempt to better himself. They always tell you that you shouldn't bother about race prejudice, politics, or anything else. 'One person can't change things.' They ridicule any attempt by anyone else to get their cooperation and aid. 'Why don't you do it?' They will tear down anything, regardless of what it is, why it was built, or who built it. Question: ARE YOU A "THEY"?

R. Reynolds, former professor of mathematics at Wiley college and a retired educator of note, brought the message to the class.

He discussed the aims and meaning of education and among other things stated that it is no uniform for a dress parade; that it was more than a means of livelihood; that it was a social leaven intended to lift the general level of society.

Pilgrim House Now Located On North Los Angeles Street

After five years operation, and four and one-half years under the leadership of Rev. Harold M. Kingsley the Pilgrim House moves to the Filipino Church Center at 150 North Los Angeles Street. Pilgrim House began in response to a crying need on the part of socially minded persons of the welfare, and church groups. A vacuum created by the Japanese being evacuated. Negroes came in to do war work in large numbers, and speedily filled up Little Tokyo.

Amid frontier conditions, Pilgrim House ministers to the social, economic, and spiritual needs with church school, Boy and Cub Scouts, Y teens, ceramics, preschool, basket ball, teams, etc., together with vocational guidance, family consultations, and religious education. With the return of the Japanese there was a demand for the return of the Union Church to its owners. The Los Angeles Presbytery had at its disposal the old Chinese Presbyterian Church property, now occupied by the Filipino Christian Church at 150 North Los Angeles Street, the Filipino Church Center being tenants for the last 13 years, Pilgrim House takes over formally September 12 with an Open House, the Filipino Center becoming its tenants.

Director Kingsley gives the following gains in program: (1) the organization of the work, and the stabilization of the Pilgrim House constituency: Interpretation and adjustments. (2) Pilgrim House is a much used center, 150 youngsters present daily, and various special public meetings — unions and fraternal societies. (3) Pilgrim House reaches out of the community—extra mural activities—picnics, outings, hikes, visits to suburban homes—the Pilgrim House Vacation Plan, etc. (4) Pilgrim House is a Community Chest Agency recognized and developing along lines of sound social service procedure.

As someone has said, "only the helpless live in Little Tokyo," and another, "Pilgrim House is a Lighthouse in an area of underprivilege." Mr. Leon W. Steward, with his wide experience in social work is chairman of the Board. Mrs. T. H. Eckerson, a long time YWCA worker is head of the House Committee, Mr. J. Quentin Ewing, chief auditor for the Southern California Gas Company, treasurer, Mrs. J. W. MacNair, widely known for her interracial work, Chairman of the Vacation Plan Committee.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Aquila And Priscilla: Lesson Text and Outline. Acts 18:1-3, 18, 19, 24-26; Romans 16:3-5; 1 Cor. 6:19; 2 Tim. 4:19. Motto Text Col. 3:17.

Introduction

In home, in business, in church, in city and country, Aquila and Priscilla must have been inseparable for they are always mentioned together (six times, their names alternating three times). Their consecrated lives were beautifully blended, radiantly useful, and richly.

Comments

1. Paul, though a Pharisee, and bred up at the feet of Gamaliel, yet, having in his youth learned to make tents, did not by disuse lose the art. Poor tradesmen must be thankful if their callings bring them in a maintenance for themselves and their families, though they cannot do as the rich merchants that raise estates by their callings. Though he was himself a great apostle, yet he chose to work with Aquila and Priscilla, because he found them to be very intelligent in the things of God, as appears afterwards and he owns that they had been his helpers in Christ Jesus.

This is an example to those who are going to service to seek for those services in which they may have the best help for their souls. Choose to work with those that are likely to be helpers in Christ Jesus. It is good to be in company and to have conversation with those that will further us in the knowledge of Christ, and to put ourselves under the influence of such as are resolved that they will serve the Lord. Aquila, though a Christian, was banished because he had been a Jew; and the Gentiles had such confused notions of the thing that they could not distinguish between a Jew and a Christian.

The reason was because the Jews were a turbulent people and that it was impulsore Christo, upon the account of Christ; some zealous for him, other bitter against him, which occasioned great heats, such as gave umbrage to the government, and provoked the emperor, who was a timorous jealous man, to order them all to be gone. If Jews persecute Christians, it is not strange if heathens persecute them both.

2. Paul took with him Priscilla and Aquila, because they had a mind to accompany him; for they seemed disposed to remove, and not inclined to stay long in a place, a disposition which may arise from a good principle, and have good effects, and therefore ought not to be condemned in others, though it ought to be suspected in ourselves. There was a great friendship contracted between them and Paul, and therefore, when he went, they begged to go along with him. Paul's calling at Epheus, which was the metropolis of the Lesser Asia, and a sea-port. There he left Aquila and Priscilla; not only because they would be burdensome to him in his journey, but because they might be serviceable to the interests of the gospel at Ephesus. Paul intended shortly to settle there for some time, and he left Aquila and Priscilla there in the mean time, for the same end as Christ sent his disciples before to every place where he himself would come, to prepare his way.

Aquila and Priscilla might, by private conversation, being very intelligent judicious Christians, dispose the minds of many to give Paul, when he should come among them, a favourable reception, and to understand his preaching; therefore he calls them his helpers in Christ.

3. Apollos was instructed in the way of the Lord; that is, he had some acquaintance with the doctrine of Christ, had obtained some general notions of the gospel and the principles of Christianity, that Jesus is the Christ, and that prophet who should come into the world; the first notice of this would be readily embraced by one that was so mighty in the scripture as Apollos was, and therefore understood the signs of the times.

Those that are to teach other must first be themselves taught the word of the Lord, not only to talk of it, but to walk in it. It is not enough to have our tongues tuned to the word of the Lord, but we must have our feet directed into the way of the Lord. Though he had not the miraculous gifts of the Spirit, as the apostles had, he made use of the gifts he had; for the dispensation of the Spirit, whatever the measure of it is, is given to every man to profit withal. And our Saviour, by a parable, designed to teach his ministers that though they had but one talent they must not bury that.

We have seen how Apollos was qualified with a good head and a goid tongue: he was an eloquent man, and mighty in scriptures; he had laid in a good stock of useful knowledge, and had an excellent faculty of communicating it. Apollos was an industrious labrious preacher. He spoke and taught diligently. He yook pains in his preaching, what he delivered was elaborate; and he did not offer that to God, or to the synagogue, that either cost nothing or cost him nothing. He first worked it upon his own heart, and then laboured to impress it on those to whom he preached.

4. Those are helpers to faithful ministers that lay out themselves in their families and among their neighbors to do good to souls. Aquila and Priscilla exposed themselves to secure Paul, hazarded their own lives for the preservation of his, considering how much better they might be spared than he. Paul was in great deal of danger at Corinth, while he sojourned with them; but they sheltered him, though they thereby made themselves obnoxious to the enraged multitude. It was a good while ago that they had done Paul this kindness; and yet he speaks as feelingly of it as if it had been but yesterday.

Religion, in power of it, regning in a family, will turn a house into a church. And doubtless it had a good influence upon this that Priscilla the good wife of the family was so very eminent and forward in religion, so eminent that she is often named first. A virtuous woman, that looks well to the ways of her household, may do much toward the advancement of religion in a family. When Priscilla and Aquila were at Ephesus, though but sojourners there, yet there also they had a church in their house. A truly godly man will be careful to take religion along with him wherever he goes.

5. Christianity does by no means destroy civility and good manners. Paul could room in an epistle treating of very important matters to send the salutations of friends. Religion should promote a courteous and obliging temper towards all. Those misrepresent and reproach it who would take any encouragement from it to be sour and morose. Christian salutations are not empty compliments; they carry in them real expressions of goodwill, and are attended with hearty recommendations to the divine grace and blessing.

Those who salute in the Lord wish their brethren all good from the Lord, and breathe out their good wishes in fervent prayers. Every Christian family should in some respects be a Christian church. In some cases (as, for instance, were they cast away on a foreign shore, where there are no other Christians), they should be a church themselves, if large enough, and live in the use of all ordinances; but in common cases they should live under the direction of Christian rules, and daily offer up Christian worship. Wherever two or three are gathered, and Christ is among them, there is a church.

6. Paul sends salutations to Aquila and Priscilla, and the household of Onesiphorus. He mentions his leaving Trophimus sick at Miletum, by which it appears that though the apostles healed all manner of diseases miraculously, for the confirmation of their doctrine, yet they did not exert that power upon their own friends, lest it should have looked like a collusion.

The Lord Jesus is the center of Christian worship and work. Therefore according to his command and in compliance with his authority, by strength derived from him, with an eye to his glory, and depending upon his merit for the acceptance of what is good and the pardon of what is amiss.

THE MAJOR RETURNS. Rev. He was so impressed with the mission work there, that he returned to work with the Baptist Foreign Mission Board in that country. He is in the United States for a month planning a more extensive building campaign with the board at the mission's headquarters in Philadelphia. He sails for Africa again on Sept. 17. —Hooper Photo.

"Unsurpassed Service Through The Years"

HUNDREDS HAVE SAID, as time has passed, that the ceremony we conducted was one of correct appointment, and that our personal assistance was with a spirit of sincere helpfulness.

SUCH PUBLIC CONFIDENCE is not won by words. Actions are the only reliable symptoms of sympathetic sincerity. And that is what you get in a CONNER-JOHNSON service, whether it is one of utmost simplicity, or the most elaborate.

Consult us about our recommended pre-payment plan of funeral expenses, with no obligation. It costs only a few cents a day.

Baha'i World Faith

World Unity—the Fabric of a New Culture will be discussed by Mrs. Vern Jewell Paxton at the Los Angeles headquarters of Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday, September 5, at 11 a.m.

"Unification of the whole of mankind is the hallmark of the state which human society is now approaching. Unity of family, of tribe, of city-state, and nation have been successively attempted and fully established. World unity is the goal toward which a harassed humanity is striving. Nation - building has come to an end. A world, growing to maturity, must abandon this fetish, recognize the oneness and wholeness of human relationships, and establish once for all the machinery that can best incarnate this fundamental principal of its life."

Our grand business in life is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand. —Carlyle

SOME UNFINISHED THINKING...

Wanta give just a wee bit of jottings about the windy city, which reminds me, I don't know what they mean by windy, cause there wasn't a breeze to be found, believe me!! The fastest moving show could be found in the "Beige Room" with the very capable Larry Steele in the producers spot. . . . A fast show that included a terrific dance team, six beautiful chorines, the very unique team of Alan and Lynn Dixion. . . . Alan if you recall had a very clever dance act with his ex-wife Anise, but has now teamed with Eythelyn Stevens, and are doing a real bang-up job. . . . Eythelyn informed us that she and show producer hubby "have decided it's no use" and each have gone in separate directions. . . . We like the way Larry climaxed the show by adding his bit of vocal in "here's No Business Like Show Business." . . . Dusty Fletcher sitting in the audience took the spotlight for a few minutes and had the whole place in tears, that guy is a comedienne form his heart. . . . Sippin Scotch and milk (mostly milk of course!) Tall, brown and so very fine Jimmy Jordon, flashing that pretty dimpled smile all around. . . . And downtown at the Chicago Theater, where the windy city disc jockeys had a field day presenting loads of talent on the stage. . . . We're still trying to figure out why Sarah Vaughn opened the show, but that's the way it was, cause, Dick, I was there!! Sarah opened the show, with petite eleven year old Toni Harper billed as the star and Toni was wonderful, no kidden. Understand that she has been signed on the Eddie Cantor national hook-up show and also Columbia Studios have her signed for a "moom pitcha" here. . . . Ya know it's a funny thing, we noticed how one particular disc jockey there in the windy city, seem to be easin in a little credit for the success of Toni . . . but if any credit is to be given to anyone whether it's a disc jockey, a publicity agent, a talent scout, a booking agent, manager or etc., I think a certain Norman name Gene should get that credit, cause he did a lotta pushin and shovin in Toni's corner, but then the fella's just a great guy any way. . . . So to the All Star Football Game, which was lousy in every sense of the word. . . . While sitting in Soldiers Field watching the game, "my foot went to sleep." . . . Gee!! how I envied it!!!! I'd hate to have been a judge for that game, trying to pick a star from the All Star Roster, cause from the playing exhibited that night, there wasn't a star to be found. . . . Buddy Young making a very nice acceptance speech as the receptant of the 1947 Athlete of the year, the award was presented Buddy on the speakers stand at the game. . . . So much for Chicago with it's HOT day's, couldn't get on that Constellation quick enough and come home. . . .

SOME THING'S ABOUT PEOPLE I LIKE (D'JA MIND?)

Can't think of enough dirty names to call the bum that stole all of Jay Loftlynn clothes the other evn'g. . . . But because Jay has so many of friends, and I mean just that, they all fell right in, to let him know they could be counted on . . . and for this Jay is eternally grateful. . . . We're still tryin to figure out where Lionell Hampton gets all of that excess engery. . . . When I say that's a working crew I mean just . . . EVERBODY works . . . liked very much the slightly different act of Red and Curley . . . and the terrific dancing of Shorts Davis. . . . Like also the easy going voice of his band vocalist Burton something or other . . . he sings like Elidge Penland smiles "real went." . . . SUDDEN THAWT: If Eddie J. Colston is still in town, will you kindly contact this column. . . . Clever idea, regardless to whose idea it is, located on the Ave, I think it's called the Barn or the Barrell or something, any way, the combo of Johnny Otis can be heard, while you drink the "house drink" Beer and eat mexician food with Heywood Jones taking care of the food situation and then there is John Pettigrew to greet you and seat you. . . . Frisco still jumpin like mad, with folks like Art Tatum, King Cole Trio, Martha Davis, Effie Smith, Slim Gaillard Trio, Jack McVea, and other's all there to help make things jump. Wanta close with this little thought "Your opinion of others is apt to be their opinion of you." . . .

Lorenzo Flennoy Keeps Things Jumping At The Congo Club

Lorenzo Flennoy and his trio, with Smiley Turner doing the vocals, continue to play to capacity crowds nitely at the Congo Club, formerly club Alabam, in the heart of Central avenue's active sector. On voice Turner shows plenty on the ball. His version of any ballad puts him way out in front of the field of local male chirps. His style is sincere and down-to-earth.

The Flennoy trio, no newcomers to the field of swing, dish out a brand of rhythm that makes conversation while dancing possible. Here is a musical outfit that rates a break. They've been plugging along hard for year, and some smart agent had better grab these boys if they've searching for a money-making swing outfit. Lorenzo and his trio are definitely "going places."

Featured at the Congo, which opens every night at the usual niteclub opening time, along with the Flennoy trio is the Big Daddy of the Blues, Joe Turner.

There is never any admission charge at the Congo club, and Mrs. Credell's cooking (she's charge d'affaires of the club dining room) is the kind of meals mother used to cook—before she took up bridge!

There's nothing lacking at the Congo club, and for an evening of fun it should be a "must" on your nitery-going list.

And then, too, there's that Lorenzo Flennoy trio to keep you hep and happy!

Lawrence F. LaMar, director-manager of the Negro Press Bureau, will observe his 20th anniversary as a Hollywood Studio Correspondent, Sunday, October 24. The date will also witness the 15th year since the Negro Press Bureau was founded.

Bob Dawes And The Charlie Barnet Ork At Elks Sept. 5

Charlie Barnet's famous orchestra, the band that first featured the vocalizing of a Negro songstress, and in this instance, the incomparable Lena Horne, will appear in person one night only Sunday, Sept. 5 at the Elks Hall, 4016 So. Central Ave.

The band, under the musical direction of sax - tooting Bob Dawes, recently returned from a cross-country theatre-night club tour in which they hung up records galore. Featured along with Dawes and Negro Trumpeter "Peanuts" Holland is a lush thrush named Jean Louise, recently femme chirp with the Boyd Raeburn band, and a mixture of Ella Fitzgerald, Billie Holiday and Jo Staffored rolled into one.

Jean, 123 pounds of singing (and eye) sex appeal, is a natural brunette beauty who hails from Phoenix, Arizona, and got her start chirping with Sonny Dunhal's band. Barnet heard her during a recent stint at Tommy Dorsey's West Coast ballroom and immediately signed her to a long term contract with his famous orchestra. Her latest record release is a sultry thing titled "The Man I Love," backed by the oldie, "You Don't Know What Love Is."

As for "Peanuts" Holland, his trumpeting has been the talk of the music world for ages. He formerly played with Alphonso Trent's orchestra, Artie Shaw, Cab Calloway and other famous bands before joining up with the Mad Mab's crew.

Barnet undoubtedly has the best band of his career, and the somewhat on an Ellington kick, the boys dish out ballads, blues and just about any other number the customer calls for. Yes, even Be-Bop! Charlie Barnet's 17-piece swing band will appear in person one night only, Sept. 5, at the Elks Ballroom. Admission $1.25 plus tax.

SURE TO GO PLACES in the concert field is pretty and talented Gloria Roberts, whose piano playing has been acclaimed by music critics as the peak of perfection. Miss Roberts will be presented in concert recital Sunday afternoon, Sept. 19, at the 1st A.M.E. church, 8th and Towne ave. She holds a music degree from the University of Southern California, and recently returned from a two year study at the Julliard School of Music, New York. Lovely? She looks like something that just stepped out of a dream, eh, fellows?

Les Hite Says He Is Through With Leading A Band: Retired

Discounting all rumors that he will return to the music profession, Les Hite, whose famous Cotton Club orchestra boasted more "stars" than there are in the heavens, told an EAGLE reporter that he has no intention of leading a band again.

Hite, who is one of the most popular and best-liked musicians in the theatrical profession, has retired to his ranch in Monrovia with his lovely wife, Lee, and he seems happy to sit back, relax and forget the strain and headaches that are a bandleaders plight.

Personally, I doubt seriously his statement of not ever returning to the band profession, if only for the fact that Les Hite is a musician with music in his blood. He has been a musician (and a good one) for many years. He discovered more top-notch instrumentalists than any other man in the profession with the exception of Fletcher Henderson.

He takes his music seriously, and he loves his music. If he is sincere in his determination to exit from the profesh, we'll put it bluntly in stating that the profesh will definitely lose one of its ace musicians and grand guys!

His band supplied the musical background on Louis Armstrong's greatest recordings (Just A Gigolo, Shine, I'm In The Market For You, Song Of The Island, Cofessin', If I Could Be With You, Rockin' Chair and others,) and once featured such steller instrumentalists as Lionel Hampton, Ivy Anderson, Lawrence Brown, the late and great Archie Lancaster, Harvey Brooks, Buck Clayton and T-Bone Walker.

With music (?) being played as it is today, the country (at least Los Angeles) would welcome Hite's return to the swing kingdom for another chance to listen to his own inimitable easy-to-dance style of playing.

For an afternoon of fun, pleasure seekers will have the thrill of a lifetime Labor Day, Sept. 6, at the Palmcrest Resort club, in Santa Monica. The occasion will mark the first annual bathing beauty and beach promenade given by the spacious beach resort, located at 4th and Pacific Streets in Santa Monica.

A score of tan beauties will vie for popularity honors in a contest to be judged by a famous Hollywood motion picture director and other judges whose names won't be revealed until the day of the contest.

First prize to the first place winner of the bathing beauty revue will be a one-picture contract and a year's study at the Laura Bowman school of dramatics.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Sammy Franklin and his orchestra, and there will be dancing immediately following the bathing beauty contest.

All girls who desire to enter the contest will have up until Labor day morning to do so. Contact Mr. Ralph Porter at PRospect 3894. here will be prizes for all girls who enter the contest.

The Palmcrest club is located just three blocks from the beach, and is open to all. There is no discrimination at the Palmcrest Resort club. It's a club for your enjoyment and pleasure. And Labor Day will be the scene of an afternoon of good clean fun.

For an afternoon of fun and merriment put the Palmcrest Resort club down as the place to go on Labor day. JT Gipson, Eagle theatrical Editor, will M.C. the afternoon festivities.

There will be no admission. It will be an Open House day!

EARLINE HOPKINS is employed as a medical case worker at General hospital, and Earline Hopkins is a tall, shapely bundle of feminine loveliness, a member of United Public Workers, CIO Local 246, chosen by that union as its official candidate for the title of "Miss CIO" in the Los Angeles CIO Council's Freedom Fiesta, to be held Sept. 17, 18 and 19. Any arguments, boys? From where we're looking, she looks like an angel on a furlough from the heavens.

Al Burghardt Writes Number For Hadda Brooks

Al Burghardt, writer of T-Bone Walker's last release, "Plain Old Down Home Blues," and former naval flight officer who was foreman of the Avion Aircraft, Inc., only Negro air plant in and around Los Angeles, is attending Westlake College of Music with the hope of furthering his music career.

Burghardt, a former producer of shows at the Plantation and Little Harlem clubs, has also written a tune soon to be released by Hadda Brooks, titled "It's Over This Time, We're Through."

He was also a top fighter around the Angel City a few years back, and quit the game when he became troubled with a wrenched knee.

Hattie Noels Inks Recording Contract

Hattie Noels, widely known stage, screen and radio actress, has been signed to a two-year recording contract. She will make records and write original lyrics to be released under a MGM Recordings label.

The contract is said to involve some fancy figures in Miss Noels favor. "Two numbers, "Put Some Glue on That Mule," and "Thinking About My Baby" are reported to have already plattered and will be released in October following the expected lifting of the ban against recordings in September.

Gipson Interviews Little Miss Cornshucks At Last Word Club

By J. T. GIPSON,
Theatrical Editor

Ever so often an act comes along that merits our warmest praise; this week the nitelife spotlight points with pride on an energetic little lass who calls herself Little Miss Cornshucks.

Miss Cornshucks, whose nom de plume is Mildred Cummings, is the star at the Last Word, and what makes this shy, unassuming little lass outstanding from other stars on the Bronzeville scene is that she is the one blues singer around today who doesn't attempt to imitate any other blues singer around today, though some wags say she sounds just like Dinah Washington, which surely won't hurt her rep any.

She has an original style of blues singing that differs from the present-day crop of blues singers, and the other evening against doctor's orders, I waddled over to the crowded, smoke-filled club to see what makes Little Miss Cornshucks tick.

Hauling her off to a corner table, I began to fire questions at Little Miss Cornshucks at a mile-a-minute clip.

"Whew," she said, "take it easy, darr-ling, and let me get my breath!" After she got her breath (probably the walk from the bandstand to the corner table tired her out) she admitted that Chicago is her home. "And I've worked most of the nite spots in and around that vacinity," she said.

(Ed.'s Note: She's worked most of the nite spots on the theatrical circuit, period!)

She told me more about herself, frinstance, the time she went to New York and set the nitelifers there on their respective ears with her style of blues singing. Too modest to go into details, she would only blush and smile to the question we asked over the rumor we once heard of her "cutting" Dinah Washington in a blues-singing session.

For the cute little un-hep kiddies in the second row, "cutting" means to "out-sing" or "out-play" some particular member of the theatrical profession. And "cutting" is what Little Miss Cornshucks makes a specialty of.

Though right now she's appearing nitely at the Last Word club; and sings the blues like the blues should be sung!

Putting my pad and pencil away, I begin to fire personal queries at her. Say, angel," we said, "remember the first time we met in Columbus, Ohio, and you were singing at the El Cairo club?" She said yes. "And remember the fun we used to have on evenings when you'd finished work?"

She said "uh-huh."

"Well," your mischievous little newsboys said, "I'm not doing anything tonight. How would you like to . . ."

Just about that time Manager Esvan Mosby dragged her off and told her to get ready for the next show.

Why don't nightclub managers drop dead?

Frankie Laine To Appear In Person At Jazz Cavalcad

J. T. GIPSON

Patrollin' The Bronzeville Beat: Dr. Ennis, the Dentist, is in San Francisco on a vacation visit, while his protege pecks at a portable in an effort to turn out a colyum . . . A coluumnist's crack that "Women are made to be loved, not to be understood," was hatched here way back in '44 . . . The Gov't is quietly doing a probe on an avenoo Big Shot. Income Tax evasion. The latest batch of bogus fifties flooding the town is in the vacinity of Vth and Cntrl, and thass all I know about it, Mr. Treasury Dep't. . . . Our favorite of the quips was hatched by Joe Adams (our Adopted Son). About the young Deb who is marrying an old millionaire on the theory that she isn't giving up her youth, only pawning it! . . . Bob Clark and his ah-tractive wife, Ruby, rumored this far apart a couple wks ago, are now as closeasthis . . . It's a 7-lb little Gable over at the Nash Araiza's adobe. Pop works on the Linotype machine at Compton Printing Press. Mon's an adorable blonde dumpling named Ramona . . . Loraine Williams, the society beauty, is recuping at her East side home. Walked into an auto several days ago and bruised that shapely body of hers . . . In case you didden know it, nite-club likker has gone up in most of the stagger-soup emporiums. Not at Dynamite Jackson's Paradise (on Cntrl) or Chuck Jackson's club Savoy (in Watts). Their prices remain sensibly the same. No wonder their clubs stay crowded! . . . Wni Orr, a study in Brown, and Ray Smith (he works at the U. S. Postoffice) were secretly wed on the 22d. A secret, that is, 'till it leaked out here . . . I agree with Lawrence LaMarr who cracked: "By the time a man collects experience enough to understand women, he's so old he doesn't have any occasion to use it!" . . . Gladys Robinson, of the Westside social coterie, postcards from Lake Elsinore: "Got a bad case of Flu. I have been in bed with the same Doctor for three days, and he doesn't seem to be doing me much good. If things don't improve I will have to send for another Doctor." (Huh?)

J. T. Gipson

The Gipson Ticker Tape: James "Buddy" Garcia, who works in the Walter Gordon Jr., Law Offices, sippin' Scotch 'n Milk at the Cresbar, and exclaiming to friends: "I can tolerate milk only by swallowing Scotch with it!" . . . Eddie Green, Duffy's pal on the Ed Gardner air show, living in Los Angeles and liking it. One of his quips is a fave over at our house. He tells a comedian: "Gee, I think you're very funny." "Pooh," pooh'd the comic, "You'd say so even if you didn't think so." "And you," was the snapper, "would think so even if I didn't say so!" . . . Wilma Dungey, of the Dunbar Cocktail Lounge, who has the kind of personality you see in a dream. A vision of loveliness! . . . Camille Cannady, the doll-face actress, strollin' down the stem displaying shapely hose. "What?" asks a columnist, "could Santa possibly put in her stockings to equal what Mother Nature put there?" Louis "Satchmo" Armystrong, the famed trumpeter, penning a lengthy letter to his best friend, Julius "Stuff" Crouch, Backstage Theatrical club op, telling Basie's Boy about the "guest" stint he's preparing for The Gip. His last col'm here got a Winchell reprint, (('Red Beans and Ricely Yours!") . . . One of the great men in our town, Bob Johnson (who, with his charming wife, Virginia, own and operate Johnson's Bath House over on the Westsde), is blesed with a delightful sensayuma. His snappy retorts are a columnist's delight, and he's a prince of good fellows, too! . . . Oklen Levy, the town's top nitery host, who knows more celebrities than most celebrities! . . . Eddie "Mr. Cleanhead" Vinson, whose blues-singing is soulstiring, trying to talk a columnist into a game of golf. (And who's gonna help me lift the clubs, Eddie???) . . . Almena Davis, the Anti-Social Editor of the Los Angeles Spittune, who would have more friends if she didn't have so many enemies! Reminding me of Winchell's witty wordage, towit: "It's when they STOP talking about you that you realize your popularity begins slipping!" (Oh yeah, but our Adopted Pop forgot to add this: "Be careful haw you treat people on your way up. You might meet those same people On Your Way Down!) . . . Dorotha and Dr. N. Fearsoncet My favorite couple. We love em' heaps!

Memo's Of A Mid-Nighter: EAGLE'S Circulation Mgr., Gene Hilliard (my ace bud) is still suffering from a toothache. His Dentist pulled the wrong one! (Watch yer langwidge, Gene!) . . . Bill Smallwood is enroute home from his latest jaunt aeross the continent. His col'm is what I take instead of Serutan when I'm in a pensive mood . . . Street Scene: Lady of the evening busily pulling the wires off a parked Cadillac Fleetwood, and exclaiming to onlookers: "It's mine. I paid for it!" Prob'ly putting into practice the adage: "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned . . . Memo from secretary: Contact Hedda Hopper immediately. Important . . . One of the avenoo's biggest spenders was on the stem Satday evng trying to borrow a ten spot. Legend has it a visiting NY chorine thinned his bankroll . . . And in case some of you are bored with this type of stuff, turn over to the Sports section and read boxer Jackie Wilson's clever scribbings . . . The wonderously beautiful loveliness of Hazel Shumate, the pretty photog, gives me goose pimples. There are undoubtedly prettier, lovelier and nicer dolls arouid than Hazel, but I haven't met any . . . A columnist was told to name his own price for a wk-ly release of his drivel. Via the syndicate route . . . Crezette Murchinson oughta be looked over by a talent scout. She's one of the town's top models . . . . Everybody's happy for Flora Martin. She's found happiness at last, after wasting too many tears over an unrequieted love affair. . . . Why all the excitement over the Maharajah of Baroda? He evaported 10-million bux in a few wks, his preference being tall, cool blondes. "Hell," he'll'd EAGLE managing editor, John Lee, "Gip can run through that much in a day—minus the Blondes!" . . . Have you guys noticed Ernestine Monroe Vinson's pretty nylons? So round. So firm. So fully packed. (She's Mr. Cleanhead's friendly wife) . . . And wotta 'bout the Memo club cutie named Zelda? She looks like a dream in technicolor . . . .

Seriously speaking: I'm not a reformer. Trying to reform Central avenoo is like driving through a sewer in a glass-bottom boat. But something should be done about the many corner-loungers who stand around in front of the various places of amusements (i.e., pool halls, barber shops, etc) heckling the pretty femme pasersby. Every pretty girl passing by is a target for lewd insults hurled by some character who probably never had a sister or mother. Wish "Rocky" Washington, Barney Hoskins and his partner were assigned to the stem for just 24 hours—they'd clean it up! All nice guys, but tougher'n THREE Joe Louises!

Good success story: Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith, owners of Smith's "Monogram'd" Sportswear. Struggled like the other word you and I know for Hades to reach the top. Both still the same great people! We love 'em heaps over at this desk . . . Why don't other writer's stop stealing our stuff? One of the local bright boys came up in his col'm the other edition with the "exclusive" that the California School of Photography (on San Pedro at Jefferson) is the best and only school of its kind on the West coast. Oh, fevvensakes, we ran that here wks ago. The school rates the support of all you ex-GIs if you wanna learn photography. It's Gov't approved, too—and also open to civilians! . . . speaking of G-Is, I'll never forget the time (during World Hell No. 2) a wealthy dowager invited Artie Graves and about fifty more of us guys from a near-by camp to her home. At about four o'clock she served cookies and lemonade. At five, she served more cookies and lemenade. At about six, she stood up and said, "I have just four more cookies left—now what shall I do with them?" Artie started to say something, and immediately a Lieutenant stood up and said, "The first guy who answers gets the guardhouse for a week!" . . . Sudden Serious Thawt: A Vote for Henry Wallace is a Vote for Peace!

LOU OWENS is a ton of fun when it comes to keeping the guys and gals in the audience at the Downbeat club in a happy frame of mind. Miss Owens, who concluded a record-breaking engagement at the Million Dollar Theatre last week with ionel Hampton's hand and revue, has worked most of the smart spots along the Eastern seaboard, and was a featured attraction at Small's Paradise, N. Y. Her entertaining antics on the stand will just about knock you out!

Music Town To Be Scene Of First Rate Stage Plays

Music Town at last is to have a genuine Experimental theatre. Laura Bowman, whose name is a byword in dramatic circles, has been persuaded to leave her place with the travelling "Anna Lucasta" company to provide training and experience for persons with talent.

Numerous little theatre groups have sprung up in Southern California to capitalize on the wealth of new talent in this area during recen' years. Hollywood authorities have been generally cool toward some of these ventures because of the opinion they too often lack sound methods.

Already three first rate Hollywood Producer - Directors have inquired about the opening of the new Laura Bowman players because of their confidence in the real showmanship and professional approach of the director.

The first showing will be a production of Oscar Wilde's "Salome," on Thursday, Sept. 16. This will be the first local showing of the classic since the famed Lafayette players, featuring Laura Bowman almost twenty years ago.

Carribean Productions, along the oioular Calypso trend, will also supplement the showing. Calypso authorities from several islands have joined with LeRoi Antoine, authority on Haitian folklore, and the group have already televised some of their productions.

An added feature will be to make regular motion pictures of the Music Town offerings.

Music Town, convinently located at Normandie and Jefferson avenues, has long been a show case and rehearsal center for local talent.

Kid Ory Band to Play 'Benefit' Ball at CIO Hall

Kid Ory and his famous New Orleans Dixieland band will swing out with the Polyphonic music at a Steelworkers defense fund benefit dance to be held in the Los Angeles CIO building, Saturday evening, Sept. 11.

Purpose of the dance will be to raise funds with which to fight the blacklist discharge of Walter Shpak from his job in Kaiser steel plant at Fontana. Shpak's discharge has been credited to a letter sent out by Steelworkers district director Charles J. Smith.

Ory, a trombone master, began to play New Orleans music in 1908, subsequently gave Louis Armstrong his first job. Ory, though 59 years old, is still a spry music-maker.

Satchel Page Is the Biggest Drawing Card of the Year

Jackie Wilson

My good friend John Thomas Gipson (I don't know where he got the name, J.T. Gipson, 'cause John Thomas Gipson is his real alias) asked me to write ta "guest" column for him. That was two weeks ago. "Okay," I said, if you'll fight the next 10-round card for me. I figure one good turn deserves another, but my trainer, "Cannonball" Green, said "If there is anybody I would rather see with a pair of boxing gloves on besides J.T. Gipson, it is J.T. Gipson," so I guess the Gip substituting for me in a 10-round fight is out. But I will try my best to fill the space alloted to me for one week's column.

Now let's see, where shall I start? It's usually customary for a writer to start at the beginning. I'm no writer, so I'll start in the middle.

I have a four-year-old daughter named Marlene, and a very wonderful wife whose name is Doris. They're my inspiration both in and out of the ring. They have been swell to me. So have a thousand other fans and friends, but no one will ever be able to take the place reserved in my heart for Marlene and Doris. They're tops, with a capital "T!"

Since this is a column about myself, I may as well tell you about myself. I started my boxing career back in 1936. As an amateur I engaged in 52 bouts, winning all of them in the United States and lost the only amateur fight when I went over to Germany with the United States Olympic games in '36. I was a member of the U.S. Olympic Boxing team, having won a berth on that squad via the Golden Gloves flyweight title I won in Chicago.

My first professional fight was in 1937. During my professional career (and it's still going on) I had 108 fights, and lost 12. I had won all of my pro fights but 2 prior to entering the Army in March, 1942.

When Uncle Sam sent me a lettter, with the one word, "Greetings," I knew my toughest fight lay ahead. Joe Louis read of my induction into the Army, and asked that I be transferred to the Air Corp in Mitchell Field, N.Y.

The Champ was lining up fighters to take on a world-wide tour of the United States Army camps and overseas fighting fronts, giving boxing exhibitions at the various camps, and wanted me to go along. I was flattered that Joe Louis, the Champ, requested my presence with his entourage.

Also in the groups were Ray Robinson, present welterweight champion of the world, whom I fought twice, dropping a split 10-round decision to him in our first tussle, and losing on a TKO in our 2nd encounter; George Nicholson, Joe's faithful sparring partner, and camp companion; Jimmy Edgar, a top-notch fighter out of Detroit and a few others, mostly reporters, photographers, etc. (Those reporters and photographers get in on everything, huh?)

I gained a world of experience traveling with Joe Louis and his gang. Louis fought exhibitions with Nicholson, while my time was taken up in ring exhibition "battles" with Ray "Sugar" Robinson. I would like to state here and now that Robinson is not only one of the greatest little fighters the ring has ever known, he (in my opinion) is one of the best fighters in the world. The same thing they said about my good friend, Henry Armstrong, can also be said about "Sugar" Ray. Both are great!!!

To go on with the story, we traveled all over Europe, Italy, Germany and all of the fighting fronts (well, anyway, most of them) entertaining the soldiers. Some days we fought "exhibitions." Some days we "fought," period! It was a good show, and an entertaining one all the way through. We even went to Africa, and I swear I met a native over there reading a California Eagle! Don't throw out your chests, you Eagle guys—they were also reading the Daily NEWS!!

Hey, I'm nearly running out of space, but I would like to say a few words in praise of a few people. I have a nice looking heavyweight prospect in "Baby" Dutch Culbertson, who, in my opinion, is one of the hottest young boxing prospects to come up in many a season. Of course, this isn't taking anything away from a fellow named Willie Bean. They both pack wallops in both fists. "Baby" Dutch has had 25 fights, losing 3. That's a nice record, don'tcha think?

I would also like to give a word of praise to my manager, Walter Melrose, who is truly one of the greatest fellows I have met in my life. He's honest, sincere and a friend to everyone. Without Walter in my corner (plus Marlene and Doris, and my ever-faithful trainer, Mr. Green) I doubt if I ever would have had inspiration enough to lace on a glove! It's great to have sincere friends in your corner!

Since John Thomas Gipson asked my opinion on a few things, I will state here and now that Tommy Bell, in my estimation, is the most dangerous puncher his weight in the ring today—when he's in shape! Also, a well-trained George "Sugar" Coster is the closest fighter to Ray Robinson I have ever seen. And don't let anyone tell you Jake LaMotta isn't the toughest middleweight around. That is, when Jake LaMotta's in condition, and he's seldom out of it! I will probably catch the devil from all sides, but I don't think any middleweight is capable of beating a "right" LaMotta!

Young Peter Jackson was a terrific and brutal body punisher, and Hery Armstrong is the greatest fighter (pound for pound) who ever lived. All that, of course, is my opinion.

I arrived in California from Cleveland in 1937. California loved me, adopted me and called me "California Jackie Wilson."

Now we're even, because I love California, and call it HOME!!!

Thanks Gip, for letting me write this column.

P.S. Oh yeah, I have a fight coming up soon.)

Say You Saw It in the EAGLE

JOLTIN' JACKIE WILSON, shown above with Welterweight Champion of the World, Ray "Sugar" Robinson when the two were doing Army duty for Uncle Sam, held the lightweight and welterweight title from 1939-42. Jackie, one of the cleanest fighters in the ring today (both in and out of the squared circle) is in training (not with a rifle, as shown above) but with his dynamite-laden fists in the gym daily for a forthcoming bout with any suitable opponent.

Nice Story, Irv But Did YOU Catch Any Fish?

A fishing party made up of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Oldwine and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Wells, travelled to San Clemente last week to engage in the "sport of kings."

The happenings on the trip are related by Irvin E. Wells, owner of Wells Sporting Goods.

"Having made your reservation in advance, you arrive at San Clemente, about 50 miles from L. A. You walk out to end of the pier and secure your tickets. The boats, the "Mustang" and the "Frisky Mist" leave at 8 a.m. The boat casts off and you cruise about 5 miles south to the first layer of kelp. The anchor is dropped and you drop your lines. The first strike is a 5 lb barracuda; then more strikes of halibut and calico bass. You fish for about an hour and then move further out and drop lines at another kelp bed where you find white sea bass. The weather is fine and the ocean is smooth. The boat cruises around all day, going down the coast a few miles where the fishing is better. Here the salico bass grab your bait as soon as you drop your lines. You have lunch and fish until 4 p.m. The pilot cries, 'Lines up' and you head back to port and back home after an enjoyable day. There is no peace like that of the mind after a day's fishing rewarded with good luck."

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Taking one of the worst beatings in months, Caliente's laymen had plenty to sing the blues for after the last race Sunday night. The boys who lay the prices were clipped hard when nine favorites won out of the twelve races. It was just a parade of choices starting off with the Day Air in the second race. Although in the first race a very close second choice scored over the favored Count Booth, who ran second and that didn't do the books any good. It was really a form player day. Although the longshot players got a break in the seventh race when Boot Black, owned by the only Negro trainer at the border course, scored by three lengths to payoff $44.40 for two. Jockeys Ken Taylor and Georgie Hufnagle scored triples. The daily-double of Day Air, winner of the second race and The Plainsman, victor of the third paid $26.80. While the Quinela backers of the combination of Jay M. and Carmen K received $34.80. Again this Sunday general manager Walter C. Marty has arranged three Labor Day features to support the twelve-race program. "The Labor Day" handicap will be the feature attraction. "The Harvest" secondly, and "The Otono" thirdly. Plans are being made to take care of the largest crowd of the season. General Manager William (Bill) Collier of the greyhound races will leave for Portland and try to secure one of the fastest greyhounds in the world for a match with Beach Comber, the outstanding greyhound at the border course.

This speed burner scored his seventh victory out of eight starts last Sunday night, winning by 12 lengths over some of the best in the country. Now the question is, who will beat him?

Plans are shaping up for the big Shrine night at the border course in September. This will be the outstanding feature of the season, and general manager Collier has ok'd the plans made by your writer for this special event.

Dennis T. William Post Drum and Bugle Corps, conducted by Leader Record, has plenty new surprises in store for this big night. During the last visit when they were the honored guests of manager Collier that made an outstanding hit. Other entertainment will be provided between races on this special nite.

They can say what they want about Ol' Satchel Paige (and some of the rival clubs in the American League do!), but the eccentric long-legged veteran of the mounds has proven to be a virtual gold mine for Bill Veeck and His Cleveland Indians baseball team. Paige is drawing more than Varga. His box office appeal is paying off, and his pitching arm is still one of the best in baseball despite his 44 or more years.

When the season opened, Bob Feller was rated a 25 game winner. This almost insured a Cleveland pennant for the first time since 1940. But Feller fell by the wayside, and it took an ageless Negro pitcher, who has been flipping the ball around for 25 years or more, to get in there and pull Cleveland out of the hole Feller (and a weakened Cleveland team) put them in.

Monday night Paige stopped Washington on seven hits and beat the Senators by a score of 10-1. It was his sixth victory against one loss. The guy has pitched two shut-out games. People pay to see Paige play. He's a great showman, and a master on the mound, and is the biggest draw in sports today.

If a guy can be a star around the age of 44 years, what a superman he would have been at 25! Satchel was born, but when? He won't tell.

Paige is quite a character. He has a White Lincoln, a red Cadillac, a red jeep, a pallid station wagon and an arsenal of over 20 shot guns.

When Veeck brought Paige up from the Negro league someone asked: "Do you think you can last in the majors?" Paige answered bluntly: "Plate's the same size!"

First Negro to Take Part in Football Game in Texas Is Now Standout Back at U. of S.

Regarded by many as the outstanding junior college back in the United States for the past two years, John Finney, 180 pound colored fullback from Compton College, leads the jaysee transfers who reported for the University of San Francisco's opening football practice Wednesday.

lesi FiFnney has been sought by a score of collegiate and professional teams after compiling a brilliant record at Compton that included 22 touchdowns scored during the 1946 and 1947 seasons. He paced the Tartars to 20 victories in 22 games during this period. The wins included a triumph in the 1946 Little Rose Bowl game for the national junior college championship.

The six-foot one-inch Finney succeeded Joe Perry and Bev Wallace, now with the San Francisco 49ers, as an All American J. C. back at Compton. Last year he scored 12 touchdowns and one conversion for 73 points and passed to three other t.d.'s Carrying the ball 143 times, he had a net gain of 979 yards and an average of 6.9 yards a try. He completed 12 pases in 26 attempts for 154 yards and a total rushing and passing individual ofensive record of 1133 yards.

Playing with the Compton team that defeated Tyler, Texas 20-19 in the Texas Rose Bowl last fall he became the first Negro to take part in a regular football contest in Texas.

The 20-year-old speedster, who has run the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat, was named "Most Valuable Player in the City" as a prepster at Los Angeles Jordan High School in 1945. In both 1946 and 1947 he was selected to the Helms Athletic Foundation first string All Southern California Junior Colege team and was "Player of the Year" on the '46 eleven.

Turkey Thompson To Fight for George Moore

Local fistiana listened with quickened interest to an announcement that George Moore veterans prizefight manager had recently purchased the fight contract of heavyweight boxer, Turkey Thompson. Ring fans will welcome the switch in pilots. They have long regarded Moore as one of the nation's most outstanding men connected with boxing.

Turkey Thompson, one of the west's most popular and best developed heavyweights in years, is considered one of the most dangerous hitters in present day boxing. With George Moore in the pilot's seat, the huge boxer can be expected to go a long way. It has been a recognized fact, that the Turkey has not been too smoothly brought along.

Moore, was manager of little Danny Edwards, who years ago came out of the west to set the east and the rest of the nation on fire. It was Moore who first broke the ban against Negro and white boxers fighting each other in New York.

The noted manager was at the helm of Henry Armstrong hen the latter was a tri-title champion. Moore told news men that Abe Green, NBA president had assured him that Turkey Thompson's name would be among the nation's top heavyweight boxers which are to be entered in the elimination tournament, to decide a successor to the championship recently vacated by Joe Louis.

The Bears won their first preseason game of the campaign last Sunday at Pittsburgh, defeating the Steelers by the score of 28 to 14. They tackled the Philadelphia Eagles at Indianapolis yesterday.

Enrique Bolanos

Tommy Stenhouse put up a game fight last Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium against Enrique Bolanos (my personal nomination for the next Lightweight Champion of the World) but it wasn't game enough to withstand the punishment dealt out by Bolanos, who won by a knockout in the 4th round, of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Lauretta Butler's Revue, Sept. 17

All roads will lead to the Embassy auditorium on Friday night, September 17, when Lauretta Butler will stage her 1948 Kiddies Review.

These reviews are always looked forward to as a wonderful demonstration of what those 60 talented and well-trained children can do.

Lauretta Butler and her staff of dance teachers, promise that this year's review will outshine all the previous ones. Costumes are being made by Helen Street and Madam Hudi. The lavish stage settings will be by Mr. Florens Bordeau, who will also direct some of the numbers.

Many movie stars and civic leaders have already made reservations, and have signified their intention of being present.

Volunteers

the drive will be held at the People's Indenendent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma Streets.

Mrs. Dorothy Carter of Pasadena, Mrs. Luzina Wolfe and Mrs. Edward Atkinson are sparking the work of the volunteers who are helping the NAACP staff get the 10,000 membership letters in the mail. Many more volunteers are needed, possibly 1000, in order to adequately cover the city and perform the work necessary to make the drive a success.

Persons who have one or several hours to donate to a worthy cause are asked to contact Mary Alton Cutler, executive secretary at the NAACP offices, 4272 South Central, or at the office of the President, Attorney Thomas L. Griffith Jr., 1105 East Vernon.

Officials of the new community project explain that one of the principal purposes behind the establishing of the Mart revolves around the organizing of the tremendous buying power of more than 250,000 Negro consumers in the Los Angeles area.

It is cited that if Negroes would channel only a portion of the half billion dollars they spend annually in this city into well defined retail outlets, they could make their economic power felt to an amazing degree.

Operators of the Mart stress that they are creating scores of new jobs for Negro salesmen and sales girls, clerical workers and other qualified white collar employes.

Furher, it is emphasized, such controlled purchasing power serves as an ideal weapon with which to blast the current evils of over-charging, price-gouging and discourteous treatment which many Negro customers now are forced to endure.

Principal feature of the Sept. 11 opening will be a program dedicated to Westview Hospital when $10,000 in merchandise will be given to this worthy project. The Westview Women's Guild and other officials will take part in the ceremonies which will get under way at 7 p.m.

the FBI for violation of the Dyer Act.

Sheriff Kubath had recruited young Fox as a "junior deputy" in this campaign against juvenile delinquency. Walter took his appointment seriously and immediately began to study the "wanted" protographs on the walls of the post office at Niles. tI was only a matter of a short time before he recognized Hayman, a discovery he excitedly reported. It took a little while before the police put credence in Walter's discovery, but his persistence won out and the police arrested the culprit.

Said Walter when the glare of publicity searched him out: "I'm just starting on my career, I don't want to be spotted." But the sheriff advised him that it wouldn't hurt to tell the world about his exploits just this one time.

Segregation Fight Continues Without A. Philip Randolph

With A. Philip Randolph, behaving consistently as he did when the March on Washington movement he headed got hot, taking a walk and abandoning the project, the movement to resist military segregation plans to continue.

Randolph abandoned the fight at a time when his critics say it would have been embarrassing for the Republican standard bearers to have it continue.

Nationally, the forces are scattered, but locally under the leadership of Erna P. Harris, the group is moving forward with meetings and demonstrations against segregation of any sort in the armed forces.

Randolph worked up a lather about the March On Washington then dropped the idea. His action in the segregation movement is the second time he has aroused mass support only to leave it hanging without direction.

Demand Mayor Investigate Burns Case

The Los Angeles CIO Council this week called on Mayor Fletcher Bowron to appoint an independent, inter-racial committee to fully investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Herman Burns. The CIO charged that the Police Commission turned charges of brutality against police officers over to the police department itself rather than conducting their own independent investigation.

Herman Burns died the night of August 21 after what numerous witnesses described as a brutal beating by special officers and members of the regular Los Angeles Police force.

The CIO letter further charged that there was an established practice in the police department that an officer could do no wrong particularly in the manhandling of a Negro or Mexican-American member of the community. An end of attempts to establish curfews for adults and the harrassment of law-abiding citizens in committees where minority people live was also demanded by the CIO Council.

Averill Berman Comments On Satch Paige, Jim Crow

the rest of the world continue to tolerate within its borders the many undemocratic institutions and practices that make it suspect abroad and confuse at home.

Several social scientists of note tackled these paradoxes at the National Conference of Social Work which held its 75th annual meeting in New York.

Dr. Pulius Schreiber, director of the National Institute of Social relations, who, as a psychiatrist with a gift for putting across democratic ideas in GI language, presented a penetrating diagnosis of some of our social ills at one of the sessions. The fears, he observed, are mainly the fear of war, fear of the consequences of continued inflation, fear of unemployment, fear of the future.

Professor Edward C. Lindeman of Columbia University chided the social workers for the persisting undemocratic practices and theories in their own field. One of the pillars of democracy is a recognition and tolerance of diversity . . . diversity of background . . . of approaches to a problem . . . E Pluribus Unum . . . out of many, one . . . remains our national motto.

And while we're on this subject, a radio announcer was indignant. "Why I tell you," he blurted out, "if there's anything that gets me mad it's the way our press handles stories. "For instance," I shot back, "Alright," he replied, "Every time a robbery is committed by a Negro, the press is very careful to specify that the culprit is a Negro . . . but when a man like Satchel Paige pitches the most sensational baseball in years, they never mention, or rarely mention the fact that he's a Negro. This is the most disgraceful kind of journalism imaginable. It makes a guy ashamed to talk about a free press."

Now the great Satchell, who is at least 44 years of age, was kept out of the top brackets of organized baseball not because his curves weren't sharp enough or his control faulty, but because he happened to be born a Negro.

It was only the blasting of Jim Crow by Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers that opened the way for the Satchell to finally join the company to which he had obviously been entitled for a score of years.

Now for the record. Paige started as a relief pitcher. No one figured that a man who has been throwing them for about 25 years owuld have the stamina to pitch a full game. But so impressively did he perform in this capacity that Manager Boudreau of the Indians consente dto Paige's plea to let him start a ball game.

From that point on, it's history and great history. First game, a seven hit shutout, no runs. Second game, a five hit shutout. Third game, a three hit shutout, nobody even got to third base. By this time, the fabulous hurler was only three innings away from Babe Ruth's all time record, when the Bambino was a pitcher for the Red Sox, a record of 26 and one-third scoreless innings in a row.

If Satch can do this well when he's way past his prime, what would he have been like in his youth? As he put it, "In the old days, I would have burned 'em in. Today, I have to outcunning 'em. Sure, I throw them just as hard as I used to. Only trouble is they don't come in as fast."

And what about the age old theory that the admission of Negroes would hurt business. In his first three starting games, the Satch drew more than 201,000 paid attendance . . . 78,000 in one game alone. This time Paige set a record for attendance as well as for pitching.

It is a disgrace that Paige was barred from the big leagues for so many years. And equally is it a disgrace that all kinds of prejudice against color, religion, political beliefs still play so many people for sucker. We ought to rear back on our hind legs and do something about all this. I mean elect the kind of people to public office who will take the pledge of allegiance of loyalty to the flag in earnest—liberty and justice for all.

Women Victim

The two girls were taken to separate rooms for questioning. They took the purse of the Negro girl, emptied, and scattered its contents over the table. She was further grilled with seuch questions as "where was she born, when did she come to California, and how long had she lived here. Did she read the California EAGLE?"

After this questioning she was released by two blocks away from the station she was approached by another officer. Apparently he was satisfied with her replies to his inquiries for she was allowed to go on her way.

But Miss Markowitz was removed and taken to Lincoln Heights station where she was questioned by a policewoman, forced to remove her shoes, open her blouse, be fingerprinted, and finally thrown on a filthy mattress, declares the young woman . . . there she remained until she was bailed out under a $50 bond.

Miss Markowitz admitted a traffic violation in that she was driving her car with a temporary license. To this she pleaded guilty and remained in jail until 2:30 the following morning. She was fined $42.

But the officers seemed to resent the fact that a white and Negro girl should ride together, the young women noted.

Is it a crime for Negroes and whites to be friends?

Is this America?

can't stand another straw — it would be too much."

In 1927, Helen Lee Worthing, at the height of her career, married Dr. Eugene Nelson, wealthy and fashionable Negro physician. She withstood the wave of criticism that followed the marriage as did the doctor, but he could not stand her addiction to narcotics and drink. In 1931 their marriage started sledding downhill and in 1935 they were divorced with a storm of sensational headlines throughout the nation to herald the event.

Her death last week in the midst of beer and whisky bottles and squalor found her with a single friend, 39-year-old Jerry Oro, who shared the house with her at 1062 S. Serrano. Sic Transit Gloria!—at 49.

Roach Appointed to High County Posts

Appointment of Supervisor Leonard J. Roach to the vice-chairmanship of two important committees in the County Supervisors' Association of California was announced by his office this week.

Although a county supervisor for a comparatively short time, Roach was selected as vice-chairman of the foremost Public Works Committee. This 16-man committee is one of the most important in the state association.

Vice-chairman of the newly-formed Recréation Committee was given Roach because of his energetic campaign to provide adequate recreational facilities within walking distance of every child.

Wallace Blasts

"Mr. Truman has been called upon to take action in the South against the reactivated Klan, to send the Department of Justice to apprehend the hooded advocates of force and violence, but he has done nothing.

"Mr. Dewey admits that he has the names of 1000 members of the Klan in New York State, but he refuses to put the light of publicity upon them."

Wallace struck at Truman for even mentioned" shrdlSHRDLU the fact that "segregation is not even mentioned" in the President's order calling upon the military to study equal treatment and opportunity for Negroes.

"I use Mr. Truman's words—'providing it does not impair efficiency or morale,'" Wallace said. "Inequality and segregation thus become pillars of efficiency and morale.

"Only an unsegregated equality is true equality.

"My challenge to President Truman to abolish segregation still stands. Mr. Dewey, as the governor of this state, can also take his pen in hand and end segregation in the armed forces. He has been repeatedly challenged to do this. He has repeatedly refused. The challenge to Mr. Dewey still remains."

BOOKS and AUTHORS

the total church property at over $47,000,000.

The most interesting part of the Encyclopaedia to the public outside, as well as inside the church circles, is Part II, which is an arrangement in alphabetical form of paragraphs giving definitions and descriptions of "every important subject connected with the A.M.E. Church" and scores of others for the church and race in general.

To give an example of this, there are listed under "A," the following subjects: Abbreviations, Abandoned Property, Abstinence, Active Bishops, Addresses of Active Bishops, Addresses of General Officers, Administration, Admission into Church Membership, Afflicted Members, Africa, Africa, South, the A.M.E. Church, Cape Annual Conference, Natal, Annual Conference, Orangia, Annual Conference, Transvval, Annual Conference, Zamblesi Annual Conference.

Africa, West, African Methodist Episcopal Church, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, Alternate, The Allen C.E. League, Altar, The Allen University, Columbia, S. C., Almsgiving, American Bible Society, Annual Conference, Annual Conference Boundaries, Antinomianism, Apoorhypha, Apostles Creed, Apostolic Succession, Appeal, Appeals, Triers of, Appointments, Arbitration, Arkansas, Annual Conference, Armminianism, Articles of Association, Articles of Incorporation (A.M.E. Church), Articles of Religion, Assignments of Bishops, Atlantic City, N. J., St. James, Atlanta, Ga., Alexander Memorial A.M.E. Church, Audit, Auxiliaries, Avery Fund.

Besides the above, there is a complete list of all the Negro chaplains (some 400) who have served in the United States army and navy; Negro graduates from West Point; of every Negro elected to Congress; lists of Negroes in legislatures and public offices; Negro population in states, cities, etc.; statistics of all Negro churches; history of A.M.E. Zion, C.M.E. and other denominations. There are more than 1,000 subjects treated. The publishers claim that this is the largest historical and biographical book ever printed by a Negro press, and they have posted $5,000 in cash in the bank to be given to any person or persons who can successfully dispute their claim.

The book is being sold chiefly by agents in the A.M.E. Church.

Imported Laborers Saved From Abuse By Detroit Pastor

DETROIT—Twenty-eight of the 212 men and women recently transported from Savannah, Ga., to a cucumber farm at Turner, Michigan, on false promises of $6 to $12 a day picking cucumbers have been rescued and perhaps saved from shameful conditions, illness or possible death through the good-will acts of the Rev. J. H. Bruce, pastor of Olivett Baptist Church, 554 Winder street and his congregation of about 500 members.

Saturday, August 21, the Olivett Baptist congregation and their dynamic pastor brought 28 men and women, both old and young, from Bay City, Michigan to Detroit, housed them in the basement of the church; provided meals for them. Sunday morning the group were guest of the church during the morning service, at which time plans were formulated to find homes and jobs for every member of the group.

Fanning Asks For Equality Of Treatment

LONG BEACH, Calif.—Michael D. Fanning, Postmaster for the city of Los Angeles, told delegates to the 24th Annual Convention of the world-wide International Association of Y's Men's Clubs this week that we must practice at home the democracy we preach abroad and that the treatment accorded minorities in the United States will be the yardstick by which the sincerity of our preachments abroad will be measured.

Tenney Group to Call Sid Moore, Gallagher Sept. 7

State Senator Jack Tenney and his Un-American Activities Committee once more descend upon Los Angeles with their tentacles. Latest members to be added to the group are Ole Olson of the American Legion county council, elected to serve as permanent chairman of a citizens' committee, and Bessie H. Cooper of San Diego as one of its vice-presidents.

A one day session will be held in Los Angeles September 7. Witnesses who have been subpenaed are Attorney Leo Gallagher, Dr. Sanford Goldner, president of the Jewish Labor Council; William Lawrence, longshoremen's union official; Sidney Moore, congressional candidate on the Wallace ticket; Rev. John J. Hicks and Julian Hicks, active in labor circles.

Wallace Sleeps in Negro Home

DURHAM, N.C.—Henry Wallace made an overnight stop here last Sunday and in doing so, he again demonstrated the sincerity of his inter-racial policy. Instead of the suite previously reserved for him at the Washington Duke hotel, the Progressive Party Presidential candidate and Clark Foreman, national Party Treasurer, spent the night at the home of a Durham Negro. Wallace ordered the cancellation of his hotel reservations when he was informed by the manager of the Washington Duke that Negroes would not be accepted, nor allowed to visit in the hotel.

Mrs. Viola Scott, Wallace's Negro secretary, spent the night in a private home, and five members of the party, three of them white, registered at a Negro hotel.

Lionel Hampton to Play Dance Engagement At Avadon Ballroom

Dance enthusiasts of greater Los Angeles are anxiously awaiting Lionel Hampton's appearance at the Avadon Ballroom, Thursday, Sept. 23. The Hamp and his sensational dance orchestra has appeared in Los Angeles on several occasions, and just last week broke records at a downtown theatre.

This will mark the band's first local dance date here in nearly three years. In addition to the toe-tapping rhythms of the famed swing crew who made "Flying Home" famous (and vice versa), Hampton will have on hand at the Avodon dance his entire stage show featuring Red and Curley; Roland Burton, "Shorts" Davis, Herman McCoy, Lur Lean Harris, Loraine "Betty Bop" Carter and the Hamp-Tones.

Lionel is fronting the greatest band of his career. 17-year-old Billy Williams has been acclaimed one of the most terrific young sax stars heard in the entire Kingdom of Swing. Milton Buckner still plays some of the best and hottest piano around today, and is himself quite an entertainer. Teddy Buckner toots the trumpet in a high-riding style all his own, and the band on a whole is still the Nation's Number One Swing crew.

The dance is three weeks off, but keep the date in mind. Thursday, Sept. 23, Avodon Ballroom, for a non-stop trip to swingdom with Lionel Hampton and his great orchestra.

BERNARD HAMILTON, handsome young actor, is dividing his talents between acting in stage plays and presenting nightclub shows. His venture into the nightclub show producing field is going over with the proverbial bang. His Wednesday night "Talent Show Case" presentation at the Last Word is winning plaudits from the critics. Amateurs who think they have talent take part in the proceedings, and usually do a better job than most professional!

Eddie Vinson Gets More Calif. Dates

Eddie Vinson's spectacular run at the Cricket club here has whet the appetites of other cities in the area for his unique style of interpreting the blues. Four other places have been granted dates, thus delaying the start of Eddie's return East.

At the close of the engagement at the local nightery, where he has been playing for four weeks, Vinson will have a single day of rest and then fill one-night engagements at Sacramento, Fresno, San Francisco and Oakland on successive nights beginning September 9. Acceptance of these dates will necessitate altering his scheduled return trip to New York, which was to have begun next Thursday.

Pedestrians Warned Motorists Advised On Labor Day Care

Motorists and pedestrians holiday weekends in the past have taken more than their fair share of lives thru traffic accidents.

Last year over the Labor Day weekend there were four people killed and one hundred fifty-eight injured in traffic accidents in the city of Los Angeles.

Be on the defensive against accident producing situations, be courteous, drive slowly and sanely and give your right of way to the other driver rather than take a chance of having an accident.

Greatest armada of inboard racing boats to compete in the west will clash on Olympic Marine Stadium, Long Beach Labor Day in the 7th Pacific Coast Sweepstakes regatta.

A 13-event race and aquatic program will start at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 6.

Smallest fleet in five major classes racing will enlist 13 starters, Commodore Louis (Doc) Novotny of the Southern California Speedboat Club said. Top armada lists 23 boats of the dynamic 135-cubic inch hydroplane class.

Actor Socks Senator Jack

Bill Wilkerson, 32-year-old actor who lives in Rodger Young Village, probably has his side of the story and he'll tell it tomorrow when he goes on trial for bopping State Senator Jack Tenney on the noggin early last Sunday morning in the Casino Terrace on Santa Catalina Island.

Tenney has a witness in the person of former Assemblyman Sam Yorty who says Wilkerson accosted Tenney and while uttering a tirade of unprintable invective, conked the Un-American Activities chairman on the bean. Always the gentleman, Tenney is reported to have reacted by saying, "What's the matter with you? I've never seen you before in my life," as he gently massaged his knob.

Foshay Jr. High Has Community Sing

At Foshay Junior High School a committee recently formed a community-wide Community Sing. The opening date is set for Sept. 24, 1948, at Foshay Junior High School Auditorium. Sponsoring the project is the Bureau of Music of the City of Los Angeles. The committtee members appointed are: Mr. B. Mills, temporary general chairman; Mrs. Lela McInn, program chairman; Mrs. Malvina Venerable, social and reception chairman; Mrs. Christeale L. Owens, publicity chairman.

The group is preparing a series of programs which will present outstanding musical organizations and entertainment to the singing public at the weekly gathering.

Tentative plans call for weekly programs. The initial Community Sing will be Sept. 24th. They will be held under the direction of the Los Angeles Bureau of Music. Ralph B. Watson of the Bureau of Music has taken a personal interest in the Foshay Community Sing and the local group has been promised the wholehearted support of the Music Bureau.

A professional director, paid by the Bureau of Music, will be named to lead the singing. The Bureau also will furnish an accompanist for the occasion.

Mrs. Christine L. Owens is publicity chairman of the group.

Fourth In Series Of Chamber Programs

Members of the Quartet are Elizabeth Waldo and Leonard Malarsky, violin; Gareth Nuttycombe, viola, and Alexander Reisman, cello.

Hollywood Bowl Ends Season

Two performances of the famous Puccini opera "Mme. Butterfly" Friday, Sept. 3 and Saturday Sept. 4 will wind up the musical activities for the 27th season of Symphonies under the Stars in Hollywood Bowl.

Hollywood Bowl. The touching story of the little Geisha girl known as "Mme. Butterfly" is one of the most popular in the repertoire of operatic works.

Negotiations Begin

16 Non-Op's and carriers to begin National Negotiations in Chicago, September 8th. The unions wound up conferences on individual carriers many weeks ago and repeatedly pressed the railroads to begin bargaining on a national basis. The carriers had stalled for one reason or another, their chief alibi, was that they were tied up in the long dispute involving three operating Brotherhoods.

Camp For Handicaps Recently Opened

Representatives of medical, educational and recreational groups, as well as professional and civic organizations from all over Southern California were on hand recently to dedicate the new Resident Camp of the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County, located near Crestline in the San Bernardino mountains, officially known as "Camp Paivika," which means "dawn" in the language of the Cahuila Indians and signifies new dawning horizons for the physically handicapped.

PROF. HERMAN
The Astrologer
TO ASSIST YOU IN SHAPING YOUR DESTINIES

THE ART OF PRAISING

Considering that praise, when all's said and done, is the one thing for which every human being works and lives, therefore isn't it surprising that more praise is not used in every day life?

Yet you know how it is with your own life. You go for days without receiving praise, yet craving it all the time. How you expand when it comes! When you honestly praise a man you give him a better opinion of himself. That does not mean you should carry this too far, but day in and day out there is room for much more praise in the life of everyone.

E.M.B. — Dear Prof. Herman: After reading your column in this paper for many weeks, I have decided to write you concerning my problem. Will I ever find happiness with this man I am going with?

ANSWER. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that the man you speak of is married, and has made no attempt to adjust the situation. You are a young woman, your life is before you, discontinue this friendship and spend your time with someone more your own equal, one who is free to offer their friendship and companionship.

B.M.B. I am writing you to ask you about my luck and the future . . . I am so dissatisfied and uphappy.

ANSWER: Probing into the matter I find that many things have happened in the past year to bring about this feeling you have, but, the future holds many interesting happenings. I suggest you look forward to it, and only think of the past as a stepping stone to a much happier life.

R.J.—Will I find employment if I move?

ANSWER. Since you contemplate moving to a much larger city, you will no doubt find that many opportunities will present tehmselves in your particular field of endeavor. You are capable, and should be using your knowledge in its proper sphere.

K.R. Will I be successful in college this fall?

ANSWER. Your success in college will depend greatly upon the amount of time you give to it. It will be necessary for you to study and concentrate upon your work. You will not have a lot of time for socializing. If you are willing to make this sacrifice, there is no doubt that you will be successful in school.

ALONE?
Are your dates few and far between? Are you popular but somehow haven't found the RIGHT ONE? Friendship, Romance, and Happiness eagerly await your seeking. Let me help you find the LOVE YOU LONG FOR! Personal introductions. Socials. Refreshments served.

Wallace Women Plan Strategy At Garden Tea

It was a Garden Tea for the Women-for-Wallace in the 15th Congressional district Monday afternoon at 4001 S. Harvard blvd. Preluding the program with group singing led by Miss Estell Rozanne, the popular tunes of the Founding Convention in Philadelphia made a big hit with the ladies.

Mrs. Jean Sieroty, treasurer of the Southern California branch of the Progressive Party, was the featured speaker of the afternoon. She gave an interesting talk on her impressions of the Philadelphia Founding Convention.

Miss Frances Williams, vice-chairman of Women-for-Wallace in this state and candidate to the Assembly from the 63rd district, spoke on "How to Work at Home." Remarks were given by Mrs. Marjorie Robinson and Mrs. W. Troy, chairman of the program.

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

Unless our present interest is centered in such matters as this called to the attention of President Truman by Harold L. Ickes, we are marking time, but out of step with the universal movement for peace in the world and freedom of the people from ancient Africa to so-called free America.

Mr. Ickes writes:

"My Dear Mr. President: On the 29th of last month, in a federal court in the Panama Canal Zone, Joseph Sachs was condemned to nine months' imprisonment at hard labor. A veteran of World War II, Mr. Sachs had been so rash as to volunteer for service in a struggle against racial discrimination in the federal administration of the Zone. He was charged with having libeled United States District Attorney Daniel E. McGrath.

"As you may know, the word 'silver' has come to be used by the government itself to designate the Zone's non-citizen workers—chiefly Negroes, native Panamanians and West Indians — distinguished from the 'gold' citizen workers who are, with few exceptions, white.

According to testimony given in a hearing before an Appropriations subcommittee of the Senate during the last regular session of the Congress, the latter receive four to five times the pay of the 'silver' workers, for the same work, in addition to better housing, commissary and recreation facilities and other benefits.

Mr. Ickes then goes on to point out that about two years ago the United Public Workers of America, CIO, began to organize the "silver" workers of the Canal Zone. Sachs was the man assigned to head the organizational campaign. He entered energetically into the struggle for a settlement of the grievances resulting from race discrimination, made more urgent by the hardships due to inflation.

A systematic campaign was also launched by McGrath, however, to destroy all that Sachs and his fellow-workers were attempting to do. He said that he had evidence to substantiate charges that Sachs and the other officials of the Union were "swindlers and embezzlers, living off the backs of the silver workers."

Sachs, in a radio broadcast, denied this charge, of course, and told McGrath to "put up or shut up." McGraths' answer was an action for criminal libel

Jack Tenney Kangaroo Session Makes Mockery of Justice

The State un-American Activities Committee, headed by State Senator Jack B. Tenney, held a kangaroo court session in the assembly room of the State building last Tuesday.

Tuesday's session was held to investigate the California Labor School's Southern California branch here, and, from all appearances, as many of the Henry Wallace supporters as the Committee could conveniently handle.

This writer sat across and directly in front of Senator Tenney, where she could look deep into his steady blue eyes, and watched a snarl like a moving shadow floating across a blue horizon, to mar what could be a handsome face which darken the window of what should be an open mind and a generous soul.

Psychologizing the situation and the mere man who heads this State interim committee and its tactics in dealing with the citizens called before it for investigation of un-American activities, one could ask, "Is this a government by the people and for the people?"

The parade of witnesses called before the Committee was somewhat in this order: Julian Hicks, director of the local branch of the California Labor School; William S. Lawrence, regional director of the striking International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union; Raphael Konigsberg, social worker; Sidney Moore, international representative of the

Wiley King Free, Not to Return To Road Gang

Grateful to All Who Aided Fight

OAKLAND — Wiley King thanked thousands of newfound friends today for their efforts in winning his freedom.

"I am so happy I don't know what to say," King told Hursel Alexander, Wiley King Defense Committee chairman, the day following his release from the Oakland city jail.

"I want to thank everyone. No one will ever know how I really felt when I was freed. I don't know how many folks or organizations. I know there were many. It seems everyone was doing something. I was praying. Somebody else was praying and a heap of people were working," the 45 year old Negro grocer said.

"I want to thank Governor Warren. I want to thank the churches. I have always been a church man. I want to thank the

Call to Organize Against Brutality

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Words cannot explain my sincere appreciation to you for publishing my recent letter as you see my point is to arouse the Negro people to action. So I am again pleading with the Negro people to organize immediately in this fight against police brutality. This outrage must be stopped.

You (the people) have disregarded your human rights long enough. This beating, kicking, and killing of defenseless Negroes has gone too far so it's up to you and me to put a stop to it.

I demand that every Negro man and woman join or support the NAACP to fight this monster. A fight for your human rights is a fight for your very lives. I am pleading that every Negro in this community join in this fight.

You see, this is not a one-man job. We must organize as one. We must cling to each other. Oh, yes, cling onto one another regardless of our social rating Negro for Negro. We have had enough. We must have some action.

I am hoping that my plan will bring out some of that gallant and courageous leadership we had during the recent primary election. Where is it now? I am pleading for you to come on out and give us part of your time. We need your leadership. Don't gripe about it, you know what to do.

I am pleading with you to lead this fight. We are waiting for you and will support you. It's sure to pay off in the end. It's not too late. You can start with us now. Come on out and help fight this monster. You know where the fault lies. What do you propose?

What are you waiting for when those of us who are less fortunate are being tortured to death, living like cattle waiting to be slaughtered. Who's next, you or I? Would you like to meet a robber or a cop in the dark? Either way your life would be at stake. Tell your friends, your neighbors, even strangers. Tell every Negro you meet to join or support the NAACP in this fight to stop the abuse upon Negroes. With your support we can put a stop to this unholy terror.

I intend to be heard on this matter if I have to canvass every Negro from Main to Malibu. I am willing to dedicate my very life to this cause. Action, ACTION is my humble plea. Will you help, and you?

Yours respectfully,

CIO Council in Protest Against Army Lieutenant

Insists Commander Reprimand Officer

The Los Angeles CIO Council has demanded that the commanding officer of Fort MacArthur investigate, with a view toward taking disciplinary action against a U.S. Army Lieutenant, who reportedly is actively engaged in organizing restrictive covenant group in the Compton area. According to reports made to the CIO Council by members, the lieutenant, Robert Berryhill, is organiizng a group called the Compton Park Veterans Association, and he has been outspoken in stating the purpose of the organization.

Berryhill is quoted by CIO members as saying the purpose of the organization "is to keep Niggers out of here."

The CIO Council has written a letter to Berryhill's superior proving with photostatic copies of bulletins sent out by the

Wallace Assails Exploitation Of South by Northern Bosses

(NOTE: Part of Radio Address Delivered in Birmingham By Henry Wallace)

Will you join me in prayer?

"Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil . . ."

My fellow Americans, I am happy to say this daily prayer with you tonight here in the great state of Alabama. We of the Progressive Party believe in that prayer. We believe the kingdom of heaven can be manifested here on earth, if all men treat each other as sons of God. We believe that God is truly our Father; not my father or your father, but the Father of all mankind.

Our party therefore fights against all injustice — against economic and political injustice. We fight against all forms of tyranny over the mind of man. We daily fight for free speech and free assembly . . . free from police or any other intimidation.

It was interesting to me today that in the fine Alabama communities to the north — in Decatur and Huntsville and Guntersville—which have benefited from the TVA we had a courteous reception and meetings of free citizens in the best American tradition.

But when we reached Gadsden and Birmingham and Bessemer, cities which are dominated by northern steel corporations, we could not hold

Board of Ed Has New Idea For Loyalty

The Board of Education will not subject its teaching and other personnel to a loyalty test after all. Following an ill-tempered announcement of the tests during a recent public hearing before the Board, a storm of public protest arose, and the Board instinctively sensitive around election time, came up with a new approach.

The new idea is to have the teacher or employee sign a statement that he had not repudiated

HPA Meets

The Home Protective Association will meet Friday, Sept. 10, at 8 p.m. in the apartment of Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, 4073 South Central ave., editor and publisher of The California Eagle and president of the Association.

The HPA was organized several years ago to fight restrictive covenant cases, especially that of the Henry Laws family. Since those cases have been settled by the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, declaring restrictive covenants to be unconstitutional, the HPA has decided to devote its energies to fighting police brutality, especially that of Herman Burns, beaten to death recently by two policemen while his brother, handcuffed, was forced to look on.

Grand Jury Investigation Fizzles Out

The Criminal Complaint Committee of the Grand Jury has taken a very quiet powder on the matter of investigation of the primary vote in the recent 14th Congressional District elections. While the criminal aspect of the so-called investigation is closed, the Grand Jury is continuing study of the matter with a view toward recommending changes in conduct of elections. The Legisla-

Reno Kids Not Near Fire; 'Confessions' Won by Threat

RENO, Nev.—Reno's most disastrous fire which occurred Sunday morning, August 15, and which was reported as having been started by two Negro boys, is still in the realm of conjecture, so far as the perpetrators are concerned.

According to the police and the fire departments, the two boys, Robert Matthews, aged 8, and Theodore Holland, aged 9, started the fire which killed five men and injured more than 1 persons, while they were playin with matches in the basement the building which exploded.

The children confessed doin so, according to the police r port.

Reward Offered for Arrest Of 'Race' Covenant Attackers

The American Civil Liberties Union has established a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest, conviction, and imprisonment, for not less than six months, of the first party or parties found guilty of a misdemeanor or felony against the person or property of any member of a minority race in the process of taking possession of a residence in Southern California.

The offer is a result of hoodlumism at 508 Pear Street, Compton, as well as of reported attempts to prevent King Cole from exercising his constitutional rights to occupy property recently purchased off the Wilshire District near Beverly Hills.

The Union calls attention to the fact that in handing down its decision outlawing enforcement of restrictive covenants the Supreme Court of the United States again emphasized that "equality in the enjoyment of property rights was regarded by the framers of that Amendment (14th) as an essential precondition to the realization of other basic civil rights and liberties which the amendment was intended to guarantee."

Since restrictive covenants were of themselves an evasion of constitutional guarantees and specific declarations of the highest court, the Union contends that good Americans will help to make our democracy effective and thus end the sneering criticisms of other natoins by quickly recognizing the full equality of citizens of all races in the enjoyment of property rights.

Dawson Under Fire by Former Aide on Segregation Charges

CHICAGO—An exclusive story in the September 4 issue of the Chicago Star, which alludes to Representative Dawson as the self-appointed leader of the nation's Negro Democrats, pointblankly accuses the Chicago Congressman of "playing a game of segregation and selling his own people down the river."

Basing its charges on information gained from John H. Young III, former editor of Dawson's paper, the Voice, and formerly a political writer on the Chicago Defender, the Star article indicates that the Chicago Defender and its publisher, John Sengstacke, work hand-in-glove with Dawson's sell-out policy.

Young, angered by the fallu of the Democratic National Co mittee to fully integrate Negroe into its program, accuses Dawso and Sengstacke of going alo with the discriminatory progra and he asserted he will call upo the voters to defeat Dawson the polls, and work with Dem cratic leaders to have the incu bent Congressman's name wit drawn as the Democratic nom nee.

AFL Representatives Pledge Support for Wallace-Taylor

Two hundred representatives of A.F.L. and I.A.M. industry committees for Henry Wallace in '48 assembled at a statewide conference in Fresno recently.

The representatives came from 12 counties and from all the large cities in the state.

Reports delivered at the conference by the representatives clearly indicated that Henry A. Wallace and Glen Taylor enjoy tremendous support among the rank and file union members. Charles Gricus, business representative of Miscellaneous Union No. 110, A.F.L., San Francisco, delivered a 20-minute report, exposed the dual character of the Republican and Democratic parties. He referred to the sham battles between the two parties on such questions as the high cost of living and foreign policy, as a "mockery and fraud."

His report further stated that Truman is no less an evil than Dewey. Mr. Gricus also stated that Truman's failure to lead the American people in a protest against the Taft-Hartley Law clearly showed that his veto of said act was a mere political gesture. He concluded by stating that though some of the top leaders of the labor movement may endorse Truman or Dewey, they in no way represent the true feeling of the rank and file of labor.

The conference went on record demanding repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, re-establishment of price controls, and an extensive housing and slum clearance program.

Dr. H. M. Bond Lincoln Prexy Back in U.S.A.

Dr. Horace M. Bond, President of Lincoln University (Pennsylvania) has just returned to the United States from England, where he served as a staff member of the UNESCO Seminar which was conducted for six weeks.

The scene of the Seminar was near London in the old ducal residence of Ashridge, which is now used as an adult education center for the Conservative Party. The Ashridge Seminar was one of three conducted by the Educational Division of UNESCO this summer. The other two were located at Lake Success in New York and Prague in Czechoslovakia.

Dr. Bond was one of the three staff members, and he served as chairman of the group on "Social Understanding". As a staff member his trip was financed by UNESCO, which also paid him an honorarium. In the Lincoln President's particular group, sixteen participants were enrolled from fourteen countries. The two other Americans in the group were college presidents from New Jersey and Kentucky.

Dr. Bond reports that language was very obviously a great barrier to "international understanding."

This marked the first time it is believed that Negro youth have been chosen for this program. Not So Lucky Cab Co. Folds

(C.N.P.B.—A taxicab company dreamed of by a number of Negro war veterans nearly four years ago, disolved into nothingness here last week when more than a dozen members operating under the firm name of Lucky Cab Company, paid $10 fines in Municipal Court following a plea of guilty under a new city ordinance that prohibits operating of unlicensed taxicabs.

Several months ago, Lucky Cab Company started to operate on a non charging basis. The customer merely offered the operator a gratuity for taking them to a destination.

However, an ordinance was passed, making it unlawful for a person to transport another anywhere for a consideration of any type. Sporters, both at the taxi office and in the cars as passengers, soon caught up with the attempt to circumvent the law.

Atty. H. Leonard Richardson, who appeared for the defendants, succeeded in getting the men off with a $10 fine. Among the defendants were, Eddie Truner, James Hackett, Herman Lewis, Perry Mayfield, Lovell Salon, Curtis Thomas, Ottis Potts, Willie Roberts, Silas Marshall and Roosevelt Drain.

The drinking habits of children are becoming increasingly alarming, stated Henry N. Wallace, administrator of the Childrens Hospital in Los Angeles, this week.

During the past three months small tots have been hospitalized for imbibing such "refreshments" as fly spray, turpentine, lye, arsenic, ant syrup, paint thinner and gasoline, a survey at the hospital revealed.

"Parents are unwittingly assuming the role of modern 'Lucretia Borgias' by their carelessness in allowing these poisons to be within easy reach of small, searching hands," Wallace said.

Community Chest Report

$7,550,000 to maintain 159 health and welfare agencies is the goal set for the fall Community Chest campaign. Asking all-year pledges to meet the combined "rock-bottom" needs of these agencies which serve 35 towns and cities in the Los Angeles area, campaign cairman Edward R. Valentine pointed out that without the combined Red Feather drive, these essential services would have to conduct 159 different campaigns. "This amount," said Valentine, "provides only the absolute minimum on which the community's health and welfare serfices can operate. Furthermore, the Cest method of consolidating appeals means that $1,000,000 more of contributors' money goes into service than if wasted on 159 separate fund-raisng drives."

A last minute addition of $150,000 was made to the goal in response to the request of the armed forces that the USO be reactivated to serve both new draftees and veterans' hospitals.

The over-all goal was determined by vote of te volunteer Board of Directors of the Welfare Federation of Los Angeles Area in consultation with the Budget Committee and members of the Campaign Committee.

"Increased pledges, spread over many months, will be needed throughout the community." Valentine said, "to meet higher costs and much needed extension of services to negelcted areas." He called attention to the fact that the Chest for two years past has raised amounts which proved inadequate to provide sufficient services.

In addition to USO, this year, Blue Bird Camp (for hard of hearing children) has been added, and also Boys Clubs of America and National Social Work Assembly. Two local loan fund agencies, as well as two local psychiatric services, have been merged, while foreign relief (whic conducts its own campaigns) has been eliminated from the Chest.

Feeding, care and shelter of children in local institutions, foster homes, and day nurseries, care for sick and crippled children in hospitals, and the thousands of others who daily seek attention in clinics to prevent more serious illnesses will be given priority this year, Valentine said.

Rubye Jackson Finds One World Experiment Works

Rubye Jackson, UCLA student, returned home last week from Watkins Glen, New York, that if an educational experiment in the world would pattern their affairs after, it could truly be one world.

Miss Jackson, through the Lisle Fellowship, learned with students from other countries and states to devise a realistic approach to one problem of living in one same world. Together they lived in miniature world communities in summer camps, which are operated on a coopefative basis and conducted by mature adult leaders.

Thirty different states and ten Protestant countries were represented by 50 college students in each summer unit. There were 20 different vocational interests and faiths to be found among its members.

The Lisle Fellowship is a conference of students which meets each summer to study and work on projects related to world-mindedness and Christian brotherhood. Each weekend the conference breaks up into small teams which go to nearby communities to carry out in a practical way things they've been studying.

One weekend Rubye Jackson represented California on a team with Rosalind Murray of Denver, George Naish of Oklahoma, Yung Chou of China, Cliff Matthews of Florida, and Jolipa Arraellano of Cuba to discuss world-mindedness. This marked the beginning in a series of discussions to acquaint the community with problems arising out of social environments.

This International Institute of Human Relations, now in its twelfth year, has proven that people of varied backgrounds can live together through understanding by direct relatoinships sharing experiences and points of view in One World or none at all. Miss Jackson is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joanna Pettaway of Los Angeles.

Protest Against Burns Killing

Police brutality to minority groups in Los Angeles must be met by organized citywide action that will make the Burns case the last of its kind in our city. This was the consensus of a community meeting, held last Thursday evening, at the Western Avenue Christian Church, to protest the brutal killing of Herman Burns.

Voting to join the Justice for Burns Citizens Committee, the 120 persons present went on record pledging financial and active personal support for protests direct to Mayor Bowron which are being organized at Independent Progressive Party headquarters in the 15th C.D., 1542 W. Jefferson, Phone RE 11805.

Chaired by Frances E. Williams, Independent Progressive Party candidate for the State Legislature, 63rd A.D., and sponsored by 9 civic, interracial and labor organizations, the community group heard John Burns, brother of Herman, tell of witnessing the police clubbing and beating, last August 21, outside of the La Veda Ballroom, that led to his brother's death.

"We are gathered here because we are indignant and intolerant of this kind of police brutality," Miss Williams declared.

Miss Faye Blake, coordinating council of the Independent Progressive Party, 15th C.D., told the assemblage: "Tomorrow it can be you—unless we do something about police brutality together and in an organized way."

Miss Blake reported that 20 Los Angeles organizations have formed a "Justice for Burns Citizens Committee" which will demand an investigation of the case by the Mayor, the City Council and the Board of Police Commissioners.

Frank Lopez, representing the Mexican-American 51st A.D. and the Amigos de Wallace, volunteered the support of his organizations.

Rev. C. B. Spears, pastor of the Western Avenue Christian Church, read a resolution, unanimously approved by the audience, asking that Mayor Bowron institute an immediate cleanup of the police department, that police brutality in Los Angeles be investigated by the city council and the board of police commissioners and that officers responsible for the death of Herman Burns be suspended and prosecuted.

Among citizens volunteering to represent the community on the delegation to the mayor were Dr. Leroy Peyton, Dr. W. Z. Gordon, the Rev. Spears, representatives of Carpenters Local 634 and other citizens. Vernon Robinson, head of the County Democratic Committee ofr the 63rd A.D., offered to telephone protests direct to city councilmen.

Organizations sponsoring the meeting, of which Frances Williams was chairman, were:

Independent Progressive Party, 15th C.D., Hollywood Women's Council, Junior Hollywood Women's Council, American Veterans Committee, Civil Rights Congress, International Workers' Order, Emma Lazarus Chapter, J.P.F.O., Congress of American Women and Carpenters Local 634.

Labor Parade Quiet, Men Demand More

San Pedro was in the spotlight Monday when the great Labor Day parade marched along its streets.

The parade was somewhat different from the usual Labor Day parades. There were no bands. No whopping it up. Just plain people in plain clothes, except for the queens.

Each local union had a queen. Some more than one. Here again was something different. In the parade of queens, there was America as she should be, represented by all the different races—A charming blonde, a beaming dark-eyed Mexican-American, a bashful little Chinese girl of the Newspaper Guild, a reporter on The Daily News; and to soften the scene a chocolate-brown beauty representing the Federal Workers.

Silently the workers of America marched through the streets of San Pedro last Monday, where the Longshoremen are on strike, demanding a wage for their labor that will enable them and their families to live like decent citizens.

The parade has pased on. September 6, 1948, is done. The workers have gone home to eat sparingly. High prices will not permit them to do otherwise. They will rest a bit before starting another day's grind with another hope that the bosses may see in their demand for higher wages the fulfillment of the Master's decree: All men are created equal. Hence all have like desires, and hopes.

CINCINNATI — William H. Gray, President of Florida A. & M. College, Tallahassee, exhorted Negroes to "aggressive and positive agitation" in order to achieve their full rights under the American Constitution and criticised some Negro educators and business people who he charged are "controlled by the white community."

Dr. Gray was addressing the Civil Liberties meeting of the 49th annual convention of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World recently when he urged his audience to align itself with individuals and groups who "dare proclaim their belief in equal rights and privileges."

Speaking on the same program, Hugh E. MacBeth, attorney of Los Angeles, assistant grand legal advisor of the fraternal order, reminded his listeners that Negroes hold the balance of power in a number of pivotal northern states. He noted that "in at least 100 congressional districts we can wield deciding political influence."

New Traffic Signal At 51st and Central

Councilman Kenneth Hahn, in his program of providing better safety facilities to the residents of his district, announced that his request for a traffic signal at 51st and Central has been approved.

Councilman Hahn requested the traffic signal on Central Avenue because of the heavy traffic and at the present time there is no signal between Vernon Avenue and 55th Street on Central Avenue.

"If a signal were placed here," he told the Police Commission, "residents could cross the street in safety and it would slow the traffic on Central Avenue."

The signal will be installed and working within a few weeks.

Appeal Ruling Of Elmer Carter In SCAD Action

NEW YORK—Eeven employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, charging discrimination by the company and the Brotherhood of Railroad Shopcrafts of America, today appealed to the New York State Commission Against Discrimination for a reversal of a decision of Commissioner Elmer A. Carter dismissing the original complaint.

Mr. Carter, who conducted the investigation, handed down a decision on July 13 rejecting the complaint on the grounds that he had been unable to find "probable cause to credit the allegations" of discrimination. Seeking a reconsideration of this ruling, the workers appealed for a hearing before three members of the commission in order to present evidence and oral argument.

Junior Fair at Pomona Sept. 17 - Oct. 3rd

POMONA—This year, as never before, the accomplishments of youth will be enshrined at Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 17 to Oct. 3. through the medium of its magnificent "Junior Fair," an institution unique in that it is a complete fair within a fair. With over 600 different classifications of exhibits displayed in 14 acres of space it will be a major feature of the huge county exposition, according to Superintendent Charles D. Reed.

Six completely renovated barracks, souvenirs of the fair grounds' wartime service, have been equipped with cots and pads and kitchen facilities, and invitations have been extended to Future Farmer, Four-H and Scouting groups in distant areas to make reservations during the exposition's 17 days. Friday, Sept. 24, the Future Farmers will hold their traditional Camp Condee and the barracks will be filled to capacity.

Four-H and Future Farmer clubs will each have a division of their own in the junior fair where they will enter livestock, agricultural products, feature exhibits, domestic arts and all other examples of their varied activities.

Judging teams under the guidance of experts will give the boys instruction in the fine points of livestock. Special attention will be given this year to farm mechanics and agriculturarl equipment, made by the Future Farmers in their agricultural classes. Their accomplishments in blacksmithing, carpentry and other trades allied to agriculture will be on display.

Two stages have been provided in the junior fair building for demonstration of scouting activities, and hundreds of Boy Scouts will take an active part in camporals, drills and other demonstrations. The Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Woodcraft Rangers, and numerous model clubs will also be adequately represented.

Reed, who has served as an Assistant Superintendent of the Junior Fair before the war during his student days at Bonita High School, will be aided by members of Vocational Agriculture classes from Mt. San Antonio College.

WALLACE ADDISON, County Central Committeeman of the 44th Assembly District for the Independent Progressive Party saw his chance to demonstrate against the mounting cost of living recently when it came during the picketing of the Grand Central Market in downtown Los Angeles. Draped in a barrel that tells its own story, Addison joined with the women of the IPP to picket against the rising cost of meat in particular, and almost everything else in general. Sidney Moore, IPP 14th District Congressional candidate stated that he and the IPP would continue, "to fight with the people to stop inflation and roll prices back now to keep us all out of a barrel." Miss Melissa Jefferson, County Central Committee member and captain of the pickets said the shopping bag idea is going over in the whole 44th A.D. Many stores have agreed to sell them and they can be purchased at IPP Headquarters at 315 S. Hill. Pickets in the line around Grand Central Market carried banners that bore such slogans as, "Red Meat Not Red Herring," and the shopping bags proclaim, "Roll Prices Back Now—Vote For Wallace In November."

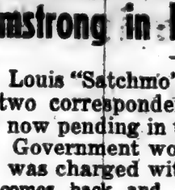
Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong was named last we of two correspondents in a Washington, D. C. d suit now pending in the District court.

Government worker O. N. Ward, of 1436 W. W., was charged with desertion by his wife, Gertru he comes back and countered with a charge of adultery, and named "Pops" and a Hollie McMurty as corespondents.

Mrs. Ward's complaint was filed on Aug. 16., and states that her ever-loving husband whom she married for better or for worse has been giving her the worse end of the marriage deal, and beat her on numerous ocassions, cut her lips, gave her a black eye, kicked her where women don't like to be kicked and told her to get out of the apartment which she did.



She wants alimony, counsel fees, court-costs, and some of the furniture acquired during their married life.

Ward figures that's asking too much and wants the court to deny his wife's motion. The Thackreys in N. Y. Post Argue Merits of Candidates

Dorothy S. Thackrey and T. O. Thackrey, co-editors and co-publishers of The New York Post, are engaged in a friendly dispute concerning the merits of the three major candidates for the presidency. Dorothy is opposed to Wallace, while T. O. supports him.

Mr. Thackrey, in an editorial, lists some of his reasons for supporting Wallace, and opposing Truman and Dewey.

Says Mr. Thackrey: "Mr. Truman's lamentable failure to keep his own and his party's specific pledges to Israel prejudices me deeply against him. His neglect of the United Nations and devotin to all-out military control of our foreign policy and domestic policy; his clean sweep of progressives from public office; his ineptness on inflation and what appears to me hypocrisy in this and other fields of policy make it impossible for me to support him.

"I regard Mr. Dewey as a slightly more able, more cautious, and even more conservative Harry Truman. For Mr. Truman's 'get tough' policy, he contemplates a Dewey-Dulles policy of 'get tougher.' Where Mr. Truman says he wants government controls to halt inflation, after doing nothig to keep them when he had them, Mr. Dewey doesn't even say he wants them!

"Mr. Wallace has demonstrated a deep devotion to the kind of expanding democracy I believe in, both at home and abroad.... I am unalterably opposed to the growing tendency of those particular groups (who believe in the boom and bust cycle and who prefer sovereignty enforced by military means at home and abroad) to take control of our economy and of our political and administrative machinery. . . . Mr. Wallace is opposed to this concentrating power. I am on his side and proud of it."

Mr. Thackrey then lists many of the progressive features of the new party which Wallace stands for: the curbing of inflation; housing; peace; civil liberties "rapidly disappearing under a rule of hysteria and fear."

"I'm for putting a stop to the inquisition," says Mr. Thackrey, "and for a return to political liberty as a guiding principle. . . . I refuse to be intimidated by the Red bogey-man."

The man of the house seems to have the edge in this family political quarrel. All Dorothy has to offer in rebuttal is the weak argument of "Communism," which T. O. says he doesn't fear. The California Eagle feels this same result will occur in many family disputes before the election campaign is over.

Charles Young Post Band Best In State

DETROIT—The Charles Young Post No. 77 band is still the State champions of the American Legion bands. ARTHRITIS

RHEUMATISM—NEURITIS—MISERY

Arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis and other miseries can never be corrected until the blood stream is cleansed of toxic poisons. Putrefaction germs produce highly poisonous toxins, many of which closely resemble the venom of snakes and minute quantities are capable of producing the most alarming and distressing symptoms. A good example of the ill effects of these poisons is expressed by contact with odors arising from a dead mouse in a closet or under the floor. Although greatly diluted with air may give rise to headache, nausea, loss of appetite and other unpleasant effects. If breathing these diluted poisons will produce unpleasant effects, how much more grave must be the effects when through the retention within the body (constipation) of these foul substances their poisonous contents are sucked up into the blood and circulated through the body. In other words, when a person through constipation throws off through the lungs, kidneys and skin a large part of the poisonous matter which ought to have been discharged through the bowel, how great must be the mischief done. The ultimate effects are colitis, biliousness, gastritis, gall stones, skin diseases of various sorts, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, apoplexy, paralysis, nervousness, insomnia, mental depression and even insanity. Every case of constipation is curable."

ASTHMA

HAY FEVER—CATARRH—SINUS

ASTHMA cannot be corrected until the cause is removed. The cause first should be understood. Difficulty in breathing, may be the result of toxic poison being carried to the lung tissue by the blood. This poison irritates the mucous glands causing them to throw up a mucous barrier. The excess mucous causes a lack of oxygen and an excess of poison gas, the final result is an oxygen starvation of the entire body. Imagine a sponge soaked in paste or glue. When the patient, through faulty metabolism throws into the blood stream waste matters that should be thrown off through the bowel or kidneys, the result is that these undigested foods pollute the blood stream and cause these toxins to be delivered to the weak part of the body. When bronchial mucous is present in the lungs the treatment, while slower, is none the less certain. Long standing cases seem to heal as quickly as those just beginning. Don't think you are an exception because you have tried all other methods.

DIABETES

KIDNEY STONES—BLADDER—GALLSTONES

Cases should be definitely understood by both patient and Doctor, and immediate steps taken to remove the cause. The cause of sugar diabetes is due to an insufficient production by the pancreas of a substance known as insulin. This substance is capable of burning (oxidizing) glucose, a form of sugar which the blood carries throughout the body to produce heat and energy. Since glucose supplies about three-fifths of the body's food requirements it is easily seen how disastrous to health a partial inability to utilize this form of food can be.

The disease usually develops so slowly that no symptoms are noticed for months or even years. The most typical complaints are: Increase in the amount of urine, considerable thirst, weakness and loss of weight, general itching of the skin, parched mouth, the appetite is variable, at times excessive, at others, absent. The diabetic also complains of feeling very weak and languid, having headaches, is irritable, and constipation is the rule. Certain complications are common and they are: Boils, eczema, cataracts, ringing in the ears and acidosis.

Autointoxication, toxic poisons, must be corrected first before the diabetes itself will respond. A non-function of the pancreas and liver always exist together with the impacted bile in ducts and gall bladder. This disease results in an effort of the body to eliminate waste, mucous and toxemias.

GALLSTONES

ULCERS, CONSTIPATION, GAS PAINS

Heroic efforts should be made to remove gallstones without removing gall bladder by surgery. GALLSTONES should be understood. Gall stones are thickened stagnated bile accumulations which pack hard and block the gall ducts.

When the bile stops flowing one finds a tender spot between the navel and ribs, a coated tongue, yellow skin, nausea, sharp or colic pains.

Many patients suffering with gall bladder disorder, come to us believing they have ulcers, gastritis, etc. We find that many of these cases have been improperly diagnosed as ulcers by other doctors. Many such cases have responded immediately to our treatment of gall bladder derangements and lose all symptoms in a few days. Gall stones have been removed from many of patients without surgery.

INCURABLES

We have had many so-called incurables, visit our offices after having examinations, and X-rays time on end that did not disclose any organic disease and where the doctor making the diagnosis was baffled as to the cause of the patient's condition. We have found that the patient was suffering from some form of self poisoning as a result of faulty metabolism, the poisons not being eliminated through the usual channels necessary.

To correct many so-called INCURABLE diseases, the cause must be removed and can only be removed when the cause is known.

EXAMPLE:— "Putrefaction germs produce highly poisonous toxins, many of which closely resemble the venom of snakes and minute quantities are capable of producing the most alarming and distressing symptoms. A good example of the ill effects of these poisons is expressed by contact with odors arising from a dead mouse in a closet or under the floor. Although greatly diluted with air may give rise to headache, nausea, loss of appetite and other unpleasant effects. If breathing these diluted poisons will produce unpleasant effects, how much more grave must be the effects when through the retention within the body (constipation) of these foul substances their poisonous contents are sucked up into the blood and circulated through the body. In other words, when a person through constipation throws off through the lungs, kidneys and skin a large part of the poisonous matter which ought to have been discharged through the bowel, how great must be the mischief done. The ultimate effects are colitis, biliousness, gastritis, gall stones, skin diseases of various sorts, Bright' diseae, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, apoplexy, paralysis, nervousness, insomnia, mental depression, and even insanity. Every case of constipation is curable."

SKIN DISORDER

Eczema; Psoriasis, Acne, Ulcers etc., cannot be corrected unless the cause is removed.

ECZEMA: is caused by irritants in the fluids which seek outlets thru the skin and mucus membranes because of the inability on the part of the sufferer to throw off waste matters through the bowels. How grave must be the effects through retention within the body of foul substances, some as poisonous as the venom of snakes, when sucked up into the blood stream and circulated through the body. In other words, when a person because of constipation, throws off through the lungs, kidneys and skin, a large part of the poisonous matter which ought to have been discharged through the bowel, how great must be the damage done.

PSORIASIS: must be treated the same as eczema as it is a white, mother of pearl scaley condition which forms a red base. It occurs mostly on hair growing skin. Local treatment gets temporary results but psoriasis is never cured until the systemic causes are removed.

ACNE: blackheads, inflammatory red blotches that appear on face, neck and back. The cause is a bad state of blood, plugging up of pores and sebaceous glands which is skin constipation. To correct, the blood must be cleansed.

TO CORRECT THE ABOVE DISORDERS, THE CAUSE MUST BE REMOVED.

Dr. Charles A. Tyrell, M.D., says, "The physician can no more perform cures than the farmer can make his crops grow. In each case, all that can be done is to employ all the methods that cumulative wisdom can suggest to make the conditions as favorable as possible, and leave the rest to Mother Nature, who is not in the habit of making mistakes, and whose unerring methods would cure 90% of all diseased conditions, if her beneficent intentions were not frustrated by well meant, but nevertheless pernicious, drug interferences."

"My object in publishing this statement is to point out the true cause of disease, together with the means for its prevention and cure; and that, too, by a simple and inexpensive method of hygienic treatment, which has proved eminently successful in tens of thousands of cases, which is perfectly harmless and natural in its action, and absolutely free from even the suspicion of a drug. An impacted colon is a prolific hotbed for the wholesale breeding of disease germs, microbes—those organisms which science has demonstrated to be the cause of many phases of disease, or rather, the toxins)poisons) they produce, cause disease."

"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me, it has passed beyond the theoretic stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under my directions, with the most astounding results, scarcely a disease known to humanity but has been relieved, and in ninety-five per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."

Daniel C. Munro, M.D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Prof. Kluet says, "Disease is an effort of the body to eliminate waste, mucus and toxemia. Not the disease but the body is to be healed; it must be cleansed, freed from waste and foreign matter, from mucus and toxemias accumulated since childhood. This system is not a remedy, it is a regeneration, a thorough house-cleaning, the acquisition of such clean and perfect health such as you never knew before."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having an office that practices NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. This office is a haven for those who suffer; where the cause may be removed. We specialize in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poison. Rid yourself of toxic poison. If suffering come to our office at once for a thorough cleansing using the NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. Office treatment only. No medicine, drugs or surgery. Wiley King Freed by Warren Grateful to All Who Assisted

Wallace party people for the work they did to set me free.

"I want to thank Mr. Robeson (Paul Robeson, famed Negro artist and national co-chairman of the Progressive Party) for his efforts. I want to thank everyone for my family. My wife and two daughters are so happy that I am free."

Four year old Bonnie, King's adopted daughter, expressed her joy by hugging her father affectionately as he lay on the bed in his rear apartment at the grocery store on West 7th street.

"There is no way I can express myself to all the people that kept me from going back tere."

King credited the hundreds of volunteer workers organized by the Defense Committee for Governor Warren's decision to deny an extradition request by Mississippi for his return to a prison he left 21 years ago with the understanding he was a free man.

Organizations active in the successful campaign to block the extradition included the Alameda county CIO, the Independent Progressive party of California, the NAACP, Communist Party, East Bay Civil Rights Congress and numerous churches.

King paid a special tribute to his attorney, Robert E. Treuhaft, vice-chairman of the Alameda county IPP central committee, and to his wife, Mrs. Melvina King, who worked tirelessly for her husband's freedom.

Co-chairmen of the Defense Committee were M. C. Ferrero, business agent of CIO Steelworkers local 1798 and a state committee member of Wiley the IPP, and Hursel Alexander, IPP organizer.

Secretary was Reverend G. G. Griffin, pastor of the Macedonian Baptist church of North Richmond. Treasurer was Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, retired Metodist minister who is chairman of the Alameda County IPP.

● Reno Kids

we didn't say that we started the fire, they'd send us to the reform school," agreed both the boys.

According to the parents of both children, they could not have been near the fire when it started. Robert Matthews is the child of Mrs. Matthews by a former marriage. They have lived in Reno for 4½ years. Previousely they resided in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Matthews was born and where Mr. Matthews lived for 30 years. Mr. Matthews is employed as a cook, and Mrs. Matthews as a hotel maid.

On the Sunday morning in question, Mrs. Matthews left for work at about 7:50 a.m. Robert was asleep when she left, and so was her husband, who works on the swing shift and does not get home until about 3 a.m. At 9 o'clock Mr. Matthews was awakened by Robert getting the pan out from under the ice box. He did some other chores, and then asked his father if he might go out to play. That was 10 minutes past 9.

Robert went off in the direction of the fire, which was reported shortly after 9. The fire was eight blocks distant from Robert's home. He reached the scene before the explosion, and was standing on the sidewalk when it occurred. He was struck and his left arm was cut by flying glass.

Theodore Holland, according to his mother, was in the bathtub when the explosion occurred. It was the portable kind, and was placed in the front room. There is no way out of the house, except through the room where Mrs. Holland was getting breakfast. After the explosion an officer ordered them to leave the house, because there was danger of another one, he said.

Theodore got out of the tub, put on his underclothes, and finished dressing in the alley.

The Reno public is considerably agitated by the affair, and both the police and the fire departments have been criticized strongly. The fire was reported shortly after 9, but the fire department did not arrive until 9:55 a.m.

The chief of police has said he considered the case as closed, because of the boys' confession. Atty. Morgan Anglim and his associate, E. P. Loomis, have taken charge of the case, without charge. They believe the children are innocent. The "confessions" were secured by an investigator for the fire underwriters named Corcoran, who saw little Theodore Holland playing nearby, began questioning him, and eventually extracted the admission that he and Robert Matthews had started the fire.

The two boys, when arrested, were placed in the city jail for adults, contrary to Nevada law. They were later released, however, and are now kept in a foster home in a town nearby named Sparks.

Judge McKnight, in charge of the case, has appointed a committee of specialists to inquire into the boys' backgrounds. He declares no one will be "railroaded" in this affair. It is not known exactly when the boys will come up for trial.

● Dooley Wins

One of the five members of the party was Dooley Wilson, famous actor-singer of the stage, screen and radio, so well remembered for his stellar performance with Humphrey Bogart in the picture "Casablanca," wherein he introduced the song hit "As Time Goes By."

The other members of the party were his wife, Mrs. Estelle W. Wilson, who with her husband lives at 2842 Council Street, Mr. Alfred B. Logan and his wife, Mrs. Charlotte C. Logan, of 2956 12th Avenue, and their mother, Mrs. Katie Logan of Brooklyn, New York.

The suit was won against the Las Flores Inn by the Sea at Malibu Beach, located at 21150 Malibu Road, Malibu La Costa, also known as Las Flores Beach.

All of the plaintiffs were represented by Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., who recently won a similar case in the Municipal Court representing three other plaintiffs in the same type of action.

As a result, Civil Rights Congress revealed that they will make sound movies of the Communist Party leaders for widespread circulation throughout the country and and have demanded that the radio networks, in the spirit of democratic justice, make radio time available to the Communist leaders who are restricted to New York City.

meetings because the police insisted on dividing free Americans by the colors of their skins. These northern-owned corporations — Republic Steel and U. S. Steel's Tennessee Coal and Iron, pay no income taxes here, no sales taxes, yet they have political machines to demindte these cities.

Here in the South they have been able to continue this economic exploitation, because they have ruled the cities and the counties and the state governments. By means of poll taxes, by complicated registration, by white primaries, by crooked politics and by outright intimidation they have kept the people of the South in political serfdom.

Because I believe in the fundamental Christian and democratic principles of our civilization there are some men who consider me a dangerous enemy. They believe that anyone who advocates the practice of Christianity in our daily lives is a threat to their huge profits. It is the owners of the mines and mills and the great plantations who incite violence.

In Greensboro, N. C., on Monday, the police arrested a young teen-age lad for throwing eggs and tomatoes at me. When I heard about it, I asked the chief of detectives to release the boy. The boy was wrong. He shouldn't have done what he did. But it is the men who have inflamed his mind who are really responsible for violence.

They are never called to pay for their sins. A highly-paid professional liar can use the air waves to incide the people of the South from his studio up north without reprisal, but a 16-year-old boy—knowing not what he is doing—is arrested. This is not justice, as you and I, who believe in democracy understand justice.

Today only the Progressive Party offers the voters of Alabama a chance to vote for the Roosevelt tradition and the fulfillment of the four freedoms—freedo mof speech and religious and freedom from want and fear.

And now as I say goodnight, I want to ask as I have asked twice before that President Truman and Governor Dewey join with me in running a Freedom Train through the South, so that all the people of the South may know that we are on their side and not on the side of those who have corrupted their politics, ravaged their soil, and despoiled their real tradition — the Jefferson tradition that men are more important than dollars.

J. J. Hicks, pastor of St. John Methodist Church; George Lohr, foreign editor of The Daily People's World, San Francisco; C. C. Carlson, representative of the Locomotive Brotherhood; Joseph Esquith, director of Soto-Michigan Jewish Center; Leo Gallagher, member of the Democratic County Central Committee, who provided the fireworks for what could have been a dull session.

Each person called to answer the questions put to them by Richard Combs, executive secretary of the Legislative Committee, answered in good American fashion, upholding their constitutional rights.

The highlights of Tuesday's session, however, was Mr. Tenney's $64 question: Are you a member of the Communist Party?

This question was put to each of the accused, and got just about the same answer from each, an answer which pointed out to Sen. Tenney and the other members of the Committee that their questions were an attempt to invade their constitutional rights.

Annoyed by the presnece of Labor Attorney Ben Margolis, who did not hesitate to condemn this high handed attempt by the Tenney Committee to intimidate the witnesses called to testify, Mr. Margolis was twice roughly handled and thrown out of the room by police.

Lack of space and time makes it necessary to defer the illuminating testimony of many of the witnesses until the next issue. After all, there is always another week.

Emphasis is placed on the intent to 'protect the Veteran's equity in their homes, and the CIO Council Letter, signed by president Bill Lawrence and secretary - treasurer Connelly, points out that it has always been the practice of those who would segregate to claim the loss of property values in neighborhoods where Negroes are allowed to live, a claim that has been proven false time and again.

The letter asks a thorough investigation and disciplinary action, plus safeguards against a recurrence of a practice that can only serve to bring the U. S. Army into disrepute.

● Bus Refusal

Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District has advocated this extension for some time and he was amazed at the attitude of the Board of Public Utilities in not granting this request. Councilman Hahn said, "this is another shocking example of the complete indifference of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation toward public opinion. The welfare of the residents has no effect on them and something must be done about it."

The Board is an agency appointed by the Mayor and is responsible to him alone, the City Council having no control over its actions. Thus the high-handed action such as this results.

tion Committee now is perusing the subject.

Observers in the 14th district have felt from the beginning that the Grand Jury action was unwarranted. It has been pointed out that attempts to intimidate poll workers in the district were made following unofficial announcements that Helen Gahagan Douglas was elected by virtue of capturing the Republican nomination.

Persons familiar with the functioning of election precinct workers say that mistakes discovered in the 14th could be found in any district that happened to be checked. Residents and leaders in the 14th resent the implications of the Grand Jury investigation, and they point out that in contrast to the pronouncements and fanfare with which the Grand Jury started the investigation, the matter was dropped quietly, if not gingerly this week.

Hahn Still Seeks Change In Freeway

The City Council recently approved a Police and Fire and Public Works joint Committee report concerning Councilman Kenneth Hahn's resolution to make Long Beach Boulevard from Washington to Slauson a major highway with synchronized signals at the following locations: 55th, Vernon avenue, 41st, Santa Barbara, 38th, 16th and Washington Boulevard.

Councilman Hahn also believes that the gigantic freeway which may go between Broadway and Figueroa and uproot 20,000 to 30,000 homes could be changed by the State Highway Engineer to use the Long Beach right-of-way as a freeway from Washington or Olympic to the Harbor. Very few homes would have to be moved and this would be the best and most direct route for the Harbor Freeway.

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods has accepted the offer of the National Association of Home Builders to assist the Government in "running down veterans' housing complaints."

Wollenberg Charged With Code Violation

LOS ANGELES — One of the first state department heads to violate the "Code of Ethics" outlined in Governor Earl Warren's memorandum to administrative officials is State Director of Welfare Charles Wollenberg, charged George H. McLain, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Old Age Pensions, yesterday.

In a letter to Governor Warren, McLain pointed out this fact and accused Wollenberg of usurping the power of his state office to lead a fight against the best interests of the aged and blind people of California.

"The almost 200,000 pensioners in California have long looked to you, and are continuing to look to you for leadership. They are confident that you will take appropriate action in this matter."

The CIO Freedom Fiesta, to be held in honor of Mexican Independence Day, will be held September 17th, 18th and 19th at the CIO Building, corner of Avalon and Slauson, covering the entire building from roof to basement and utilizing lots adjacent to the building.

High point will come Sunday afternoon, September 19th, when Vicente Lombardo Toledano, leader of the Latin American trade union movement, will make a balcony address from the CIO building to the people of Los Angeels.

Ice Cream Jingles Make Nerves Tingle

Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District is the sponsor of a new ordinance to regulate the musical instruments on ice cream vendor trucks, etc. in the City of Los Angeles.

Last year he called a conference in his office of the vendors who said that they would "police" themselves. However, because of so many complaints by the citizens of Los Angeles, Councilman Hahn found that it was necessary to have a law passed so that the Police Department could enforce the regulations.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Rev. Johnson Denied Entrance to U.S.

The Very Rev. Dr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, that most ancient and revered landmark in the Episcopal Church, whose archbishop is the head of the Church of England, has been denied entrance into the United States, the boasted land of the free, where we have the right to think and to speak as we please.

Why this denial?

Dr. Johnson was going to come to lecture in various cities of the U. S. under the auspices of the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship. His lectures would have told some of the good things he saw in the Soviet Union during his frequent visits there. He would have tried to have the people of America make friends with the people of Russia.

And that State Department of the United States, which denied the visa or permit for the Dean of Canterbury to come to America, very evidently does not wish the American people to know there is anything good that can come out of Nazareth. Or the Soviet Union. It does not want the people of America to become too friendly with the people who look upon Comrade Stalin as their leader.

This act of the State Department is again one of the many similar acts that have been deplored as being un-American and dictatorial in the extreme, even by those who disagree most heartily with the opinions voiced by Dr. Johnson.

"Yet, when all this has been said," comments the New York Herald Tribune, after stating the reason given by the State Department as being "subversive," "the fact that the Rev. Dr. Johnson has been denied a visa seems to us disturbing and unfortunate. If there were comparatively few who craved his admission, there will be many who deplore his exclusion."

The Dean of Canterbury visited the United States in 1945 as the guest of the Council of American-Soviet Friendship, and was received at the White House by President Truman. Everything seemed to be all right then. We were still friends with our ally in war at that time.

Now, however, the State Department does not think his visit would be in the national interest. By what authority does the State Department decide what is good for the thinking of the American people? Does it believe the American people are children, whose reading of books and hearing of lectures must be supervised?

Parents have learned long ago, or should have learned, that the surest way to get a child to read a book is to tell him or her he should not. That such a book is not fit literature for his or her mind.

Any child with an atom of independent spirit will always get that book, by hook or crook, and read it in spite of everything.

The United States government, so carefully supervising the thinking of the people of the United States, may make the same blunder of an over-zealous parent. We, the people, will grow tired of being treated as children and of being told what we must listen to and read, and will break loose some day with a rebellion all the wilder because we have been suppressed so long.

Dr. Johnson should be admitted to the United States. He should be allowed to lecture all he pleases. And after we have heard him, and all others upon the same subject, we, the people of the United States, believe we have enough common sense to decide what we want without the parental advice of the State Department.

Why All the Concern About Italy?

We know what happened to all the promises made by the Western Powers to Palestine. This includes the United States and England.

Now, we wonder, why are these same Western Powers so concerned about the former Italian colonies in Africa? Why so anxious to return them to Italy and to slavery?

Is it possible that the two major political parties in the United States wish to court the votes of the Italian people in America? Each vote counts, you know.

Fair Play in Politics

Both press and radio have been loud in their condemnation of the hoodlumism prevailing in certain sections of the South, where Henry Wallace was attacked with eggs and rotten tomatoes.

"Wallace has every legal and moral right to run for President." states an editorial in The Daily News. "He has the same right under our Constitution and according to our sense of right and justice, to campaign for that high office that anyone else has."

The editorial then goes on to say that throwing eggs and vegetables at Henry Wallace—or at anyone with whom one does not agree—is not according to the American way of life, about which the egg-throwers boast so much.

"Every egg thrown at Wallace may have a thousand votes attached to it," predicts the Daily News. "Certainly the attacks have stirred up the wrath and disgust of the people to an unprecedented degree."

The American people are notoriously slow to wrath. But when our Uncle Samuel does get his dander up, so says everyone, look out for the fellow he's mad at. This is usually meant to refer to some foreign nation. But it can refer equally as well to any domestic quarrel.

Uncle Sam surely needs to put his house in order, north of the Mason and Dixon line, as well as south of it. And if like some good-natured head of a domestic household, who has stood just about all he can of the nonsense of his family, he squares off and gives the guilty members a good licking, who can blame him?

The American people are above everything else, fair and square in their dealings with others. They despise poor sports. But nothing so arouses their admiration as good sportsmanship under adverse circumstances. A good loser, in the eyes of the American people, is really greater than a poor winner. Or a winner who has not won honestly and fairly.

"There may be a thousand votes in every egg and tomato thrown at Henry Wallace.". Could be that's true. He surely has won the admiration of the children of good-hearted, honest, and fair Uncle Sam.

We can't abide sneaking attacks, even in politics, where nothing is supposed to be too clean and fair. And when once we're aroused—Well, let's show 'em in November.

From 44 to 2,000,000

In his Sunday night radio speech Mayor Fletcher Bowron reminded his audience that Los Angeles is now quite of age, having reached the 167th milestone in its race of life.

When celebrating anniversaries the City of Angels has always avoided any mention of the fact that among the first settlers (the first 44 persons) there were some important black angels.

Take out your note-books and record this. The mayor said it. September 4, 1781, when 44 persons — Mexicans, Negroes, and Indians—treked through the sagebrush from San Gabriel mission to what is now the Plaza, Los Angeles was born.

It is noticeable, but very incorrect, that upon these anniversary occasions the queens are always white.

It makes one wonder why the whites, after enjoying all the honors and emoluments that can come to a race, would gobble up this, too.

Perhaps the most striking example of the outstanding role played by coloared persons in the settlement of California is found in the story of El Pueblo de Nuestra Senora La Reina de Los Angeles—The Pueblo of Our Lady the Queen of the Angels, which in modern form is now Los Angeles.

The first one of these celebrations which we have been holding throughout the years, was held on Sunday, September 4, 1781, after mass at the San Gabriel Mission. Of the 11 founding families, 56% would be classified as colored, today.

So why not have a queen and an historic setting in keeping with the early history and tradition of Los Angeles.

And this other question is also in order. Is Los Angeles proud of its 167 years of history? Has it rewarded those early pioneers who weathered the storm in covered wagons and laid the foundation for one of the great cities in the nation, or should it bow its head in shame?

The so-called Negro heirs of those early pioneers are held in a tight vice of vicious discrimination, much of which is hardly recognized as such.

The fiction that discrimination ends at the Mason and Dixon line is a farce. Discrimination flourishes in Los Angeles on the very spot where the city started and spreads across the state to the shame of all.

Suppose we take a new start. And let the next year be made true wtih our efforts to end all forms of discrimination, wherever it may lift its ugly head.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Last June the biggest telescope in the world was dedicated on top of Mt. Palomar, a lonely mountain about 70 miles from San Diego and 140 miles from Los Angeles. And now the United States Postoffice Department has issued a new stamp, with the picture of the Mt. Palomar telescope on it.

But this telescope, contrary to the popular opinion of the lay mind that telescopes are long tubes through which we look at the moon, or at Jupiter and his four moons chasing each other around him, or at Saturn beautiful and serene ensconced in his heavenly rings, is not that kind of telescope at all.

In the first place the tube of the Mt. Palomar telescope is 55 feet long, and weighs about 140 tons. The observatory in which this huge telescope is housed has a dome 135 feet in diameter and about the same overall distance in height. It stands alone on a flat mountain meadow on the summit of Mt. Palomar, and does not seem nearly so high when viewed at a distance. That is because it is alone, and there is nothing else with which to compare it. But if some one parks a car nearby, that car looks about the size of a beetle beside it.

There is a slit in the dome, from top to bottom, through which the tube of the telescope can be pointed at the sky. It will take in a part of the sky about 30 feet wide. The astronomer at work can point the telescope at a star, and keep it there for hours if he wishes to. But since the earth moves, and since stars move also, although they seem to be stationary because they are so far away, the dome is arranged so that it can move also with the same slow speed that the star moves. In this way the position of the telescope in relation to the star will always be the same.

This is necessary for here comes the greatest difference between ordinary telescopes and the telescope on Mt. Palomar. The astronomer does not look through the telescope to study the stars. He takes pictures of them, and studies the pictures. The telescope itself takes the pictures really by means of a mirror, the largest telescopic mirror ever built.

This mirror has been dubbed "The Big Eye." It is 200 inches in diameter, and weighs 15 tons. It is made of pyrex glass, the kind that will not break when heated. Sixty tons of sand, boron, and other substances used to make pyrex were poured into the furnace of the Corning Glass Works, Corning, N. Y. early in 1934. Several tests were made before it was decided that the glass would be good enough to serve as the mirror for Palomar, and it was not until December, 1934, that the final "melt" was poured.

Then the glass had to be annealed—cooled off slowly. It took almost a year to do that. There could be no stress, no strain anywhere, and the glass was cooled by controlled temperature at the rate of only 1/10 of a degree every 24 hours.

At the end of a year the great disc was taken by train to the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, to be ground. A special flat car was used for it, one that had an opening in the floor so the mirror could be let down into it. The mirror was first encased in a thick rubber sheet, and then placed in a circular housing made of steel plates ½ inch thick. "The "train" carrying this precious load consisted only of the engine, a car with special hoisting gear, the caboose, and the car with the mirror.

All railroads over which it traveled, took extra precaution to see that everything was safe. The train left Corning, N. Y. early in the morning of March 25, 1936, and arrived in Pasadena without mishap, April 10, 1936. The mirror was taken then by truck, very slowly, with everything padded and covered with rubber as before, to the Institute of Technology. Here it was ground into convex shape, and coated with aluminum.

The grinding was done very slowly, too, only a tiny bit every day. Grinding too fast would generate heat, and might distort the mirror. It was expected to be completed by 1942. But the war delayed matters, and it was not finished until this year—12 years after it was started.

The "Big Eye" is coated on its face, not on the back as ordinary mirrors are. This is done so that it can reflect light to a greater degree. And now at last it is in place at the bottom of the long tube. The light from a star billions of miles away, shines down upon it, and the mirror reflects the picture it sees in the sky to a point near the top of the long tube. And at this focal point there is a photographic plate which takes the pictures of what the "Big Eye" sees.

Scientists can see by means of this mirror farther than any man has ever seen before. Let us hope they may see something in the skies that will induce the poor mortals of earth to live together in peace.

Truman Whipped in Berlin

By PAUL FRENCH

As this is written, the four military governors in Germany, in their first meeting since March, are working out a settlement—previously arrived at in Moscow—for the so-called "Berlin question." Although American papers are concealing the fact, the fact remains that the Truman-Marshall foreign policy has taken a beating from Soviet diplomacy on the Berlin question.

Although the secrecy which veiled the Moscow negotiations was demanded by U. S. officials in order to "save the face" of Secretary Marshall and Truman, there are many things which prove that Wall Street arrogance suffered a bloody nose, so to speak, in the long attempt it made to bluff the U.S.R.R. on the question of Berlin, and of the whole German question.

The rabid anti-Soviet writer, Dorothy Thompson offers one proof. She has been wailing over the fact that, although "officially" the U. S. has kept on claiming that it wouldn't "negotiate" on anything with the Soviet "until the Soviet lifted the Berlin blockade," nevertheless, the Berlin blockade was NOT lifted at all until after a month of "talks" in Moscow which anybody can see were, in reality, nothing else but "negotiations."

Secondly, the result of those negotiations is, for one thing, that the Soviet-backed German currency, and not the U. S.-backed German currency, is to be the sole money used in all of Berlin. The U. S., Britain and France attempt to force "western" money onto Berlin thus failed. And, it should be noted, that, while that attempt lasted, among the Germans in Berlin, one Soviet mark was worth three U. S. marks in money exchange. This reflected the low estimation Germans had of any chance that the U. S. would win the "battle" of Berlin.

The third proof that U. S. imperialist bluff took a beating is the fact that, in arranging for resumption of rail traffic from the western zones into Berlin, the Americans are demanding 24 trains a day be allowed, while the Soviet insists that the number be held down to 18 trains, the same as before the blockade. But, in arguing for 24 trains a day, the U. S. says (United Press, Sept. 2) that "additional trains are necessary to restore the depleted stocks necessary to supply the western sections of Berlin."

So! It thus is admitted that the "success" of the imperialist powers in supplying western Berlin by air, has been, after all, something less than the "success" it was advertised to be; in fact, it has failed. And, as winter weather ahead would make its failure clear to everybody, Secretary Marshall was compelled to give in before the autumn rains exposed his failure.

Thus, while the so-called "free press' in America conceals the failure of Truman foreign policy, still facts can be dug out to show that failure. And still another proof was given by columnist Robert S. Allen (L.A. News, Aug. 30), when writing about the American military governor in Germany, Gen. Lucius Clay.

Gen. Clay, said Allen, intends to write a book when he ends his command, and when he does, "high-place knuckles are due for caustic rapping." He is "keeping account, including documents," says Allen, to prevent him being "made the goat for policies that back-fired." Clay opposed using the U. S. mark in Berlin, and argued agains it, says Allen. So did economic experts. Clay argued that it would "be sure to lead to Russian retaliation." But, says Allen, "the political division of the State Department" overruled all arguments, and "Clay was ordered to send the new money into Berlin." Now, as we all see, the U. S. is being forced to withdraw it.

Again, says Allen, "One item in Clay's files is a cable from Secretary of State George C. Marshall, ordering him to set up a separate government in western Germany." Clay opposed this. Indeed, Allen says, Clay had worked out an agreement with the Russians for another plan. But, "Marshall flatly rejected this plan." And "Clay was ordered to put the State Department's plan into effect." This, Allen reminds us, is a plan to dismember Germany, and is "the root cause of the sinister war crisis that has terrorized the world."

This idiotic arrogance and bluff is, therefore, the cause of all the uproar over Berlin, with wild tales every day, about "kidnappings" and what not, making mountains out of mole-hills, and giving the war-mongering U. S. newspapers headlines every time either Russians or Americans happened to get caught on the wrong side of some Berlin street. Let us now, at least, understand that it was provoked by the U. S. State Department, headed by General Marshall and carrying out Truman's imperialist war policy.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

Don't Forget Salcido!

JOHN M. LEE

It is just a short while since a cop named Burns ventilated the skull and jaw of a Mexican kid named Augustin Salcido and got away with it. You probably remember that young Salcido struggled to the gutter near the corner of Grand and Temple and dropped into it—dead! Burns got away with murder! In no time at all, he was back on the force ready to blow the soul of the next Mexican kid he comes across who doesn't act subservient enough, to kingdom come.

We got hot about Salcido's murder and we're still hot about it. We said there'd be more official murders by the police unless the masses of the people acted strongly, and those words came true a couple of weeks ago when a gang of cops and special officers took out their billies and beat the life out of Herman Burns.

By now, a precedent has been set. The police have established the right to kill members of the minorities with impunity, and from the way it looks, the minorities can't do a thing about it. If they can, if they have any feeling against the hunted animal existence they must live in their ghettoes, then it is time they acted.

Herman Burns was a member of an AFL local, yet I have not seen one printed word or heard one protest raised by the AFL in behalf of a brother who was murdered by the very forces that cracked skulls and blistered backs in the early days when the bosses used the police to break up union activity. The AFL has always danced nimbly around issues such as this; it is as though they hoped they would be considered a special breed of worker if they didn't protest about things that might get them labelled as un-American.

It is nauseating to think about the rotten position the AFL takes on all issues vital to the people—when it does take a position. How the AFL can afford to stand by in indifferent silence when one of its members has been bludgeoned to death is something no worker can understand. This is the time for them to get off the dime. It is one thing to take a phony position about a political question, and quite another to clam up in phony silence when a brother has been murdered.

Maybe the AFL doesn't like the company it will be in should it join in the protest that is growing daily over the murder of Herman Burns. Maybe they're squeamish about the labels being passed out by committees of Super-Americans; maybe, but remember this; the Salcido killing and the brutal murder of Herman Burns is part of a pattern. It is only a short step from beating and shooting minority people to clubbing and killing people of labor. As Joe Louis puts it, "You can run, but you can't hide." The fascist revolution that is going on in this country cannot succeed until it divides and conquers labor. As a worker, you are indelibly stamped with an identifying mark; like a Negro or a Mexican. They won't let you forget it; and you should'nt want to forget Burns and Salcido.

W. J. Wheaton Says

Watching Gov. Earl Warren snip the ribbon that opened the gates of the State Fair at Sacramento, our guests, the three Mary Anns, Josh, and the Yamatto family of three, spent the day viewing the varied products of California. We were interested mainly in noting what most interested our guests. Poultry for Mary Anns one and two, livestock and farm products for Josh and Yamatto, while Mary Ann No. 3 and the Yamatto youngsters, expressed their enthusiasm over the educational display. We thought that we were, or would be bored, as we had visited for several years, and thought there would be the same exhibitions, but California has not only kept pace, she has expanded her products, introduced fruits and staples and varied breeds of livestock, which only the different soils and climate of California could produce.

It was interesting to note how our farmers studied and took note of the modern methods which are so different from the mule, plow and hoe, that looked primitive beside the machinery that made the tilling of the soil, and the irrigating canals that made drought almost impossible.

Josh eyed a tractor and said: "Mother, I see the end of old Lop Ear." That is the name of one of the old stand-by mules that had brought him and Mary Ann No. 2 from "back home" to their new home in California.

"Well, he sure does deserve a rest, and a life of ease, that is, if he don't live too long," said Mary Ann.

It was a glorious and instructive day for our guests and they learned much from seeing the practical workings of modern farming. There is no doubt that they will make a success of their venture. Although we should have returned home we could withstand the invitation of our friends for a few days' visit. So we accompanied them home, near Campo delos Franceses (French Camp) for a few days. We acknowledge that a curiosity to see the place, as well as the desire to renew Mary Ann's culinary adeptness, had much to do with our acceptance.

Even Mary Ann No. 3 seemed overjoyed when we said "Alright."

Josh said: "Mother's talked so much about you that it seems we knowed you long times, and our Mary Ann says you answers lots 'er questions, 'en I certainly has lots to ask. That's my job to ask questions ' nobody going to take it away!"

Said Mary Ann No. 1: "I'm just as good cooking as the next one."

Said Mary Ann No. 2 with a wink. Arriving at our destination, to tell the truth, we were pleasantly surprised. A well-built and well-kept house of seven rooms, barn and chicken runs and pen, where dwelt a sow with a litter of 10 squealing little porkers. The next day Josh and Yamatto took us all over the place, mostly in alfalfa. Of course, there is quite a space for vegetables grown for both Mary Anns and the Yamattas families. The Yamattos take great interest in teaching Josh how to take advantage of irrigation, how to gauge the water to get best results.

Josh said: "I thought I knowed lots how to farm, but this Mr. Yamatto learn me a whole lot."

Those three days passed too quickly. We had just began to enjoy our vacation when it was cut short by an urgent call to duty. We had an enjoyable visit Sunday at the Methodist church. Unfortunately, there is no Baptist church and the Mary Anns family are Baptists. But this young Methodist preacher is a graduate from one of the eastern schools and seems well versed in biblical lore. His subject was "The Sermon on the Mount," which he handled in a rather practical manner, so different from the usual theological ideology.

That evening after Mary Ann No. 2 had cleared the table, we huddled for our chat, which Mary Ann No. 1 had advertised. The question was put to us by Mary Ann No. 3: "What do you think about that man's, or should I say preacher's, ideas about religion?"

We are not well versed in Homeletics but we were impressed by some of the ideas expressed by the young minister.

"Well," we began, "we are all supposed to be Christians and followers of His precepts, and His sayings, when we studied without the bias of divinity, even acknowledging the divine inspiration, has a practical value which can be accepted by all creeds.

Such terms as: Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy, and Ye have that it hath been said: Thou shall love thy neighbor but hate thine enemy. But, said Christ: I say unto you, love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you. Says further: That ye may be children of your Father who is in heaven; for He maketh the sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. Judge not that ye be not judged, and on down through the whole of the preachment.

He gives a practical set of ideas that can be used by civilized nations, and peoples of today. But we have seen, even in purported Christian churches of this day, precepts of those sayings that are nullified by un-Christian examples.

Christ said: Return good for evil, but where, even in Christian nations, will you find examples that give potency to His precept of love? Not even in the U.S.A. that boasts of its numerous followers of His; Christ's precepts and His examples. Yes, we continued, we thought the young preacher gave a very fine sermon on the practibility of the sermon.

Of course, it was stripped of much lore of its divine inspiration, and with that we emphatically disagree. Only such words and ideas, given 20 centuries ago, could be so humanly possible today as when first spoken. They have the mark of a wisdom: Divinely inspired. Well, said Mary Ann: "It's good to hear you talk. I sure do miss our chats. Why don't you come stay with us on the farm? It'll do you good." We wish it could be so.

The National Lawyers Guild has advised all branches that anyone who refuses to answer the question, "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist Party?" shall be barred from the State Bar Association.

SACRAMENTO — Segregation must stand in the California National Guard, the attorney general has decided.

If the National Guard attempted to discontinue segregation, it would lose federal allotments of pay and equipment. This opinion was given to Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, member of the Legislature from the 62nd Assembly District, who tried to get a ban against segregation adopted by the Legislature last year.

There are three Negro battalions of 2500 members in the California National Guard. They form two combat engineer battalions in the Los Angeles area, and anti-aircraft in San Francisco.

A mass rally in the Embassy auditorium, 9th street and Grand ave., next Thursday, September 16, at 8 p.m., will open the campaign for the re-election of Helen Gahagna Douglas, Congresswoman from the 14th Congressional District.

Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church of Christ, will introduce Mrs. Douglas to the audience, and the choir of the People's Church will sing several selections.

Mrs. Douglas will be the principal speaker of the evening. Mrs. Esther Murray, State chairman of the Women's Division of the Democratic Party, will speak on "Civil Rights"; Vernon Kilpatrick, Assemblyman from the 55th District; Glenn Anderson, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, and other prominent Democrats will also speak.

The Republican presidential campaign will be conducted among Negro voters on the record of the two major parties and their candidates, according to Val J. Washington, assistant Republican campaign manager.

Amen. The record of neither party within the past few years has anything to appeal to Negro voters nor any other minority group. The record of the two major parties will make that of the Progresisve Party all the more crystal clear.

Arthur Gaeth, from London, will comment over the ABC network next Monday, Sept. 13, under the auspices of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO.

Gaeth has reported condition from various countries as he has seen them in his travels—Italy, Greece, etc. From Rome he reported that in Italy 10,000 families own 75% of the land, with estates of tens of thousands of acres.

A meeting of the 62nd Assembly District of the Independent Progressive Party was held last evening (Wednesday) at 4622 South Central ave. It was pointed that only 21 more days are left to register, and it was agreed to request churches and clubs to help bring registrars to their people.

Sidney Moore is the candidate for Congress from the 14th Congressional District for the Independent Progressive Party.

Negro Republican leaders of Michigan met in Utica, Mich., recently and organized to support the full Republican ticket, from Dewey and Warren on down. Dr. Theodore S. Boone, pastor of King Solomon Baptist Church, was elected chairman. He is a native of Texas, and came to Detroit five years ago.

Congressman William L. Dawson, chairman of the National Citizens Committee for the Re-election of President Truman, has urged all churches to set aside one Sunday during the period, September 12-26, as National Trumbn Civil Rights Day.

The California Eagle agrees heartily with the idea, but suggests that we substitute the name Wallace, instead of Truman, as being more truthful and to the point.

At least 11 Los Angeles area draft boards have been the targets of Youth and Students for Wallace of Young Progressives of America's "Operation Registration" since draft registration began Monday, August 30, it was announced todlay by Harriet Jaffe, co-chairman of Young Progressives of California. "We expect to work on many more on a regular basis until registration ends," she said.

Picketing technique consists of pasing out leaflets protesting the draft and explaining the program of Young Progressives of America, in addition to asking the registrees to send postcards to President Truman demanding an end to Jim Crow in the armed forces.

Another step toward making $25,000,000 more available for the purchase of farms and homes by California veterans at low interest rates was taken by the California Veterans Board when it met Friday and Saturday, Sept. 2 and 4, in San Francisco.

The Board made a formal request to Governor Earl Warren to direct the State Treasurer to sell $25,000,000 in California Veterans Bonds.

The bonds are a part of the $100,000,000 issue approved by the state's voters at the November, 1946, general election. Up to now $20,000,000 worth of these bonds have been sold.

Automobile drivers who drive too slowly are a mence to traffic, the same as those who drive too fast, according to automotive experts. Slow drivers should keep to the right, and keep going at a uniform speed. This makes it easier for other cars to pass safely.

The battle of the ballots which raged yesterday in the Georgia state primary, was principally concerned with white supremacy. Herman Talmadge, son of "Old" Gene, stood for lily-white elections. While the present Governor Thompson, running for re-election, favored election laws for all citizens, regardless of race, color, or religion.

Edward J. Flynn, director of the Los Angeles Center for CARE, announced this week that because of the continuing pressing need for fats in Europe, CARE is making available a ten pound package of lard for $5.50 . . . $6.50 in Berlin only.

He also announced that with the increase in cotton production in Europe, CARE feels the need for cotton packages is no longer urgent and they are discontinuing them.

CARE's local office is at 217 West Ninth Street, Los Angeles.

Army Jim Crow Policy Follows Sectional Practice White Says

NEW YORK—The racial pattern of the whole nation is not segregation and the Army policy of segregation is an attempt to force a sectional practice upon the entire country.

This was the reply of the NAACP to a column in the New York Times by its military expert, Hanson W. Baldwin, in which Baldwin sought to "explain" and defend the announcement of Gen. Omar Bradley that the Army would continue segregation until "the nation as a whole changes."

The NAACP letter, signed by Walter White and carried in the TIMES August 17, declares: "Only in the armed forces is there a national policy of segregation. Indeed, the policy of segregation officially is limited to only a quarter of the 48 states, and in many states segregation is expressly forbidden by law. The Army, because it has always been top-heavy with Southern leadership, has sought to extend a sectional pattern to the national level."

The NAACP also blasted the contention of Mr. Baldwin that Negroes must be segregated because of their low intelligence ratings. It pointed out that Northern Negroes in Army tests often surpassed Southern whites, and asked that if intelligence was to be the measuring rod, that all superiors, without regard to race, be placed in one category and all inferiors, white as well as black, be placed in another.

The letter also scored the contention that segregation is necessary to maintain Army morale and efficiency and asserted that no thought whatsoever apparently had been given to the morale of Negro troops under segregation.

Hanson W. Baldwin is a widely-known military authority on the TIMES staff. His articles appear in many of the leading magazines. He is a graduate of West Point and has absorbed thoroughly the traditional Army attitude on the use of Negro troops.

American Arms to Malayan Police

KAULA LUMPUR, Malaya—A large shipment of automatic rifles and weapons was flown to Singapore recently, it is authoritatively reported, aboard a Pan-American plane. From there they were taken to the Selangor State police armory for distribution to workers and supervisors of the Malayan tin companies.

This shipment was sent upon the British charge that the Communists are leading the bands of guerillas who have been fighting in Malaya for the past month. And of course to protect the tin companies owned and operated by Americans. The entire operation was supposed to have been carried out in strict secrecy. But it leaked out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Here are a few notes about our free adult schools you might like to run in your paper.

"It makes me heart-sick to see how the colored people are treated in the South," remarked a Los Angeles teacher after a trip to Florida. "There they are not allowed to go to white schools. We can be thankful that the L. A. school board invited adults to attend school free. Our Southern brothers would jump at such an opportunity. Here only a few take advantage of the great offer."

One class using this privilege is the "It's Fun to Learn Class" conducted by Oda E. Anderson in the Wadsworth school, 1028 East 40th place, on Monday and Wednesday mornings, starting September 13. Elementary review in English, letter writing, mathematics, and beginning work in reading and writing will be held from 9 to noon. Citizenship classes will also be held on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 10 to 12 a.m.

The best way to win "civil liberties" for our people is to take full advantage of every opportunity to utilize the privileges extended to us. All adults of our people should flock to the free evening schools, and to the day schools like the one at Wadsworth, because "It's Fun to Learn."

Ignorance is the real curse of all people, regardless of race.

Election Results Announced by IPP

Results of the elections for State, Central and Executive Committee posts held at the recent Independent Progressive Party convention at Sacramento are announced this week. Delayed because of the avalanche of work that snowed under the clerical staff following the convention, the reports show that Hugh Bryson of San Francisco has been elected chairman, with Reuben Borough of L. A., Josephine Daniels of Madera, James Daugherty of L. A., M. C. Ferrero of Alameda, Dr. Z. L. Goosby of San Francisco and Sam Miller of Tulare, as vice chairmen.

L. H. McMillen on Contra Costa was elected secretary, Ben insberg of San Francisco is treasurer, and Elinor Kahn of Frisco is returned as State Director.

Charlotta A. Bass, CALIFORNIA EAGLE editor-publisher and Hugh Bryson, both elected to the national committee at the Philadelphia convention, are joined by William Elconin of L. A., Elinor Kahn and Alfredo N. Salzar of San Diego on that committee as a result of the election.

Red Cross Drivers Get Driving Credit

More than 150 Los Angeles Red Cross motor service drivers this week received satisfactory "report cards" from the Automobile Club of Southern California upon completion of special Safetymobile tests conducted through the past several weeks.

Given under the direction of Paul K. Winston, assistant research director for the Auto Club, the tests were designed to "check physical limitations of Red Cross personnel operating mobile equipment," according to Mrs. Julian Cole, chairman of motor service for Los Angeles chapter.

Using special equipment, the Automobile Club tests include the determination of such factors as driver's reaction time, color blindness, strength of grip, distance judgment, visual acuity and resistance to night glare.

First Picture in L. A. Actor's Lab Gives Vivid Portrayal of Early Lincoln

New Salem, with a romantic background unequaled in history-making and reminiscent of pre-Civil War period in the early life of America, was well chosen by Robert E. Sherwood as to place and plot for the creation of his "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

The village of New Salem was founded in 1829 by James Rutledge and John M. Cameron. Like the pioneers who came to California in the covered wagon in '49 and the early '50's in search of gold, many restless pioneers from parts of New England and other sections of the country were on the trek, as it were, looking for a more healthy clime and for richer soil in which to sink their roots and accumulate a fortune.

Among the early settlers of New Salem were John McNeil, Reuben Harrison, surveyor, who laid out the town; James Pantier, Samuel Hill, Henry Onstot, James and Rowan Herndon, and John Allen.

Then early in September, 1831, Denton Offutt, who had visited New Salem in April when the flatboat he was taking to New Orleans, returned to the village. With him came Abraham Lincoln, a young man who had worked for him on the flatboat, and who mhe had hired to clerk in the store and run a mill he had purchased.

From this background Sherwood secured the literary material with which he wove a dramatic play, a portrayal of the life and character of the No. 1 great President of the United States, the great humanitarian and the first spokesman for the liberal movement in this nation.

As portrayed by Sherwood in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," the Emancipator's early beginning at New Salem did not invite particular attention. Unattractive physically, and apparently shiftless, about the only attribute worthy of praise was his physical prowess.

In the presentation of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," under the sincere guidance and superb creative ability of Robert E. Sherwood in the Actors Lab workshop, Abraham Lincoln lives again.

Jeff Corey played the title role of Abe Lincoln, supported by the following cast: David Wolfe as Joshua Speed; Joe Du Val as Judge Bowling Green; Clarke Gordon, Ninian Edwards; Olive Deering, Ann Rutledge; Oliver Crawford, Ben Mattling; John Compton, Jack Armstrong; Ray Hyke, Seth Gale; Marilee Phelps, Nancy Green; Leo Penn, William Herndon; Helen Malsed, Elizabeth Edwards; Paul Bay, Mary Todd; Maxine Tucker, Aggie Gale; Charles Boswell, Gobey; David Clarke, Stephen A. Douglas; David Du Val, Tad Lincoln; John Bennes, Robert Lincoln; Stanley J. Waxman, Crimmin; James Parker, Sturveson; Anthony Barr, Barrick; Dennis Cross, Kavanagh; Donald and Myron Cook, soldiers; and Tamar Cooper and Joan Harris, people.

The past, the present, the future of this nation in one heart-searching scene.

Lincoln's early life of poverty and hardships; his early love and its loss through the death of Ann Rutledge; his meeting and his political battles with the powerful Stephen Douglas; his loveless marriage to the haughty Mary odd; his election to the presidency; his devotion to freedom—all wrapped up in one plot is nothing less than sensational.

The portrayal of the life of Lincoln in the play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," is a vivid story of the struggle for freedom from poverty and political enslavement by the poor and the legally unprotected of this nation against the powerful rich, ruling class.

True to his life's story that started at New Salem, Lincoln was never the choice of the upper class citizenry, but he was the idol of the poor for whom he became the spokesman in the struggle to win the fight for a decent way of life.

The re-enactment of the period of history in which Lincoln arose out of poverty to fame, is timely and well placed. While the forests have been felled, the rivers dammed, wild nature controlled, what remains to be conquered is selfishness and greed in mankind. Then the earth will become the garden spot for the healthy habitation of all.

This philosophical hope is projected in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois."

The editor of The California Eagle congratulates producer, Robert E. Sherwood, and commends Mary Tarcal, director of the Workshop of the Actors Lab; and Roman Bohnen, chairman of the Actors Lab.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois," as given by the Actors Lab, is a play taken from the heart of America that appeals to the hearts of all Americans.

Hey Guys, Wanna Know How to Make Love? Then Read This!

If the listeners of the Beulah Radio show do not recognize the voice of Beulah on her next show it will be all the fault of "the Unknown Frenchman." Why Claude Marson cannot teach Beulah how to make love.

It all happened when Mrs. Senola Green and her husband gave a party last Sunday evening with an OO-la-la show in the famed Atic theatre. The show was entirely French in style after a French film. Mrs. Green introduced "The Unknown Frenchman" in a most humorous manner.

Claude, who refers to himself and conducts himself in a way that makes unknown as a Coca-Cola viz, wears a white beret, white jacket, and a mile-wide bow tie. He rides a collapsible cycle and speaks fluent French.

He is the manufacturer of Oh Perfume. He created a nation-wide controversy when, in a Life magazine spread, he gave highlights on "how men should and should not kiss and why Frenchmen make better husbands than the American wolves . . ."

HATTIE McDANIELS

The article appeared in the Jan. 20, 1947, issue. On January 21 a "Send That Frenchman Back to France Committee" was formed. Despit that fact, Claude Marsan is still here.

As soon as he appeared on the Green theatre stage his first words were "Ze men of ze audience (there were only a few while the theatre was crowded with the fairer sex) do not know how to make luff." The ladies generously applauded.

Then he gave some pointers which include hurrying while wooing and using too many hands too soon as two of the worst mistakes in love-making. Most men build up to a kiss in a few minutes when the proper method should take three hours. "Well, Americans say they are too busy for that. Silly, isn't it?"

He asks the ladies of the audience to write their chief complaints concerning the love-making of their husbands and sweethearts. Reading the complaints aloud he received one note which read: "I have no complaint against either." To this he answered: "The complaint is perhaps I haven't either."

All was going well when Claude endeavors to demonstrate. He asked Hattie McDaniel, Beulah of radio fame, to the stage to have her help demonstrate this act. She consented to the great amusement of the audience.

Hattie and Claude sat side by side on a piano bench and enacted the greatest and most hilarious performance anyone can regret having missed. It was certainly the best show in town that night. The expression of bewilderment on Hattie's face while the unknown Frenchman dripped his mushy love-story was so humorous that they "sent" everyone laughing in the aisles.

The Frenchman's antics were just as comical. The act was so good that everyone thought it was rehearsed. However, it wasn't. Hattie did not even know that she was going to be asked to perform. Claude said: "She is the greatest performer I have ever met. She ad-libbed and created thoughts so fast, she was way ahead of me."

Like Hattie, Claude is also a performer. Besides his audience participation show, he played the song "Beautiful" (serenading Beulah) and recites Victor Hugo. But what most everyone enjoyed was his dissertation on sexual behavior of the French.

Everyone was very enthused and wanted to arrange to have Claude speak to other friends. Claude Marsan, who says: "I weel speak—but what ze use. Ze men are hoopless. They will nevaire learn." But the men already argue, how can he know since he has never been married?

Guests from the middle west and East attended the affair. From Chicago was Miss Josephine McDaniels, Elizabeth C. Williams, George L. Kercey, and Lewis White. Miss Julian E. Davis, Mrs. Alice N. Williams and Paul Jones of Washington, D. C., were also present in the audience.

Leaders Fight Gold-Silver Discrimination

A national committee to secure the end of the Jim Crow "silver-gold" system of racial discrimination in the Panama Canal Zone was launched this week by four prominent Negro Americans in a letter sent to more than 3,000 persons throughout the country soliciting membership in the Committee.

The initial letter was signed by Charles P. Howard, lawyer and publisher of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor-publisher of the California Eagle; W. E. B. Dubois, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; and Paul Robeson, co-chairman of the Progressive Party. The Committee has established an office at Room 1015, 2 Lafayette Street, New York.

Pointing out that the system of social and economic discrimination in the Panama Canal Zone has been sponsored and maintained by the government itself, the Committee urges President Truman to issue an executive order outlawing segregated treatment of the 20,000 "silver" workers—Negroes, West Indians and Panamanians—who are employees of the United States.

This drive was climaxed several weeks ago when District Attorney McGrath successfully prosecuted a union organizer, Joseph Sachs, on a charge of criminal libel. Sachs was sentenced to nine months at hard labor in the local penitentiary by an all-white jury. The Committee urged an appeal to President Truman to order an end to union-busting in the Canal Zone. It also called upon the President to grant an unconditional pardon to Joseph Sachs.

The Committee also began circulation of 10,000 copies of an open letter to President Truman sent August 30th by former Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes urging abolition of the "silver-gold" system and an "investigation of the Sachs case."

"You need no act of Congress," Mr. Ickes informed the President. "You have the power to put an end to a situation in which the United States government, in a department directly under your control, sponsors an economic and social pattern of race discrimination which, were he still alive, would undoubtedly win the approval of Hitler. Both the responsibility and the opportunity are yours. The occasion calls not for mere words, but for action." (Full text of letter published by New York Post Syndicate, August 30, 1948).

Truman Whipped In Berlin

war against the Soviet Union. And, along with Marshall, thought that such a war would be a push-over. But, of late, some sober second thoughts have been forced upon these war-mad idiots. It was found that American imperialism could not depend upon any nation being willing to fight the U.S.S.R.

As Walter Lippman reported (L.A. Times, Aug. 21), "in case of war, we could not count upon any effective and reliable allies on the European continent." William P. Flythe, a Heart writer, gave this uncomforting information in detail (L.A. Examiner, July 22), when he wrote: "The United States has been unable to find one steadfast ally in continental Europe willing to side against Russia in the event of war." He named them all, beginning with little Iceland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. The Netherlands and Belgium, he said, "are unwilling to incur the wrath of the Sovie Union," and France and Italy "have made it clear that they want no part of war with Russia."

No matter how many atomic bombs the arrogant war-mongers in the White House and State Department possess, they are finding out that their power is limited—limited by the power of the peoples of the world, and the growing strength of the land of socialism—the Soviet Union. And your vote for Henry Wallace in November will help defeat the war-makers in America.

Prove He Was Born Then You Enroll Him

To get your child into kindergarten next week, you'll need to prove his age, and a birth record is the best way to do that, Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, advises.

If your youngster was born in Los Angeles, Dr. Uhl advised, you should contact the vital statistics division of the city health department, 116 Temple Street, Los Angeles 12, to get a notification of registration.

Along with your request, you should send your name, address, and the date of the child's birth, Dr. Uhl said.

ALBERT J. McNEIL
Music Critic of the California Eagle

Lorenza Jordan Cole, Pianist

To appear before the National Association of Negro Musicians on its Artist Night program is a singular honor reserved for those who have made striking accomplishments in the field of their choice. Lorenza Jordan Cole, Los Angeles musician and local public school music teacher, was selected as the western representative. Miss Cole opened her first group with Bach-Busoni's "I Call on Thee, Lord," followed by the descriptive piece, "David and Goliath," the Kuhnau-Bauer setting. The execution was coherent, embodying a style which bespoke meticulous preparation. Neither of these two works are characterized by highly-technical passages; however, in Miss Cole's final number, the "Saint-Saens Concerto in G. Minor," we were privileged to see a multitude of striking arpeggios and florid passages neatly performed and highly synchronized with the second piano. George Pierson, Chicago Musical College accompanish, and accompanist for Etta Moten, was at the second piano. Los Angeles is indeed proud of Miss Cole and the honor of western representation.

Nora Douglas Holt

We were fortunate this summer to spend many interesting hours with America's dean of music critics, Nora Holt. Miss Holt is well known to many Angelenos and former Chicagoans. Her accomplishments include a bachelor's degree in music from Northwestern university and the first master's degree to be awarded a Negro by the Chicago Musical college. She is the founder of the National Association of Negro Musicians, and now is the music editor of the New York Amsterdam News. Incidentally, she always reminded me that the title music editor was most significant, in that only through a militant succession of experiences was she able to assume the responsibility of editing an entire page devoted to music. Her position as a member of the Newspaper Writers' Guild has thrown her into contact with such a personality as Virgil Thomson, music critic on the New York Herald-Tribune. It was this guiding force which led to the organization of a music critics division within the confines of the NANM. The following representatives were prese to initiate the division: Gra Tompkins, Chicago Defende Theodore Stone, Pittsburgh Cou ier; George Garner, Los Angel Sentinel; Nora Holt, New Yo Amsterdam News; and this wr er for the California EAGLE.

American discriminatio against the Negro people now the most dreadful an far-reaching of all cont gious diseases. It is the me tal polio of our nation. S long has it gone on u checked, that it has reache what appears to be the i curable state.

What is a fact, howeve is that neither statesme nor politicians, diploma nor citizens, nor even tho who are its victims are w ling to acknowledge di crimination in active for was practically unkown certain parts of Europe an the Far East until the Fir and Second World Wars.

Negro soldiers who we drafted, and those who vo unteered to serve in th ranks to make the natio safe for Democracy, at th close of World War I, upo their return to the Unite States related how whi American soldiers had to the Europeans that Negroe were not treated as huma beings in the United State

To substantiate the whi soldiers' allegations, befo they were rid of their un forms, Negro soldier r turnees were lynched an subjected to all the indign ties practiced by the Sout against Negroes.

In the case of the Negr soldier what happened aft World War I, was repeate in even greater detail aft World War II.

When I read and hea certain statements mad by some American Legio Posts, and hear of Negroe carrying signs in the Sout protesting the presence Henry Wallace, and eve hear Negroes hurling th "Communist" epithet each other, I am convince that all of the enemies the Negroes and other m norities and the peace, a not covered by the whi skins.

The more shame to th Negro people that it is n true.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THE ENTIRE COAST WAS alive over the past week end with events of special interest to you fun loving Angelenos. My girl Friday, who made the trip to the Bay Region is bubbling over with the highpoints of the Labor Day week-end up around San Francisco and Oakland. So happens that the annual Pacific Coast Tennis Tournament went hand in hand with the Kappa Alpha Psi Regional conference. This tournament that claims the interest of tennis players and socialite followers of the game, is played alternately in Los Angeles and San Francisco, thus calling for the change of scene this year. The two divisions of the Angel City Racquet Club were well represented, with Elyse Thornton being seated, Nellie Green and Irma Brown, the two former City College leaders in the field of feminine sports listed to play along with Carolyn Lewis. Hazel Shumate and several other comely members of the Racquet club made the trip as spectators. In the male division, Douglas Shaw, Oscar Johnson (playing finer than ever before), Bill Louis and a host of others completed the southland representation at the tournament. As per usual, the on lookers expected L. A.'s Jimmy McDaniel to defend his Pacific Coast title, however his local business connections kept him from taking part in the event this year. School Boy Mitchell, is a name that all tennis enthusiast are familiar with. Many have the tournaments been that most of the audience would take time out to do nothing but watch the fine playing of these men.

The popular Challengers Tennis Club of Oakland, California sponsored the entire tournament. Some of the games were played at the Defirmiary in Oakland and others were played on the San Antonio courts.

With the tournament over, the players have returned to L. A. with one idea, that of improving their game and working up form, that will help to place them as players in the national that will be held in Nasseau next year. Something to look forward to, believe me.

By the way, the social calendar of the tennis tournament was quite semiliar to the Kappa conference, that was guided by Harold Adams, formerly of the Angel City. Delegates and Silhouettes as well as a few Kappa sweethearts are still talking over the elaborateness of the big Kappa Formal held at one of San Francisco's finest night clubs over looking the blue blue Pacific. Girl Friday describes the hall as a perfect replica of a ship. Southlanders seen enjoying the affair were: Maethilde Kenner, Emerson Chapman, Bill Scott (now attending Cal University) Wrenna Clarke, Shirley Rakestraw (who has been vacationing up Frisco way), Odessa and Vance Jones, Tom Bradley, Lorezo Morris, Julius Brown, and oodles more. Each and every hour of the three day session, was next to perfect, with all present, having what might be called a memorable time.

ROUND OUR TOWN

As far as the happenings on the local scene go, your umble scribe was right on hand at several ingatherings that proved to be very delightful events. On Saturday night, the famed opera, "Madam Butterfly" brought down the final curtain on the Hollywood Bowl's Symphony Under the Stars. The same evening, and around about the same time, Bill and Annette Taylor, were greeting some 50 guests to dinner. The affair was quite informal, and the piece de resistance was the ever popular Bar-be-Que. The huge table that centers the play room of th Taylor abode was a picturesque site to behold. Gave one the impression of a Hawaiian Luau, with the colorful centerpiece that was highlighted with much greenery and baskets that held huge bowls of steaming hot viands. The service was strictly buffet, so the tables that surrounded the main one were gayly decorated with burning candles in bottles that gave still more of an island impression. Well, with the artistic Annette and Sis. along with Jimmy, you can imagine just how colorful and interesting the whole evening turned out to be. The Beaver (my wonderful better half) is still trying to figure out who cracks the funniest jokes, Johnny Alston or Frank Abney. Bet Bill Faulkner or Rip Russell could give him the answer any day.

The guest list at the informal gathering including a host of the young married couples of the "set." Arrived on the scene a little late, but just in time to get a perfect view of guests present, for at the time, most of them had finished eating and were pleasantly discussing the fine seasoning of the food etc., a few were dancing, while others played cards. Guest listed were, Wini and Dr. Ellis Toney, Nita and Barry Tate (June newlywed), Puffy and LaMar Hill, ace bridgers, along with Elbert and Marilyn Hudson. The Joe Greens, Atty. Hal Sinclair and his charming wife: Flora and Bobby Boswell, Mel and Ike Blocker, Ruth and Burt Kenner, Harlette and Lawrence Johnson, Bob Edwards, escorting the ever charming Alice Watkins who held the fashion note of the evining when she topped her gray satin dinner dress with a breath taking fur cape. Was quite a party and all present had the perfect evening. . . . By the way, Annette and Bill were not celebrating any special occasion, they just thought it was their turn to give a fling, and a gay one it was. . . .

IN THE SOCIAL SET

On Labor day, when most of the home towners deserted the city for Lake Elsinore, Val Verde or Santa Monica Beach, we were joined by Sy and Felix Williams, Becky and Billy Ferrington, and made our way to the C.B.S. "Little Theatre," as guests of Hattie McDaniel. Must say, from where we sat in the sponsors booth, couldn't help but get a perfect view of the show that is by far one of the most entertaining weekly programs on the air waves. Ernest Whitman, co-starring with Hattie and the rest of the cast, was right in there with a grand performance. Hattie, as "Beulah" was funnier than ever. By the way, am certainly happy that the opportunity presented itself, for it has been quite some time that ye scribe has actually wanted to witness the "Beulah" Show that caused so very much comment when it first hit the air waves. Believe me, there is nothing Ante-Bellum about the entire performance, and Miss McDaniel proves to be a very gracious star.

After the show and dinner, found our way to the Williams Abode, where Sy's and Felix's artistic touches ring true throughout. Quite a little show place. . . . To top the evening, we enjoyed hearing little Miss Corn Shucks in her final appearance at the Last Word, in the holiday crowd was Ruth Scott, whom we hadn't seen in many a moon. On leaving, glimpsed quite a few others in the line waiting to get in. . . .

Irene Bradford, local socialite, continued her three weeks vacation in Lake Elsinore over Labor Day. Wearing a tan that calls for a second glance, and a look in her eye that's more interesting than ever, she gave me the holiday happenings at the Dave Williams. So happens that Ouida and David (Atty.) took motion pictures while touring the East and chose the week-end to show them to friends. Hilda and Howard Allen (Dr.) showed some of the reels that were taken during their stay in South America. There were about 20 guests at the Williams resort home. Dr. King, host of Elsinore, entertained the entire Labor Day week-end. Atty. and Mrs. H. Leonard Richardson were up at their place that now sports a new color scheme of pink and pink. . . . By the way, the Paul R. Williams and C. Hudson have a place across the lake that will in all probability be the talk of the resort area as a show place. . . .

NOTES OF INTEREST

As the Fall club season runs a close race with the ending days of summer, the picture already looks a good deal different from that of last year and other years gone by. Again the Woodlawn Branch of the Y, bids farewell to an ardent worker, one who has added quite a bit to the Y-Teen program and introduced many activities that will go down in Y-Teen history. Known to Girl Reserves throughout the community and loved by all, Mrs. Inez Allen, Y-Teen Secretary, found it necessary to brake all ties with the local branch and is all packed and ready to do her part in the social work field up the coast. So happens that her better half, Gerald, will be doing his work in Seattle, thus calling for the change. Their darling little home was purchased by song writer Andy Razof. . . . At this point we say good luck to Inez Allen, and may she find "Y" work interesting in her new home town. . . .

Ferrol Bobo Conner will start teaching the 3-Rs when the school bell rings next week. The Willow Brook Elementary School will be her position during the day, and at night she will be teaching home nursing at the Jeff evening school. . . . Among the new teachers along with Ferrol will be, Lula Green, Leola Beavers, Shirley Rakestraw to name a few. Returning from leaves will be Mel Blocker, Corine Kemp, Odessa Jones and Betty Alston. . . .

In passing, the Wilfandel Club will have a very interesting program this fall. For their goal will be building a club house. The land has already been staked to the diligent club workers. . . .

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Albert McNeil is back from his successful Eastern travels. Showed me a very lovely picture of Miss Joyce Thompson, an outstanding soprano, who will sing the lead in his Christmas Cantata. Me thinks this little lady holds the key to the heart of the EAGLE music critic. . . . Yvonne Cole will remain East and will do her fall teaching in art at Fisk University. . . . Donald and Marcela Miller are enjoying an exciting tour of the East. . . . From the festive land of Cuba, Blanch Groggs pens that she can't understand the language but is having a wonderful time. . . . Barbara and Bill Faulkner are vacationing at Yosemite. . . . The Seeleys, Roy and Kay, are quite pleased with the popularity of the swimming pool this summer. . . . Woody and Jean Brown made the trip by plane to Frisco over the week-end. . . . Happy to hear Henrietta Whitby is on road to recovery following serious auto accident. . . .

This week-end will find yours truly, enjoying lunch with Miss Ella B. Robinson, retiring principal of a Kansas City, Kansas school. The hostess will be her niece, Mrs. Edna McPherson. By the way, a select group of interesting people have been invited and, as you already have heard from this writer, Mrs. McPherson is queen of the culinary art. . . . Friday night will find us enjoying the Actor Lab production "Lincoln in Illinois," Sat. night the Royal Dragon dance—the week-end looks very interesting from here. . . . Making deadline.

'til Next Week

Kappa Concert To Feature Many Singing Stars

Among the five Atwater Kent audition winners to be presented by the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity Sunday, Sept. 26, at 3 p.m., in the Philharmonic auditorium is Katherine Hilgenberg, mezzo soprano.

Miss Hilgenberg became interested in music at an early age and began her musical career as a member of her church choir. Although she sang as soloist for her church choir, it was not until she came to Los Angeles in 1944 from her native home, Chicago, that she seriously considered a music career.

She entered the 1947 Atwater Kent auditions and sang "O Mio Fernando" from "La Fanarita" and wo nthird prize in the women's division. It was at this time that she met Kenneth Chapman, who later became her husband. They met again while working together in "Lohengrin" for the Euterpe Opera Reading Club. The two were married the following December.

In January, she and her husband appeared on Cathryn Childs Dixon's Military Parade of Musical Talent over radio station KXLA. Miss Hilgenberg has appeared as guest soloist with the Ellis Orpheus Club Men's Chorus in the Embassy auditorium.

She was chosen by Dr. John Vincent of UCLA to sing his original composition for contralto and orchestra in the annual concert given by the UCLA Symphony Orchestra in Royace Hall. She has also appeared publicly in a number of operatic productions. Most outstanding among these was the production "Electra," termed by critics as difficult.

Katherine is soloist for the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian Church and student of opera repertorie and operatic dramatics at the American Operatic Laboratory. She is also a student of Hans Clemens, formerly a leading tenor with the Metropolitan and San Francisco Operas.

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

While I was playing Post Office the other day I received the following letter. Its content is dedicated to the purpose of rule by dictatorship. Omitting the heading, it begins: Today our government needs a bit of house-cleaning, to put things in order for the "right" people. Some cleaning is being done now, and if things go according to plan (Hitler's old term) if the preparations are going to be complete, they should be by the beginning of next year. If you follow my simple instructions, Cain, you'll be ready to take over in no time at all.

"The first step is to bring about a depression, if you can. Lower the standards of living. Then they won't be able to get jobs, or food, or clothing. When they go to the others screaming, they'll tell them to eat cake. For, you see, things have gone to the extreme, and can't be any worse. Now, you're ready for the next step.

"Promise them everything, now that their minds are softened. Offer them better homes, better living standards, and then tell them they deserved to be treated as Americans, the leading citizens of the world. Being so despondent, they'll follow you with watering tongues. You're ready for the next step.

"You need an enemy of the nation. You must have an enemy, from the beginning to end. The enemy works into the plan and plays an essential part. You must have someone to hate and to fear. In that way, you'll find they'll think less of themselves and more about that groping black monster across the ocean. They'll believe anything you say about that enemy: that the people are enslaved, work for nothing—just anything. It doesn't matter what you tell them, just as long as you have a common enemy for all the people to hate. It's their duty, naturally, to destroy that enemy. And when they do, you can take over the country!

"Well, Cain, on to the next step: You've got them hating, slap them into a uniform! They don't have jobs, or decent living standards. They have an enemy across the sea. Then give them a chance to regain their dignity in a uniform and destroy an enemy at the same time. Technically, you'll have to call for a draft and order selective service in peacetime. But that shouldn't be too hard, if you've played your campaign of hate right—oh, hate is such a nasty word. Let's use something like—democracy . . . worldwide democracy. That's much nicer.

"Listen closely, now, for this next step is the most difficult to master if you're not carefully instructed. There are going to be some who smell a rat—oh! another of those horrible words! Let's say there are going to be some communists—yes, much better, who'll oppose you. They'll stick their slimy heads through every hole you leave in the dike. And for that reason, you must use their heads to plug up holes in your dike. Regardless of all circumstances, the opposition must be suppressed. Call them communists, and get the newspapers started smearing every one of them. Divide and rule. All those who oppose you are agents of that enemy you've made, and should be kicked out. Should there be a trial, prejudice the minds of the jurymen against communists in general and they won't have a chance. In that manner—after the conviction—the others will have shut up, tightly. Thus, one more hurdle has been eliminated. But the hate for communists, as you'll call them, must be so strong that they'll think nothing when one is jailed or shot at your instructions.

"And that's one of the factors that simplifies the situation. The good Americans are too honest themselves to suspect anything. They're drunk with this vision of beautiful freedom. They wouldn't think anyone was seeking to change the system . . . They'll shoo the fools away who

In Los Angeles the school year 1948-49 will begin promptly at 8 a.m. Monday, September 13, 1948, according to an announcement issued this week by the Superintendent of Los Angeles City Schools, Alexander J. Stoddard.

"Going back to school is a thrilling experience," Stated Dr. Stoddard. "When we realize that one out of every four people in the United States will be in school, it is apparent that education is probably the greatest single activity of the American people."

The Los Angeles City school system is the third largest in the nation, being exceeded only by New York and Chicago. The Superintendent reports that when the city schools open for business on the 13th, that 131 separate school plants will go into operation.

Gordon Defends White Youth In Death Sentence Appeal

In a move unprecedented in the annals of California's legal history, a white youth, 21 year old Daniel Jerome Zatzke, this week retained the services of Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., in an effort to escape death in San Quentin's lethal gas chamber.

Zatzke had been convicted of murder last May 13th by a Pasadena jury for the slaying of his roommate, Charles Wayne Dyer, on the morning of January 13, 1948. At the time of his trial he was represented by white Attorneys Gladys Towles Root and Eugene V. McPherson.

During the trial Zatzke contended that he had slain Dyer with a hammer because at latter made improper advances towards him on the morning of the slaying. Evidence produced at the trial revealed that Zatzke had taken the dead man's automobile after the killing and forged ownership papers and sold it for a large sum of money. The prose- cution contended that robb was the motive.

This is the first time in state that a white person has tained a Negro counsel to re sent him after the death pen had been inflicted. Gordon reporters that he had read trial transcript and felt confid that he would secure a new t before the State Supreme Co

It will be recalled that Gordon was retained by Anton Mendez, Negro of Brazilian descent, to represent him for t slaying of his white paramo Jean Farrington, in 1944 af he had been sentenced death. Gordon twice carri Mendez' case before the hi courts and later the senten was commuted to life impr onment.

Over 400 delegates will attend the founding convention of Young Progressives of California which will be held in Los Angeles, Saturday and Sunday, September 18 and 19, it was announced today by Letitia Innes and Harriet Jaffe, chairmen respectively of Youth for Wallace and Students for Wallace of Southern California.

Immediately following both conventions the elected officers of southern and northern groups will coalesce into a single working executive board for the entire state.

Young Progressives of America is an independent political and social organization which was founded at Philadelphia in July by 3000 delegates representing every state in the union. It is a fighting youth movement based generally on Henry Wallace's concept of peace, abundance and freedom. It is building its program and working techniques around problems of war, spiralling prices, low wages, unemployment, the draft, racial discrimination and the myriad of worries which are harassing the young people of this country into a constant state of insecurity.

Among the national sponsors for this new youth group are farm, Negro, trade union, education and religious leaders from all over the country, including writers Louis Adamic, Shirley Graham, Justin Gray, Paul Robeson, Jr., and James Durkin, president of UOPWA-CIO.

Southern California sponsors include Charlotta Bass, editor of the California EAGLE; Rabbi Jed Cohen, Judge Stanley Moffat and Jose R. Chavez, candidate for assembly in the 51st assembly district.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Barnabas, A Good Man. Lesson Text and Outline. Acts 4:36-37; 9:26-27; 11:22-26; 13:1-3. Motto Text. Acts 11:24.

Introduction

A Levite of Cyrus, Barnabas appears first as a devout, popular, and generous member of the primitive church at Jerusalem. Through his indulgence, Paul was admitted to apostolic confidence. Sent on a special mission to the church at Antioch in Syria, he engaged in a most useful ministry there, bringing Paul to his aid. After raising and conveying famine funds for the Judean saints, they returned to Antioch whence they shortly sailed on their first missionary journey to Cyprus and central Asia Minor. Returning to Antioch, they went to Jerusalem to attend the council over admission of Gentiles into the churches. Coming back to Antioch and planning a second missionary journey, Barnabas and Paul disagreed over taking John Mark with them. Thereupon the mission personnel was doubled, Paul taking Silas and going into Asia Minor, Barnabas taking Mark and going to Cyprus where his labors must have had much to do with Cyprian Christianity. Though doubtless deserving Paul's charge of dissimulation, Barnabas was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith.

Comments

1. Here is one particular person mentioned that was remarkable for this generous charity; it was Barnabas, afterwards Paul's colleague. The account here given concerning him. His name was Joses; he was of the tribe of Levi, for there were Levites among the Jews of the dispersion, who, it is probable, presided in their synagogue-worship, and, according to the duty of that tribe, taught them the good knowledge of the Lord. Barnabas was a good and cheerful Christian, and this enlarged his heart in charity to the poor; or one that was eminent for comforting the Lord's people, and speaking peace to wounded troubled conscience; he had an admirable facility that way.

Their account of his charity, and great generosity to the public fund, is particularly taken notice of because of the eminency of his service afterwards in the church of God, especially in carrying the gospel to the Gentiles; and, that his might not appear to come from any ill will to his own nation, we have here his benevolence to the Jewish converts. As one that was designed to be a preacher of the gospel, he disentangled himself from the affairs of this life, and he lost nothing upon the balance of the account, by laying the purchase-money at the apostles' feet, when he himself was, in effect, numbered among the apostles, by that word of the Holy Ghost. Thus, for the respect he showed to the apostles as apostles, he had an apostle's reward.

2. When Saul came to Jerusalem, he did not go to the chief priests and the Pharisees, but he assayed to join himself to the disciples. Wherever he came, he owned himself one of that despised persecuted people, and associated with them. They believed, not that he was a disciple, but that he only pretended to be so, and came among them as a spy or an informer.

They knew what a bitter persecutor he had been, with what fury he went to Damascus some time ago; they had heard nothing of him since, and therefore thought he was but a wolf in sheep's clothing. Barnabas took him to the apostles themselves, who were not so scrupulous as the inferior disciples, to whom he first assayed to join himself, and he declared to them what Christ had done for him. He had shown himself to him in the way and spoken to him; and what he said. What he had since done for Christ. He had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus. The introducing of a young convert into the communion of the faithful is a very good work, and one which, as we have opportunity, we should be ready to do.

3. The church at Jerusalem sent Barnabas to Antioch, to nurse this new-born church, and to strengthen the hands both of preachers and people, and put a reputation upon the cause of Christ there. They heard the good news, that the gospel was received at Antioch. The apostles there were inquisitive how the work went on in the countries about; and, it is likely, kept up a correspondence with all parts where preachers were, so that tidings of these things, of the great numbers that were converted at Antioch, soon came to the ears of the church that was in Jerusalem.

Those that are in the most eminent stations in the church ought to concern themselves for those in a lower sphere. They dispatched Barnabas to them with all speed; they desired him to go, and assist and encourage these hopeful beginnings. They sent him forth as an envoy from them, and a representative of their whole body, to congratulate them upon the success of the gospel among them, as matter of rejoicing both to preachers and hearers, and with both they rejoiced.

Where the grace of God is it will be seen, as the tree is known by its fruits; and, where it is seen, it ought to be owned. What we see which is good in any we must call God's grace in them, and give that grace the glory of it; and we ought ourselves to take the comfort of it, and make it the matter of our rejoicing. We must be glad to see the grace of God in others, and the more when we see it where we did not expect it.

Those that have turned to the Lord are concerned to cleave unto the Lord, not to fall off from following him, not to flag and tire in following him. To cleave to the Lord Jesus is to live a life of dependence upon him and devotedness to him; not only to hold him fast, but to hold fast by him, to be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might. To cleave to him with purpose of heart, with an intelligent, firm, and deliberate resolution, founded upon good grounds; and fixed upon that foundation.

4. Diligent faithful teachers do truly minister unto the Lord. Those that instruct Christians serve Christ; they really do him honour, and carry on the interest of his kingdom. Those that minister to the church in praying preaching, minister unto the Lord, for they are the church's servants for the Christ's sake; to him they must have abeye in their ministrations, and from him they shall have their recompence.

Ministering to the Lord, in one way or other, ought to be the stated business of churches and their teachers; to this work time ought to be set apart, it is set apart, and in this work we ought to spend some part of every day. What have we to do as Christians and ministers but to serve the Lord Christ? Christ by his Spirit has the nomination of his ministers; for it is by the Spirit of Christ that they are qualified in some measure for his services. Christ's ministers are separated to him and to the Holy Ghost: Ministers are to be employed in Christ's work and under the Spirit's guidance, to the glory of God the Father.

All that are separated to Christ as manisters are separated to work; Christ keeps no servants to be idle. They are separted to take pains, not to take the state. The work of Christ's ministers, to which they are to be separated, is work that is settle, and that which all Christ's ministers hitherto have been called to, and which they themselves have first been, by an external call, directed to and have chosen. When good men are going forth about good work, they ought to be solemnly and particularly prayed for, especially by their brethren that are their fellow labourers and fellow-soldiers.

Barnabas showed himself to be a man of a very sweet, affable, courteous disposition, that had himself the art of obliging, and could teach others.

He was not only a righteous man, but a good man, a good tempered man. Ministers that are so recommend themselves and their doctrine very much to the good opinion of those that are without. He was a good man, that is, a charitable man; so he had approved himself, when he sold an estate, and gave the money to the poor.

By this it appeared that he was richly endued with the gifts and graces of the Spirit. The goodness of his natural disposition would nit have qualified him for this service if he had not been full of the Holy Ghost, and so full of power by the Spirit of the Lord. He was full of faith, full of the Christian faith himself, and therefore desirous to propagate it among others; full of the grace of faith, and full of the fruits of that faith that work by love. He was sound in the faith, and therefore pressed them to be so.

THE PASTOR of the Calvary Baptist Church, Rev. O. L. Hegmon, and some of the nation's greatest preachers will unite in a great jubilee to be held at the church, 1031 East 52nd place, beginning Sunday, Sept. 12, and continuing until the Lord says "Stop." Come and join this great soul-saving meeting, and let us do you good.

Lutherans to Hold Rally, Oct. 3rd

The Lutherans of America are planning a rally in Hollywood Bowl Sunday, Oct. 3, at 3:30 p.m., when members of that church from all over the world are expected to gather for the Lutheran Hour. The theme for the assembly will be the bringing of Christ to all nations.

Dr. Walter A. Maier, famed "Man of the Lutheran Hour," will deliver the principal address, and will be joined by a group of outstanding figures. Among those who have been invited to speak are: President Truman, Gov. Earl Warren, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John Foster Dulles, Eleanor Roosevelt, and Gen. Hoyt W. Vandenberg.

A highlight on the program will be the parade of all nations, with banners from more than 100 countries, many of them carried by the nationals representing those countries. A band will play some of the national anthems, and a massed choir of 1,000 voices will sing several chorals.

Baha'i World Faith

Wisdom-versus Education will be discussed by Mr. Robert Powers in the lecture which he will give at the Los Angeles headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire avenue, on Sunday, September 12, at 11:00 a.m.

As a basic element of faith, the Baha'i accepts the statement of Baha'u'llah "The root of all knowledge is the knowledge of God, and this knowledge is impossible save through His Manifestation."

Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted.

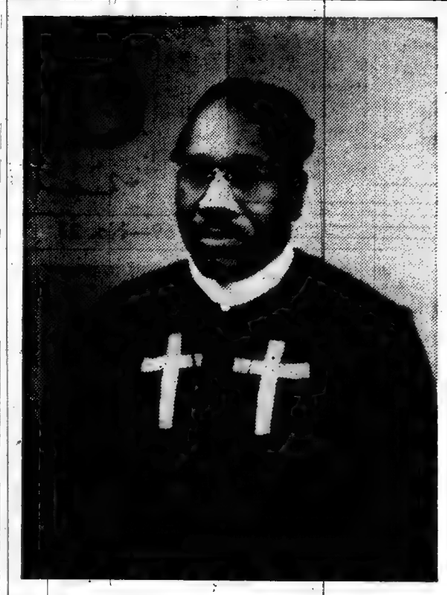
National Missionary Convention, L. A. '49



Rev. M. Frederick Mitchell, pastor of the Cosmopolitan Christian church, 33rd st. and Hooper ave., who was a delegate to the National Christian Missionary convention in Detroit, Mich., reports that it was the most successful convention held in the 32 years of conventional work. He left armed with letters of invitations from the governor and mayor's offices, including many civic, business and professional organizations, inviting the National Christian Missionary convention to hold its 1949 session in Los Angeles. The California EAGLE invitation was listed among the many which helped achieve this objective.

REV. M. F. MITCHELL

Mitchell was chosen by the convention a member of the national board, which is the policy-making body, and chairman of the National Transportation Agency.

Sunday, Sept. 12, from 7:30 to 8 a.m., the Cosmopolitan Christian church dedicates its church on the air. The program will consist of music and a dedicatory message. The public is cordially invited to listen in each Sunday morning at the same hour, over KFWB.

REV. FRANK M. Christian Science Lesson Text 'Substance'

"Substance" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Romans, "We are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it."

Among the Scriptural selections are these verses from the Psalms: "Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O Lord, according unto thy word. . . . Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments. . . . The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple. . . . Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; and teach me thy statutes." "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter. The belief that man has any other substance, or mind, is not spiritual and breaks the First Commandment, Thou shalt have one God, one Mind."

MISS GLORIA ROBERTS, pianist, who will be heard in recital, Sunday, September 19th at the First A.M.E. Church, 8th and Towne Aves., began her studies at the Gray Conservatory of Music in piano and theory. She says: "My early training in musical theory from Prof. Gray has proved an invaluable foundation in the interpretation of the works of the Masters."

Mrs. Eliza Shelley Ward Passes

Mrs. Elila Shelley Ward, this city, died August 24, leaving many friends to mourn her passing.

Mrs. Ward was born in Pine Bluff, Arkansas, the daughter of Thomas and Nancy Shelley. She confessed Christianity at an early age, and united with the Damascus Baptist Church in Pine Bluff. Later she moved to Fort Smith, Ark., and there joined the 9th Street Baptist Church, where she served faithfully until coming to Los Angeles in 1930.

Miss Shelley lived in Los Angeles for three years, then moved to New Rochelle, N. Y. There she joined the Bethesda Baptist Church, of which Dr. J. Raymond Henderson was pastor. In 1941 she returned to Los Angeles, and united with the Second Baptist Church, of which Dr. Henderson is the present pastor. She was a faithful and loyal member of this church until her death.

Eliza Shelley was married to Mr. David Ward in September, 1943. She was a faithful and loyal wife during the few years of their wedded life. Mrs. Ward leaves her husband, a sister, Mrs. Nellie Anderson; three nephews, six neices, ten grandneices, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Dear Friends in Christ:

My son, George, was married August 28 to Mary Penelope Sich by the bride's brother, Rev. Franch Sich, in Aberdeen, S. D.

In answer to many queries I am notifying all friends that "Tumbleweed," my biography, written by my husband, Eddie Doherty, and published by Bruce Publishing Co., is out, and that his new book, "Martin," the biography of Bl. Martin de Porres, will be out soon, published by Sheed and Ward.

Clothing of all kinds and for all sexes and ages is urgently needed here. Mark parcels: "For Charity and Missionary Work Only." Address them, if my mail, to Madonna House, Cumbermere, Ontario, Canada. If by express, to Barry's Bay, Ontario, Canada, via Canadian National Railroad.

Yours sincerely,

FRANKIE LAINE AND BE-BOP KING ON CAVALCADE SHOW

Judging from the big array of outstanding talent slated to appear on the fourth annual Calvalcade of Jazz probram to be held Sunday, Los Angeles jazz lovers are surely in for the treat of their lives. Next Sunday is the Day. The place is Wrigley Field.

Topping the bill will be Dizzy Gillespie, king of be-boppers, and his orchestra with their original jazz stylings, are a whole show themselves. Little Miss Cornshucks, who hardly needs an introduction to her thousands of fans, will also be there giving out with her songs and antics that has made her so famous throughout the nation.

Not stopping here, the cavalcade will also feature the music of those lovelies, International Sweethearts of Rhythm. Music aplenty will be furnished by Joe Liggins and his Honeydrippers, another feature highlight of the program.

In the blues department will be Joe Turner, king of blues, and Jimmy Weatherspoon, famous blues recording artist, and a host of others will round out the show, making it an event that will be long spoken of as the best yet to be presented in these parts.

This week it was announced that Frankie Laine, famous crooner, who made such a hit with his recording of "That's My Desire," that incidentally skyrocketed him to fame, will also be there and what do you bet, he's going to sing, too.

Included in the souvenir programs to be available during the show will be an opportunity for some lucky person to go home with one of the latest television sets, which will be given away that afternoon. Remember, it is only by purchasing a program that it will be possible to be eligible to win the set.

Tickets for the show are now on sale at Wrigley Field box office, 435 E. 42nd pl.; Karl's Cut Rate Drug Store, 4316 S. Central ave.; West Coast Service Bureau with Brock's Service Bureau, 1246 W. Jefferson ave.

'Papa Mutt' Carey Dies On Vacation in Elsinore

By JT Gipson,
Theatrical Editor

There's a tear in the heart of the music world. Papa Mutt is dead. Papa Mutt was called to heaven last Saturday morning while spending a vacation with his wife, Madeliene, in Elsinore. Papa Mutt's heart stopped beating after all these years. It just couldn't take it any longer. The strain was too much.

But Papa Mutt's heart served him well during his more than 30 years in the music profession. Papa Mutt, whose real name was Thomas Carey, played a powerful trumpet. He was born in Hornville, La., and came to Los Angeles in 1919 to join Kid Ory's famous swingsters. From 1919 until the time of his death, Papa Mutt was regarded as one of the top men of his profession. Young trumpet-tooting upstarts respected Papa Mutt's playing. He wasn't on a be-bop kick, but he could blow you some of the sweetest, growlingest and hottest trumpet you would ever want to hear. Depended on the mood he was in. When in a good mood, Papa Mutt literally blew his heart out. When feeling depressed he still out-blew most of the present-day crop of young so-called "top" trumpet players.

No one knew his age. No one outside of his family, that is. That he kept secret. But he shared everything else with his friends. His music. His money. The shirt off his back, or anything for a friend. Papa Mutt was a grand guy.

Don't tell anyone you haven't heard of Papa Mutt or you'll be listed as a Schlmeil. He was rated right up there with Louis Armstrong, King Oliver and other greats of the trumpet-tooting kingdom. He was a part of the New Orleans cradle of swing. Had his own band for years. Would work a few months, disband and relax the remainder of the year. He was a musician's musician, and a man's best friend. He loved people and people loved him. His records are collectors' items. Papa Mutt loved to blow his horn, and if there's a trumpet in heaven, you can bet all the tea in Harlem Papa Mutt will be blowing it.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son and daughter to mourn his passing. They are Earl Morris and Wanda.

But more than the family of Papa Mutt Carey will mourn his passing. His thousands of fans and friends will shed a tear for the passing of one of the grandest guys in the music profession.

Papa Mutt is dead. His trumpet has been stilled. But the memory of Thomas "Papa Mutt" Carey will linger on and on.

Goodnight, Sweet Prince!

JOE LEWIS

Joe Lewis' quartette this week rounds out their 25th week at the Dixie Castle, cozy Santa Ana spot. Lewis, local guitarist formerly featured with the bands of Buck Clayton, Les Hite and other top swing outfits, has an entertaining band and stellar musicians. Personnel: Harold Morrow, piano; Walter "Dootsie" Willimas (writer of "Bobby Sox Baby"), trumpet; Bert Brooks, drums, and Lewis himself strumming the strings and doing the vocals.

Dizzy Gillespie Gives Byron and Beau New Song

Byron and Beau, sensational young dance team, opened last night (Wednesday) at Paul Rubin's Cricket Club before a capacity crowd of nightclub-goers. Featured in the show is the band of Esquire Award winning Vic Dickinson, whose Trombone stylings won him many coveted honors during his many years of toying with a trombone. Clarence Metcalf is also on the bill, and turns in a pretty neat job of entertaining the customers; dancing, picking up chairs and tables with his teeth, and doing other antics. but it's the team of Byron and Beau who wins the orchid for stellar performance.

This team of Byron Ellis, formerly featured with the Archie Savage dancers, and beautiful Louise Franklin, truly one of the prettiest girls in show business and a former Cotton Club dancing cutie, is on a par with any dancing duo Hollywood has to offer, and their act is as smooth as the underside of a butterfly's wing!

Following their Cricket club engagement, the team leave for San Francisco for an indefinite stay at the Cotton Club, after which they leave on a tour of the eastern states.

Dizzy Gillespie, the King of Be-Bop, whose famous orchestra will appear in person Sunday afternoon at Wrigley Field as one of the featured attractions in Leon Hefflin's 4th Annual Jazz Cavalcade show, was so impressed with the work of Byron and Beau that he had his ace music arranger make a duplicate copy of his famed tune, "Manteca," as musical background for a Be-Bop number the team will feature in their dance repertoire. There is but one arrangement of the number out, and it's being used by Gillespie. He turned down a request from actress Carmen Miranda for the use of his tune, and gave it to Byron and Beau because, as he put it: "They've got a terrific act, and will do justice to the tune!"

Say You Saw It in the EAGLE

FRANKIE "THAT'S MY DESIRE" LAINE, song stylist extraordinary, will appear in person Sunday afternoon at Wrigley Field as star of Leon Hefflin's 4th Annual Jazz Cavalcade show. Other stars on the bill include Joe Turner, Jimmy Witherspoon, Joe Adams, Little Miss Cornshucks, Dizzy Gillespie, Joe Liggins and the Honeydrippers, The Blenders Quartet, the International Sweethearts Of Rhythm & others.

Baby Ray Johnson, Little Miss Doll-Face, will 2-wk vacation in New York beginning 9-25-48. She"s a waitress, and one of the Tail O' The Cock's prettiest advertisements! . . . Errol Garner's latest disc release is artistry in piano styling. A swingy arrangement of the oldie, "Frankie and Johnny." Due out in Oct. A Dial label . . . Woman in Jersey City sued her husband for divorce. On the grounds that he has spoken to her but Three times during their Three years of married life. She was awarded custody of the Three children . . Thelma Wallace, one of the shapeliest dolls in town, with a personality as pretty as a song by Dan Grissom . . . Roy Evans, the publicity director, has moved his elaborate offices from Cntrl Ave to a modern bldg on Avalon. He handles praise-releases for Joe Liggins' crew . . . Policewoman Marie Thomas, cruising down the stem hello'ing friends, of which she has many! Pretty Girl. Nice Personality. And fine people, too! . . . The Chicago Herald-American edition of Aug. 14 devotes an entire page to the pitching prowess of LeRoy Paige. You know him as "Satchel." . . . John Robinson, owner-operator of the Fawn catering service on So. Western avenue (a few feet from the Cresbar) and a grand guy in ev'ry sense of the word, will entertain the Westview Hospital Women's Guild Thursday (tonight) at 2903 So. Western Ave. The club will meet to formulate plans for their final financial drive for the Westview hosp. A very worthy cause! . . . Betty Sheppard doesn't know anything about the rumor making the rounds that she's maaaaaaaadly in luff with a newspaper reporter. "I'm in love with nobody," the pretty little Debbie says. And that, as the saying goes, is that! . . . Harriet Kelley, who lives on Grape st in Watts, is wearing an engagement ring. She'll wed a handsome fellow (whose name escapes me at the moment) any day now. Harriet is one of the prettiest girls I've seen since I first saw Lena Horne in a dream! Such lovliness should be wrapped up and preserved in cellophane! . . .

JJ. T. GIPSON

Ramblings On A Remington: In an off-the-shoulder dress, Louise (Little Bo Pip) Franklin, looks sweeter than any dumpling I've seen in an off-the-shoulder dress. Her lovliness leaves me limp . . . Sammy Carter (Earl's bro) is the newest N. Y. arrival to the town. Has most of the chic chicks in the social coterie running over each other for an intro. Playing hard to get. Wants to meet no one but Lena Horne! . . . Right side of the family off-spring's pretty face is marred by a 3-inch scar. Result of a bicycle accident, and she's taking it better than Donald Baker, who had a tooth yanked last wk, and is carrying on as tho he haddababy . . . Norma Amato Green, wife of Eddie, "Duffy's" pal on the Ed Gardner show, looks more like a college girl than most of those who go there! A peaches 'n cream complexion! . . . Whenever the topic of conversation turns to Grand Guys, don't forget to add the name of Clarence T. Moore to the list. He's tops! It isn't news, I know, but who th' hell's writing this colyum anyway? . . . Sudden Thawt: There are two ways to avoid paying alimony: stay single or stay married . . . Pome: Etchings are fetching. But liquor is quicker . . . Hey, Benny Carter, contact the colyum, will ya' please? It has a happy and interesting item to report . . . Camille Cannady, Attorney George's beautiful wife, is bored with social life. She'll devote her leisure to scribblin' a col'm. Hey, Camille, don't think it won't be fun tryin' to get out a "newsy" col'm every week — because it won't! . . . Have you heard Felix Gross' band toy with the novelty ditty, "She's My Baby?" The Song's witty wordage is a tonic for tired nerves . . . Arthur Adams (Joe's bro; but don't hold THAT against him) offered the col'm an airplane ride over the city of the Angels. We'll accept, Art! (Arthur was a top pilot during World Hell No. 2. Flew on hundreds to overseas missions.) He's a grand guw, and has but one fault. His perfume stinks. . . . Percy Anderson is one of the magnets drawing the crowds to Clarence Moore's Memo club. The other ah-traction is a doll-like bundle of loveliness named Zelda Grissom, who has the kitchen there.

Norma Green

Memo's From Melrose: "Dear Mr. G., It was her fine figure that attracted Joe Washington to that Westside doll. The "fine figure" referred to is the one she gets each week from her job. Hey, boss, if the angel Gabriel was on earth, he wouldn't last 10-minutes in a trumpet duel with Lloyd Reese, the Les Hite retired horn-tooter now teaching music to students . . What's this I hear about a retired big-time bandleader (world-famous) turning over his entire musical Library (valued at 10 grand) to you, with the idea of "backing" you in a sixteen piece orchestra? Will you play yer Trumpet again; sing the blues, or just "front" the crew? Oh, yeah, most persistant rumor is that Harold Oxley (who guided the destinies of the late Jimmie Lunceford's orcestra for 13-yrs) will handle your bookings. Gonna stop writing the col'm: go into show b's-ness; keep writing the col'm or WHAT????? . . . Beverly Anderson, your pet deb, spent her Labor Day vacation in San Diego. Rode down with a party of friends . . . There'll be other "stars" on the bill, but the magic-musical name of Dizzy Gillespie will lure 'em at Wrigley Field Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12. Diz' trumpeting is 20-yrs ahead of his time! . . . Judy Carol's singing is something to enjoy, and they're still giving Lucky Millinder credit for "discovering" her. Don't you even getta mention for introducing the gal to the guy? . . . Arthur Wilkins tried to join the Army last wk. Was rejected because of a punctured ear-drum. The result of an auto accident. Not from listening to Vaughn Monroe's singing . . . You should-a-seen pert and pretty Jeni LeJon looking so sophisticute the other afternoon in the Cresbar. If you've never seen a dream walking, then you've never seen Jeni LeJon! (a little brown bundle of feminine loveliness!) . . . Think you've got troubles? Oughta listen to sportsman Johnny Wilson's tale of woe. He and his wife separated. Divorced. Parted the best of friends. She returned to her NY home and married a bartender. She knew a girl in a NY nightclub powder-room who knew the cousin of her best friend's husband, who knew a racketeer. He gave her a

Arthur Lee Simpkins To Do Own Air Show;

A voice like Arthur Lee Simpkins' is heard once in a thousand years! The other sun-shiney afternoon I poured myself into a sharp-crease sack suit (which is called a sack suit because it is made out of sacks), and waddled over to the Simpkins household, on East 53rd street.

Arthur Lee, a tall, very handsome, mild-mannered gent, greeted me with a big hello and invited me in to talk over old times. I went in and over a tall, thin glass of imported wine we talked over old times. Arthur Lee doesn't drink but he thoughtfully had a bottle of imported grape on hand for your devilish little nightclub editor. That is the spirit I like in my interviews.

Before I rush madly on with my story, with your permission (and even without it) I'd like to tell you a little about Arthur Lee Simpkins. He formerly sang with Earl Hines' band under the name of "Georgia Boy." Sings in seven languages, and the only act in show business to play longer than two weeks at the famed Flamingo club in Las Vegas. He has appeared in television shows from New York and Hollywood, and broke records at the Roxy theatre in New York when he was star of the stage show headed by columnist Ed Sullivan.

Arthur Lee isn't a crooner, in the accepted sense of the word. He sings semi-classics, ballads and was once presented with a gold diamond-studded watch and new Buick automobile by B'nai B'rith, outstanding Jewish organization, as a token of appreciation for his superb rendition of the Jewish song, "Eli Eli."

It's hard to do a story on Arthur Lee Simpkins. The guy is too modest, and won't give out with much info on himself.

Last week he signed a radio contract to do a program for Burton's of Hollywood. He will spin records, chatter with various guest stars and sing a few numbers. It will be an informal program, and the first of its kind to originate in California. It will be known as the Arthur Lee Simpkins show.

Opening at the Beverly Hills Country club in Kentucky on Sept. 24, the popular singer returns to the exclusive Kentucky spot by popular demand.

His first record releases are due out soon on the Gold Seal label. They are "Begin The Beguine" "Marie" and other sides the names of which your newsboy forgot to ask.

But take it from me, this guy Arthur Lee Simpkins has not one of, but the greatest voice in show business!

That's my opinion, the opinion of critics and the opinion of the big-wigs out at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who signed him to a 7-year motion picture contract!

Billie Holiday Aids Benefactor

NEW YORK—Performers of the theatrical stage have long been the subject of high praise and gratitude for their benevolence in coming to the rescue of those beset with sickness, sadness and sorrow in the hour of need.

Billie Holiday, America's foremost song stylist, is no exception. Upon hearing of the serious illness of Jerry Preston, a long-time friend and benefactor, she went immediately to his assistance. The veteran cabaret and night club owner is greatly improved after a major operation at Memorial Hospital.

Miss Holiday directed her personal manager, Johnny Levy, to spare no expense for medical attention or hospitalization.

Dooley Wilson to Have Part in Pic With Humphrey

Dooley Wilson, Negro ballad singer who was the notable Sam of "Casablanca", will be reunited with Humphrey Bogart for the first time since that picture in Columbia's "Knock on Any Door." Allan Roberts and Lester Lee are writing a song for Dooley to sing, accompanying himself at the piano, in the Three Eighty Bar, one of the film's key sets. Tentative title of the song is "Skid Row." The number which Wilson revived with great success in "Casablanca" was "As Time Goes By."

One Place Where Color Is an Asset

POMONA — Buildings at the Los Angeles County Fair Grounds in Pomona will constitute one of the most colorful groups of structures in the nation when the big exposition opens Sept. 17 for its first post-war showing. The colors are those of the far western landscape and represent the terra cottas of the desert, the lemon and the orange of the citrus groves and the blues from the midnight skies.

The bold and magnificent theme was planned by Millard O. Sheets, distinguished California artist. Over 40,000 gallons, including 75 colors, have been applied to interiors, exteriors and roofs. The work has been ried out with a very defini jective and the effect is in ed to stimulate enthusias the 350-acre setting, elim the glare of former lighte ors, add to the general a tiveness and stimulate th pearance of scale and wel the buildings.

Tells of Visit to Elsinore, And Chat With Alyce Key

J. T. Gipson called me th other morning. Never mind what he called me; that's my business. He asked me to write a "guest" column for him. I consented because he is my friend. But if I don't get the 10% from his salary for writing the guest column for him, I'll sue the little beast for all he's worth. On second thought I wouldn't get much. Probably a broken down type. writer and couple of T-shirts.

I journeyed up to Elsinore for te week-end, and it did the body and mind good to get out of town and away from Theatrical and Sports Editors for a few days.

Ran into Boddy Baker the Tennis star and he told me a few dirty jokes I didn't understand. I was enjoying myself. Having a wonderful time. Relaxing in the Lake and feeling as good as a little rich white boy when lo and behold, I look up and see J. T. Gipson walking in my direction!

"Hey, buddy," I said, "when did you come up? I would have picked you up and brought you along with me, but I didn't think you liked outings. Always figured you loved the noise, must and smell of Central avenue—since you're never off it."

"....." (That denotes silence and dirty look.) We sat around chewing the fat for a few minutes, and Gip walked off in the direction of a little blonde. Said she was his niece, or somthing. Oh yeah, where was I? . . . Oh, trying to do a "guest" col'm, uh?

Well, here's a scoop: Turkey Thompson will fight Joe Louis in Washington, D. C. on the 20th of the month. A benefit for some charity. Don't play the Turk cheap. He's looking sharper'n ever these days.

Say men, don't play this boy, Willie Bean, cheap either! He meets Turkey Thompson at the Olympic Auditorium on the 14th. (That's next Tuesday night.) Bean will give Turkey the best and toughest fight of his career. He has everything to gain; nothing to lose in this joust with the Turk. He punches like a mule, and has been promised a shot in Madison Square Garden if he gets over Turkey. He wants that bout in the Garden. On the other hand, if Turkey wins impressively he'll journey to Washington D. C. feeling confident for his bout with Louis.

He wants that bout. And feels he can beat Louis. There are others who feel the same way. Tho I'm not one of the others, I believe Turkey Thompson will give Louis a good fight for a few rounds.

Did you know George Moore is dickering for the contract of Louis "Lucky" Langley sensational New England featherweight? Langley recently won the Colorado feather and bantamweight title, and is trained by Georgie Jerome.

The Kid wants to meet Kui-Ku Young or Manuel Ortiz. Feels he can beat 'em both.

Baby Dutch Culbertson is the best heavyweight on the coast. Give him 5 or 6 more months, and he'll whip anything his weight—including Turkeys.

That was Cannonball Green (Jackie Wilson's trainer) talking fight-talk the other evening in ront of the Last Word with Honey Murphy, another well-liked Sportsman.

Jackie Wilson's television set is tops!

Guy out at the Cricket club name Gus whose droll sense of humor is on a par with some of the top comics. The other night when Gip and I visited the club to hello a few words with Alyce Key, Gip's pretty girl friend for more than 30-years, Alyce (who sells addmission tickets and books the acts into the spot) stopped us and told us some witty wordage Gus told her. Gus was listening to the football game the other night. When it was over, Alyce asked: "How did you enjoy the game?" Gus thought hard for a minute and seriously stated: "It was okay, but you know, somebody's gonna get hurt out there one of these days." Alyce asked why. Gus told her. "Take tonight, for instance," Gus said, "The announcer was talking about Kenny Washington running down a broken field. A few minutes later he said something about another player running up against a stone wall. Uh-uh, it aint for me. Somebody's liable to get hurt — running down broken fields and up against stone walls!"

This is may idea of a "guest" column, and if you want something better then turn to the Theatrical section and read Gipson. Gertrude, I mean, not J. T.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Leadman, the former champion of the border course, came back to the races last Sunday and showed more than 9,000 lovers of the sport of kings that he was as great as ever. The San Diego bred son of Bee Line-Rancherita beat some of the best sprinters in the feature attraction known as "The Labor Day Handicap" in the fast time of 1:11 3/5, beating the favored Housatonic by a half length, paying his backers $5.00 for $2. It was a rare training feat by owner and trainer F. L. Burkholder. Leadman is his heart and joy and a great favorite with Caliente fans.

In the secondary attraction called "The Harvest" a six furlongs, Mighty High, second choice in the betting, scored a handy victory over the favored entry of Fox Brook and Double Drip, paying in the mutuels $7.00 straight. The daily double combination of Bonnie Trace, winner of the second race, and Craig Cap, victor of the third, paid its backers $38.80, while the quinela had the shortest payoff in many months when Timber Tav was first and Omar Possum ran second. Both horses in this race were equal favorites and the payoff line was over two blocks long. More than 3,000 tickets were sold on the winning combination.

Long shot players had a good start when Wing Around won the first race to pay $60.00 for $2. Bonnie Trace kept them going in the second to pay $23.40. Timber Tac, who won the last race, ran like a scared jackrabbit, winning by 12 lengths.

This Sunday, General Manager Walter C. Marty has arranged for the feature handicap "The Pomona" honoring the opening of the biggest county fair in the world. It will open Sept. 17 with 14 days of harness and running races. The secondary will be "The Anaheim" at 1 mile and 70 yards, and for good measure "The Riverside" at six furlongs will be supporting the 12-race program.

Popular General Manager William (Bill) Collier, who made a flying trip to Portland, has secured some of the best hounds in the country to compete against Beach Comber, the champion at present at the border course. And the fans are in for a great treat. No expense has been spared by the popular general manager to bring the best greyhounds in the country to Caliente. All is set for Thursday night, the Shrine night, guests of Manager Collier.

OOOOO! If Jay Was Only a Cussin' Man!

Jay Loft-Lynn, 724½ E. 55th St., is a very sad-hearted young man these days. Jay, as a singing soloist at the Independent Church of Christ for the past six years, and a singing "extra" in motion pictures, decided to go for a little stroll one night last week during the hot spell. Jay now wishes he had-a stood in bed.

When he returned he discovered some person or persons had broken a side window of his home and walked off with all of his personal belongings. To add insult to injury, they (he, or she) even took Jay's long woollen underwear that keeps him comfortable.

Jay, ordinarily a mild-mannered gentleman, fervently hopes the Police finds the culprit before he does!

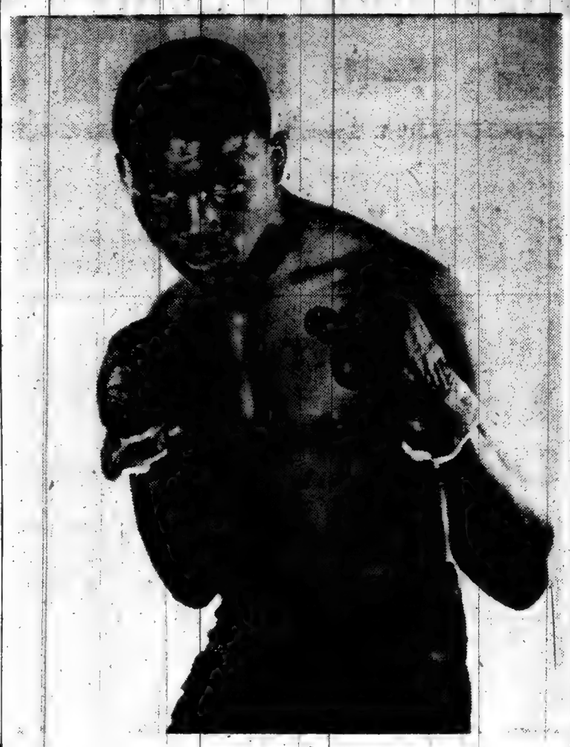
Watson Jones to Box At Ocean Park Monday

—WATSON JONES— ..... teg½

Making his first start since being Santa Claused with the return of his license, Watson Jones, one-time playboy king of the coast light-heavyweight fighters, will meet Sonny Andrews in the feature bout Monday night at the Ocean Park Arena.



Jones had his license taken away from him following a bout with Bert Lytel. The commission said he "wasn't trying." Following a hearing before the board, Jones apparently proved he WAS trying, and his story was so convincing he was handed a license to box again.

Al Hart Arrested

Al Hart, heavyweight fighter who put up some pretty good fights here, was to have fought Tex Boddie on the Gene Burton-Bernard Docusen card in Chicago last week, but was arrested for parole violation by a United States Deputy Marshal at the weighing-in ceremonies in the Illinois Athletic Commission offices.

Ray Robinson

New York—Ray "Sugar" Robinson will meet Kid Gavilan, of Cuba, in a non-title support of the Ike Williams-Jesse Flores championship bout at Yankee Stadium Sept. 21.

DARNELL CARTER, one of the town's top lightweight glove-slingers, left last week for his home in Houston, Texas, where he will vacation visit for two weeks with friends and relatives. He's relaxin' and restin' prior to a hard training grind in preparation for bouts in the East and Madison Square Garden. Carter is handled by Leonard McClain, popular bail bondsman and Buddy Garcia, assistant to Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr.

Turkey Thompson Meets Big Bad Willie Bean at Olympic

The Terrible Turk, more familiarly known as Turkey Thompson, will have to get by tough Willie Bean next Tuesday night at the Olympic before he proves to the sports world that his chances with Joe Louis will be more than the nadir of nil.

Thompson, who meets Louis late this month in a benefit bout at Washington, D. C., will meet a very capable opponent in Bean, who packs a wallop in either mitt.

Turkey has trained down to look like a top-notch fighter (which he is), and the added poundage around his midsection has gone with the wind. He punches harder, sharper and much faster. But that doesn't scare Bean, who is out to halt The Turk's climb up the fistic ladder of fame.

A win over Turkey will add to Bean's prestige, and if there is anything Bean wants more than somewhat it is to add to his prestige. He is a very good fighter. Hard puncher, and cool at all times in the ring.

But then, so is Turkey Thompson, so it stacks up as a good 10-round joust this Tuesday night at Cal Eaton's 18th and Grand house of swat.

ROYAL ESQUIRES

The Royal Esquires social club, one of the most popular young groups in the city, staged a gala cabaret party and show last Saturday at the Congo club. The affair was truly one of the finest held this season, and the show featured the Lorenzo Flennoy trio, Howard "Sandman" Simms, Joe Turner, Bootsie and Jackie and Louise Collet.

Thought must be made better, and human life more fruitful, for the divine energy to move it onward and upward.

Count Carter To Form Swing Crew

(NPB)—A new band, featuring a brand new "look" is about to make its appearance here on the coast. This department was assured of that much by Cecil "Count" Carter, who lays claims to being mentor of the new agregation. Sezhe: "The band will be versatile in the sense that not only will each musician be an artist with his instrument, but in addition be trained to provide entertainment in some other entertaining manner."

The new band of eight pieces will emerge in early October under the banner, Cecil "Count" Carter and His Orchestra.

It will feature much of the original music composed by Carter such as "I Tho't You Ought to Know," featured by the King Cole Trio, and "Powder House," by the Andrew Sisters and other hits by Ivie Anderson.

Arthur Dennis, local sportsman, now managing Wells Sporting Goods store, hit the jackpot of his fishing party recently aboard the "Pierpoint" off Pierpoint Landing, Long Beach. Dennis caught a 30 pound Albacore. he fishing party, trolling for Albacore included: Curtis Watts, Art Watts, Dr. Jerome C. Hatcher, Rev. H. L. Morgan, Julius Baker, Fred Smith and Arthur "Small" Dennis.

West Coast Bridge Plans Busy Season

Down at the West Coast Federation, 107 East Santa Barbara, there seems to be a lot of hustling and bustling going on in preparation for the coming season. There are beautiful, yet useful gifts, such as an electrical lamp, etc. on display at the club.

There was a challenge sent out by the club members to all those who think that they can play bridge, to try to win these gifts. This club has a membership all over the state, comprising over two hundred members. The club membership extends as far as Denver, Colorado.

The W. C. F. club members stick to the idea that it is a pleasure organization, and that is all that it is. They are holding their quarterly meet in Oakland, California, and are planning the best time of their lives, as an organization.

He Wants To Live Like An 'Artist'

Playing in Portland, Oregon, last week before a crowd of 2600 persons, Nat "King" Cole told newsmen he does not intend to sell his recently purchased $85,000 home in fashionable Hancock Park. "I just want to live like an artist," the leader of the famed King Cole Trio stated.

Members of the Hancock Property Owners' Association protested Cole's acquisition of the home built by the late William Lacey, a former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. It is an ivy-covered English style brick home with spacious grounds, located at 401 Muirfield road.

Guys Like This Should Live So Long; Gip Says

Some person with a perverted sense of humor called the EAGLE office early Sunday morning to report a death. The office called the EAGLE theatrical editor, and Mr. Gipson immediately began to check on the story.

The character on the other end of the wire said: "Here's a scoop for your paper. Lena Horne's son was killed yesterday, and her daughter, Gail, is in the hospital seriously injured—the result of an automobile accident."

After checking the story, and spending half a day at the various hospitals, we found the rumor to be untrue. In fact, the father of the two children, Louis Jones, happens to be the EAGLE business manager, and he would like to know the name of the character who would stoop so low as to use death in a joking vein.

And Mr. Gipson hopes, prays and trusts he finds out who the character is even before Mr. Jones!

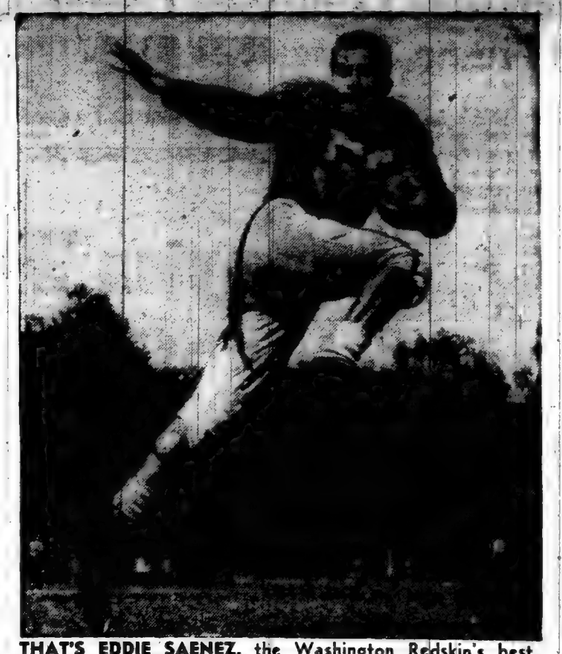
Tommy Campbell Wins Decision Over Rudy Cruz

Tommy Campbell was awarded what is sometimes called a unanimous decision Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium over rugged Rudy Cruz, but Campbell looked anything but the "next lightweight champion of the world" his handlers would-try to make you believe.

Campbell had his hands full throughout the 10-round bout, and it wasn't until the final three rounds that the cool Campbell looked the part of a coming champ. Cruz, during the last three stanzas was a tired fighter and was surely but slowly running out of gas.

There were no knockdowns in the fight.

Ezzard Charles



Washington — Ezzard Charles, top contender for the crown vacated (?) by Joe Louis, deposited a $5,000 check with the District Boxing Commission last week to guarantee his Sept. 13 date with Jimmie Bivins in Griffith Stadium.

We Keep Telling You Mussels Are Poison

As far as business opportunities are concerned, a certain Los Angeles juvenile picked the wrong business to go into last week and was picked up by the Santa Monica police on the pier for selling fresh mussels which are poisonous this time of the year, according to Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, Los Angeles county health officer. The 16-year old youth was later released with a warning.

It is illegal to sell mussels even for fish bait during the quarantine season of May 1 to October 31, either bottled or in bulk, unless the meats have been removed from the shells and processed as required by state regulations. The containers must be plainly marked, "For fish bait only. Unfit for human consumption."

NEW YORK — The recording contract on winsome Wini Brown, eagerly sought after by three companies following her recording of "Gone Again" with Lionel Hampton's crew, was this week snared by National records, according to an announcement of the diskery executives.

THAT'S EDDIE SAENEZ, the Washington Redskin's best breakaway runner and one of their best pass snaggers. Eddie, who takes off like a P-38 when on the receiving end of a pass, was a Southern California standout in 1943.

Joe Louis Wins Golf Tourney

DETROIT — Hundreds of golf players, both men and women from throughout the United States, who came to the Motor City to vie for a $3,000 prize stake offered by Joe Louis in his annual Golf Tournament at Rackham Golf Course, August 30 through September 2, saw the Brown Bomber reach the finals of the event for the first time in history Wednesday.

The retired world's heavyweight champion eliminated two players Wednesday. In the morning test he defeated Clayton Chandler, 4 and 3, and ousted James Bailey, 6 and 5, in the afternoon.

Elvie Jones, 26, professional golfer from Hartford, Conn., added a one-under-par 70 to his 67 of Tuesday to top the professional division with 137. Charles Sifford, Philadelphia, Pa., trailed second with 139.

Convention Report Made At Zion Hill

Reports of the founding convention of the Progressive Party in Philadelphia were brought to the people of the community by Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, delegate and national co-chairman of Women for Wallace two weeks ago at Zion Hill Baptist church, pastored by Rev. Grant Harris.

In her opening remarks Mrs. Bass stated that she was not discouraged by the apparent lack of interest, among the people generally, in politics because all movements of the people had these struggles to overcome. But, she cited, the people must become aware of the approaching danger of fascism and a police state in this country. The quelling of civil liberties is the first stage of it. And the people must get out and register to vote; for it is the only means we have of getting what we want. The present crisis in America demands it.

Other expressions were voiced by various community workers. Sidney Moore, Progressive Party candidate from the 14th Congressional district, chaired the meeting and echoes of the youth convention were given by Phyllis Scott.

Training Courses in Southeast Section Start This Week

With interest at a high pitch, Los Angeles Red Cross nursing leaders this week announced plans to bring its streamlined home nursing course—"Mother and Baby Care and Family Health"—to residents of this area at sessions being held in the Watts Youth Recreation Center, 10123 Beach Street.

The initial class conducted by the Red Cross at the Watts Center—during the war years, the locale of the USO Club—was graduated last week with certificates and pins given to those women successfully completing the class work.

Classes are held Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock, and women interested in enrolling in these free instruction courses are asked to call the Red Cross chapter headquarters, Fitzroy 5261, Ext. 68. Registered Nurse Lois Peterson is serving as instructor for the Red Cross classes.

At the same time, Los Angeles Red Cross officials announced the scheduling of a home nursing course in "Care of the Sick" to start Wednesday, September 15, at the Vernon Library, 4504 South Central Avenue. This class will meet Wednesdays and Mondays for three consecutive weeks from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Registration is being taken at the telephone number listed above.

One thing certain about the probe now being carried on by the Thomas Committee; they have the power and if they choose they can lambaste every official in Washington until the general public will believe you have to be a member of the committee or the Ku Klux Klan to be a good American.

Rosenwald Dedication Bulletin

NEW ORLEANS—Dillard University has issued a bulletin covering the dedication of Rosenwald Hall on last May 30 which includes the dedicatory address delivered by Dr. W. W. Rosenwald, eldest child of the eminent philanthropist Julius Rosenwald, for whom the building is named.

President Albert W. Dent announced upon release of the bulletin, that copies would be mailed to any person desiring them. There are two university buildings bearing the name of Julius Rosenwald. One is at the University of Chicago, the other at Dillard University.

protest. You be on hand, with jail and gun. But when the people see their leaders following you, they will kick out any liberal who comes up to oppose the movement. It's the good Americans you must keep blind. Keep them busy shooing away those who suspect your plan. Then proceed to do away with those when the time is right—those good ones—you have no further use for them. Call them communists.

"Well Cain, that's about it. The rest is up to you. But you must get busy right away, or someone else will beat you to the idea. At the present time, I haven't had this copyrighted. It isn't completely mine, anyway. It seems to me that—well, I frankly believe two major parties are working on the same thing . . . After all, you do have two parties working feverishly on the selective service part, and they both joined together to break labor's neck . . . could they be preparing for that depression? If so, they're mighty impatient. They didn't even wait to start putting people in uniform until the depression. And they're certainly calling people communists . . . yeah, you'd better hurry, Cain, if you want to make anything of this! Hitler was successful with a single movement. A double should certainly work. Yours truly, Nonchalantie.

P.S.: If I didn't mention this before, I'm opposed to the plan I've outlined. And I should warn you that if you try it, you'd better wear bullet-proof B.V.D.'s, cause I'm gonna do everything I can to blast you to the twenty-fifth dimension!"

Comment by the sudden notorious Cain: The nerve of some people.

FOOTNOTE: Sitting comfortably on the inside always, you can never se how a house looks on the outside . . . HOW DO YOU LOOK FROM THE OUTSIDE—the same applying to people.

REVIEWS

The Bal Tabarin
15515 S. Western Ave. (Grd)

Top show at this Gardena spot is paced by the Floyd Turnham crew of steller swingsters. Age and experience and youth and inspiration, with plenty of natural ability, make the Floyd Turnham band one of te most exciting groups around this neck of the woods. There are other acts at the Bal, but the Turnham band rates the review space. If ever there was a band whose playing makes you want to dance whether you want to or not, it is the rhythm of the Turnham crew. If audience reaction means anything, Floyd Turnham is doing a terrific job here. The tall, handsome sax star who formerly played with Les Hite and other top bands before deciding to branch out with a band of his own, turns in some superb sax work that by itself is top draw stuff. But what is more important he has surrounded himself with a group of fiddlers (some young; some middle-age;) who play for the sheer love of playing, and not just playing on a job looking forward to a pay day. These kids love to play. And when you find a group of musicians who love to play for the sheer love of playing, you're bound to come up with a musical outfit such as Floyd Turnham leads. Tops!

Oscar Bradley, drummer, has a sense of rhythm that keep your toes tapping. But then the band, as a whole, rates A-plus in our weekly review of bands featured at nite spots.

The Downbeat Club
4201 S. Central Ave.

Singer - comedianne Lou Owens keeps you entertained at this cozy Central avenue spot. Fresh from a record-breaking cross-country run with the Lionel Hampton band - show, Lou decided to settle down in good ol' L. A. and do a single. She's tired of one-nighters. And Hampton's loss is Central avenue's gain. Her warbling style is good, and and on the stage she has more energy than a vitimin pill. Her rendition of the tune, "Let The Good Times Roll," gets plenty of applause. She dances, prances and entertains all over the stage and has the customers literally eating out of the palm of her hefty hand. She's a bit on the 5x5 side, but that surely doesn't interfere with her singing. On her, it's an asset. She throws her weight around in an entertaining fashion and keeps you entertained with her hilarious version of old and new favorite songs. On the bandstand is Marl Young, whose zippy musical arrangements musically backed the vocal artistry of Little Miss Cornshucks and T-Bone Walker on many recordings. His piano-playing is something to enjoy, and Drummer "Spoons" Donaldson is a natural entertaining drummer. Outfit stacks up well musically, and Marl's arrangements provide some mighty fine listening. The boys work on the stage competently thruout.

the show at Paul Rubin's spot, but it's the top acts that draws the guys and gals in. Frinstance, here's the lineup scheduled for the following weeks: Billie Holiday, Billy Eckstine, Louis Jordan, Johnny Moore's 3-Blazers, with Oscar Moore, Byron and Beau, sensational dancers and other top names. At the show caught by this reviewer, Eddie "Mr. Cleanhead" Vinson wrapped things up in a neat package and walked away with all honors. Eddie closed a couple of days ago, but his memory will linger on. Eddie packed 'em in. But then, nearly every act at the Cricket club packs 'em in if only for the fact that Paul Rubin and Alyce Key are forever striving to give the public the tops in entertainment. It's never hard to review a show at the Cricket club because all shows at the Cricket club are tops in every sense of the word!

Don't Be Half Safe Keep Up The Boycott

Meat supplies should increase during the next three months, with a possible softening effect on prices, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports in its monthly agriculture report for August.

Movement of grass-fed stock from the range may brighten the meat picture, although August movements which were higher than August, 1947, and July, 1948, failed to dent high prices, according to the Chamber Agriculture Department.

Of nearly 15,000 California veterans now purchasing farms and homes through the State's low-interest plan only 648, or slightly more than 4 per cent, are delinquent in their payments, according to the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

'Blondy' Smith and Crew Newest Act in Business

Something new has been added to the local theatrical profession, and that something new is a show within a band! The band, under the capable leadership of drummer Roy Porter, with dancer Freddie James fronting the crew, will make its local debut within a few weeks.

A spur-of-the-moment inspiration (and it was a good one) was the brainchild idea of Warren Smith, better known professionally as "Blondy," who hit upon the idea of an entertaining unit within a band comprised of singers, dancers and top acts, all made up from the unit known as the Be-Bop Exploiters.

In the band-show is Myrtle Fortune, Lucy Battle and Juanita oore, top dancers, formerly with the famed Cotton Club Cuties chorus; the Basin Street Boys, top singers of spiritual-ballad and swing numbers; dancer Freddie James, who made his rep with the dancesational 4-Stepp brothers and the rhythm artistry of drummer Roy Porter, leader of the newly organized sixteen piece swing crew.

The Be-Bop Exploiters, under the management of Warren Sm___ ___ off a couple of weeks ago at the 105th street project playground, when they played and entertained at a dedication party to George Brown, the 17-year-old Jordan high school broad jump star, and holder of many city track titles.

Outfit will begin a theatre-nightclub tour in Seattle, Wash., next month, and the unit will soon be seen in some of California's smartest nite spots.

Blondy, himself a top entertainer, has several recordings due out soon. They are: "I Go For You," "Love Is Laughing At Me," "Reverie," and "More Than I Ever Dreamed," all on Memo labels.

The Jewel Theatre Is Founded And Will Operate Non-Profit

There is a new theatre on the West Coast! This latest cultural addition to the community will be known as the Jewel Theatre, and as its founder intend, it shall operate as a non-profit organization. Its creation and establishment is designed to fill the need for a theatre of the people, for the people, with special emphasis on the training, development and utilization of the large reservoir of dramatic talent among the people of color. It is founded on the belief that art is universal and is not the franchise of any one group but rather that its attainment and perfection is contingent mainly upon opportunity, training and eternal application. All its efforts will be exerted to establish this truth and invites into its ranks all those whose spirit and convictions would motivate them to join in such a crusade.

New Play by Young Playwright

Under the aegis of the Jewel Theatre, plans are under way for the early production of a stirring, dramatic play, "As the Twig Is Bent," which comes from the pen of a young and vigorous writer, Jewell Smart, who hails from New York, where one of her plays, "My Sister! My Sister!" was produced and played to packed audiences for 16 weeks. Auditions are being conducted at Fania Studios, 1133 W. 36th pl.

Jimmy Edwards in New Role

Jimmy Edwards, brilliant and dynamic star of radio and stage, who recently starred here as Brett in "Deep Are the Roots," emerges in a new role as director of the play, "As the Twig Is Bent." Under his direction casting is proceeding apace, and as he tells me, rehearsals are scheduled to commence early in the coming week.

A Cast That Reads Like Who's Who

Among those already cast to portray roles are: lark and dazzling Suzette Harbin, famous as the Black Princess in "The Foxes of Harrow"; screen and stage star Duke Williams, who for four years thrilled audiences all over this country and in Canada in his unforgettable role of Randolph in "Anna Lucasta"; Anita Turner, the slender brown-skinned beauty, who not to mention her superb portrayal of Anna in "Anna Lucasta," has also turned in credible performances in several pictures; Emmett Smith, outstanding character and dramatic actor, whom you'll remember on the screen in "Gone With the Wind," "To Have and Have Not," "Blossom in the Dust," on the stage in "Trial by Fire," and "Freight Actors," and, on the "Beulah" and "Amos 'n' Andy" radio shows; Lena Torrance, the sultry looking, voluptuous beauty, also famous on stage, screen and radio—she played in "Cabin in the Sky," "Stormy Weather" and "The Hasty Heart"; Avenelle Harris, tall, tan and terrific, she's the dancing stylist, actress and singer whose story was given national publicity by Ebony under the title, "I Tried to Crash the Movies";

Jimmy Payne, the tall, curly-headed good-looker, who played with Judy Garland and Gene Kelly in "The Pirate," and also in the Summer Stock Company of "The Hasty Heart" with Roddy McDowall and Tom Brown;

Palmera Jackson, of the well-remember Lafayette Players, who appeared in "Showboat," "Till the Clouds Roll By" and recently on the "Gildersleeve Show"; Dave Anderson, brother of the famous Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, who was seen in "Jesse James Rides Again" and "The Life of Stephen Foster"; and young, attractive and talenter newcomer, Betty Mills, contest winner of the scholarship to Hal Styles School of Radio, who made her debut in "Cafe Panorama" where her high caliber of acting sustained the play throughout. These are some of the talent being assembled by Jimmy Edwards to bring you the potent and powerful drama, "As the Twig Is Bent."

And Remember, It's Only for One Month

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 23—Alcoholic beverage excise tax revenues of $1,307,356.41 resulting from June distributions exceeded the June, 1947, revenues by 17.4 per cent, according to William G. Bonelli, Chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

Distilled spirits taxes, which account for three-fourths of the total, were up by 23.4 per cent and produced revenue of $979,328. Taxes on dinner wines yielded 40.0 per cent more income to the State than in the corresponding month of 1947, those on dessert wines rose 48.3 per cent, and those on sparkling wines, 153.8 per cent. Only the receipts from beer taxes were below those for June, 1947, declining 1.6 per cent.

Sometimes You See Better 'Fights On Sugar Hill Than In The Garde

NEW YORK—Harlem residents arched their eyebrows here l week when news got out that the beautiful, throaty-voiced sing Marion Bruce, just returned from California engagements, had be chased from a fabulous Sugar Hill apartment by Art Harris, w known artist and bachelor. Just what provoked the not-too-me chase is said to have started with a heated argument between Harris and an ex-actress over the subject of which had contributed the most to their respective fields.

The three had just returned from a birthday party in lower Harlem and were relaxing in the living room of a popular society matron, where Miss Bruce was a houseguest. After a few drinks, as the story goes, Miss Bruce retired and left Harris and the actress in conversation. When their argument reached obscene language on his part, she "peeked" into the living room, whereas Harris, looking up, jumped up and started after her. Frightened, Miss Bruce raced down three flights of stairs with Harris directly behind. Her. When she reached the first floor she was either pushed or she fell on her face, badly scarring her left ear. Getting up, she ran out the front door and screamed for the police, not realizing she was clad only in a silk pajama top.

Meawhile, the actress and the society matron had run down the stairs after Harris and when the Police arrived, it seemed the four had entirely different stories of what had happened. Miss Bruce, bleeding, was rushed to Mother Cabrini Hospital nearby for treatment where she swore that Art Harris had struck her.

Police arrested Harris and hauled him off to the nearest precinct. However, he was released later when Miss Bruce decided not to press charges. Instead, she took the first train to her home in Philadelphia until things "quieted down."

Sometimes you see better fights on Sugar Hill than you see in Madison Square Garden!

Smog Will Be With Us for A While Yet

Although plans for nearly $500,000 worth of air pollution control equipment have been approved by county smog control engineers in the past four months, and the number of such remedial installations by industry is increasing rapidly, there is no magic formula by which to remove eye-irritating elements from the atmosphere in hours or days, Dr. Louis C. McCabe, Air Pollution Control director, warns.

"The public readily understands that it takes several years to build a huge sewage system costing thirty to forty million dollars, but removal of pollution from the air is a more complex—as well as a more obvious—problem," Dr McCabe said.

"Our chemists have been taking 24-hours-a-day samples of smog and we are analyzing it, in conjunction with university scientists, in efforts to isolate and identify the irritation and its source. When we get these answers, our progress will accelerate rapidly.

"But there is no use kidding ourselves—there still are bad days ahead of us."

International YMCA Convention At Long Beach; Delegates From All Parts of World

The 24th annual convention of the International Association of Y's Men's Clubs which met last month in Long Beach, welcomed delegates from India, Australia, Egypt, the Philippines, China, Japan, Hawaii, as well as Canada, Mexico, and every state in the Union.

T'Ouissant L. Jennings represented the 28th Street "Y" at the confab. He is a member of the Planning Committee for the National convention.

Among the many discussions, the speeches, and talks, the most outstanding, according to Mr. Jennings, was that of young Jay Loughner who gave a talk at a luncheon in which he told of the job to be done if this world is to continue to exist even as it is, and a far greatetr job if it emerges the world it could and should be.

"There is a job of education to be done," he said, "both at home and abroad. . . . The selling of the ideals behind our movement, not only to the world but to ourselves, is one of the most demanding of our problems. The sore that is festering in the world today is basically the conflict between the police state and liberty. Human freedom.

"As Y's men we should be actively joined in the battle for peace. If we lose it, it may well be the last battle in which the human race has the privilege to join. . . .

"Being a realist, I will grant that there are some difficulties. The greatest of these difficulties is the tragedy of misunderstanding one's fellowmen. And so I propose that we crittically analyze what we mean when we say that we advocate world brotherhood.

"When we are taught as children to believe ourselves better than someone else, to think of our state or section of the country as better than any other, to think of our nation or race as superior to any other, then walls are built between peoples and true brotherhood. and understanding becomes impossible.

"Our first step then is to work to eliminate misunderstanding and intolerance among ourselves, as we should rid ourselves of a malignant growth. Only then can we ask others to follow our example.

"In every age serious crises have arisen and conflict of opinions have engaged nations in battle with each other, and even in civil wars. Today we face a crisis, and few have ever equalled it. It is not a battle among ourselves. It is not a battle between two countries. But surely it threatens the way of life upon this entire planet.

"It is my deep and solemn conviction that the Maker of the universe intended that men should be free and not slaves. That the peoples of the earth should enjoy the bountiful treasures which Nature has placed under every sky. That men and women should be happy and not depressed, and there should be a song of peace and good will in every heart.

"We pray God that we may be worthy of the stewardship entrusted to us, and do our bit to realize these dreams."

State Aid to Vets For Home Purchase

SACRAMENTO—A total of 343 California veterans took advantage during July of the state's low-interest plan to purchase farms and homes, a slight increase over the June figures, the State Department of Veterans Affairs announced this week.

The state advanced $2,267,596 to 338 veterans for the purchase of homes, an average of $6,709; and $47,100 on the total cost of five farms, an average of $9,420. In addition, $34,370 was advanced to 84 veterans for repairs and remodeling.

The current interest rate paid by eligible veterans buying homes or farms under the state plan is 3 per cent.

Dr. Lawrence, of Pepsi-Cola Board, Goes to Howard Univ.

Dr. Paul F. Lawrence, who has been a research consultant to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board in Palo Alto, California, for the past year, will join the staff of Howard University in Washington, D. C., this month as an associate professor of Education in the College of Liberal Arts. In addition to his teaching duties, Dr. Lawrence will assist in the University's expanded counseling and vocational guidance program.

Dr. Lawrence became a member of the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board's staff in September of 1947. He has directed the Negro phase of the Pepsi-Cola scholarship program under which 18 four-year college scholarships and more than 50 college entrance prizes of $50 are awarded to outstanding Negro scholars in the South each year. and he has been a consulant to the Board on all problems related to Negro education. Recently he prepared a book published by the Board, entitled "A College Primer for Negro Students," which will be of value to all Negro youth considering going on to college. He plans to continue his relationship with the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board in an advisory capacity.

SIGHT VS. FAITH

Did you ever stop to realize the vast differences there are in the things we see, and those that we believe in. Our vision oftimes reveals many things that are not pleasant to the eye, while our faith can give us hope for the future and encouragement.

Sight, often brings fear, weariness and discouragement, while faith brings confidence, strength and fortitude. For faith sees the things that are eternal.

Many of the great men and women of the world, had a vision and believed in it, and because they had faith were able to develop their objective. To the eye, the prospects may have looked dark, but remember "faith sees the invisible, believes the incredible and claims the impossible."

B.E.F. Dear Sir: After reading your column in the paper, I decided to write you concerning my sister's condition. What do you suggest?

ANSWER. I definitely suggest your consulting a specialist at your earliest convenience regarding your sister's illness. It is always best to seek advice from one who is skilled in that particular field, and then try to follow this information the best you can.

D.W.B. How does he feel about me?

ANSWER. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate your friend as being quite fond of you. He knows that you have a lot of faith and confidence in him, and will not abuse this friendship.

E.M.T. Will I ever see him again?

ANSWER. Probing into the matter I find that it has been quite sometime since you have heard or seen your husband and you are wondering about him. At this time it seems to me that a meeting may take place in the very near future, as he plans to return there.

Y.E. What should I do?

ANSWER. It seems that you have been having trouble with your daughter regarding her plans for the future. You would like for her to further her education, but she doesn't see it that way. Because of her frame of mind regarding school, perhaps it would be just as well to not worry about it. It might only prove that you have wasted your money, since she is not interested.

Housing Bill Will Create Some Relief

The other day, one of the top real estate brokers in the State declared flatly that "housing costs are not coming down."

This may have been cheerful news for real estate men and mortgage bankers, but it could not have evoked much enthusiasm from the thousands of jim-crowded Negro and minority families whose overcrowded and unlivable neighborhoods are a shameful landmark in almost every California community.

The sacredness of the home and the beauties of family life are constantly being extolled by those who claim to stand guard over the "American Way." But it is uncertain just how many of these self-righteous guardians are concerned enough about the preservation of the American family to engage in some concrete activity to put roofs over the heads of men, women and children whose relationships are being completely disrupted by intolerable living conditions.

It should be more than obvious by now that the building industry, no matter how good its intentions might be, does and cannot build homes for those most urgently in need. There is simply not enough profit in housing low-income families, and private builders have never lost sleep over the housing problems of minority groups. Why, then, should there be such raucous opposition to proposals for low-rent public housing such as Proposition No. 14, the Housing Initiative, which will appear on the November 2nd ballot?

There is no logical explanation for this attitude, when cold statistics tell us that 750,000 families need homes immediately in California, and the need is growing greater, not smaller, despite private building efforts. Proposition No. 14 would provide 100,000 rental units, to be built and operated by local housing authorities, with local contractors, local architects and local labor all benefitting. The theory that this minimum public housing program is a threat to the American way and that continued overcrowding, bad housing and no housing should be accepted without protest, had better be re-examined.

Former Mecca of Polite Social Events Refuses Negro Quartet Service

In response to a card invitation sent them, Mrs. Catherine Wheaton, Miss Jewel Cobb, Mrs. Odessa Finns, and Mrs. Mae Finns, called and made reservations on August 27 at the Yuccas, a playhouse at 8781 West Washington blvd. for September 1.

When they appeared at the Yuccas they were told that there was nothing left except seats for spectators. They informed the ticket office agent that they would gladly accept the spectators seat even though they had made reservations previously.

The office executive excused himself to another room for a few minutes and returned with what appeared to be the manager. While they held a whispering conversation to the side, the party of women waited as a continuous flow of people crowded the amusement establishment.

They stepped up and asked the ticket manager if seats were now available. He shunned them off and left them standing to the side. After waiting a half an hour they finally left.

The Yuccas is the former Meadowbrook, where the management solicited the patronage of many Negro clubs and organizations, who held some of the most polite events of the social season, at the Meadowbrook.

According to the California code such places catering to the public cannot deny citizens services because of race, creed, or color. It is believed that the quartet will sue the Yuccas for its un-American procedure.

Tenants Protected By Rent Director

LOS ANGELES—A total of $17,546 in overceiling rent charges was refunded to Los Angeles area tenants during the month of July through the local rent office of the Office of the Housing Expediter, Ben C. Poepke, area rent director, revealed today.

Of this amount, $11,821 represents refunds obtained for Los Angeles tenants by the rent office from 106 landlords without court action.

"I should like to emphasize again," Koepke said, "that this agency is empowered to seek injunctions preventing the illegal eviction of tenants by landlords, and that we are prepared to do so when the facts warrant.

"The filing by a tenant of a complaint of rent overcharges with this office is not a legal ground for eviction. Any eviction proceeding following such a complaint would be the subject of careful investigation on our part, with legal action to follow where justified and necessary, if reported to us by the tenant."

3rd Annual Round-up Of L. A. Boy Scouts

The third annual round-up of the Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, was kicked off Wednesday, September 1, according to Alfred E. Hopkins, Chairman of the Organization and Extension Committe of the Los Angeles Area Council. Their plans are now underway to enroll more than 6000 boys. The Round-up Program is built around Western color again this year, with every Troop, Pack and Senior Unit being organized into ranches. The Unit Leader will serve as Ranch Foreman, etc.

Stated Mr. Arnold C. Sorenson, new Scout Executive of the Los Angeles Area Council, "We need never offer alibis for our responsibility to invite boys and young men to join the movement. At the same time, we must also recognize that it is essentially true that boys will join units where there is a qualit yprogram—where there is 'something doing." The ultimate success of the round-up will be found in terms of "Good Scouting" within the units. The round-up must stress quality as well as quantity.

BURNS' MURDER FOLLOWS PATTERN SET IN AUGUSTIN SALCIDO KILLING

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

Selling Fascism seems to be the order of the news commentators on the radio, and in most cases, editorial writers.

When one considers that Democracy is the most desired end in our world today, it is great wonder that such a tremendous stream of Fascism continues to flow in unchecked.

On every hand a great cry, Stop Communism, is nothing less than a chorus promoted by Wall Street and directed by Westbrook Pegler of the Examiner syndicate, and one Hedda Hopper of the Los Angeles Times, official organ of the Republican party.

Mr. Pegler, bitter enemy of Labor, has over the years picked certain labor leaders for assassination with his poison pen. I say "assassination" meaningly, for Pegler is a clever writer, who uses a type of literary psychology that is convincing in one aspect and confusing in another, according to the mental status of his bewildered or frustrated readers.

In his Tuesday, September 7, column, Pegler made such statements as this: The Southern people, contrary to the slanders of a small element of envious inferiors in the City of New York, are, day by day, the politest that we have.

This comment on Southern chivarly came as a compliment to those Southern sycophants, isolated by ignorance, in the belief that they are superior beings.

They demonstrated their "politest" attitude by throwing rotten eggs and tomatoes at Presidential Candidate Henry Wallace, not because Wallace was of a different race or color, but because he, Wallace, was advocating equality for Negroes with all other Americans.

This attitude on the part of Henry Wallace maligned the "superior" citizens of the South.

"In a comparable situation in the Bronx," wrote Pegler, "the intruder would have been beaten to death but for the strong intervention of the New York police, and they would have saved him only to suffer the bigotry of some Pilate who

Burns Killing Whitewashed at Inquest Hearing

Margolis Rebuffed In Attempts To Present True Facts To Jury

Herman Burns, 22-year-old plasterer who witnesses say was killed by a severe clubbing administered by several policemen, "died from an undetermined cause," according to a verdict returned by a Coroner's jury over which Deputy Coroner Lennox presided in the Hall of Justice Monday morning. The inquest attracted a more than capacity audience, and interested spectators listened to the proceedings from the sidewalk through open windows on the East side of the building.

The Coroner's verdict followed a hearing that was marked by the discrepancies and variances in the testimony of the policemen involved in the case, and the testimony of Clifford L. Davis, special officer, who related a story with which, in substance, neither

TO SUE CULVER CITY SPOT—The once fashionable Meadowbrook Gardens, which solicited the patronage of the most polite Negro social affairs, now known as the Yuccas, refused this attractive trio service. Miss Jewel Cobb, Mmes. Odessa Finns, Mae Finns, and their guest, Mrs. Catherine Wheaton (not pictured), phoned and made reservations for tickets on September 1. When they called for their tickets they were shunned and left standing to the side long after other guests had been seated. The trio will sue the Yuccas for its un-American procedure. Hedda Hopper Bitterly Attacks Actor's Lab on Racial Issue

Unity was the theme of the radio interview between Hedda Hopper, syndicated columnist, and J. T. Gipson, California Eagle's theatrical editor, pictured above, during the war against the Axis. In 1944, Miss Hopper told the Eagle writer that a piano needed its black keys as well as its white to render a harmonious melody.

In 1948 she apparently has undergone a change of heart. This week she attacked the Actor's Lab in Hollywood for the democratic practices of its Negro and white students.

On Labor Day the Actor's Lab sponsored its first outdoor fiesta to the public with skits, dancing, bazaar, and refreshments. In a satirical manner the players dramatized the investigations of the Tenney Committee, the Congressional investigations, and similar probings. After the entertainment their guests danced and enjoyed themselves.

Because the Lab guest list unbiased, religously and racially, Miss Hopper and a Hollywood news sheet objected to the mixing, which is on a basis of culture rather than race.

In her Monday column Miss Hopper stated that "This groupcorny idea of being liberal" eventually lead them into trouble. The situation has nothing whatever to do with racial prejudice or discrimination," every man in the world is as good as he is in his heart, regardless of race, creed or color. But that doesn't mean they have to intermix. Right or wrong, the great balance of the community has this deep-rooted conviction, and they were shocked at this p

Wallace, Progressive Party Candidate for President, to Tour Sept. 23. In LA Oct. 1-

Henry Wallace, Progressive Party candidate for President, will commence his final campaign tour on September 23, C. B. Baldwin, Progressive campaign manager, announced this week.

Mr. Wallace's tour will cover 15 states and carry him to the West Coast for the second time since he announced his candidacy last December.

Mr. Baldwin predicted that Mr Wallace will carry the Western states in the November election.

At the same time that he announced the tour, Mr. Baldwin took notice that President Truman has announced cancellation of his expected tour of the South.

Coming close on the finish of Mr. Wallace's successful tour in that area, Mr. Baldwin wondered "if Mr. Truman is afraid to do the same thing Mr. Wallace did —tour the South and speak only at unsegregated meetings."

Mr. Baldwin also mentioned that Governor Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, "never protested the treatment accorded Mr. Wallace by a small minority of his audiences in the South. This is hardly in keping with Mr. Dewey's statements that he is a defender of the

Army Lieut. Gets Reprimand For Compton Covenants Deal

The Los Angeles CIO Council's charges that U. S. Army facilities had been used by Army personnel in building a restrictive covenant organization in Compton of veteran home owners brought a quick reply from Colonel L. W. Jefferson, commanding officer of the Southern California Recruiting District.

From his headquarters at Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, Colonel Jefferson disclaimed any official authorization for the use of Army materials or the participation of Army personnel in the move to establish restrictive covenants in spite of the recent Supreme Court decision. Full responsibility was placed on First Sergeant Roy Berryhill who had been named in the CIO charges.

Colonel Jefferson stated that Sgt. Berryhill had been severely reprimanded and that the con-

Negro Killed For Voting In Georgia

MT. VERNON, Ga.—Isiah Nixon, 28-year-old father of six children, was shot to death last week following the elections here. His murderer, Johnnie Johnson, is being held in the Montgomery County jail.

Johnson reportedly shot Nixon for refusing to go to work for him, but circumstances in the case indicate that Johnson and his brother went to Nixon's home and shot him down in the presence of his wife and children because he had voted on the previous day after Johnson had advised him not to.

Mrs. Nixon, angered by the murder of her son, and militantly concerned with the right to vote, had her next eldest son place his hand on his brother's coffin and swear that he would vote when he became of age.

Rubber Worker Gets Bounced By Store Owner

Harold Isom, 40 year old rubber worker, is being held on suspicion of extortion by local police because he made a mistake when he thought Frank Tiscareno, owner of Frank's Market at 5829 Compton Avenue, was a good prospect for his attempted shakedown.

Isom, according to Tiscareno, has been plaguing sub-lessors in the market for some time. He reportedly threatened to create all kinds of trouble unless he was paid certain sums of money, or unless certain people were employed. Some of Isom's demands were met, according to Tiscareno, and on one occasion, he col-

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

No doubt you know that Knott's Berry Farm, one of the show places of Southern California, is frequented by all races, creeds and nationalities. Negroes, like others, flock there in large numbers, and have always received courteous service.

Recently word came to us that the management of Knott's Berry Farm does not care for Negro patronage. It was hard to believe because we have spent many pleasant hours there, with no hint from management or patron that we were not wanted.

For our personal enlightenment we wrote the manager relative to the report and asked him for his side of the story. In response Mr. Walter Knott informed us that colored people had created unhappy experiences at his place of business.

"We cannot understand colored parties refusing to accept seats near other colored parties," said Mr. Knott, "even when 90% of the people present are white. If I were to go into a Negro restaurant or into any other place where a large percentage was Negro I couldn't possibly object to being seated near other white people. We have always tried to treat colored people right, but many of them do not cooperate with us like our white guests do and present a problem for us."

It is regrettable that so many of us never learn that we are ever on trial. We are judged by our actions and it is the dictate of wisdom to cultivate friendship, to strive for unity and rivet the ties of brotherhood. The world measures people, not so much by their culture, as by what they can do with their culture.

Editors, ministers, teachers and other Negro leaders would, by emphasizing the importance of harmonious relationship, render a great public service.

22 Negro Organizations Seek Italian Colonies Plebiscite

Twenty-two national Negro organizations have released a statement prepared by Dr. Rayford Logan, Howard University Professor, representing Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity in collaboration with Dr. Channing H. Tobias, the Social Action Committee of CME Churches, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Walter White and others, asking that a plebiscite be held to determine the disposition of the former Italian Colonies in Africa. Following is part of the statement:

"We, the spokesmen for more than six million Negro Americans, deplore the unseemly haste with which the United States has agreed to discuss with representatives of the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and France the disposal of the former Italian colonies in Africa. We would condemn even more any agreement arrived at in a few days after the failure of the Four Powers during three years to come to an understanding on this issue.

"Slate for '48" Precinct Aide Being Enlisted

"The time has come for all supporters of the Independent Progressive Party's 'Slat for '48' to demonstrate what their support means," IPP State Chairman Hugh Bryson announces as he calls for "thousands of additional '48ers to join the campaign in its last 48 days to insure victory for Henry Wallace, Glen Taylor and local IPP candidates."

"We in the Independent Progressive Party ask the thousands of voters who support us to join our ranks and fight with us in the good cause," Bryson continued. "We are issuing this call for 20,000 additional precinct workers to make sure that every California voter can learn at first hand about the platform and candidates of the new party."

"The true story of the campaign is the story that the precinct workers tells the voter. We face the job of bringing our story to 5,000,000 voters throughout the state. We are asking campaign workers to pledge 100 hours' work each between now and elections—at least two hours each day."

would have stretched an ear to the mob outside and packed him off to prison for inciting riot."

This sort of newspaper sentiment should, but to date it hasn't, incited certain Americans to riot, all right.

As a matter of fact it did incite some of the Southern Politest to go to the home of 26-year old Isaac Newton and shoot him to death while his wife and six children looked on in holy terror.

Newton had committed Georgia primary election, after being told not to vote.

What was the crime committed by Isaac Nixon? The Federal Court had guaranteed Negroes the right to vote in the state of Georgia. Newton merely excercised that right.

The assassination of Isaac Nixon who died that his six children might enjoy the freedom he desired, is symbolic with the crucifixion of Jesus Christ who died to redeem a world from sin.

The destruction of the man Jesus caused great disturbance among the people. Even so Isaas Nixon's blood, and the blood of others like him, will some day arouse the world to action.

The politicians of Jesus' day were very much disturbed.

At this time when the FBI and the un-American Activities Committees are ferreting out Communists, it would be comparable for them in like manner to stop Pegler from inciting to riot, as well as to investigate and punish the assassins of Isaac Nixon and other "polite" Southern lynchers.

And this goes for Negro leaders who, because of their superior positions in church, state, and just plain politics, prate about "Reds" but mouth their protests against lynchings, the denial of the right of suffrage to Negroes and such pernicious fulminating propaganda as that spread by Pegler and Hedda Hopper.

In the same period, 7,250,000 pounds of contributed supplies were shipped.

Individuals desiring to give clothing and shoes or cash contributions for overseas relief may do so through local Protestant churches or by sending them directly to the Church World Service Center, 7122½ Compton Ave., Los Angeles 1.

Dr. Johnson, Victim of Police Stupidity

MONROVIA.—Dr. Albert C. Johnson, prominent dentist of this place, is one more victim of general police stupidity, or brutality.

About ten o'clock the evening of Thursday, August 26, Dr. Johnson went in his car to get a newspaper. While enroute he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and slumped over the wheel of the car.

Two policemen, noticing him in this position, took him to the Monrovia jail, and booked him for driving while drunk. Dr. Johnson was in jail for at least four hours, and it was not until 2:25 a.m. that any attention was paid to him, or any medical assistance offered.

Dr. Johnson is a graduate of Howard University, and has lived in Los Angeles for 15 years.

Army Holds Fast To Racial Quota System

LOS ANGELES, (NPB)-Army segregation and the Jim Crow quota system, despite the apparent urgent need for trained armed service personnel, is still rigidly held in effect. Negro ex-servicemen, attempting to beat the draft, have only been allowed to re-enlist on the racial quota basis.

Informed sources reveal that this quota measurement of volunteer enlistments, has been limited to less than one Negro enlistment a day. In the air service, this has been further curtailed to admit only one Negro a week.

The peak of employment for Los Angeles County in 1948 was reached during July.

Spastic Film Shows Work of Foundation

Every doctor should see "And Now To Live," the Spastic Children's Foundation film, before the conclusion of his internship, according to the reviewing committee of the American College of Surgeons. The American College of Surgeons also stated that every educator, parent, specialist and doctor would greatly benefit by viewing the film.

"And Now To Live" shows the amazing work done at the Foundation's training center at 1307 W. 105th Street in Los Angeles.

This month the non-profit, non-sectarian Spastic Children's Foundation is conducting a membership drive. Membership is a dollar a year. The Social Service Commission of the City of Los Angeles has praised the Foundation for its record of raising funds with an expense of less than 1 per cent of the total receipts. Or in other words, 99 cents out of every dollar given goes toward the benefit of a spastic child.

Under the State War Surplus Housing Program the Department of iFnance has purchased the structures for resale to certified veterans who are required to use them for housing for themsevles and their families, according to H. H. Jaqueth, Chief of the Local Allocation Division.

After September 20 It Won't Be so Easy

The new installment buying curbs which become effective September 20 may wipe out 20 to 25 per cent of the present market for automobiles.

A buyer's market in new cars could develop in California within the next nine months.

These were predictions made this week by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

"The reviving of war-time credit restrictions, whereby motorists in numerous instances will be required to pay approximately one-third higher monthly payments on new car contracts, will unquestionably eliminate thousands of prospective purchasers from the California market," a club spokesman declared.

You Working Buddy? Don't See Why Not

Los Angeles County reached its peak of employment for 1948 during July, it was reported today by H. R. Harnish, area manager, California Department of Employment, in the August issue of the agency's local Labor Market Bulletin.

Estimating current employment in the county at 1,586,000 Harnish reported an increase of 16,000 during the 60 day period from mid-May to mid-July. This rise occurred mainly in the manupfacturing industries," Harnish stated. The net gain was 50% higher than had been anticipated in forecasts made during May. Largest percentage increase in the manufacturing industries were shown in apparel, food processing, furniture and fixtures, automobile, and printing and publishing.".

Don't Get Careless, Do Use Prevention!

Fire safety is hard to advertise. Most people think they have it, like common sense. Many hazards become contemptible because they are as familiar as loose wire in the kitchen. Others are harder for the amateur to spot.

Who sees the build-up of static electricity in the dress you clean with gasoline? Even the shock of a big hotel fire wears off and false security exerts its age old drug. Years of experience have proven that the ordinary citizen can best fight fire at the source—by prevention.

The nation's soaring travel costs are adding thousands of "extra duty" miles on the old family jalopy.

The Automobile Club of Southern California made this observation in noting the steady increases in passenger car travel this year as compared to plane and railway travel.

Portfolios of original hand-pulled block prints, posters of all kinds, leaflets and lithographic works will be displayed in this showing of Mexico's leading revolutionary artists. Many of the prints will be on sale at reasonable prices. Collectors of prints will have the opportunity to order items that are not generally obtainable in this country.

Several rooms in the CIO building housing the showing will be presided over by the CIO Women's Auxiliary Council during the fiesta.

Goodlett Calls For Full Status For All At Fresno Conference

SAN FRANCISCO—Five hundred Californians, representatives of a cross section of the State's racial, national and occupational groups sat in the desert heat of the Fresno College auditorium, last Sunday and thundered their cheers as Dr. Carlton Goodlett, San Francisco Negro leader called for "full citizenship in every sense of the word for minority people now relegated to second class status."

The fourth annual meeting of the California Legislative Conference was in session for a two day meeting at Fresno State College. The delegates had come from communities all over the state and were there as representatives of American Federation of Labor locals and councils, CIO locals and Councils, Railroad Brotherhood organizations, pension clubs, veterans posts, consumer and community groups and minority organizations, and from farm groups.

Fifteen Negro, Jewish, American Indian and Latin American organizations sent thirty-five official delegates and observers.

The five hundred delegates unanimously approved the report of the panel on minority rights which blasted anti-semitic and jim crow practices.

Minority group board members elected from Negro organizations are: Dr. Carlton Goodlett, President, NAACP, S.F.; Mrs. Frances Albrier, California Association of Colored Women's Clubs; Claude O. Allen, Oakland; J. W. Hollman, Richmond; Mrs. Vanilla Strickland, Congress of American Women, L.A.; Rev. Mitchell, Los Angeles; Mrs. Mabel Gray, Five-Over Club, L.A.; Herbert Jensen, Los Angeles.

Ammonia Plant Will Ease Smog Expert Opines

One cause of the smog which sometimes rolls in on the Southeast area and other areas of Los Angeles County, and a solution for that phase of the problem, was announced by Air Pollution Control Director Louis C. McCabe in a report to the Board of Supervisors this week.

The haze which begins soon after sunrise and moves northeastward over the county "is very likely due" to the formation of sulfuric acid mist through the effect of sunlight on sulfur dioxide, which is largely released into the air by oil refineries, chemical plants and oil-burning industries, Dr. McCabe said.

Dr. McCabe proposed as a solution for this problem the obtaining of a surplus ammonia plant for Southern California from the War Department.

"If the War Department were to allocate a surplus ammonia plant to this area, there is a relatively easy solution to a major part of our smog problem," he concluded.

Defendant Set Free In Marijuana Case

LOS ANGELES (NPB) — Los Angeles police, State and Federal narcotic agents' drive on the drug traffic reportedly rife here, struck a snag last week when legal strategy used by Atty. Everette M. Porter, in the defense of his client, Henry H. Hands, during the preliminary examination heard before Municipal Judge LeRoy Dawson, proved successful.

Hands and a woman co-defendant, Jessie Mae Hall, were arrested by police while allegedly in possession of marihuana, on September 2. The arrest, coming as it did, at the crest of a drive to rid the city and state of the drug traffic, appeared, according to the arrest report, dead against the pair.

Both defendants had different lawyers. Atty. Porter appearing for Hands, skilfully questioned the arresting officers in such a manner as to force a tacit admission that they had not seen the defendant with any of the drug in his possession as charged. Judge Dawson dismissed the case against Hands, but held the woman co-defendant to answer the charges in Superior Court.

Wide use of the principles of audio-visual education in the study of opera will be an innovation in the Pepperdine College Opera Workshop as the new season begins this month.

Telephone Company's Service Expansion Largest in History

In an expansion unparalled in its entire history, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has added 1,000,000 telephones since V-J Day, it was announced by M. R. Sullivan, the company's president, during the course of his welcoming address to the Telephone Pioneers of America at their 1948 General Assembly in San Francisco.

According to E. S. Ricker, District Commercial Manager, the present rate of telephone growth is three times as fast as before and during the war, when it took the company nine years to add the preceding million telephones. In the past three years, the number of telephones in service has been brought to a present record total of 3,631,917.

Graphically indicative of the way the West Coast population has moved around since the war, the company has installed more than 3,000,000 telephones, and taken out over 2,000,000, in achieving a growth of a million.

Ricker said that the company estimates the population gain in the Pacific West, since V-J Day, has been approximately 2,000,000 or 17 per cent, while in the same period the million telephones represent a growth of 38 per cent.

"This impressive record of telephone expansion," Ricker went on, "required a huge amount of construction, ranging from the building of hundreds of new telephone offices to the placing of three million miles of new wire. Cable and switching equipment have been added at a record-breaking pace. Some idea of the size of the program may be gained from the amount of new capital required by the company on the oCast. The new money required from investors since V-J Day totals about $400,000,000, equivalent to over half a million dollars every working day—and it has become increasingly difficult to raise such amounts of investors' funds.

"The telephone company's job," he said, "is still far from done. On V-J Day we had one order on the waiting list for every six main telephones in service, while today there is only one order for every 13 main telephones served. There were 300,000 orders for service at the end of the war and although 1,000,000 telephones have been added there ar estill 200,000 orders to be filled. The orders continue to pour in day by day and month by month, and there could be no more graphic testimony to the growth and prosperity of the Pacific West.

"Here in the Los Angeles exchange," Ricker added, "the increase in the number of telephones since V-J Day has been 205,000. At the end of the war we had 59,000 held orders, and now we have 22,000."

Now It's Unamimous Carter's For It Too

Open support of Senate Reapportionment, Proposition No. 13, was given here today by Senator Oliver J. Carter of Trinity-Shasta, State Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Carter's statement was issued to refute the claims that he was opposing the measure which has been incorporated in the 1948 Democratic State platform.

Dr. MacLean Asks Balance In Education

HOUSTON, Tex. — Those who direct the course of higher education need to know thoroughly and well whom they teach, as a basis for determining what to teach, how or when to teach, according to Dr. Malcolm MacLean, Professor of Higher Education at the University of California at Los Angeles, who made the opening address here, last Tuesday morning, at Texas State University's first Faculty Seminar.

Some of the more orthodox pedagogues were startled to hear Dr. MacLean name the janitors and the ground-keepers among the persons on the average campus with shrewd personnel observations about students.

Blood for Israel Still Needed

Contrary to some erroneous impressions, blood is still desperately needed in Israel and Mrs. Edward Meltzer, chairman of "Blood for Israel" headquarters, 604 So. Normandie Ave., this week urged donor chairmen of local organizations to put a quick end to rumors that the demand has slackened.

"Everytime there is a lapse of fighting in Israel, some well-meaning people carelessly pass along false information that it also means a decrease in blood plasma needs for the sick and wounded," Mrs. Meltzer said.

"However, just the reverse is true. The war and bombings have depleted Israel's reserve stocks and the new nation has sent out a number of appeals for an increase in shipments so that lives can still be saved and Israel's blood plasma stocks can be rebuilt for future emergency use."

The local blood station is open Mondays through Thursdays from 1:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., and Fridays and Sundays from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

ASTHMA
HAY FEVER — CATARRH — SINUS

ASTHMA cannot be corrected until the cause is removed. The cause first should be understood. Difficulty in breathing, may be the result of toxic poison being carried to the lung tissue by the blood. This poison irritates the mucous glands causing them to throw up a mucous barrier. The excess mucous causes a lack of oxygen and an excess of poison gas. The final result is an oxygen starvation of the entire body. Imagine a sponge soaked in paste or glue! When the patient, through faulty metabolism throws into the blood stream waste matters that should be thrown off through the bowel or kidneys, the result is that these undigested foods pollute the blood stream and cause these toxins to be delivered to the weak part of the body. When bronchial mucous is present in the lungs the treatment, while slower, is none the less certain. Long standing cases seem to heal as quickly as those just beginning. Don't think you are an exception because you have tried all other methods.

TO CORRECT THE ABOVE DISORDERS THE CAUSE MUST BE REMOVED.

Dr. Charles A. Tyrell, M. D. says, "The physician can no more perform cures than the farmer can make his crops grow. In each case, all that can be done is to employ all the methods that cumulative wisdom can suggest to make the conditions as favorable as possible, and leave the rest to Mother Nature, who is not in the habit of making mistakes, and whose unerring methods would cure 90% of all diseased conditions, if her beneficent intentions were not frustrated by well meant, but nevertheless pernicious, drug interferences."

"My object in publishing this statement is to point out the true cause of disease, together with the means for its prevention and cure, and that, too, by a simple and inexpensive method of hygienic treatment, which has proved eminently successful in tens of thousands of cases, which is perfectly harmless and natural in its action, and absolutely free from even the suspicion of a drug. An impacted colon is a prolific hotbed for the wholesale breeding of disease germs, microbes — those organisms which science has demonstrated to be the cause of many phases of disease, or rather, the toxins (poisons) they produce, cause disease."

"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me it has passed beyond the theoretic stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under my directions, with the most astounding results, scarcely a disease known to humanity but has been relieved, and in ninety-five per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."

Daniel C. Munro, M. D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Prof. Ehret says: "Disease is an effort of the body to eliminate waste, mucus and toxemia. Not the disease but the body is to be healed; it must be cleansed, freed from waste and foreign matter, from mucus and toxemias accumulated since childhood. This system is not a remedy, it is a regeneration, a thorough housecleaning, the acquisition of such clean and perfect health such as you never knew before."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having an office that practices NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. This office is a haven for those who suffer; where the cause may be removed. We specialize in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poison. Rid yourself of toxic poison. If suffering come to our office at once for a thorough cleansing using NEW YORKER TECHNIQUE. Office treatment only. No medicine, drugs or surgery. Noted Baritone Hails Wallace For Peace Aims

Aubrey Pankey, internationally known baritone, delivered a stirring address against discrimination in the United States, at the World Congress of Intellectuals for Peace, which met in Wroclaw, Poland recently.

Mr. Pankey, the only American Negro delegate invited by the Polish Government to the Congress, spoke to more than 1000 delegates from all countries on the particular problems of the Negro American artist.

"America is a great country of which I am proud to be a citizen," said Mr. Pankey. "But because of the economic barriers set up by a few exploiters of the masses, the American Negro is relegated to secnod class citizenship."

"I, as well as thousands of Negro intellectuals, have joined the progressive forces and Henry Wallace because we feel that he has surrounded himself with thinking individuals who work constructively to preserve peace as well as aid in the problems of the Negro and the world."

On this night, William Milton, his brother and two friends were ordered to "drink up and get the hell out" by Charles Kennefick, a bartender at Valens Cafe in Williamsburg, when they ordered a glass of beer. "THIS IS LONG DISTANCE"

How telephone operators route and time your calls

1. Perhaps you've wondered how your long distance calls usually go through so quickly . . . even to small, far-away places. The routing operator is one reason. A long distance operator has just asked her the route to Pilot Grove, Missouri. From her special book she finds it and flashes back . . . "MX Kansas City, TC Boonville."

2. When the call is answered, thousands of miles away, the operator placing the call slips her "toll ticket" into this device . . . known as a calculagraph. When you begin talking, she moves a lever to stamp the time on the ticket. When you hang up, a signal tells her to stamp it again . . . thus recording the length of your call.

3. Your call's roadway, to Pilot Grove—or anywhere—is kept open in this Traffic Control Center. Should major trouble occur on one route, the Center must find another to carry the calls. This is just part of our service job . . . making it possible for you to call across town, or across country, when you wish, as often as you wish.

4. When you make a telephone call, you hire a mighty servant to work for you at small cost. And that servant is more useful than ever. In the past ten years, the number of telephones on the Coast has about doubled. We're hard at it to provide more and better service for more people. And each new telephone added makes every telephone that much more valuable.

IPP Endorses Rep. Holifield In 19th A.D.

The 19th Congressional District Executive Council of the Independent Progressive Party last night (Tuesday) voted unanimously to endorse Democratic Congressman Chet Holifield for re-election and announced the withdrawal from the congressional race of the IPP candidate, Jack Berman, East Side businessman.

A statement issued by the executive council stated the decision "was made after consultation with many non-political groups in the district who are interested in progressive issues."

Announcement of the executive council's decision was made last night by Jack Berman before IPP members, AFL, CIO and independent unionists for Henry Wallace, and community leaders of Democratic and Republican party affiliation who are supporting Wallace, at a meeting in Carpenters Hall, 420 North Soto Street. The decision will be forwarded to the various IPP clubs in the district for ratification.

Berman said he was "proud to associate myself with this decision, in which I participated. I believe that unity of progressive-minded people is of utmost importance today."

Bert Witt, executive vice chairman of the Independent Progressive Party in Los Angeles county, announced from county headquarters that he concurs wholeheartedly with the decision democratically arrived at by the IPP group in the 19th district, and I assure them they have the full cooperation of the county organization."

stitution and by-laws of Compark Veterans would contain no restrictive covenant.

At one of the early organizing meetings Berryhill participated in discussing the methods by which restrictive covenants could be achieved without mentioning the subject specifically.

William S. Lawrence, president of the CIO Council, and Philip M. Connelly, council secretary, issued a statement in which they said, "We do not feel that Colonel Jefferson's disclaimer is sufficient. In view of the fact that the notorious restrictive covenant agency of M. C. Friel has been connected with the organization of Compton Veterans and with Sgt. Berryhill we believe that the colonel's letter is a step in the right direction but we do not consider the case closed. We expect to meet with Colonel Jefferson to go into this matter more fully."

● Plebiscite

Such a hasty agreement, especially at a time when France is in the throes of a prolonged cabinet crisis, could only engender the suspicion that the disposal of the Italian colonies is not unconnected with the blockade of Berlin and the entire global conflict between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State Marshall's refusal to give any details about the "bi-partisan policy" of the United States with respect to the Italian colonies because it is in "the realm of high politics" strikes us as particularly ominous. The most recent expression of the Republican point of view is Governor Dewey's declaration of August 17, 1948, which, as reported in the press, called for the administration of the former Italian colonies by Italy "preferably under the flexible provisions of a United Nations trusteeship." Mr. Dewey declared that, as a result of return to Italy of her former African colonies, "the Communist menace will receive another setback," which is a somewhat extraordinary conclusion in view of the fact that Russia is on record as favoring return to Italy of these colonies.

An Italian trusteeship would violate each of the four criteria for the disposal of the former Italian colonies stipulated in Article 2 of Annex XI to the Treaty of Paris with Italy. That article states, "The final disposal of the territories concerned and appropriate adjustment of their boundaries shall be made by the Four Powers in the light of the wishes and welfare of the inhabitants and the interests of peace and security, taking into consideration the views of other interested governments."

NCNW Prepare For 13th Annual Confab In Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Women must close ranks and unite for world peace," stated Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Founder-President of the National Council of Negro Women as she issued the call for the 13th Annual Convention of the National Council of Negro Women. The Convention will be held at the Departmental Auditorium, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., October 10, 11, 12, 13, 1948. "This CALL," said Mrs. Bethune, "comes as a revitalizing yearning of my heart to women everywhere. These are unusual days in the life and service of every woman, and peace is the area seemingly set aside in which the united strength of women is needed. In building the peace in the one-world brotherhood, human understanding rises above all other interests. The profound responsibility of the National Council of Negro Women in the problems of human relations and social welfare is such that significant study and work by its members is necessary to the total development of human resources and world peace."

During the convention, members of the Council will turn their attention to civil rights, anti-inflation, registration, voting and developing community—national and international leaders. "Strong leadership," Mrs. Bethune further stated, "is needed in this the greatest epoch-making era of our lives—a leadership undergirded with spiritual and human understanding to provide the tools for rebuilding the lives of men."

democratic right of free speech."

Mr. Wallace made his first in a weekly series of national broadcasts in addition to this series.

The Progressive Party condemned "without qualification" the Dixiecrats "capture" of the Louisiana Democratic machinery but added that the certification of the Progressive Party to the Louisiana ballot means that Louisianans "can now vote for the only party which really intends to act on civil rights."

C. B. Baldwin, Progressive Party secretary and campaign manager for Henry Wallace, said:

"The Louisiana situation merely shows that there is no middle ground betwen an unqualified stand for full civil rights for Negroes and the shameful doctrine of white supremacy. The Democratic Party's 'we're-for-civil-rights-but-we - won't - do - anything-about - it' policy has had neither moral nor political substance, and now in Louisiana it has been proven to have no legal substance.

"We hope Louisianans can vote for Truman if they feel like it in November. If they can't, we invite them to vote the Progressive ticket and give meaning to their vote."

who would pay her price."

Mrs. Brunner is a widow, and she owns the house at 4488 Derby Place, in the vicinity of which the fiery cross was burned. She has not been frightened by the cross-burning ritual, and she is standing by her determination to sell without restrictions for her price.

The cross-burning ceremony has been attributed to Ku Klux Klan forces, and despite the fact that the 75 persons who witnessed the burning are all residents of the area, no police action has been taken. The Klan is presently enjoying a nourished period of immunity, while progressive forces are being smeared by local and national committees supposedly intent on ferreting out Un-American activities.

According to a report received by the California Eagle, the section in which the cross burning took place is a closed area where smoking and open fires are prohibited.

More Money Shorter Time After Sunday

Regulation "W" goes into effect midnight Sunday, September 19, 1948. This law passed by the Congres in the last session will be felt by those purchasing automobiles, household appliances and furnishings with down payments and monthly instalments on the balance.

From Sept. 20 the minimum payments on effected items will be 30% of the total cost and the maximum period of time for the payment of the balance by instalments will be 15 months.

was dismissed last Wednesday, Sept. 8, by Judge William McKnight in the juvenile department of the district court here.

The dismissal was granted on two grounds. That there was no corroborative evidence of the confessions of the two boys. (Under threat, they said, that they would be sent to jail if they didn't confess, the two boys had told the police authorities they had set the building afire.)

The second ground was that under Nevada statutes children between the ages of 8 and 14 years are incapable of committing a crim in the absence of clear proof that they knew what they were doing was a wrong act.

A court-appointed committee to investigate the backgrounds of the two boys had recommended that the case be dismissed, and that the county probation officer take up certain facts in the case with the parents of the children.

The fire, of unknown origin as of today, had caused the death of three firemen and two civilians, with many more injured. The boys had been questioned by the fire insurance company's agent, who said they had admitted to setting the building on fire.

"A great injustice has been rectified," stated Dr. Fred Fry, president of the Reno chapter of the NAACP, who had been active in the defense of the children.

the police nor any of the other witnesses agreed.

Going beyond the requirements of the proceedings, the jury absolved the police of any "criminal blame," and the verdict and the tenor of the police testimony indicated that Davis, the special officer, was set up as the whipping-boy in the case.

Attorneys Ben Margolis and Fred Steinmetz, representing the Burns family, tried vainly several times to ask questions of the witnesses that would have served to put a clear picture of the killing before the jury. Deputy Coroner Lennox resisted all attempts to explore the matter beyond the point he had arbitrarily set, and though he permitted Assistant District Attorney L. McLarty to cross-examine, he denied that privilege to Margolis and Steinmetz.

Mrs. V. Tomlinson, writer, who asserted she was present when Dr. Newbarr, following the autopsy, had said Herman Burns was gilled by what is known as a "rabbit punch," was not permitted to take the stand. She told reporters that Dr. Newbarr, County autopsy surgeon, had made the statement in the presence of six witnesses.

John S. McGee, realtor, was also present and prepared to testify that Dr. Newbarr had made the statement referred to by Mrs. Tomlinson. The autopsy report, detailed and couched in strict medical terms inferentially suggested a cause of death, but concluded with the "undertermined" finding.

The jury, when questioned by the Deputy Coroner, following a request by attorney Margolis that other witnesses be called, agreed to a man that they did not want to hear any further evidence, thus indicating they would be influenced by the obvious purpose of the Deputy Coroner.

Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., NAACP president, Frances Williams, IPP Assembly candidate, and Ann Shore of the Civil Rights Congress were among the many community leaders observing the proceedings.

Scottsboro Boy Escapes Jail; Pardon Sought

NEW YORK—The Civil Rights Congress this week called upon the thousands of Americans who supported the American Labor Defense in its struggle to save the lives of the nine Scottsboro boys to rally to the defense of Haywood Patterson, who until his recent escape, was the last of the nine boys still in jail.

Patterson wrote to the Congress asking understanding and assistance . . . "I have never had a proper chance in life," he wrote. "Of course since I am restored to freedom and life, I am begging society to please allow me a chance to do good since I have never had a chance. Do not vote for me to go back to a living hell. . . ."

The Civil Rights Congress plans to defend Haywood's liberty by calling upon President Truman to intercede with the Governor of Alabama for a pardon for Patterson. Patterson's whereabouts is not revealed.

George Washington Is Successor to Jimmy Baskett

The studios need look no further for an actor to fill the shoes of the late and great Jimmie Baskett. May we recommend the singing star George Dewey Washington as a successor to the actor who won an Academy award for his fine portrayal of Uncle Remus in the Walt Disney picture, "Song of the South".

Washington, a terrific actor-singer, recently returned from a highly triumphant tour of the Middlewest. He appeared in leading night clubs singing his soul-stirring songs before capacity crowds wherever he played, and many have expressed opinion that when it comes to naming a successor to Baskett, George Dewey Washington is the man!

He can act. He can sing, and he was the first Negro to appear in talking pictures.

May the Hollywood powers-that-be give his singing and acting the break he deserve?

Newton's Rootin' For Car Protection

Your automobile is helpless—protect it!

"Its Safety," Police Captain Earl Sansing cautions, "depends upon your personal attention."

With thefts from parked cars totalling 60% of the entire amount of thefts in Newton St. Division, the personal care of each car owner will play a great part in protecting property and in decreasing thievery in this locality.

To protect your automobile from car thieves, always remove the ignition keys and your personal property when parking on the street. Always lock the doors and windows when you leave your car unattended.

lic display on the part of the Actor's Lab. That's the sort of thing that leads to race riots."

She has lost sight of the fact that unity is achieved during war on the basis of understanding and coordination of all the forces including manpower. Manpower knows neither race nor color. Hitler's rise to power was based on racial superiority. His attempt to destroy the Jewish people as inferior beings to the Aryians, failed.

Because the Actor's Lab has gone forward with a program as democratic as the Declaration of Independence itself, it like other fighting liberal elements are targets for political warfare today.

Many civic, social, and community organizations have joined the Lab to protest this un-American act.

Tiscareno, not a vindictive soul, is doing everything possible to reduce the seriousness of the charges against Isom, and he says he has information that Isom will get his job back with his present employer. Of course, Tiscareno doesn't want to be shaken down again; natch!

The modeling unit is an integral part of the Negro Consumers Agency, Incorporated, operators of the new Consumers Mart.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

The 161st Anniversary Of Our Constitution

There is certainly room for all types of investiagtion at the present. But instead of channeling the investigation in the places and on the persons where it is most needed, people like Westbrook Pegler, Fulton Lewis, and Hedda Hopper of The Los Angeles Times, have put up scarecrows to direct the people's attention away from the real threats to our national unity.

Fulton Lewis, on the day set aside for the commemoration of the framing of the Constitution, came out with one of his slimy attacks on the striking Typographical Union. Mr. Lewis suggested that the government was not doing its duty in that it was not employing force to make these men go back to work on a Chicago newspaper he failed to name, although all know which one, at a starvation wage. Mr. Lewis called attention to what he described over-ruling the Taft-Hartley Labor Law by the workers.

This Taft-Harley law has not yet been passed upon by the United States Supreme Court, whose duty it is to decide whether or not a law is constitutional. Nevertheless constitutional lawyers have said again and again that it violates every precept of freedom and justice imbedded in our Constitution, and that if it ever does come before the Supreme Court—a procedure which its advocates have been blocking in every way—it will be outlawed at once by that body.

Unless we mean to live up to the laws prescribed by the Constituton, we should stop celebrating at least long enough to go through a period of decision and adjustment.

Get Out of Africa

"Get out of Africa," is what we have to say to Italy.

Scanning the pages of the newspapers dealing with foreign affairs, we note that "The Big Four" representatives meeting in Paris this week seem to be seriously concerned with Italy's former African colonies.

This concern reminds us that the Second World War started in Ethiopia when Mussolini swooped down on the only little Black empire in the world, destroyed it, and confiscated whatever could be put to use as war materials.

This newspaper is taking what it hopes will be the stand of the Black peoples of Europe and the Black peoples of America on this matter. That stand is this: To France, England, Italy, the United States and all other countries which have gone into Africa to exploit and ravage the natives—Get out of Africa!!!

We know how you got a foothold in the Dark Continent. First you sent in your missionaries to take the gospel to the heathen. This was the opening wedge. This accomplished, instead of teaching the rightful heirs of Africa's gold, mahogany, and other materials, how to develop and market the natural resources of the richest country in the world, you robbed and enslaved the people, confiscated the wealth of the country, and appropriated it to your own use.

The international gamble which divided Africa into many parts—British, French, German, Italian, and others—is nothing less than a world scandal. The very people you enslaved, you now use to fight your wars of greed and avarice.

In this rape of Africa our own United States has played a major role in more than one way. How can it, with a clean conscience, join in the demand of Italy for the return of that country's African colonies?

In our opinion Italy, like the others who helped to gobble up Africa, has neither a legal nor a moral right to claim any part of that country. And our United States, responsible for the Marshall Plan which does not reach as far as Ethiopia, should do something about the treatment of her dark Americans, some of whom represent the founders of this nation, and originally hailed from Africa.

So we reiterate our statement made in the beginning: "Get out of Africa." And out of every other country, you who preach democracy, but by your interference in their domestic affairs, are constantly fomenting wars and rumors of wars, division and tyranny.

Stop the Gap Before Too Late

With the Parnell-Thomas Un-American Activities Committee terrorizing the scientists while they endeavor to perfect the atom bomb, and wtih the Jack Tenney Interim Legislative Committee smearing all with whom they disagree politically, a gap is opened for the inflow of Fascism that will eventually establish a Fascist state in this nation.

In our opinion unless we stop the gap we are now on the road to a Hitler state in the U. S. A.

Witness the Hitler-like methods employed by the Tenney Committee, as told by those who were subpoenaed to appear before that most un-American Committee. Mrs. Lillian Ripps, of the California Labor School, told in a statement to that Committee, how two state troopers in an official state car hovered around her home for days in order to serve her with a subpoena, instead of going to the office where she works and where they could easily have served it any time.

"They parked in my neighborhood for hours at a time, causing all the neighbors to peer through their windows and wonder about the dragnet laid out by the state police . . . I resent the impression of horror and Nazi storm trooper methods you created on my three-year-old boy's mind. For over a week he has had nightmares and night terrors, and I have had to be up all night trying to comfort him."

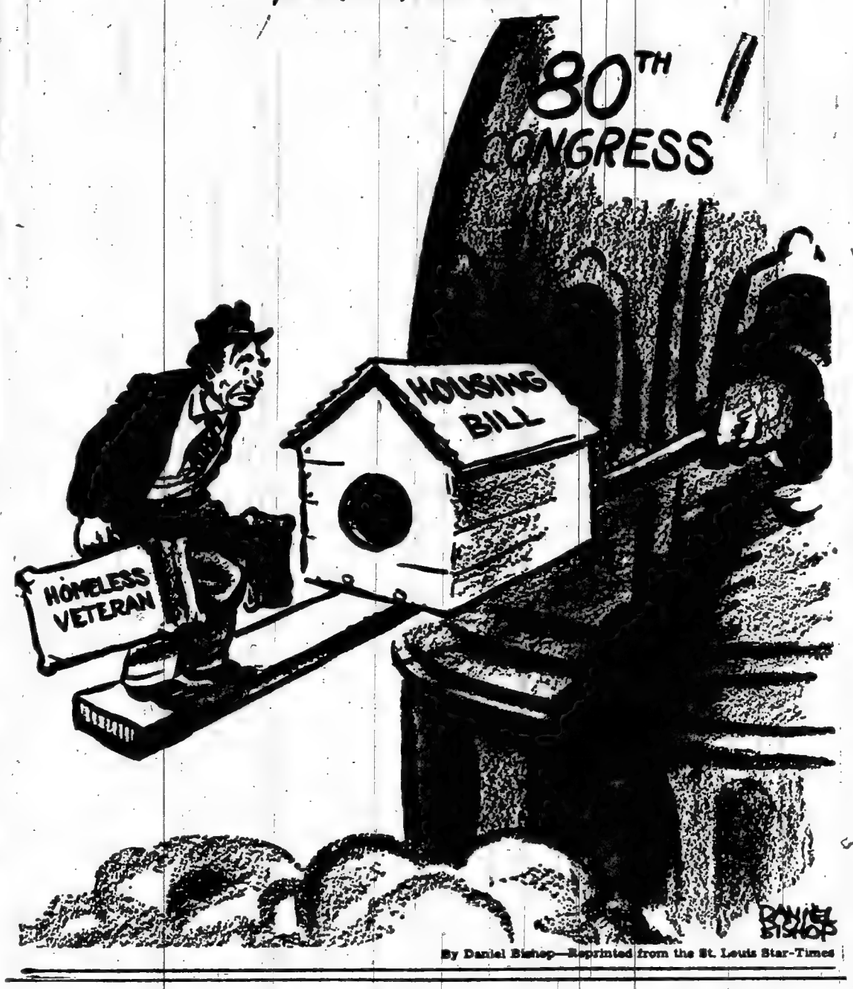
Raphael Konigsberg, who for 3½ years served in the American army, came home and he says: "The America I found made me fear for the future of my children. For I returned from a war against the forces of Fascism to find the preconditions of Fascism's triumph being engineered in my own country!

"As a father, I accuse you of plotting a society in which I am afraid to raise my children . . . As a Jew, I accuse you of planning an America in which my people can find no security. You are capable of doing to us what the Nazis did.

"As a veteran, I accuse you of betraying all the promises our government made to Americans when we went to war . . . As a citizen, I accuse you of shaming my country before the liberty-loving peoples of the earth. You have made America, formerly honored as the saviour of democracy, the most feared and hated nation."

Dr. Sanford Goldner, former professor at the University of California: "The Tenney reports have blinded themselves to racial and religious discrmination and terror in California . . . To yield to such inquisitions is to give up the fight for democracy. The Amercan people have never yielded their right to fight for freedom, and I do not think they will easily do so now."

Julian Hicks, director extension division, California Labor School: "I am of English and Irish descent. My ancestors, both on my mother's and father's side, settled in this country over 200 years ago . . . I believe in the primacy of human rights over property rights, and in the right of individuals to organize and fight for those rights. I believe that instructors in the public schools and in universities have the right to express this point of view without fear of removal from their positions.



"I believe that racial equality is an established fact, and that we must have religious freedom . . . I believe that the people of this country and the people of all the world want to live in peace . . . This committee has condemned and slandered every organization in the state dedicated to these principles . . . It is evdent that your sole purpose is to curtail the forces of decency, progress, enlightenment, and peace."

These are but a few excerpts from the statements made by those subpoenaed to appear before the Tenney Committee, to tell that Committee what they were thinking. They were not permitted to read those statements in nearly every case. They were smeared, and terrorized with a more refined method than that used by Hitler, but nevertheless it was exactly along the same line.

Unless we in America want our country to become another Nazi-Fascist Hitler dominated dictatorship, we'd better act to stop this gap through the policies of Fascism are flowing. And act quickly!

Register! Vote in November! Vote for the members of Congress and of the Legislature, who make our laws, who will abolish these nefarious Nazi-breeding committees. Vote for Wallace!

The (Poor) Bird Fancier

By Daniel Bishop—Reprinted from the St. Louis Star-Times

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Over the air and in the headlines in the newspapers came the startling news recently of a mother in Oregon who had killed her two children because she didn't have enough food for them. She was getting a relief check of $75 per month for all three—herself and her 11-year-old little girl and 10-year-old son. The boy was sick. He needed medicine. And she just couldn't get what they had to have—the food, the medicine, the shelter to live in.

So, as many a humane person has done for animals, she killed them—to put them out of their misery.

And all America was shocked when it heard the story. Shocked for a few brief seconds. Long enough to comment only, "Isn't that too horrible? What is this world coming to, anyway?" And then it went right on gossiping over the backyard fences about the next door neighbor's daughter. Or exchanged recipes for making cake. Or soap. Or talked about those awful Communists. Like as not those gossipers agreed it was the Communists who forced that little woman and her children to live on $75 per month.

Yet the horrible tragedy of going hungry, of watching your children go hungry, of hearing your little baby whimper for something to eat—is fast becoming the great American tragedy again. As it was in the early 30's, in the Hoover days, before Franklin Delano Roosevelt came on the scene and decided that a government for the people must be a government that would provide food and work for its people, and not merely subsidize the wealthy shipping companies and railroads.

And all the while that poor woman was growing frantic with the thought that her children were going hungry, and thousands of other mothers unable to meet the demands of the moguls of meat and bread are likewise almost on the verge of insanity, this government of ours is wastefully spending billions abroad to prevent Communism spreading over Europe, and is indulging in an orgy of red-baiting here at home designed to frighten and confuse the American people about a bogey that would burst in our faces if pricked by the pin of a little common sense.

President Truman himself called this present red-baiting orgy set off by the Un-American Activities Committee, as a red herring used by the reactionary politicians to draw the attention of the people from the high cost of living and its cause. He forgot, however, that he himself provided the match for the fuse by his foreign Truman Doctrine and by his loyalty tests among government employees here at home.

The reactionary politicians are gleefully using all the fuel that President Truman and the Un-American Committee are providing them. And while the American people are huddled in fear of the shadow of Communism rising over the world, the butchers and bakers and candle stick makers, already bloated beyond recognition with fat profits, are cleverly filching more and more from the pockets of the poor mothers on the verge of insanity and the fathers frantic because their work will no longer provide food for their families.

Cecil Brown, commenting upon this very incident of the Oregon mother who killed her two children, remarked about the American government grown so weak, so hysterical, as to permit investigations of facts already long known by the FBI, while nothing is investigated about the high prices of food, prices that are continually going higher and higher.

There will be many more Oregon mothers during the next four years if those reactionary lawmakers are returned to power. There will be suicides of girls who cannot continue to live and pay rent on the meagre wages they are receiving. There will be Hoovervilles. Soup kitchens. Bread lines.

Do we want a repetition of 1929-32? Then we'd better make up our minds to elect a new Congress, and a new occupant for the White House. And we don't mean a different Republican Congress, nor a Dewey for the home of the President. We need a President and a Congress such as took over in 1933, and brought order out of chaos, gave hope to the despairing and hopeless, and made the American government a real government for the people.

"Isn't Henry Wallace," say the people of Europe, "the man in America who is following in the footsteps of Franklin D. Roosevelt? Then why do not the American people want him?"

On election day in November, the American people will have to answer that question. And we'd better say, "We do."

Landlords — Tenants Equal on Rent Boards

The Rent Advisory Boards now functioning have been brought into balance—that is, have equal landlord and tenant representation with additional members representing public interest groups — Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods announced this week.

As of September 1, 600 boards were in balance out of 642 boards now functioning. This compares with 109 boards which were in balance in May when a screening of all the boards was completed to ascertain which boards needed changes or additions to bring them into balance.

Housing for Our Non-White Population

A revealing booklet has been issued by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, showing in black and white the difference between the problems in housing of the white element in the United States and the nonwhite, most of whom are Negroes.

Most of the nonwhite population live in cities. And on an average their homes have one room less than those occupied by white people. The proportion of overcrowding is roughly four times as high as that for whites. The proportion of substandard dwellings is six times that of white people.

Nevertheless out of this pitifully inadequate supply of homes, the proportionate rate of improvement among Negroes or nonwhites is three times as high as that among whites. Those who acquired private baths and private flush toilets increased among Negroes by 57%, but among whites by only 19%.

Home ownership also showed a substantial increase among the Negro element of America citizenship. Negroes increased their homes by 40%. Whites by only 27%.

This report comes from the United States government, and takes in the years between 1940 and 1947. The report comments favorably upon these "measurable advances shown between 1940 and 1947, made in the face of the severe building material and labor shortage."

And although the report shows that Negroes are still tragically far behind their white neighbor when it comes to electric lights, running water, flush toilets, bathtubs or showers, the fact that they have advanced to so great a degree in home ownership and home improvement—to a much higher percentage in truth than the "superior whites"—is surely a fact that knocks all that poppycock about Negroes lessening the value of property into an exploded balloon.

Real estate agents and brokers who knew the statistics, always maintained that Negroes in reality raised the value of property when they moved into a community. Uncle Sam comes now with figures to prove that is correct.

W. J. Wheaton Says

Should one want to see the world go by, let him stand on the corner of Fifth and Market streets for one half hour and then spend another thirty minutes near Columbus and Plymouth Square Parks, and if they are at all acquainted with the racial make up of this mundane sphere, they will have seen one, or more, of every human, racial type. A representative of every known land. They come from the top to the bottom, and from circle to circumference.

Some in costumes of their native country, others in the acquired dress of their adopted country. It is this great diversity of racial humanity that makes San Francisco the "Melting Pot" of the nation: The most cosmopolitan city in the United States of America; New York City not excepted. There are not many San Franciscans who really know their city. Its throbbing, colorful life; its lights and its shadows; its areas of laughter and mirth, of sorrows and tears, are unknown to the many.

One can live in San Francisco, but must know San Francisco to appreciate, fully, its varied artery of life. It is this vast, heterogeneous, mass of humanity that, until recently, has kept San Francisco free from racial bias. Migrants, of opposite racial extraction, have raised, or created, problems that, heretofore, were unknown. None but true San Franciscans know what it is to witness destroying of old and traditional landmarks.

Only native San Franciscans know what the cable cars and public flower stands mean to them. They are a part of the city, as much so as Twin Peaks or Telegraph Hill. Speak of The Poodle Dog, Coffee Dans, mention the days of the Hansom Cab to an old timer, or if you want to see an old sports watery eyes brighten bring some remembrance of Cape Horn, where the boys used to stop to refresh themselves en route to Sunny Jim Corbett's fight pavilion at Colma.

The Eagle Brewery, where the best steam suds in the world was brewed. Recently we visited a home for the aged and spied an ancient denizen of the old city. . . . We learned the other day that he passed on to his Fathers . . . and he remarked that it was like living again. Well, the wheels of progress turn and old scenes like old memories disappear under its relentless grind. But it is the hope that the spirit of fair play, which has at all times been a living element in the City by the Golden Gate will never die; that no infusion of intolerant ideas or the virus of religious or racial hatreds can ever have ascendancy: That the spirit of Star King and the men who made San Francisco the Queen of the Pacific; will never die, but may be infused in the new blood of Progress.

San Francisco has no place for intolerance from any source. All it demands is that loyalty to the nation and strict adherence to the law be observed.

What the GOPs hoped to be a push over; just a breeze in the stretch for the Presidential Handicap, promises to develop into one of the hardest races, for political honors in many decades. The incumbent of the White House has shown that he will not stand ejection without a fight, and he has taken off his coat and rolled up his sleeves, for a fight which will cause his adversaries—win or lose—to know that they have been in a scrap. He took a strangle hold in his Detroit speech. Stassen tried to make light of it but consensus among the working class say it was great and clarified his stand on labor.

He (Truman) says he will invade the stronghold of the Dixiecrats. No doubt that he will receive better treatment than was given Wallace; which was not only un-American but loathesome. But South Carolina has been noted for its illiteracy and lack of good breeding. So Wallace should not be surprised. Any community that condones brutality and glories in gruesome orgies, show a bit toward refinement? when they resort to throwing decaying fruit and over-ripe eggs in greeting.

Of course we can not prophesy, but even though the President has stood pat on civil rights programme, we can not conceive of his being greeted with the enthusiastic method with which they welcomed Wallace.

Earl Dickenson is to contest the First congressional District of Illinois with the incumbent Duncan. Earl is on the IPP ticket. Goodby Earl! It's pleasant to meet and note old friends. Cap Alberga and Wes Peoples have come out of their political quadrennial hibernation and opened up headquarters for Dewey and Warren. The Maillard cohorts are making a house to house canvass; having teas and such. But it is our opinion that Havenner will succeed himself.

It is ludicrous to note some of the "Johnies Come Lately" say that they have votes in their vest pockets to deliver when they say, and to think that there is some aspirants for office who are so gullible as to fall for such. If that bunch of fakirs should approach a class of these younger voters with such guff after treatment they would think they had been in a pro-football game. Such political shysters are a detriment to any community.

They give the thought that the people whom they presume to represent are ignorant, illiterate and without political knowledge. The day of the old time political leader is past. The voter of today is versed in local and national political lore, and more so than the pseudo leadership which presumes to carry their votes in their professional pockets. It is pitiful to listen to some of their forensic displays. They show such lack of political knowledge that they bring snickers from the youngsters. They don't have the least knowledge of local affairs; less national.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

Here IT Comes Again!

The boss said to me the other day, "Do you know how many Negroes in this area are in the ranks of the unemployed?" I gave it some consideration, then suggested a figure which I thought was a thousand or two too high. She smiled at my conservatism and came back with a total that was double that I had offered. It frightened me, and because I think it would frighten some of you, I have left the figures out of this essay; suffice it to say we are on the way once again to get a good taste of what happens after a period of inflationary boom.

JOHN M. LEE

We have learned to read significance in things that concern the price of milk or our diplomatic relations with a competing world power. Somehow, there seems to be a parallel in the outlandish cost of a pound of beef and the hot foot technique being applied to anyone who won't expectorate on the Red Star of Russia.

Perhaps it has never occurred to our great national leaders that most of us don't give a hoot about who is Commissar of all the Russians when we haven't yet been able to figure out who is going to provide us with a job that pays sufficient salary to pay the astronomical rents or purchase a cut of third rate beef at first class (inflated) prices. Talk about marihuana; the greatest opiate of them all is the gas being generated by the Tenney Committee et al, to lull the minds of the good citizens into a listless fervor so they won't complain no matter how light the American dollar becomes.

You have to be under the influence of an opiate or a narcotic or something to join in a spy hunt in these days of peace (?) when you can't even find a job. Believe me you've got to be on some kind of time to think that what Tenney and Thomas are after is RED RUSSIAN SPIES; they're after you and your liberties and your awakening realization that the system is breaking down again. They don't want you to change the system in your favor, so they yell about overthrowing the government by force and violence.

They tell you about the great American Tradition while the Klan demonstrates in the front yard of a home-owner who would sell to anyone who has the purchase price (which is certainly in the American tradition) and while the ranks of the unemployed lengthen and spread. Inhale the gas generated by the Tenney Committee and you'll believe as they'll have you believe, that the Government of the United States is higher in dignity and authority than the simple admonitions of THE PRINCE OF PEACE.

When the chairmen and members of the great UN-American Activities committees move among their fellows with plans to feed the multitudes who are dying. HERE, in this country from slow-starvation brought about by low wages or no jobs at all, then they will set up a tradition that Americans or anyone else in the world will be happy to follow.

Talk about revolution! The American people should rise in their wrath and indignation and demand that every government leader who preaches hate and division, surrender his trusteeship; the American people should do this or give up all pretense of being a nation of God-fearing people.

POTPOURRI

A total of 100 representatives from Northern and Southern California have been appointed to the Executive Committee of the Republican State Central organization, according to Edward S. Shattuck, chairman of the State Central Committee. A balance has been maintained between north and south, and between men and women.

The Committee will meet Saturday, September 18, at Santa Barbara. Campaign procedures will be discussed, and also plans will be made for the entertainment of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, presidential candidate, who will speak in Hollywood Bowl at 7 p.m. Friday, September 24.

"The 80th Congress—a Bad Job," will be the subject of an address by Helen Gahagan Douglas at a mass rally held in the Embassy auditorium this evening (Thursday) at 8 o'clock. The rally will mark the beginning of the campaign to re-elect Mrs. Douglas member of Congress from the 14th Congressional District.

Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church will sing.

Come! Bring your friends and neighbors! Mrs. Douglas' talk will be an eye-opener, we predict.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The National Council of Negro Women recognizing the one great problem in the world today—the need of good human relations—announces the formation of a Human Relations Committee. The purpose of the Committee is to integrate an emphasis on human relations into the over-all program of the Council, and to render a service that will help in planning an education and action program in the field.

Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, founder-president of the Council has appointed Mrs. Beulah T. Whitby, assistant director of the Mayor's Interracial Committee, Detroit, Michigan, as chairman of the Human Relations Committee.

RENO, Nev.—The Progressive Party candidates for the State Assembly have pledged themselves to lead the struggle for a State FEPC. The State government is one of the worst offenders. No Negroes are employed by it, even in custodial jobs.

There is only one Negro doctor licensed to practice medicine in the whole state of Nevada. Negroes may get divorces, but they must get them through a white lawyer, and during Jim Crow office hours.

The Progressive Party intends to fight for civil rights in every respect for all Negroes, and all minority groups.

"Animal Allies," 1301 North Harper Ave., Hollywood, is planning an initiative measure which would forbid all vivisection of tame and domestic animals. To get this measure on the November ballot, it will be necessary to secure the signatures of 250,000 registered voters by November 10. "Animal Allies" is asking for volunteers for this gigantic job. Call HI. 0581.

Measures on the Nov. 2 election ballot will be discussed at the Los Angeles Business and Professional Women's Club's dinner meeting, 6 p.m., Thursday, September 23, in the Clark Hotel.

Miss Estella Churchill, president, announces Mrs. Laurel Knezevich will preside, with Mrs. Gertrude Rounsavelle as moderator.

Mrs. Katherine Adams Stoll and Miss Josephine Baker will speak in favor of Senate reapportionment, and Mrs. Gladys Lucas and Miss Mary Ellen Dickison, against. Miss Geraldine Hadsell and Miss Mila Warn will discuss the two liquor control bills, and Mrs. Margarete Clark will speak in favor of the housing measure and Miss Mary Frick against.

Among the hundreds of protests that are flooding the Tenney un-American Activities Committee, comes this letter from the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Council for a Democratic Greece.

"The Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States guarantees to all persons in the United States the absolute freedom of political opinion and association. The efforts of your Committee to intimidate the American people and jeopardize their livelihood by your unconstitutional activities will be resisted by every liberty-loving person in this country. The American people have not, nor will they, forget their revolutionary traditions."

The American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born condemned the Justice Department's decision to proceed with the deportation hearings in the case of Claudia Jones, which started last Monday, Sept. 13, in New York City.

Miss Jones was born in Trinidad, British West Indies, and entered the United States legally in 1924. She is secretary of the National Women's Committee of the Communist Party, and she has been arrested and held for deportation on the ground of her membership in that party.

"We will defend any non-citizen who is selected as a victim of the attempt to create hysteria against the foreign born, the Jewish people, the Negro people, and all other minorities," declares the Committee.

Miss Jones has applied repeatedly for citizenship in the U.S., but has been denied.

Mary Church Terrell, first president of the National Association for Colored Women; Belford V. Lawson, president of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity; Congressman Adam Clayton Powell; Mrs. Shirley Graham, author of "There Was Once A Slave"; and Professor Clyde R. Miller, New York Chapter, Methodist Federation for Social Action; joined today in a petition to President Truman urging the abolition of Jim Crow "Silver-Gold" discrimination on the Panama Canal Zone.

The Committee was launched last week in a letter sent to 3,000 prominent Americans describing the segregated treatment of 20,000 "silver" workers in Panama—Negroes, Panamanians and West Indians—who are employees of the United States Government.

The petition also calls for an unconditional pardon for Joe Sachs, an organizer for the United Public Workers of America, CIO—a union representing the "silver" workers, who was recently sentenced to nine months at hard labor in prison on a charge of criminal libel against the local District Attorney.

FORT RILEY, Kans.—Twelve Negro officer candidates were among the 105 students recently graduated from the officer candidate course at the Ground General School here, and were commissioned second lieutenants in the United States Army.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Five Negro soldiers were among 23 members of the 82nd Airborne "All-American" Division to arrive here last week for a five-day visit to the nation's capital. The paratroopers were awarded the sightseeing tour for outstanding achievement in the division.

Have you registered? Are you ready to vote in November?

In the South, if you tried to register and vote, you might be in danger of being shot. Here in California—forgive us for saying it—you ought to be shot if you don't.

There has been a lot of discussion, pro and con, on Proposition 6 on the November ballot, which would wipe out all commercial fishing on San Francisco Bay and on the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

While our leisure sportsmen would no doubt like to have additional grounds or waters in which to enjoy their fun, we feel that the men and women who are making their living through commercial fishing and who are supplying the home markets with the products of their work, should not be deprived of their livelihood. Nor should we, the people, be deprived of the fish they catch and process for us.

Therefore this newspaper believes we should vote "No" on proposition No. 6.

The Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee, by a vote of 46-39, decided to take no action on the controversial proposition No. 4, the Old Age Pension initiative which would boost old age pensions to $75 per month instead of $60.

One of the chief arguments against it was that the $75 could not be lowered by the Legislature in case the State needed more money, say for building freeways, etc. That can be done only by the people.

The Committee did not complete its job on discussing the propositions on the November ballot, and it is hoped that Proposition No. 4 may be reviewed and the present decision reversed in the October meeting.

President Truman, candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket, will come to Los Angeles one week from today, Thursday, Sept. 23. Governor Dewey, Republican presidential candidate, will come the next day, Friday, Sept. 24.

Both parties want the Hollywood Bowl for their rallies. But the Republicans beat the Democrats to it. They rented the Bowl for both Thursday and Friday Thursday, they say, they want to "practice," or test the lighting and speaking facilities, or something.

And are the Democrats mad?

In a blistering resolution the Democratic County Committee at its meeting last Tuesday evening, condemned the action of the Hollywood Bowl Association for acceding to this trick, as being most un-American and exceedingly pro-Fascist.

President Truman will be welcomed and will speak somewhere, that was assured, if it has to be the Gilmore Stadium or the Coliseum, or out in the open.

The fact that Henry Wallace was refused the Bowl because of a "political controversial program" was pointed out, and the "hypocrisy" of the Association in permitting the Republican Party to hold their rally in the same place was hotly condemned.

The County Democratic Committee had unanimously adopted a resolution last spring, protesting the action of the Bowl Association in refusing the Bowl to Henry Wallace, as being unfair and un-American.

Diamond Jubilee of Nursing Coming Up

NEW YORK — President Truman, Ex-President Herbert Hoover and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, heading a committee of 70 leaders in public life, have joined with the American Nurses' Association in sponsoring the Diamond Jubilee of Nursing which will be marked by celebrations throughout the country.

The memory of Linda Richards, "America's first professional nurse," is to be especially honored during the jubilee, signalizing both the 75th anniversary of professional nursing in the United States and of Miss Richards' graduation from nursing school.

According to Pearl McIver, ANA president, who announced plans for the jubilee, the celebrations will be marked by a Linda Richards banquet in New York City, on Nov. 16.

A European Traveler Views U.

Meet Anita Thompson Dickinson, European traveler, artists, and educator. Mrs. Dickinson, whose background is as classic as her face, was a resident of Europe for twelve years. She saw the rise of the Hitler regime and was in Paris at the time of the German occupation. She's known the heart-breaking experiences of Fascism abroad and has given her best efforts to check the growth of the cancer in this country.

Anita Thompson left Los Angeles 25 years ago to be a bridesmaid in the famous Walker-Gordon wedding in New York. She remained east that year to attend Normal school in Baltimore and Columbia's Teacher's College. In 1928 she became a supervisor of art in the public schools of Baltimore.

She went to Paris that year to further her studies in art, history of art, and criticism. Paris was the beginning of another type of education that was to soon equip her for a more important field in the science of human relations.

At the outbreak of the war in 1939 she made up her mind to make France her home forever. Joining the Red Cross as a nurse, she soon became a lieutenant in the French Army. When the Germans occupied France the American government ordered the evacuation of all American citizens and she returned with the last convoy to leave Lisbon in 1940.

Returning on the same convoy was Dwight Lloyd Dickinson, an American volunteer with the French Army, who became her husband in New York. They continued to support the Allies in the A. W. V. S. and in the voluntary motor corps.

When the United States declared war on Germany, once again the Dickinsons contributed their all-out effort. He joined the Air Corps and she went to work for the Navy department. At Sampson Naval Training Station, New York, she had charge of blueprinting, filing, and distribution of all Navy plans for three years.

She took advantage of the pressing need of the period to study psychiatric diagnosis after working hours and to learn to "screen" recruits suspected of neuro-psychiatric handicaps. Mrs. Dickinson returned to New York City in 1944 to study psychiatric diagnosis and to start her own psycho-analysis in preparation for therapeutic work. During the following four years she studied at the New School for Social Research and at the Washington School of Psychiatry.

She worked as psychologist, voluntarily, at the Lefargue Clinic started by Dr. Frederic Wertham and Richard Wright to meet an urgent need for mental health improvement in Harlem. And at the New York Consultation Center at 71st and Park Avenue, Dr. Lewie Wolberg's clinic, she was given her first opportunity for therapy, as well as diagnosis and testing. Psychoanalytic counseling of adolescents and of young parents has been her special field of interest and of work for the past two years. But she remains a psychologist giving the Rorschach Test to aid in guidance and in diagnosis for psychiatrists and physicians.

In San Francisco this summer to visit her brother, Sumner, and to see psycho-analysts at Berkeley, Anita came to Los Angeles to admire the grown children of her own childhood friends. She saw so much to admire—friendly rfiends, beautiful children, lovely homes—that she "got homesick for the first time in twenty-five years. "In Europe," she says, "I was always finding excuses for going to the Mediterranean. I liked the sunshine, the palms, olive trees, the eucalyptus, and the brown people. . . . It has just occurred to me that I was looking for Southern California."

On a preparatory commission of the Mental Health Congress, United Nations, Mrs. Dickinson surveyed the New York area to answer the question "What efforts are being made to reduce intergroup tensions that cause destructive prejudice in children?"

She was surprised to find the number and sincerity of efforts greatly increased in the past 25 years. Professional, business, educational, and political frontiers have been widened and indeeed have been broken in many fields. No barriers whatever hinder the Negroes' opportunity and in near New York City and representative types of job opportunity, professional opening, and educational facility are opened to qualified members of all groups there.

The advancement of colored peoples in this culture is due so largely to past protest that optimism for the rest of the country should not be too high unless one is willing to go on protesting. The United Nations hopes to improve through a special agency, the mental health of a ples. It will still be large concern of minorities to care of their own mental and to improve living con and the emotional clim which their children grow

Colonial Revolution Weakens Imperialism

By PAUL FRENCH

In spite of the bluff and bluster of Wall Street's bi-partisan lackeys, every day shows increasing failure of the Marshall Plan attempt to make European nations virtual colonies of U. S. imperialism. But meanwhile, in all the pre-war colonies, especially in the teeming Orient, the economic foundations of imperialism are crumbling under the force of colonial revolution.

British imperialism, which itself is falling into receivership by Wall Street, is facing revolt in Africa and the Far East. British West Africa alone, it should be noted, brings to the imperialists of Britain five times the income—from cocoa alone!—that Britain gets from sales to America of autos, ships and locomotives. And, on the Gold Coast, a boycott of British goods hit the Lever Brothers monopoly and started a colonial revolt that began — not ended! — with the shooting of African ex-servicemen recently.

In Central America, British Guiana is in revolt, with strikes, riots and police shootings. West Indian rum and sugar account for millions in British profits. But here, too, revolution is always just below the surface because of chronic poverty of the people.

But it is in the Far East, the colonial slave-pen of world imperialism, that colonial revolution is getting entirely out of the hands of the Dutch, who are British imperialism's servants, and the British themselves, who are increasingly the servants of American imperialism.

China, vast and literally unconquerable, is steadily being lost by the Kuomintang "running dogs" of western imperialism, and the Communist-led People's Liberation Army daily makes new gains, while Chiang Kai-shek's dictatorship grows hourly more bankrupt, corrupt and incompetent. What is highly important, too, is that there simply is no way that American imperialists can prevent this. Waldo Drake, New York Times correspondent, says that, of the billions of dollars worth of arms and munitions the U. S. has given to Chiang Kai-shek, "most of it is now in the hands of the Communists, who have captured it, along with Chiang's troops." And the prospect of America sending American armies into China, to fight directly against the revolutionary rising of 450,000,000 Chinese people is fantastically unlikely.

The daily papers give only a hint of what is going on in Burma, where imperialist puppets are facing popular revolt, in which insurrectionary Burmese troops are joining with the people they are supposed to oppress.

In Malaya, the remaining foremost dollar-earner of the British empire, colonial revolt is sweeping through the tin and rubber resources of world imperialism. Rubber exports from Malaya net Britain $266,000,000 per year, compared with the $180,000,000 gained by all exports from the British Isles themselves. Malayan tin mines earn more for British imperialism, than British whiskey exports to the United States.

Yet, today, all this is in jeopardy, for the colonial slaves of the Malay states are in open revolt, and this revolt, far from being suppressed by the barbarous mass murders of the British, is increased by the British use of rocket-firing Spitfires, Gurka mercenaries and mass hangings of captured revolutionaries.

While the U. S. newspapers are trying to conceal what is going on in Indonesia, the fact remains that, under the guise of "impartiality" of the United Nations, the Dutch, who are the tools of British capital, and the puppets of Wall Street and the Truman-Marshall-Dewey-Vandenberg-Dulles bi-partisan imperialists, are trying, first by guile and finally by force, to defeat the persistent and growing revolution led by the Indonesian Republic.

If you find it hard to buy pepper, it is because the Dutch navy has blockaded the Indonesian Republic, forbidding it to export pepper or anything else, thus hoping to strangle economically the Indonesian government which the United Nations compelled the Dutch to recognize, but hypocritically refuses to give any support to whatever. The United Nations "neutral" Commission merely serves as a fig-leaf to cover the repressive actions of world imperialism.

This "commission" is permitting the grossest violations of the "truce" by the Dutch, who are armed with U. S. weapons and financed by Marshall Plan loans. This "commission" veils the crime of the Dutch, who, under threat of renewed war, "negotiate" with the Indonesian Republic, meanwhile sponsoring a fake "democracy" by carving up Indonesia into Dutch-sponsored "states", which, headed by Dutch-stooges, are then supposed to "vote" whether or not to join into a "United States of Indonesia." Such a government would, of course, be dominated by the Dutch, not the Indonesian people.

Against this imperialist plot, sanctified by the United Nations commission, from which the Soviet Union was barred, the Indonesian people, 72,000,000 of them, are uniting around the "Popular Democratic Front," led by the Communist Party, whose leaders, Alimin and Musso, veterans of the 1925 revolt against Dutch rule, are popular heroes.

Strengthening this Democratic Front is the recent amalgamation of the real Socialist Party, led by former Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin, into the Communist Party. And the Democratic Front has also been strengthened by the announcement that the "SOBSI," the central trade union organization of Indonesia, with several million members, has affiliated to the Democratic Front and accepts the political leadership of the Communist Party.

There is another so-called "socialist" party, which is anti-Communist and hence but a tool of imperialism, and is headed by one Sjahrir. The Islamic Party, which once was moderately anti-Dutch, in the present circumstances is serving imperialism, while pretending to oppose it. And this is important, as the Islamic Party is the largest party—but it will not remain so.

Thus, colonial revolution is increasing the world over, and undermining the supposed "strength" of world imperialism. It is extremely important for us, here in America, to realize this. Because, when we look around us at the surface appearances of what goes by the name of "western civilization," the vast "power" of U. S. capitalism, its enormous machine of production, its armies and navies and boasted "superiority," we are inclined to over-estimate its strength, and to forget that, with the colonial world in revolt, this "strength" is sure to evaporate and its foundations crumble into profound economic and political crisis.

The High Destiny of the American Negro

By ELMER WENDELL DEAN
(According to a Prophecy of Ralph Waldo Emerson)

The undisputed worst treated group in these United States took another flogging over Civil Rights at the hands of the special session of the Eightieth Congress. But it is consoling to announce the discovery of a prophecy concerning Negro people by the great American Anglo-Saxon, Ralph Waldo Emerson. The preacher, the prophet, the philosopher and the poet all rolled into one.

August first of this year marked the 107th Anniversary of Mr. Emerson's EMANCIPATION IN THE BRITISH WEST INDIES address. In this speech he gave a light brush off to the myth of Anglo-Saxon superiority, and with prophetic utterances gave the chart and the compass of THE HIGH DESTINY OF THE AMERICAN NEGRO.

Excerpts of the Address

"It was the sarcasm of Montesquieu, 'It would not do to suppose Negroes men, lest it would turn out that whites were not': "For the white has, for ages done what it could to keep the Negro in a hoggish state. His laws have been furies. . . . It now appears that the Negro race, is more than any other, susceptible to rapid civilization.

"If the black man carries in his bosom some indispensable element, of a new and coming civilization; for the sake of that element, no wrong nor strength nor circumstance can hurt him, he will survive and play his part.

"I say to you, you must save yourself, black or white, man or woman; other help is none. I esteem the occasion of this jubilee to be proud discovery that the black race can contend with the white.

"The civility of the world has reached that pitch that the blacks' more moral genius is becoming indispensable and the quality of this race is to be honored for itself. For this, they have been preserved in sandy-deserts, rice-swamps, in kitchens and shoe-shops, so long: let them emerge, clothed in their own form."

The Sage of Concord like every other great thinker left no successor. Without his goads of self-reliance and righteous indignation the whole country, including New England, turned from the business of the making of men, and shoved off on a gadget making spree. And now a few 'spoiled brats' have in their possession a one-sided powerful atomic civilization which bids fair to destroy everybody and everything. To the problems of this frightened and unhappy generation with its moral and spiritual dearth, the prophecy of Emerson brings the solution. On a take it or leave it basis.

The constantly snobbed and continually scorned black folks in the midst of a challenged Nation have "SURVIVED." Modern children delivered from a hotter furnace than the ancients could have devised: Rescued from dens of human beings who ganged-up on them far worse than do lions. In some way — inexplainable—they stand today unscarred, unembittered, and unafraid. Ready for the climactic part of a now swiftly unfolding prophetic role. They carry in their bosoms that "indispensable" for the "new and coming civilization to which the Nation has given birth. For the sake of this NEW-BORN, black folks must be "allowed to emerge, clothed in their own form." This "form" is not for some irresponsible Congress of these times to grant. Blacks must know they are now on their very own. "Other help is none." They must produce their own style of leadership, with skilled historical researchists as a tough central core; capable of lifting "the iron-curtain" so tightly nailed down on the Negro's past: Sufficiently able to correct the many racial misconceptions that have too long darkened the councils of unenlightened men. It is self-evident: The smallest minority, with a morally grounded leadership, weaponed with facts, and in a pro-human cause—can rout the largest entrenched majority, with gadget-anchored leaders, with falsehoods for arms, and engaged in anti-human practices. The deniel of Civil Rights to the black man in 1948 is far more dangerous than the withholding of physical freedom in 1848. This Nation should have a deep feeling of shame, an aroused sense of repentance, and a burning desire for actions meet of repentance, on these grave and inexcusable matters.

All now agree that America's dazzling physical rebirth is as 'dust in the balance' unless there is a corresponding moral awakening. This is the time of times for laying aside of all nonsense and all bluff, becoming re-clothed in commonsense and fair-play: And welcome a moral offensive from whatever quarter it stems.

And what are these "elements" deep in the hearts of black folks, with their "more moral genius," according to the immortal Emerson? Why they are the same as what another prophetic writer called: "THE FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT: LOVE, JOY, PEACE, LONGSUFFERING, GENTLENESS, GOODNESS, FAITH, MEEKNESS, TEMPERANCE: AGAINST WHICH THERE IS NO LAW."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

1238 S. California St.,
Monrovia, Calif.

Dear Friend:

I'm writing you in appreciation of an article written on the theatrical page of your paper, Sept. 2. It is nice to be remembered by the press after one has retired. A weekly memory article about former celebrities might prove interesting to all of us, or at least, bring back days of old.

Since I have retired, I've spent a bit of my time with our teenagers. I've been invited to speak on music at the assembly of the M.A.D. High School here in Monrovia. These students come from Monrovia, Arcadia, and Duarte. I have offered my assistance musically to our stars of tomorrow. My humble efforts have proven quite gratifying.

I am sure that there are celebrities of yesteryears that are quite forgotten on the theatrical page of today, who are devoting their time to worthwhile activities.

A writeup on your theatrical page would give them an extra boost in their new endeavors.

Thanking you again, I remain
Sincerely,
LES HITE.

(Following is a letter addressed to the Ingram Family through the Eagle)

Dear Mrs. Ingram and family:

We would like you to know that the members of the Marine Cooks and Stewards, CIO, are fully aware of the terrible injustice done to you and your family. Members of our Union aboard this ship, the SS LURLINE, have contributed over $88 toward your defense. You probably know of this as the money was turned over two weeks ago to the Ingram Defense Committee in San Francisco. Further, however, we members of the Wallace for President Club would like to assure you of a special interest in your case, as we are a part of America that are supporting the only presidential candidate who says four-square that JIM CROW MUST GO! That candidate is, of course, Henry Wallace.

In our Union there are members of nearly every race and creed and color in the world. We live like brothers together and know that if we can live so, that the world can live so. We also know that the hatred and prejudice that has imprisoned you and yours is something man-made and that it can thus be destroyed by man. We are a part of that

Education Needs Federal Aid

At a time in our early hi when public libraries and supported schools for the dren of the nation were known, it was the common ple of the country, artic through their trade unions made the demand for free ation. Not, they said, a grace and bounty or cha but as "a matter of right duty" — so that their chi could take their rightful p as citizens in society.

A hundred years ago, the neyman house carpenter Nashville, Tenn., analyzed situation this way: "We ha cial feelings which must be ified. We have minds and must be improved. We are ers of our country and must time and opportunity to its interests. Shall we live die knowing nothing but th diments of our trade? It was such people—the sans, the mechanics, and th workers — attacked as the cals of their day, who wo us the system of public e tion which we now take granted and in which we taken great national pride.

There are other alarming to be faced. Last year, in country, millions of school dren were in school systems such meager financing that schooling was both brief an ferior. Ella V. Robinson Principal of K. C. Kansas School for 41 Years Retires While Vacationing Here

While hundreds of students and teachers the nation over prepared to take up the duties of a new semester's work, Miss Ella V. Robinson, teacher and administrator for 41 years in the school system of Kansas City, Kansas, chose Los Angeles as the locale to officially announce her retirement from active duty as principal of the Douglass Elementary School.

Miss Robinson has for the past few weeks been visiting her cousins, Mmes. Edna Mae McPherson and Irene Bradford, both well known in the local social circle. Miss Robinson, who enjoys a quiet life and cares nothing at all for fan fare or publicity, was taken by surprise when on Friday afternoon, the regular meeting of the Harmony Bridge club to which Mrs. McPherson is president, was actually an affair honoring her retirement from the school system.

LOCAL TEACHERS PRESENT

Aside from the regular members of the bridge club attending, a host of the Los Angeles city school teachers, from elementary, Junior and Senior High were invited to do honors to the retiring educator. Miss Ollie Green served as speaker of the afternoon, praising the surprised honoree with many deserving compliments. Mrs. Bessie Burk, local school principal exchanged many ideas with Mrs. Robinson, who taught 18 years at the Douglass Elementary school and 14 years at the Dunbar School, before taking over the duties of principal that gave a wonderful balance of 41 years in the system.

Other guests enjoying the delightful luncheon affair were: Mmes. Bess Gant, Nellie Smallwood, Lazora Rowell, Alberta Putnum, of Detroit, Lucille Robertson, Nan Mouton, Emma Morris, Elizabeth Hill, Etheline Valencia, Jessie Mae Brown of the Eagle, Stella Lay, Lena Wilson, Rosetta Cooper, Maud Bird, Irene Bradford, Exie Boutee, Pauline Reynolds of Pennsylvania, A. Young, of Washington, D.C.; Robbie Chester, Catherine Graham, Bessie Brewington Burk, Bernice Jones, Helen Lyons, Carol Johnson, Mattie Chase, Bernice Pillows, Bobbie Borders, Patricia McCloud, Honore Carey and Ollie Green.

The friendly approachable Miss Robinson expects to rest at least six months before even thinking of future plans. Leaving the profession with 41 years to her credit, will not find her forgetting her old job. Many are those, including leaders and laymen who have at one time or another studied under her leadership. An avid tennis fan, Miss Robinson expects to attend several interesting matches while visiting here. A few years back the names of Ella Robinson and Edna McPherson were well known in the Colored Tennis Association, for both walked away with the national cup and honors.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

THERE IS A PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT REASON for the serious note we strike in this week's column. Important because many of our organizations have reconvened for the new term of work. What does the future hold for these groups which include fraternal, as well as civic and social. Will regular gab sessions be the order of the agenda with the usual delightful repast as the climax with sudden interest building up over some pay or invitational dance, only to drop off as soon as the event has taken place, or will the groups enjoy organized programs of work, actually taking something useful away from each meeting or bringing something to add to the cultural growth of the group.

For the past seven years, it has been the job of this writer to check over various club reports that appear in the social columns of the EAGLE. We could almost count the number that actually carried matter of news value, on one hand. It is true that hundreds on top of hundreds come chuck full of publicity, urging the public to red letter certain dates for public affairs that will benefit their treasuries. The news value of the work being done in the club seems to escape the minds of the reporters who actually deliver the goods. To wit, we oftimes find the PTA readers well prepared and carrying at least one article with something to offer the people of the community. The Allied Arts League, the YWCA, the 12 Big Sisters and a few others also fall in this category, of actually reporting newsworthy events, along with copy that comes under the heading of plain publicity or advertising copy.

We rest assured that your groups are actually following a program that offers news value. The speakers who come before your meetings, the panel discussions that take place and the outstanding doings of individual club members always finds a place in the columns of informative copy. As little as you may think, the job of club reporter is almost as important as the president's job, for through her, the public actually finds out what you are doing in your meetings. We urge you to give special note to the woman you put in the position of club reporter this year. Choose a woman who is deeply interested in the club work and has the ability to actually put it across in a newsworthy method. Don't consider the office of publicity chairman a small position, just a place to let some friends name appear on the list of officers. We, the people of the fourth estate are deeply concerned and anxious that you put capable people on the job. Always hold in mind that the smart press chairman is she who sees building up public interest in her organization as her primary job. Selling tickets for the next benefit is several steps from that primary objective. Accuracy, promptness and news appreciation on the part of the press chairman will do the trick. By the way, it is not an easy job which you ask your press chairman to do for your organization. There should be cooperation with her on the part of other officers and members. As your women's editor of the California EAGLE, you will receive my full cooperation. In bringing this little tete-a-tete to a close, we find many old addresses on the official club list. We would like to bring this up to date with the names and addresses of the new presidents, secretaries and reporters. If you know your club's name is missing from the list due to the fact that it is a new organization or has never been listed be sure to

Hugh Gordon Book Shop Helps Community Need

It will be a year busier than ever for the Hugh Gordon Book Shop located at 1109 East 42nd place. Mrs. Adel Young, owner of the well-stocked shop has plans under way for an organized lecture series that will especially benefit the people of the community, especially the youth, who always find notes of interest at the little shop where the public is urged to come in and brouse.

During a recent visit to the city, Miss Freda DeKnight, writer for Ebony Magazine, stopped by and autographed some of her cook books, "Date with a Dish" that have won wide acclaim. These books are now on sale at the shop. Mr. Hale Woodruff, muralist of New York, who recently toured the coast to gather information and visit sights of importance, also visited along with Miss DeKnight. Mr. Woodruff was intent on finding a book that would present the facts of life, in the proper manner, to his teenage youngster. His final choice, one of the most popular books of its kind at the Hugh Gordon Shop, was Lois Pemberton's "The Stork Didn't Bring You". This book comes highly recommended by educators as the best book on the market for youngsters 12 years of age up. It is highly illustrated and would meet the needs of teenagers.

Both Miss DeKnight and Mr. Woodruff were elated over the composition of the shop in the community. Opened since June 13, the owner, Mrs. Young, is vitally interested in acquainting club groups with the Hugh Gordon shop. They are invited to visit and have its owner appear before their meetings to explain the work of the shop, that is a definite contribution to the community.

Alpha House Party Highlights Week End Social Events; Other Benefits Set for Oct.

Family reunions and the meeting of old friends highlighted the first Alpha "House Party" held at the Club Congo Saturday night. "Just like old times" . . . "Fancy seeing you after all these years" . . . "Where have you been?" were some of the common phrases heard around the club.

The fashionably dressed group chatted merrily, danced to the music of Lorenzo Flenney's Quartet, laughed at the jokes of Emcee J. T. Gipson, jumped to the rhythm of Nelson Alexander's Trio, swooned at the ballads of "Smiley" Turner and finally rocked to the blues of Big Joe Turner, heavyweight champion of the Blues. Everyone enjoyed the genial hospitality of Joe Morris, manager of the Club Congo.

There were many sorry folds Sunday morning when telephones began to buzz and the word got around about the good times had by all. Many celebrities were introduced, including Earl Carter of Television and Johnny Miller, recently retired bassist with King Cole Trio.

RAY SPRIGLE, RICHARD WRIGHT, FIRE . . .

Recently a white man turned colored and toured the South, gathering information and facts about the life in some of our States. Since that time, his report has been published, and everyone is anxious to read it. It was Ray Sprigle, an already successful and established writer. Regardless of what some are saying, I believe his report is quite helpful in this election year. It would be helpful if everyone living in the Unted States could read what Mr. Sprgle has to say.

However, it is true that nothing has been said in his reports that had not already been written up in different forms by, among others, Richard Wright, in Uncle Tom's Children. His description of the South certainly brings tears to the eyes of the reader. And others have written about the land of Jim Crow, in gripping susppense stories based on facts—and lynchings.

But things written in books and newspapers do little good, too often. They are remote and unreal. The people read them and feel sorry for the victims of such "Circumstances." Then they completely forget what has been said and what is actually happening and return to their own life of bread-winning and wallowing themselves in their own world. While in the South, and in other parts of our country, Negroes go on sufferng, praying for action and dreaming of freedom—in this twentieth century.

America is not a nation with liberty and justice for all people, regardless of—anything. It is not a democracy where all men are free and brothers and have the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Of course, if you don't happen to be a Negro and haven't either visited or lived in the South, you'll come waddling forward to rebuff these statements. Since the Southern states are a part of America, the people there should enjoy the principles by which we are all governed—or should be governed. They'll tell you that if you're not satisfied where you're staying, the privilege is yours to go elsewhere in search of the things you desire, the type of life. But you won't find a place in the South or the North completely free of discrimination in one form or another. And if you aren't able to leave the South, don't even bother to seasch at all. Los Angeles or any of our large cities aren't free of the things that make our country un-American. I've been given some looks in places here that aren't clean enough for a rummage sale or the Salvation Army . . . under certain conditions. It's not a good feeling to see someone looking at you as though you had leprsy. And just last week they burned a cross in front of a woman's house because she wanted to sell the place to colored folk—didn't think the whites were decent enough to own it.

Well, what's being done, you ask with a half-hearted interest. What and when will the change be? Actually, things seem to be going something like this: Throwing eggs at Henry A. Wallace, the only man fit to run for the office of presidency of our country . . . or at least the only one not afraid to show his face in the South. Truman and Dewey love the west so well they just can't see any other part of the country. The Ku Klux Klan is being kept in good running condition—or good killing condition, waiting for colored people to try to vote in the South. Political tongues of the candidates are wagging twenty-four hours a day about things the Negroes need. And the man who hopes to get himself re-elected isn't doing a single thing to stop lynching right now, although he's still in office—or di dhe adjourn with the Republican Congress, of which in mind he seemed to be a part? Too, colored people are being murdered every day down there for dreaming of voting. Negro blood is running freely—in the gutters and across the baking hot cotton fields. Violence is their Constitution; violence is their Bill of Rights; violence is their pledge to the flag. And violence is what elects men like Herman Talmadge to public offices. There they know only violence and will adhere to nothing else in their ruthless plight of killing and obliterating everything democracy should stand for to both colored and whites.

Now the situations were becoming drastic in Harlem and Detroit some years ago, during the war. The Negro citizens were getting raw deals both going and coming—riding or walking. The leaders were exerting all efforts to win democratic rights for Negroes in intelligent ways. But finally the power-keg exploded into violence and the Negroes fought back. After that, Santa Claus ran rampant and gave the Negroes everything they had worked for and more, too.

Nothing is to be recommended for the South other than the sole law of survival. I think it should have been used long ago. The people there have been patient. Nothing forthcoming in the line of equality, they should band together and free themselves through the only means most of the white southerners will respect. And that method is violence. Only in the South can courts convict men for killing in self-defense and if there's enough violence they'll change their minds quickly and justice will flow broad and wide—just like that muddy Mississippi River. The colored people—all eight millions, should not be stopped at the polls and not permitted to vote this year, even if it does call for the gumption to fight back. An honorable death—in the cause of freedom and the freedom of the darker generations to come is far better than an eventual STRANGE FRUIT death. Nothing else has been completely or even reasonably successful. With the cold blooded mob-murder of Isaac Nickson last week, the decision to fight fire with fire was made completely substantial.

McKinley District Scouts in Kickoff

Twenty-seven Scout and Cub leaders of the McKinley District, under the leadership of Judge Edwin L. Jefferson, District Chariman, held their "kick-off" meeting for the 1948 Boy Scout "Roundup" which officially gets under way September 1st and will last through December 31st.

With guns blazing Roger Willis, District Scout Executive, entered the meeting room in true Western style and tacked up a mortgage on the McKinley District calling for the district to recruit 300 boys not now in Cubbing or Scouting. These boys must be rounded up on or before December 31st. Lawrence Carter acting as Sheriff then deputized each leader present with a Sheriff's badge and made them a part of the posse to assist along with other Unit leaders in corraling the boys.

Lamplighters Give Religious Program

It was a happy Sunday evening last week for the Lamplighters Pledge Club of the Phi Gamma Delta sorority of Pasadena, California when they presented a religious program at the Community Baptist church.

This successful affair was introduced by the Bassileus of the Zetar chapter, Miss Frances Palmer.

The program opened with the audience singing the Negro National Anthem followed by scripture reading led by Miss Evelyn Gilmore. Prayer was given by Mrs. Edella Brown. A vocal selection, Trees, was rendered by Miss Joyce Gilmore.

With money they raised through a paper drive and a dance, a Camp Fire Girls group in Columbus, Ohio, bought an old trolley car. They turned it into a meeting room and a tiny kitchen where they can practice homemaking skills.

Gum-Chewing Young Desperadoes Sought

If anybody sees two young desperadoes, approximate ages 10-14, sitting on a street corner in the vicinity of Inglewood with a fruit jar of small change in one hand and a handful of lollipops in the other, it is requested by the sheriff's department and the county health department that they be be apprehended immediately. They will no doubt be armed with a frank smile and two packages of bubble gum.

Last week various citizens in the Budlong-Imperial boulevard area reported that two such youngsters were soliciting money house to house for small donations to "help the county health department fight polio."

When last seen the two boys were seated on the curb counting their "take." A sheriff's prowl car from Lennox station and an investigator from the county health department were unable to locate the boys. Citizens are asked to be on the alert for any future depradations of these young outlaws.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: The Town Clerk At Ephesus. Lesson Text and Outline. Acts. 19:29-41. Motto Text: Proverbs 21:3.

The town clerk, chosen by popular vote in the free city of Ephesus, was recognized as the chief magistrate of the metropolis. He was not a mere secretary of another officer or like the copyists and students of the law among the Jews, but the most influential person in Ephesus who drafted decrees. He had charge of the city's money, was the power in control of the assembly, and communicated directly with the Proconsul, an appointee of Rome and then resident in the city. Capital of Roman province of Asia and chief emporium of Asia Minor. Ephesus was a center of magic arts and a stronghold of paganism.

The temple of Diana, standing at the head of the harbor, was one of the Seven Wonders of the World. It was just four times as large as the Parthenon at Athens, being surrounded and supported by one hundred columns, each a marble monolith fifty-five feet high, while the inner sanctuary was adorned by the art of Phidias and others. The stadium for sports and shows was 850 feet long and 200 feet wide. The theater, said to be the largest ever built by the Greeks, had seats for 24,500 persons.

Comments

1. The common and natural effect of an intemperate zeal for a false religion: it throws all into confusion, dethrones reason, and enthrones passion; and men run together, not only not knowing one another's minds, but not knowing their own. Those whom they seized were Gaius and Aristarchus. They came with Paul from Macedonia, and this was their only crime, that they were Paul's companions in travel, both in service and sufferings.

Paul, who had escaped being seized by them, when he perceived his friends in distress for his sake, would have entered in unto the people, to sacrifice himself, if there were no other remedy, rather than his friends should suffer upon his account; and it was an evidence of a generous spirit, and that he loved his neighbour as himself. The disciples suffer him not, for it better became him to offer it than it would have become them to suffer it.

Others among his friends interposed, to prevent his throwing himself thus into the mouth of danger. They would treat him much worse than Gaius and Aristarchus, looking upon him as the ringleader of the party; and therefore better let them bear the brunt of the storm than that he should venture into it. It is a friendly part to take more care of the lives and comforts of good men than they do themselves. It would be a very hazardous adventure for Paul to go into the theater; it was a thousand to one that it would cost him his life; and therefore Paul was overruled by his friends to obey the law of self-preservation, and has taught us to keep out of the way of danger as long as we can without going out of the way of duty.

We may be called to lay down our lives. It would better become Paul to venture into a synagogue than into a theater. The mob was in a perfect confusion: Some cried one thing and some another, according to their fancies and passions, and perhaps the reports they received, led them. Some cried, Down with the Jews; others, Down with Paul; but the assembly was confused, not understanding one another's minds. They contradicted one another, and were ready to fly in one another's faces for it, but they did not understand their own; for the truth was the greater part knew not wherefore they had come together.

They knew not what began the riot, nor who, much less what business they had there; but, upon such occasions, the greatest part come only to enquire what the matter is; they follow the cry, follow the crowd, increase like a snowball, and where there are many there will be more. They drew Alexander out of the multitude, called him out to speak on behalf of the Jews against Paul and his companions. This caused the prosecutors to drop the prosecution of Paul's friends, and turn it into an acclamation in honour of their goddess: When they knew that he was a Jew, and, as such, an enemy to the worship of Diana, for the Jews had now an implacable hatred to idols and idolatry. Whatever he had to say for Paul or against him, they were resolved not to hear him, and therefore set the mob shouting, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians; whoever runs her down, be he Jew or Christian, we are resolved to cry her up.

She is Diana of the Ephesians, our Diana; and it is our honour and happiness to have her temple with us; and she is great, a famous goddess, and universally adored. There are other Dianas, but Diana of the Ephesians is beyond them all, because her temple is more rich and magnificent than any of theirs." This was all the cry for two hours together; and it was thought a sufficient confutation of Paul's doctrine, that those are not gods which are made with hands. Thus the most sacred truths are often run down with nothing else but noise and clamour and popular fury. It was said of old, concerning idolaters, that they were mad upon their idols; and here is an instance of it.

Diana made the Ephesians great, for the town was enriched by the vast concourse of people from all parts to Diana's temple there, and therefore they are concerned by all means possible to keep up her sinking reputation with. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians." The suppressing and dispersing of these rioters, by the prudence and vigilance of the town-clerk (he is called the scribe, or secretary, or recorder) the governor of the city.

2. Those that preach against idolatrous churches have truth on their side, and ought vigorously to maintain it and press it on men's consciences; but let them not be robbers of those churches, on the prey laid they not their hand, nor blasphemers of those worships; with mockness instructing, not with passion and foul language reproaching, those that oppose themselves for God's truth, as it needs not man's lie, so it needs not man's intemperate heat.

The wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. A great mercy it is to live in country where provision is made for the keeping of the peace, and the administration of public justice, and the appointing of a remedy for every wrong; and herein we of this nation are as happy as any people. If the complaint be of a private injury, let them have recourse to the judges and courts of justice, which are kept publicly at stated times.

If Demetrius and the company of the silversmiths, that have made all this rout, find themselves aggrieved, or any privilege that are legally entitles to infringed or entrenched upon, let them bring their action, take out a process, and the matter shall be fairly tried, and justice done. The law is good if a man use it lawfully, as the last remedy both for the discovery of a right disputed and the recovery of a right denied. If the complaint be of a public grievance, relating to the constitution, it must be redressed, not by a confused rabble, but by a convention of the states. Private persons should not meddle in public matters, so as to anticipate the counsels of those whose business it is to take cognizance of them; we have enough to do to mind our own business. Most people stand in awe of men's judgments more than of the judgment of God. How well were it if we would thus still the tumult of our disorderly appetites and passions, and check the violence of them, with the consideration of the account we must shortly give to the Judge of heaven and earth for all these disorders! The overruling providence of God preserves the public peace, by an unaccountable power over the spirits of men.

Thus the world is kept in some order, and men are restrained from being as the fishes of the sea, where the greater devour the less. Considering what an impetuous furious thing, what an ungovernable untameable wild beast the mob is, when it is up, we shall see reason to acknowledge God's goodness that we are not always under the tyranny of it. Perhaps this town-clerk was no friend at all to Paul, nor to the gospel he preached, yet his human prudence is made to serve the divine purpose. Many are the troubles of the righteous, but the Lord delivereth them out of them all.

It is implied that many deceive themselves with a conceit that, if they offer sacrifice, that will excuse them from doing justice, and procure them a dispensation for their unrighteousness; and this makes their way seem right. It is plainly declared that living a good life doing justly and loving mercy is more pleasing to God than the most pompous and expensive instances of devotion.

Sacrifices were of divine institution, and were acceptable to God if they were offered in faith and with repentance, otherwise not. Much of religion lies in doing judgment and justice from a principle of duty to God, contempt of the world, and love to our neighbour; and this is more pleasing to God than all burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

Pioneer Eastern Mortician Passes

Evangelist Theresa M. Roles passed this life September 4 at 3 p.m. at the Los Angeles General hospital. Her sons and grandson were with her as the end drew nigh, age 76 years.

She leaves to mourn her passing two sons, Elder Roswell and Mahlon H. Roles; one nephew, Rev. William B. Smith; two daughters-in-law, Josephine and Marguerite Roles; two grandsons, Elder William S. and Mahlon Roles, Jr.; two great grandchildren, David and William Roles; three cousins, John R. Williams, Mary Hughes, and Marguerite R. Williams and a host of saints and friends.

Evangelist Theresa Maria Roles, daughter of the late Emory B. and Adella Turner, was born May 26, 1872 at Providence, Rhode Island. At an early age she was the life of her community with her early morning songs of praise and greetings and was called the mocking bird. She learned the dressmaking trade and became the model of the neighborhood. She later met Roswell Roles and on October 29, 1896 she became his bride. To this union was born seven sons of whom two, the elder and youngest, are yet living.

Mrs. Roles was a devout Christian worker, her grandfather being one of the founders of the A.M.E. Zion church. She, with her husband, entered the Massachusetts School of Embalming. They enjoyed a lucrative business with establishments in Boston and Providence. Mrs. Roles enjoyed the honor of being the first lady embalmer and funeral director in the United States of America, it is believed.

In the year of 1903 they joined the Church of God and Saints of Christ in Boston, where she was appointed chorister of the Boston choir.

A philanthropist of note, she was appointed chairman of the United States Charitable daughters to travel and solicit funds for the poor, indigent, and needy ones of the church home as well as the needy public.

At the Annual Assembly of the Church at Washington, D.C. in 1906 she received the honor of the Grand Storehouse Mistress. Later she was credentialed as evangelist at large and Chief of the World to preach and do good wherever Providence allowed. To this she devoted her life.

In 1908 the family moved to Chicago where her husband established a church with Evangelist Roles, his able helper ever at his side until Elder Roles' eyes failed him and her health became poor.

Mrs. Roles preceded her husband to Los Angeles at the doctor's orders in the summer of 1928 where she has remained ever since visiting many churches and pausing here and yon to carry out her deeds of kindness and tell the message of the Saviour.

She is sadly missed by friends and a host of admirers.

We loved you dear but God loved you best,
He has now taken you home to rest.

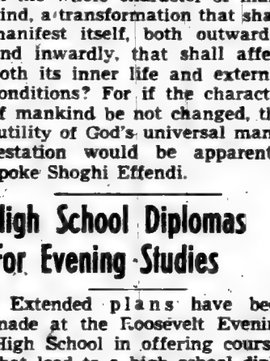
Baha'i World Faith



Progress—Material and Spiritual is the subject to be discussed by Mrs. Robert W. Kenny in the lecture which she will give at Los Angeles headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday, September 19, at 11:00 a.m.

"Is not the object of every revelation to effect a transformation in the whole character of mankind, a transformation that shall manifest itself, both outwardly and inwardly, that shall affect both its inner life and external conditions? For if the character of mankind be not changed, the futility of God's universal manifestation would be apparent," spoke Shoghi Effendi.

CUPID'S COTERIE

Joe Adams, Mayor of Melody, was first to spread the news of the elopement of beauteous Gloria Wolfe of the Bay Area and R. B. Porter of L. A. and he let all in on the secret by dedicating two recordings to the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. on his popular Santa Monica Beach program. However, many learned the news on Wednesday night at the bon voyage fete for the Ivan Houstons, for among those present and making a very fashionably late entrance were, Mr. and Mrs. ... B. Porter and from that point on they were receiving congratulations from the soon to be married, Myrtle Kenzie and Wallace DeCuir, popular Ruth and Maurice Jones, Orchid Oliver, looking cuter than ever and completing a twosome that is becoming constant, with Leonard Beavers. Clyde Grimes making the affair one of his last on the local scene before returning to Cal U. up Berkeley way, escorted Alma Philips. Faye Hopkins, now busy in the throes of social work left before the newlywed arrived. Vivian Mead, still enjoying her local visit from Washington was among those present and her handsome escort was the versatile Joe Saunders. Norman Houston forgot his job of baby setting long enough to enjoy the official farewell fete for his brother and sister in law. Nate and Gloria Shaw were there telling the fun of being in on a secret, for they made the trip to Yuma with the R. B. Porters. So you may rest assured congratulations are in order for the young couple whose wedding reception will be held in Venice, California on Sept. 25....

The Doll League Charity club had its first meeting of the fall season last Sunday and following the order of business, the girls surprised the recent bride, Mrs. Clarence Sharp (Irene Wright) with a pantry shower. Marguerite Wallace was hostess of the day and among those taking part were, Nellie Brown, Lula Bendy, Fannie DeMan, Euvolda Morris, Mariette Wadley, Louise Collier, Marion Jackson, Laura Slayton, Marion Ford and a host of others. The elaborately planned wedding reception honoring the couple will be held at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Cris Wright, the bride's brother and sis, on Sunday afternoon...

On returning to campus, the collegiates will carry the surprise note of popular Hariete Kelley and Charles D. Kennedy's betrothal. So happens that the John Bowdions opened the doors of their apartment on Saturday night to friends who were first to learn of the engagement. Among those guest listed were Bill Holland and Windy Golden who also have a definite spot in Cupid's coterie....

Before leaving the marriage realm, am quite sure many will be interested to know that Ike Adams, well known leader in the realm of younger civic activities took that important step on Sunday at the Second Baptist Church. The lovely Mrs. Adams hails from Oakland, California. Rev. Chalmers Gaithers presided the ceremony and Douglas Van Vacter stood as best man.... O yes, John Ballinger and Joan Coleman took their vows the early part of the week. The newlywed, Gloria and Stanley Malone stood as witnesses and Rev. W. Ross officiated. So happens that Joan and John were scheduled to speak their "I'dos" on the 19th, but the thought of the receiving line and the fan fare that goes with it was due reason for the quiet method they chose. So to all the new members of the married realm, we say loads of luck....

HERE AND THERE

Doris Galloway donned the hostess apron on Saturday afternoon and greeted a charming group of ladies to luncheon and the honored guest was Miss Vivian King of Chicago, who was smartly attired for the occasion in a green ensemble with brown compliments. Those taking part in the afternoon's gaiety were, Ruth Mars, Vivian Jones, Mary Peterson, Edith Price, Juanita Ferguson, Evelyn Williams, Oradee Franklyn and Dolly Galloway. In the city on a three weeks stay, the honoree is the house guest of her sis and brother in law.

Those attending the unique "Stork" shower Norman Green gave for Ann Cunningham Dickinson on last Sunday afternoon are still talking about its high points. So happens that luncheon was enjoyed in the gardens of the Green's home and it was served strictly picnic style with individual basket lunches daintily tied with pink and blue ribbons that were held in place by huge safety pen favors. Following luncheon the guests gathered in the main room of the residence, where a huge pink and blue umbrella dropped yards of colorful ribbons that were attached to packaged gifts for the expected bundle of joy. Some of the fashionably dressed ladies attending were, Angelique Bratton, Edith Lee, Irene Jones, Donna Cunningham, Phyllis Halloway, Haroldine Browning, Dorothy Houston and many another.

The same afternoon the Derreck twins and Louise Meza did the same honors for the former Haroletta Garrison. Many were those in attendance who showered the honoree with gifts galore. WELL! WELL! WELL!

'C'm Up'N See Me Sometime,' Mae West Said; And He Did!

By J.T. GIPSON,
Theatrical Editor

I've eaten in Mae West's dining room. I've driven her foreign-make cars. I've been in her bedroom. I trust Miss West will pardon this ungentlemanly deed of my shouting in print that I've been in her boudoir, but news is news, and who am I to hold good copy from a news-hungry public?

Lingering outside the Regal hotel one night, passing time studying the anatomy of dames who leisurely strolled by, a singer named Evelyn Burwell pulled me aside and whispered that " . . . Mae West wants to see you right away!"

And she gave me Miss West's unlisted telephone number.

I called the number and Miss West and I talked for ten heavenly minutes. Her voice was as soft as the glow of altar candles. She invited me up to her suite in the Ravenswood apartments in Hollywood.

I was a nervous as a Virgin Fox in a forest fire when I arrived at her home, and shaking like a hula dancer with the palsy. I rang the bell and she invited me in, which I thought very silly as I had no intention of standing there looking like a fool. I wanted to go inside and look like a fool.

After a few seconds she said she was glad to meet me. I muttered that I was glad to meet her too.

The news that I was spending my time with Mae West at the Ravenswood Apts got around quicker than it takes an extra girl in Hollywood to say "yes." Associated Negro Press writer Harry Levette devoted an entire column to it. I was getting popular. At last my time had come. I was now welcomed into the best of Los Angeles Society even with onions on my breath.

Meeting Mae West was the turning point in my life. She sorta "discovered" in me the germ of writing ability. Here's the story. Siddown.

One warm, sun-shiny afternoon with nothing to do but lounge around in Miss West's sleek Deusenberg convertible drinking beer, and wondering what my cousin in Texas would say if he could see me now, I wrote an "imaginary" news column and had same in my hand when Miss West, looking lovlier than a Rembrandt painting, opened the car door and said she wanted to go over on Gower street to see a producer about a picture.

Probably suspecting I was writing love letter when I should be devoting my full time to her, she asked to see the writing I held in my hand. I showed her the "imaginary" column, and she said it was "so good" (her quotes I modestly say—which is why I put it in the blackest of type where you won't miss it) that she was suspicious of me? Her suspicions being that I was in "some columnist's" employ "spying" on her, and not THE JT Gipson Evelyn Burwell said I was!

I convinced her I was the same JT Gipson, and not in ANYONE'S employ, and that I was solely hers for as long as she wanted me. That made her feel good, as she smiled.

That night, tho, she called me into her all-white living room and regretfully stated that she was holding me back. "You've got talent," she said, "don't let ME or anyone else hold you back. Go on out in the world and show them you're the best darn writer in the business!"

She also stated that she would take me back anytime I wanted to come back, but that I should develop my "natural talents" as a writer, and carve a nice niche in the world for myself. "And here," she concluded, "take this."

She then handed me a medium-sized check on her own personal stationery which I kept until Regal hotel owner Walter Miller hounded me for the rent.

I soon forgot about Mae West, and only think of her when I see her name in the papers.

One of these days, tho, I am going to call Mae West and let her know I am still out in the world carving a niche for myself. And I'll proudly let her know that I don't have to drive movie stars around anymore for a mere sixty dollars a week, but that I am now working for much less as a newspaper writer.

You see, I was once Mae West's chaffeur, and was only invited to her Ravenswood apartment to show her my recommendations from a former employer!

IT'S BEING WIDELY cocktail-roomered in the sin spots of Bronzeville that Dorothy Donegan, famed Pianist, will wed a popular Angel City Sportsman, thus breaking the hearts of the many who are already in love with her. Name of the gent? Dot won't talk, but the Eagle's mischievous little Nightclub Editor discovered the Lucky guy's first two initials. They are 10 and 20!

Date Is Set for September 23rd At Avodon Hall

The guys and gals who love rhythm at its best are anxiously awaiting Lionel Hampton's return to the Angel City from his current stint in a San Francisco nightclub. The Date of The Hamp's return is Thursday Evening, Sept. 23. The place is Avadon Ballroom, in Downtown Los Angeles.

Downbeat Club Has Great Floor Shows With Classy Acts!

Continuing its policy of tops in entertainment, the cozy Downbeat club offers a neat package of entertainment this week. Poison Gardner and his famous quintet is making a hit with the customers, who have plenty of time to spend listening to the swingy rhythms of the Poison Gardner outfit.

Gardner is a well-known pianist of top swing ability, having played in several motion pictures, and worked most of the top spots in Hollywood. His crew, made up of ace musicians, dispense zippy musical arrangements and ear-arresting swing tunes.

Held over by popular demand is the ever-popular and lovable Lou Owens, whose style of singing has been rated on a par with the best in the blues-singing profession. Topper, of course, is the fine selectivity she shows in picking songs that are ideally phrased for herself. When she sings a song, whether blues or ballad, hot or slow, she's a million-dollar-a-year blues singing chirp. She handles vocal chores in fine vocal fashion. She's a dancer, singer and comedienne.

In the new show at the Downbeat is the one and only Howard Simms, more familiarly known as The Sandman. This torrid tapster is without a doubt one of the best dancers around today, and he holds the audience spellbound with nifty footwork.

Downbeat host, Pops, meets and greets you personally, and the Downbeat club is truly one of the finest spots on the Eastside—where you can take Mother, Wife, Sister, Sweetheart or friend and be assured of an evening of downright solid entertainment.

It's our after-sundown address.

Gipson Writes Open Letter to a Hollywood Hopper Named Hedda

"Dear Mis. Hopper, just thought I would flop the anatomy down in an easy chair and let the trusty portable take its course in answer to an item appearing in your column in the Los Angeles Times under date of Sept. 13.

You wrote, and I quote: 'The Actors Lab made no friends when they gave an open-air barbecue, which included dancing between whites and Negroes. They used a parking lot on Sunset Blvd. for their dancing space where one and all could see. This group's corny idea of being liberal will eventually lead them into trouble. The situation has nothing whatever to do with racial prejudice or discrimination; every man in the world is as good as he is in his heart, regardless of race, creed or color. But that doesn't mean they have to intermix. Right or wrong, the great balance of the community has this deep-rooted conviction, and they were shocked at this public display on the part of the Actor's Lab. That's the sort of thing that leads to race riots."

You may not remember me, Miss Hopper, but you will remember the occasion. During World Hell No. 2, you appeared on one of the shows emulating from Hollywood's Radio City for the Armed Services overseas. We had a picture made together. You and I. The picture now stands on the wall of Browne's barber shop, on South Central avenue. You later sent me a check for $25.00 when I put on a show featuring Count Basie and other famous stars for the American Red Cross. You, at the time, told me you believed in Democracy, and wanted to do your bit to help. During our chat backstage at NBC studios in Hollywood, you remarked about the wonderful job Negroes were doing in the war. You also remarked that a piano needs black keys as well as white ones to make music. You, like the majority of what Westbrook Pegler call the Pink People, usually talk through your hat. You mean nothing of what you say, pertaining to the word Democracy. Your idea of Democracy is my idea of slavery. Oh, sure, you'll column-praise a Lena Horne or a Joe Louis now and then to satisfy your sepia readers, but deep down inside of what you call your heart, your conversation (pertaining to Democracy) is as bogus as a three dollar bill. I detected that the first time I talked with you. That's why, Miss Hopper, instead of putting your picture in a silver frame in my den alongside that of the late FDR, Walter Winchell, Abe Lincoln and others, I gave it to my barber to hang in his shop. I hate phonies. You're a phoney.

Your column is slipping. Has been for months, and so must write something to get attention. You got it in the item under date of Sept. 13. You will probably get a raise for printing it.

I love white people, Miss Hopper. Have to. God is white, and I love God. I love Negroes, Miss Hopper. Have to, my Mother was one. Me, too, and if there is anything I love more than me it is my daughter, Reve.

You object to Negroes and whites mingling together. Your also pray to God that when you die you will go to heaven. Well, Miss Hopper, there are Negroes who pray to the same God. When you die and go to heaven, if there are Negroes among those present would you turn around and go to hell?

You'll be more at home with Hitler, Bilbo, Talmadge and others you love so well.

I'm certain you wouldn't like to be seen in the company of Booker T. Washington, George Washington Carver and the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt!

Wake up, Mrs. Hopper, your sleep is showing!

Sincerely,

J. T. Gipson.

Famous Singer Encores Over Station KXLA

Arthur Lee Simpkins broke precedent last week when he appeared twice over television station KTLA within a period of 14 days.

Usual procedure is for an artist to appear on a weekly broadcast with a possible future date set from three to six weeks later, but Arthur Lee Simpkins, who has been called, and justifiably so, too, "The most wonderful singer in the world," was called back for a repeat performance over the Don Lee television station high in the Hollywood hills the following week after his first performance.

He sang three numbers. That, too, has never been done before! He is truly a wonderful artist, and to hear him sing is a treat next to being called to heaven. Outstanding in brilliance and artistry, his voice has thrilled thousands all over the country. He is one of the few artists to play the same circuit year in and year out. At his last engagement at Detroit's famous Bowery club, owner of the spot presented him with a new Cadillac automobile in token of appreciation for breaking box office records at that spot.

On his European tour in which he appeared in command performance before the king and queen, he was given a royal crest of England. He has also been presented with the Great Seal of the State of California. The first time a Negro has been so honored.

One of the most mild-mannered singers in the profession, Arthur Lee is also one of the most beloved personalities in show business. His manager, Phil Shelley, is working on plans to present the great singer in concert at Carnegie Hall.

He intends to live in California, and recently bought a home here on the westside. His beautiful wife, Aurora, is inspiration for his soulful singing.

He's inspiration for my renewed faith in human nature.

They don't come any finer than Arthur Lee Simpkins!

TEASING TORSO - TWISTER La'Tanya will soon be seen in a television show. She hurls her hips around the stage in Big Time fashion.

Johnny Otis Returns

Johnny Otis, famed drummer who disbanded his outfit a few months ago to open a club on Central ave., will return to the swing kingdom in the not-too distant future.

Otis, whose mixed crew soared to stratispheric heights on the strength of some mighty fine musical arrangements, is an energetic drummer and superb musician whose playing has been rated on a par with Gene Krupa and other top stars.

He will go into rehearsal with his picked crew of stellar instrumentalists next week. It will be a full-size band featuring young, ambitious musicians.

Johnny Otis' return to the swing kingdom is welcome news, if only for the fact that when Johnny Otis' crew is on the bandstand you hear listenable as well as danceable music!

The Bronzeville Bulletin Board: There's always something pretty about a girl. In Dorothy Fearonce's case, it's her face and personality. She's Dr. Nat Fearonce's wife. And wotta bundle of loveliness! . . . From Matt Weinstock's col'm: "The LAPD narcotic squad boys didn't know Robert Mitchum was the man inside the house when they made the pinch." Oh, no! Then howcum they "shadowed" him for days before making the arrest? . . . Why all that to-doodl about a famed Westside society matron's love for a localad young enuff to be her son? It must be the real McCoy, he's the one got the moola! . . . When the White man discovered this country, the Indians were running it. There were no taxes, there was no debt. The women did all the work. And the White man thought he could improve on a system like that! . . . No wonder Ciro's garner all that space in the local blats. Pretty publicist Joan Carlson handles the praise-releases. . . . Amelia Dudley, little Miss Doll-Face, looks sweeter in a sweater than Jane Russell!

I have no interest in the school, financially, but I do have a sincere interest in seeing that any worthwhile b'sness or upstanding venture is given the help that the whole community should etxend for the betterment of our young people. Those of you who have read my col'm regularly know that I've made mention many times that there are three people who encouraged me and extended a helping hand to me when things looked dark (Alyce Key, Nadine Coles and Elyse Teal Desormes), and kept me writing when I was ready to heave my typewriter out the window. There's nothing better than having someone in your corner. I know. That's why I'm in the corner of the California School of Photography. They train GI's, civvies and even newspapermen in the art of photography, in the only school of its kind on the West Coast. One of the grand guys in the venture is Charles Williams, ex-musician and prince of good fellows!

Maggie Hathaway Now Set for Nation-Wide Cross-Country Tour

By J. T. GIPSON
Theatrical Editor

Top honors in the local theatrical profession go to tall, statuesque Maggie Hathaway. La Hathaway, as she is affectionately known in the profesh, this week concludes a smash engagement at the swank York club, and if ever a femme chirp rates a Theatrical Editor's Orchid for meritorious service in the singing field it is the tall, shapely brownskin Miss Hathaway. Miss Hathaway is also quite interesting to talk about (as well as look at).

In the more than ten years we've spent covering the booze joints from Harlem to Hollywood, we have heard hundreds of singers. Some good. Some bad. But take it from an overworked and underpaid corpulent and collapsible nightclub correspondent, this Hathaway gal is truly something to write home about. She's "sing-sational!"

Her style of toying with a blues or ballad is strictly big time stuff, and I can't for the life of me understand why she hasn't been "discovered" before now. Oh, sure, she's appeared in several motion pictures; sang in top spots throughout the country; appeared as guest star on several big time radio broadcasts, but she has never really been discovered in the accepted sense of the word. She has an act that's crowded with class!

"Here Goes A Fool," a Black and White recording of La Hathaway's original tune, sold more than 100,000 copies, and swept the East like a hurricane. In case you're keeping records (and even if you "ain't," to use the kind of language my English teacher in reform school taught me) she is the only vocalist to ever write and record her own tunes, having written 12, which were released under the Black and White label. An original blues tune, written for her friend, Helen Humes, sold into the thousands.

In past communiques here, we have been predicted a brilliant future for Maggie Hathaway. She is finally coming into her own, and as sure as there are four s's in Mississippi, the name Maggie Hathaway will soon be one of the brightest and biggest names to ever zoom across the musical horizon in a blaze of glory.

Having worked in several pictures with Lena Horne, doing stand-in work and mostly walk-on parts, she began her climb up the stratospheric ladder of success last week when she was called to appear as guest star in a television show!

She toured the country with the Floyd Ray band as featured soloist, and played to capacity crowds at Sweet's Ballroom, Oakland, and the T-D theatre up North with the famous Sugar Chile Robinson.

She returned home a few months ago to rest her voice, following a strainuous tour of one-night stands. Her last Eastern nightclub engagement was a record-breaking six weeks at Mike DeLisa's club in Chicago. Next week she begins a nation-wide theatre-nightclub tour, and unless we miss our guess she will break records in the future as she has in the past.

Our predictions of things to come: Maggie Hathaway will soon be top gal on the femme singers' totem poll.

And it couldn't happen to a finer gal!

She's the voice of song.

Mosby and Company Loses Round In Battle With Miss Cornshucks

Commonly known on the AGVA board dockets as Mildred Cummings versus The Last Word nitespot, the matter was concluded last Wednesday with the AGVA handing down a decision favoring the song stylist you know as Little Miss Cornshucks, whose $750.00 weekly salary check was held up three weeks ago by Esvan Mosby and the Last Word management on a complaint filed by the Word against Miss Cummings that she had missed three shows and wasn't entitled to compensation. Pull up a chair and siddown, and, as the late Alfred E. Smith would say, "Let's look at the records."

Okay, so Little Miss Cornshucks, according to Mr. Mosby, who happens to be a front man (and nothing more) for a white syndicate operating the Last Word, missed three shows. She wasn't docked. Her salary was held up.

It doesn't take an Einstein to figure that in this case something is more rotten in Denmark than a trumpet chorus by Clyde McCoy.

When an entertainer is late for a performance, no one gets fired, you're docked. Mr. Mosby, or I should say, Mr. Fred Coleman (because his is the name on the checks the Last Word gives out for services rendered), told the AGVA board he lost money on Cornshucks. There's another statement that makes about as much sense as Joe Louis trying to cross Lake Erie in a hollow tooth.

The only other act to ever outdraw Little Miss Cornshucks at the Last Word is a Walker by the name of T-Bone.

No, kids, here's the way I figure it. The Last Word management, while not necessarily in the red, didn't quite make the sum of money they had hoped for during Cornshuck's personal apearance at the club. Business was bad in every night spot in town, but the Last Word garnered all of the Central avenue trade. One of the alleged manager's had a personal argument with Miss Cornshucks, and holding up her check was the one way he had hoped to even the score, but thanks to the AGVA and other organizations, people like Mosby, Coleman and others can't just go around for no reason whatsoever taking advantage of entertainers.

The AGVA board listened to both sides of the story. Little Miss Cornshucks told the board she was late for three shows, but had never missed ONE! She had witnesses, Last Word show performers, too, to verify her statement!

At about this time, a gentleman named War Perkins, testifying on behalf and for himself, took the stand and told the court he wanted $500.00 of the $750.00 now being held, on the grounds that he had at one time or another sent said sum to Little Miss Cornshucks to purchase a train ticket to come to California from Chicago real quick for a very lucrative job singing in a nightclub.

Miss Cornshucks accepted the money as a loan. Upon her arrival here she signed a contract with Mr. Perkins to do some recordings. The recordings sold like hot-cakes, tho Mr. Perkins said they didn't do so hot.

Miss Cornshucks had lawyers and other people working in her behalf, and it boiled down to the fact that Mr. Perkins owes HER in the neighborhood of $5000.00 due from record royalties she never received!

Miss Cornshucks hasn't received a dime, but that news comes as no surprise to people familiar with Mr. Perkins. Mr. Perkins won't sue me for libel, because he knows I'm libel to prove it.

The AGVA board listened with interest to Mr. Perkins' story, and took the same course of action as in the Last Word case.

You got no case, bub, try again.

So, Little Miss Cornshucks walked out of the room with her check in her hand.

HEY, FRANKIE!

Harry Bigelow, road-manager for T-Bone Walker, returned to the local scene last week after being on the road guiding the destinies of the T-Bone Walker band for the past several weeks.

At present, the Guitar-King of the blues (T-Bone, not Harry) is currently appearing at the Frolic bar in Detroit, and has been breaking records all over the country on his current cross-country theatre-nitery tour.

Bigelow, in town for a few days visit, will return to his road managing duties with the Bone the latter part of the month.

Happy Jack Ought To Be Discovered Sez Eagle Ed Gip

Jack Denny, better known as "Happy Jack, The Mad Man of Rhythm, now holding forth at the Last Word cafe, has worked most of the top name spots on the the atrical circuit.

His last $ucce$$ful appearance, bef ore arriving in the angel city for his first local nightclub debut, was at the El Rancho club, classy Las Vegas spot. Happy Jack has a terrific dancing-singing act, and one of the cleverest and most sensational young dancers and M.C.'s to ever hit the burg.

Some talent scout oughta scout out to the Last Word and "discover" this mad man of rhythm, whose act is truly the peak of perfection.

He's a natural for pictures or television!

EAGLE SPORTS
ASSIVE NEWSPAPER FOR PROGRESSIVE
J. T. Gipson, Eagle Sports Editor

The Sporting Scene

By J. T. GIPSON

George Moore, boxing manager who handles Turkey Thompson and other top-notch fighters, is the man responsible for breaking down racial barriers at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, and at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Moore, who managed Henry Armstrong's successful ring comeback, first broke into boxing 35 years ago as a manager-promoter. He started his career in Seattle, Washington and later migrated to Portland, where he promoted top bouts for more than ten years. Harry Wills, who was the leading contender at the time, for Jack Dempsey's crown, boxed for George Moore on several different occasions in Portland, Oregon. Others to fight under the promotion of the dapper Mr. Moore are Jack Dempsey, who fought an exhibition during his time as King of the Heavyweights; Mike O'Dowd, and other prominent heavies. But that's getting ahead of the story.

After arriving in Los Angeles more years ago than Mr. Moore would care to remember, he spent his time trying to interest the powers that be to stage mixed boxing bouts. They thumbs-down'd the deal on the theory that a mixed bout between a White and Colored fighter would result in nothing short of a race riot. Mr. Moore isn't one to become easily discouraged. He and Norman Houston, now a California Boxing Commissioner, but a very prominent American Post Commander here at the time, discussed the pro and con of mixed bouts. Mr. Houston didn't think it would work. Mr. Moore did, so went on to discuss his brainchild with Attorney Hugh McBeth. Attorney Jerry Geisler, at that time chairman of the boxing commission, was 100% in favor of mixed bouts. So, at a meeting with the commission, the Hollywood American Legion decided to try the mixed bout idea. Thanks to the persistency of George Moore.

The bouts would be tried first as an experience. Charlie McDonald, at that time Legion Match-maker, and admitted on the stand at a commission hearing that he wholeheartedly agreed with Mr. Moore on the idea of mixed boxing bouts, as there would be more action etc., but the Post itself was against the idea.

At any rate, the first mixed bout was staged and proved a huge success. Following the first bout between colored and white, The American Legion Post Attorney thanked George Moore personally for his efforts in making it possible for the colored fighters to get the breaks their fighting deserve.

Remember World War No. 2, when Colored boxers were stand-out faves and big drawing cards at the Legion? They packed the place.

When the first mixed bout was staged, Matchmaker McDonald used only Two Negro boxers on the card. The boys went over with such a bang that a few weeks later, McDonald used SIX NEGRO BOXERS ON ONE CARD!

How's that for progress? Thanks To George Moore.

Now about the Madison Square Garden deal. This racial break-down at the Garden took place before Mr. Moore arrived on the coast. Remember when Al Smith was running for Governor of New York State against Governor Miller? I don't either, but my Dad told me about it.

Well, Mr. Moore wondered why colored boys were being prevented from showing their boxing wares in the Madison Square Garden ring. So he decided to do something about it. He did. He went to Ferdinand Q. Martin, who was Civil Service commissioner at the time, now a Democratic leader. He went to George Harris, Editor of the NY News, who afterwards became Alderman of the State of New York. He went to the Sports Editor of the Amsterdam News. And—oh, hell, he went to a lot of prominent people trying to show them the point where mixed boxing bouts would be better for the fighting public.

And naturally better for Mr. Moore. He being the owner of several colored fighters.

Governor Miller went into conference with William Muldoon, chairman of the NY State Boxing Commission at the time, and advised him that a mixed boxing bout would, if nothing more, prove an experience. So, they tried the "experience."

The mixed bout went over with the proverbial bang.

Thanks to George Moore, whose tireless efforts in breaking down racial prejudice in the boxing game rates more than just a mere Orchid.

Next week, we will give you the highlights of George Moore's career.

RUSSELL SMITH, owner and operator of a smart Central avenue sports store for men, rates the second orchid of the week for his tireless efforts in his fight to combat juvenile delinquency. Forever willing to aid any project to keep the kids off the streets, the handsnme Mr. Smith, has donated huge sums for football and other athletic equipment to aid the kids in purchasing football equipment and other athletic needs of the small fry. A grand guy, this guy Smith!

DR. NAT FEARONCE, one of the city's most popular young dentists, is a speed-boat enthusiast, and extended an invitation to your corpulent and collapsible correspondent to take a day off and cruise in the waters of Lake Elsinore in one of the finest speed boats in the Southern California waters.

CHALKY WRIGHT, former featherweight champion of the world, denies the rumor that he will return to the ring.

So long for now.

GEORGE MOORE, well-known fight manager who guided the comeback ring destinies of the great triple champion, Henry Armstrong, is the person responsible for breaking down racial barriers in boxing bouts at the Hollywood Amecian egion stadium. Mr. Moore, who is now managing Turkey Thompson, is one of the best-liked sportsmen in boxing.

Turkey Thompson Wins Dull Fight

Gloria Jean Has Hank Armstrong To Manage Her

Mr. J. T. Gipson,
Sports Editor,
California Eagle,
4071 S. Central Ave.,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Dear Mr. Gipson:

"I weighed in for my fight in Mexico, and my ring opponent weighed 136, 10 pounds less than me, so I will have to settle down to hard training to reduce the extra weight. I hope to be in tip-top shape by the 29th, the date of the fight.

"I sure am ready for her. She is my same height and build, but I believe I will have no trouble in knocking her out in about two rounds. The bout will be staged in the Bullpen in Tia Juana, Mexico.

"Henry Armstrong is my new manager now, and he is really getting me in shape. He sure is a swell guy to have in your corner. I start my hard training grind next week, and I want as many fans and friends down to see me as possible.

"I'm grateful to you for everything, Mr. Gipson, and I will always be your friend—just as you have proven to be mine!"

Sincerely,
Gloria Jean Thompson,
("Little Joe Louis.")

For the housewife who is more interested in a roast beef on the table than a prize steer on the hoof, there will be a helping hand and a lot of valuable information at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 17 to Oct. 3.

Gip At Ringside Dreams Of Aileen LeBell, Doll-face

By JT GIPSON
Eagle Sports Editor

The prettiest thing about Tuesday night's fight at the Olympic was Aileen LeBell. She was seated at the ringside.

Turkey Thompson, rated as a logical contender for Joe Louis' heavyweight boxing crown, won a no-decision bout with Willie Bean, while taking a bath. If that sounds like it doesn't make sense, it doesn't.

Honest, Sister Dilcey, the fight, halted in the eighth round by Referee Charlie Randolph and declared no contest because the fighters were making no effort to fight, was won in the Turk's un-dressing room while he was cooling off under a spray-sprinkled shower. Here's the story: It was a dull fight. On the other hand, it was a cagey one. Am I making sense Keep reading.

Turkey came out in the opening stanza and waltzed around the ring with Bean. Bean came back in the second frame and belted the daylights out of Turkey. Turkey came back in the third round and stung Bean with sharp rights and lefts. Bean bounced back in the fourth and held on and on and on and on. Cagey fight. Who can blame Bean for protecting himself? Afteraw'l, how th' 'ell can you get mad at a guy for not wanting to get knocked out?

At the start of the fifth round I was as bored as a dyed-in-the-wool boxing fan at a wrestling match. So, I focused my attention on the gorgeous form of pert and pretty Aileen LeBell, a top doll-face executive on the Olympic club staff, who looks good all over. This is my second love affair. I first fell in love with Greta Garbo 'way back in 1942, but she went and got married. Now, I'm reserving all my dreams solely for Aileen LeBell.

Whenever I see her, I dream, which is why I missed the next two rounds. I heard the crowd booing, and figuring it was a boring fight, I trained my orbs in the direction of Miss LeBell and kept dreaming until I heard the sugary voice of Referee Randolph bellowing, but softly: "I stop this fight, and declare it a no-contest bout. The State Athletic Commission will investigate."

However, Commissioner Norman Houston and Clayton Frye, a chief inspector with the commission, went into conference with Referee Randolph and brought up something about rule 280 in the Commission rule book, which gives them the necessary authority to change the decision. So they did, and while Turkey Thompson was under the shower taking a shower (that's a silly statement, huh? Ya' didden think he was under the shower playing checkers, did ya'?) the commissioner presented him with the beautiful words: "You win."

And now, kiddies, I have but one thing to say.

Phooey.

What Gives, Joe?

JOE LOUIS

PHILADELPHIA — Joe Louis hasn't quite made up his mind whether or not he intends to stay in the boxing game, or retire. The champ is undecided, and said here Tuesday night that he would advise the boxing commission and NBA by Dec. 2, which will be six months after he knocked out Jersey Joe Wolcott.

Abe Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, said the association would consider Louis still the heavyweight champion of the world if he decides to continue fighting.

So there, too!

Say You Saw It in the EAGLE

ON THE TURF

CALIENTE, Old Mexico: Altho it was Ranch Rider that won the feature attraction at Caliente last Sunday, it was Soup and Fish that proved the big surprise, not only to the fans but also to his owner. In his last races, Soup and Fish has been finishing up the track, but the switch of rider from Rodriguez to Porter worked wonders with the 2-year-old son of Saxon-Gladrags.

Not only did he lay close to the pace but took the lead turning into the home lane by three lengths adn won in a common canter in the fast time of 1:42 flat for the mile and seventy yards, running the first mile in 1:37 2/5.

This was just 4/5 of a second off the track record held by Parasang set in 1945. Soup and Fish returned in the mutuels, $11.20. "The Riverside," secondary attraction, was won by Double Drip, second choice in the betting, with Mighty High second, and Fox Brook third. The latter, coupled with Double Drip as the entry of C. H. Hall, paid $7.20.

Double Regret, the favorite, finished out of the money. The daily-double combination of Faruson, winner of the second race, and Little Upie, victor of the third, paid $72.20, while the quiniela lucky backer of Tramp On and Reply Collect, who finished in that order, received $543.20.

This was one of the largest quiniela payoffs on the horses in many months. Another well balanced card of twelve races will be offered by General Manager Walter C. Marty for this Sunday with two big feature events.

The main attraction will be "The Independencia de Mexico" Handicap at six furlongs. "The Fiesta Days" will be the secondary.

Beach Comber, the champion of the Greyhounds, equaled the 5/16 of a mile record Sunday night with ease. This great speed burner from Florida has won every race except one since coming to Caliente, although popular General Manager William (Bill) Collier has imported the champion derby winner from Portland to match strides with the local champion, and in the near future the greatest race of greyhounds ever witnessed in the West will be the main event at Caliente.

This race will attract attention from all the lovers of the greyhounds from all parts of the country. The big quiniela payoff Sunday night was in the third race when Laddie's Panther finished first and Model Marshall was second.

Satchel Paige Here in October

Plans for the huge Satchel Paige day, honoring the ace member of the Cleveland Indians, were accelerated last week when it was definitely known that Paige would arrive in Los Angeles about October 20. Merchants have signified their willingness to support the project by donating gifts to the elongated hurler.

Paige will pitch for the Kansas City Royals, who will arrive here on the second of next month for a tour of the surrounding towns until Wrigley Field is available, against the major leaguers probably headed by Satchel's teammate, Bob Lemon, a 20-game winner in the torrid American League race. The probable date is set for Oct. 24 and the first game will start at 1:30 p.m.

Paige's record now stands at six games won and one in the lost column. He has appeared, however, in about 15 games. His last stint was two innings against the Yankees, holding them hitless and runless.

That evening Satchel Paige, his teammates and members of the Major Leaguers will be feted at a big banquet at Joe Morris' Club Congo from 8 p.m. until the wee hours of the ayem. The public is invited and a small charge ewill be asked to cover the expenses. The local sportswriters will sponsor the affair with the valuable aid of the well-known restauranteur, Julius "Stuff" Crouch. Reservations for both the games and the banquet will be available as soon as the date is definitely set.

HANK ARMSTRONG

Henry Armstrong, former tri-division champion of the boxing world, is busy preparing a new magazine, soon to hit the stands. Armstrong said the book will deal with all subjects dealing with the plight of Negroes. He said he would welcome articles on the subject from both professional and novice writers. He has established offices at 4251½ Avalon Blvd., where articles will be criticised for publication. Credit and compensation will be given all articles used in the magazine.

Movie Layoffs

Layoffs have been reported in motion picture production and more reductions are expected in some studios. Production is still at a minimum in the record industry, but a general feeling of optimism is prevalent. Manufacturers of chemicals and allied products are very active. Beverage bottling should reach a peak by September; glass manufacturing will be at its high point in August. Cleaning services and restaurants picked up in June, and employment in delicatessens and drugstore fountain activities should increase with the temperature.

Dorothy DuPree Wins Palmcrest Beauty Contest

On Labor Day, a huge crowd gathered at the swank Palmcrest Hotel resort in Santa Monica, to witness a spectacular Bathing Beauty Contest, staged and directed under the supervision of Ralph Porter and Mrs. Williams.

Miss Dorothy DuPree, local young society beauty, walked away with top honors, winning a one picture contract with the Sunshine Production Company. Second prize was a one-year scholarship to the Laura Bowman School of Dramatics. Sue Lyde, third prize winner, won a gift box, donated by Connor-Johnson Mortuary. Johnson Bathhouse donated fourth prize, while the fifth prize money was given by Ruby Garret, proprietor of an exclusive ladies shoppe.

There was dancing, and over 1200 persons crowded the Palmcrest Playground to witness the beauty pageant.

Sammy Franklin's band furnished music for the occasion.

Ethel Waters, beloved star, brings her "Cavalcade of Hits", musical revue, into Philharmonic Auditorium for four nights starting September 29th. Tickets are now available at all ticket agencies and the Philharmonic Box Office. These ducats are popularly priced and should sell very fast, since Miss Waters comes to Los Angeles direct from sell-out perfarmences in San Francisco, Minneapolis and Duluth.

Appropriately titled, "Cavalcade of Hits," Ethel Waters appears in re-creations of scenes and songs from smash stage and screen hits in which she has starred in the past. Included in the roster of familiar titles are "Cabin in the Sky," "Mambo's Daughter," "Rhapsody in Black" and "As Thousands Cheer." Also appearing in "Cavalcade of Hits" is Fletcher Henderson, inimitable piano-man formerly with Benny Goodman and other top-bracket musical organizations.

The program series is sponsored by the rising new impresario Raymond Rohauer who recently managed the appearance of Miliza Korjus, of the Philharmonic.

Those desiring to mail their orders for tickets may address the Philharmonic Box Office, 425 West Fifth Street, L. A. 13. Prices 90c to $3.00.

Into the Precincts! IPP Needs Workers

The time has come to knock on every door! Election day is only 48 days away, and all supporters of the Independent Progressive Party's candidates are urged to get out and get out the vote!

In a statement to all IPPers, State Chairman Hugh Bryson said: "We are issuing a call for 20,000 additional precinct workers to make sure that every California voter can learn at first hand about the platform and candidates of the new party.

"The true story of the campaign is the story that the precinct workers tells the voters. We face the job of bringing the story to 5,000,000 voters throughout the state. Victory is in the hands of the precinct workers."

That's The Stuff You Have Got To Watch

Southern California, once a barren desert, still retains its warm dry climatic periods during which there is unusual danger from fire.

During these periods the combination of high temperatures, low humidity, and greater-than-normal winds affects all burnable materials so that brush, grass and even structures ignite more readily and burn more rapidly than under normal conditions.

OUR GREATEST WEALTH

smile, a word to a stranger costs so little, yet means so much to someone that is lonely and starving for friendship. It is our greatest wealth, for if all of the smiles and kind words were placed together, there would not be room for them in this world.

The world, at heart is a friendly place, it is like a bank with unlimited reserves, in which men and women of good will have been making deposits for generations. Everyone can add to its capital, anyone can draw from it.

We are all strangers to each other, until one of us puts out his hand and makes use of your Greatest Wealth, a kind word, a smile, to someone near by.

F.F.—Why am I so troubled?

ANSWER. You are a person who worries over trivial matters without any reasoning. Remember each one of us has to live our own life and the same applies to your daughter. I vision her being very happy with her husband and she will endeavor to visit you soon.

S.O.—After reading your wonderful advice to others, I thought you would be able to help me solve my problem. What can I do to better my condition and be successful?

ANSWER. There are so many who specializes in the same field as youresif which requires much skill and understanding, that it is necessary to be tactful and efficient to increase your clientele.

T.C.A.—Will I be able to fulfill my plans this fall?

ANSWER. I suggest that you endeavor to comply with your husband's wishes. Your baby is rather young and needs constant care . . . when he is a little older you may be able to hire a capable person to look after him so that you can return to work as you desire.

P.A.—Would it be wise to accept this offer?

ANSWER. Probing into the matter I find you are hesitant as to what is the best thing to do first. I feel you should enter college as previously planned. Your family has sacrificed much in the way of their own happiness to bestow upon you the one thing in life they didn't receive . . . an education. To disrupt these plans now would only weaken their faith in you. Their offer should be acceptable as it can prove very beneficial to you and also bring happiness to them.

S.S.—Will he purchase this home? What does the future hold for me? Will I be successful?

ANSWER. Only one question answered in the column. If you will write in for a private reply I shall be more than glad to help you.

in a state of crisis, and that everywhere the same pattern is being repeated—too many children, too few classrooms, and too few teachers — and that school boards all over the country are faced with record high enrollments and budgets which have 20 percent less buying power than before the war, while school construction costs have doubled and even trebled.

Obviously, education is losing ground. The money which we spend for education represents only 1 percent of our national income. Great Britain, despite its current economic distress, is spending 3½ percent of its national income, while the Soviet Union spends around 7 percent. As it is, the amount which we do allot to education is unequally distributed, with some communities spending 60 times as much as others. In describing this highly uneven distribution of children and wealth, Senator Lister Hill recently remarked: "The children are where the money ain't."

Particularly glaring is the gap between the amounts spent on the education of white children and of the Negro children in the southern states. An extreme example is Kentucky's ratio of 42 to 1. In the 17 states and the District of Columbia, where separate school systems are enforced, the average current expense appropriated for each white pupil is $104.66 as against $57.57 for the Negro child. It is only logical then that a large proportion of the men rejected by the army for educational weakness came from these southern states.

Although Negro children and children in rural areas are the largest of the groups handicapped by lack of adequate educational opportunity, there are many other Americans who have not had a fair chance to an education. This is particularly true of Mexican-Americans who constituted 95 percent of some of the army's special training units, and true also of the children of migratory workers.

Because of the inequities which exist and which must be corrected, we must turn to the federal government for the financial support which alone can erase the barriers to equal opportunities for all children.

There is, as you all know, such a bill pending in Congress. It is the Taft-McCowen federal-aid-to-education bill, authorizing a federal expenditure annually of $300,000,000 — an amount which represents about 2 percent of the appropriations for military purposes. This bill passed the senate in April, marking the first time any such bill has passed either house. Today it is still bottled up in the House Education and Labor Committee of which Fred A. Hartley Jr. is chairman.

While this bill has serious defects — such as an amendment forbidding appropriation committees from attaching anti-segregation riders to funds — it would, if passed, help to solve one of the most alarming of the education problems — the shortage of teachers.

This September, when half a million more children will return to schools than last September, the elementary schools of the nation will need 70,000 more teachers. Instead they will get 20,000.

Here in California, the shortage of teachers is not only the worst in the history of the state, but, according to state authorities, is likely to grow still worse before there can be any improvement.

In June, Aubrey A. Douglass, associate superintendent of public instruction, made the following statement: "We've lost ground in education in California. It just can't be helped, but we're getting along with substandard teachers and double classroom schedules all over the state. There are kids in the fifth and sixth grades in many places who never have known what it is to go to school more than four hours a day, simply because of a lack of classrooms and teaching personnel."

Those of us who live in Los Angeles are well aware of this problem. Last year, 20,000 of our children were enrolled in these half-day sessions.

The basic reason, of course, for the shortage of teachers is the inadequate salaries which are paid. Teachers, by and large, are probably the worst paid, the hardest worked and the most insecure of all citizens in public service. Last year when the average income of skilled and semi-skilled workers was $3000, the average earnings of the nation's teachers was $2550. While salaries have been raised in many communities, the increases have not been sufficiently general throughout the country. The result is, therefore, that teachers, with the cost of living at its highest recorded level, are worse off now than before the war.

Yet, on Monday, at the public hearing on the Los Angeles City School budget for 1948-49, there will be present representatives of taxpayers' and property owners' groups who will protest any salary increases provided by that budget.

These are efforts to hamper and reduct education which must be countered by the loyal and honest support of all conscientious citizens who think in terms not only of the interests of their own children, but also in terms of the community and the nation as a whole.

For it is our belief that, in order to help solve the complex problems of peace and prosperity for our country, the people must be well-educated people, prepared to make decisions on en enlightened and democratic basis.

To that end, we believe that not only should we have better education, but that education should be equalized and that it should be extended. Every year our country suffers a loss because a million or so young American men and women, qualified for higher education, are economically unable to continue their education. We need more doctors, more dentists, more teachers; we need to encourage artists, writers, musicians, and actors; we need to develop young scientists and the practical application of atomic energy to peaceful uses. We need basis everyday programs for our children; hot school lunches, recreation, and health services.

All this costs money, and good education is not cheap. But the whole cost of education in this country in its entire history has not cost the people as much as was spent for one year of World War II.

There are other factors, too, which we need in education—and which don't cost a penny. We need above all academic freedom, the right to free discussion, free inquiry, and an atmosphere rid of discrimination of any kind. We need democracy in practice in order to produce the intelligent, informed, and responsible citizens required for the welfare of our nation.

We must stand with the common people of a hundred years ago who said: "As education is a primary want of a free people, these schools should be extended until knowledge shall be as free as the air we breathe."

Dear Mrs. Bass:

I am an employe of the County of Los Angeles, Department of History, Science and Art. Title: Carpenter, and the following incidents hapuened to me personally:

On Friday, Sept. 3, at 5 p.m., on my way home from work, I attempted to board the Long Beach Limited train, consisting of three cars, at Vernon and Long Beach, going south, the train I was accustomed to ride daily. On this particular day one of the conductors said: "We do not stop at 103rd st. The first stop will be Willowbrook." The second conductor of the same train corroborated his statement by saying: "That's right, this car doesn't stop at 103rd st." and he closed the doors in our faces. Nevertheless, since that time I have seen this same Long Beach Limited car allow passengers to board going further south.

A few minutes later the San Pedro Limited train, consisting of two cars, stopped and the conductor refused to allow passengers to board who were getting off at 103rd st.

The Dominguez Local, which stops at all stops, followed, carrying only one car, and it was so overcrowded that after leaving Slauson the conductor could not collect fares.

My question is, why was I only admitted to an overcrowded local when there were seats to spare on the Long Beach and San Pedro Limited trains? Also, what was the reason for the sudden change when I had been riding the same trains for more than two years?

GEORGE H. JACOBS.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

On Wednesday, Sept. 8, around 10 a.m., I was on my way to town from Watts. The Long Beach limited train, which I had been accustomed to riding for the past 15 years, discharged its passengers approximately 25 yards before it reached the Watts station, closed its doors without allowing any passengers to board and pulled away.

About 10 minutes later, the Santa Ana car, consisting of one coach, which was overcrowded, arrived. I was informed by the conductor that there was standing room only; consequently I was forced to ride the Watts Local and was late for a very important appointment.

MRS. JOANNA HOWARD.

Northrop Chairman Resigns Board Post

Retirement of Richard W. Millar as chairman of the board of directors of Northrop Aircraft, Inc., to devote a greater amount of his time to activities outside the aircraft industry, was announced this week.

Investigators Show Veterans Need For Low Cost Housing

With announcement that 75 investigators from the office of the Federal Housing Expediter are being assigned to probe housing frauds against veterans in California, leaders in the fight for passage of Proposition No. 14, the Housing Initiative, declared the situation "only served to underscore the desperate and immediate need of veterans and their families for well-built, low-rent housing."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, chairman of the Housing Initiative group, issued a statement this week in which he pointed out that thousands of families have been forced to buy homes far beyond their means since the war "because of the scandalous rent situation."

"Veterans who were promised the world during the war are hard put to it to hold onto one little piece of earth these days," the Monsignor said. "When they find that they have put their hard-earned money into cracker-boxes and shoddy makeshifts, they have reason to feel betrayed."

City College Ready For Record Session

Fall semester registration at Los Angeles City College begins Monday, and although a slight decrease is expected from last semester's record-breaking number of more than 11,000 students, facilities will continue to be overcrowed, says Dr. E. W. Jacobsen, City College president.

For this reason, 20 new classroom bungalows are being added to supplement the 20 built last year and will be ready early next month. In addition, the Veterans Counseling Center, a service of the L. A. City Schools, is being moved to Belmont High School, and this will provide six more bungalows to be used for office

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

It would seem that by this time the essence of all national and international action by governments and individuals alike would be directed toward the cause of something called "peace." However, during the last few months people have become almost afraid and ashamed to mention the name for fear of ridicule. Human lives have become so worthless that it has taken approximately thirty-five million battle dead to bring us from 1910 to the present day. And that figure does not include the women and children and ordinary citizens who are killed by war diseases ad bombings. The history books will say that this was the bloodiest century of all time. And the authors of these history books probably won't be the holders of Ph.D.'s and such, but men of some "dumb native" African tribe. For when the urge for finance and prestige reaches its full expediency, as it has today, there is but one recourse — the complete obliteration of mankind.

It was interesting to note one news article last week. The radio didn't try to justify the statement that an American boat had been shelled by Russians off the coast of Siberia. But one certain newspaper slung the news into the biggest headline print they had. At that, the entire report was only one half column, and told that the ship belonged to some private company. I still haven't heard what the Navy Department has to say about the happening. Still, one more bit of anti-Russian propaganda has been inserted successfully into the minds of the American people. And what interest could it be to these certain sources which sensationalize? Why hate anyone in the world and commit deliberate acts to make the rest of the nation distrustful of others?

Without an enemy across the sea to hate and accuse, I doubt as we could be happy here in our own country. It is unknown because there has hardly been a period in our history when we hadn't such an enemy. Today, Russia is well on the way to becoming that enemy, whether or not because of her own fault. But certainly such newspaper stories do nothing to foster the American-Russian attitude of friendship. Nor is it clear why a newspaper would bother to give such a story so much spread when actually it was not official. Of two possible reasons, the first is trying to sell more papers. The second is private gain under the counter when the war comes on.

And the question of profits brings in another aspect in our struggle either for existence or destruction. It is doubtful which. The draft question has been passed into law. Factories are turning out, under private ownership, guns, clothing, machinery, and ammunition to supply the army, whether it goes to war or not. The supplies must be maintained. So huge war profits can go on, even in peacetime.

Now if Democrats were still Democrats, the people's party, they would have fought the draft proposal to death. It's strictly Republican. Instead, the 1948 Democratic - Republicans fought for it until even the cows left home to join the Army. Now the head of the Donkey party, Mr. Truman, needs the support of Big Bellies—pardon, Big Business—to get elected for a good paying job with a four-year meal ticket. The Big Bellies will support him if he makes it worth while, while at the same time, stringing along with their original Republican party, such as not to lose out whatever. So far as labor supporting him, nothing doing. The big labor bosses are stringing along with Truman, but in that one person ballot booth the common working people will show, in the tune of about five million votes, that they aren't supporting any Democratic-Republican concoction in '48.

But just as Mr. Truman is being goaded into supporting the draft, they'll lead him to war in the same manner. They might even promise him he'll be permitted to ride a white horse down the main street of every city in the world . . . and Hirohito had the same idea.

Now with thirty-five million dead in our century already — this so-called "period of the common man," someone calls from the balcony just what is this. We should not only be able to win wars, but to prevent them too. Of course, it is the century of the common man. For so many of them have died in the interest of profit, what else could it be called?

Now when the night of the final destruction comes, everyone will be running, and fleeing and scared of the crumbling buildings and the acute reality of death. The uniformed will be equally helpless, for it will be an offensive war. On that, all our military strategists have agreed. Just what are we going to do to survive, kill first? But who are the enemies? Whom will we kill — the people of every country except America?

Hahn Announces Plans for Swimming Pool in South Park

Councilman Kenneth Hahn announces that preliminary plans for a modern community recreation, clubhouse, swimming pool and bathhouse for the South Park Playground site at Avalon Blvd. and 51st Street, this week received the approval of the City Recreational and Park Commission. The whole project is being designed by architect Paul Williams and is to be built under municipal playground fund for extension of the city's recreational system. The preliminary estimate of the cost $218,000.

Hahn said the swimming pool will be of the latest design measuring 60 ft x 120 ft. The community clubhouse and bathhouse building will be of attractive design to be built of concrete brick and to be connected by pergolas and continuous roofs to form one compact and complete recreational unit.

The main recreation hall will be 46 ft. x 75 ft. in size and there will also be a number of clubrooms and meeting rooms for the use of youth and community recreation groups. The bathhouse building will be designed for dual use so that when the pool is not in operation in winter the interior will serve as clubrooms and additional recreation meeting rooms.

Following approval of preliminary designs, the architect will go ahead with the preparation of final plans and specifications.

"This will give the children a needed swimming pool for next year," Councilman Hahn said.

CUTE, MODEST AND GAY Bonnie Deane Maxwell assumed the office of Girls' Vice President at Manual Arts High School this semester. She is the first Negro girl to ever hold this office. Bonnie is a native Angeleno and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell. She is a graduate of Main Street Eelementary School, John Adams Junior High School and is now attending Manual Arts. When she filed for the candidacy of Girls' Vice President last spring, there was an instructor on the application committee who had kidded Bonnie in class about being the President of the United States; but the joke was on the instructor when Bonnie filed for girls' vice-presidency and won out over a very popular candidate. Bonnie says her policy will be for more rights for girls at Manual in athletic associations and campus clubs. She will also work for a girls' drill team and closer co-operation between student body officers.

Catholic School Disavows Bias Admits Negroes

NEW YORK — Admitting two Negro youths, the Salesian school, a Catholic preparatory institution in Goshen, New York, last week abandoned its former lily-white policy. The change followed a protest lodged by Franklin H. Williams, assistant NAACP special counsel, who protested against the exclusion of a colored applicant when his race was discovered.

Mr. Williams was today assured by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York that the school maintained no color barrier and that the rejection of the Negro youth was a misunderstanding on the part of the director of the institution and was in violation of the Cardinal's announced policy for the New York diocese. The director has since been removed.

THE REALM OF RELIGION

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Eunice, Lois, and Timothy, a Religious Family. Lesson Text and Outline, Acts 16:1-5; 2 Timothy 1:3-6; 3:14-15. Motto Text Joshua 24:15.

Introduction

Very careful religious training from early childhood was received by Timothy, the son of a Jewess and a Greek. He was probably converted at the time of Paul's first visit to his native city of Lystra. When the apostle, seven years later, again visited this region, he found Timothy "well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium," and admirably qualified for evangelistic work. At once Paul set him apart for the special work, and thenceforward he was one of the most constant and faithful of the great apostle's companions.

An associate, co-laborer, special representative, and fellow prisoner, Timothy was the unfailing help and joy of his spiritual father. When imprisoned a second time, Paul, knowing his end was near, urgently wrote Timothy to come at once to his side. We do not know, but many reasonably believe that this last recorded wish of Paul was gratified, and that his son in the gospel brightened his last hours. It is said that Timothy also suffered martyrdom some years later.

Comments

1. Paul was a spiritual father, and as such a one we have him here adopting Timothy, and taking care of the education of many others who had been begotten to Christ by his ministry: and in all he appears to have been a wise and tender father. All the churches were concerned in that decree, and therefore it was requisite that they should all have it well attested.

Though Paul had, for a particular reason, circumcised Timothy, yet he would not have that drawn into a precedent; and therefore he delivered the decrees to the churches, to be religiously observed, for they must abide by the rule, and not be drawn from it by a particular example.

Testimonies, to truth, though they may not prevail to convince those that oppose it, may be of very good use to establish those that are in doubt concerning it, and to fix them.

The design of this decree being to set aside the ceremonial law, and the carnal ordinances of that, they were by it established in the Christian faith in general, and were the more firmly assured that it was of God, because it set up a spiritual way of serving God, as more suited to the nature both of God and man; and, besides, that spirit of tenderness and condescension which appeared in these letters, plainly showed that the apostles and elders were herein under the guidance of Him who is Love itself.

They increased in number daily. The imposing of the yoke of the ceremonial law upon their converts was enough to frighten people from them. If they had been disposed to turn Jews, they could have done that long since, before the apostles came among them; but, if they cannot be interested in the Christian privileges without submitting to the Jew's yoke, they will be as they are. But, if they find there is no danger of their being so enslaved, they are ready to embrace Christianity, and join themselves to the church.

And, thus the church increased in numbers daily; not a day passed but some or other gave up their names to Christ. And it is a joy to those who heartily wish well to the honour of Christ, and the welfare of the church and the souls of men, to see such an increase.

2. Paul's thankskiving to God fo. Timothy's faith and holiness: he thanks God that he remembered Timothy in his prayers. Whatever good we do, and whatever good office we perform for our friends, God must have the glory of it, and we must give him thanks. It is he who puts it into our hearts to remember such and such in our prayers.

Paul was much in prayer, he prayed night and day; in all his prayers he was mindful of his friends, he particularly prayed for good ministers. Paul prayed without ceasing; prayer was his constant business, and he never forgot his friends in his prayers, as we often do.

The entail of religion descended upon Timothy by the mother's side; he had a good mother, and a good grandmother; they believed, though his father did not. In our prayers we are to remember without ceasing our friends, especially the faithful ministers of Christ. Paul had remembrance of his dearly beloved son Timothy in his prayers night and dya. The faith that dwells in real believers is unfeigned; it is without hypocrisy, it is a faith that will stand the trial, and it dwells in them as a living principle.

Christians should stir up the gift of God that is in them. Stir it up as fire under the embers. It is meant of all the gifts and graces that God had given him, to qualify him for the work of an evangelist, the gifts of the Holy Ghost, the extraordinary gifts that were conferred by the imposition of the apostle's hands. These he must stir up; he must exercise them) and so increase them: use gifts, and have gifts.

The service of God is nothing below the greatest of men; it is so far from being a diminution and disparagement to princes and those of the first rank to be religious that it is their greatest honour, and adds the brightest crown of glory to them. Observe how positive Joshua is: I will serve God. It is no abridgement of our liberty to bind ourselves with a bond to God. For his house, that is, his family, his children and servants, such as were immediately under his eye and care, his inspection and influence.

Not my house, without me. He would not set his own hands to. As some who would have their children and servants good, but will not be so themselves; that is, they would have them go to heaven, but intend to go to hell themselves.

You need not tell all the truth, unless to those who have a right to know it all. But let all you tell be truth. —Horace Mann

There is no evil we cannot face or fly from, but the consciousness of duty disregarded. —Daniel Webster

Christian Science Lesson Text 'Reality'

"Reality" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from II Corinthians: "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."

In a Scriptural citation Matthew's Gospel reports that "Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart, And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him. . . . and . . . a voice out of the cloud . . . said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid. And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence." "The testimony of the corporeal senses cannot inform us what is real and what is delusive, but the revelations of Christian Science unlock the treasures of Truth."

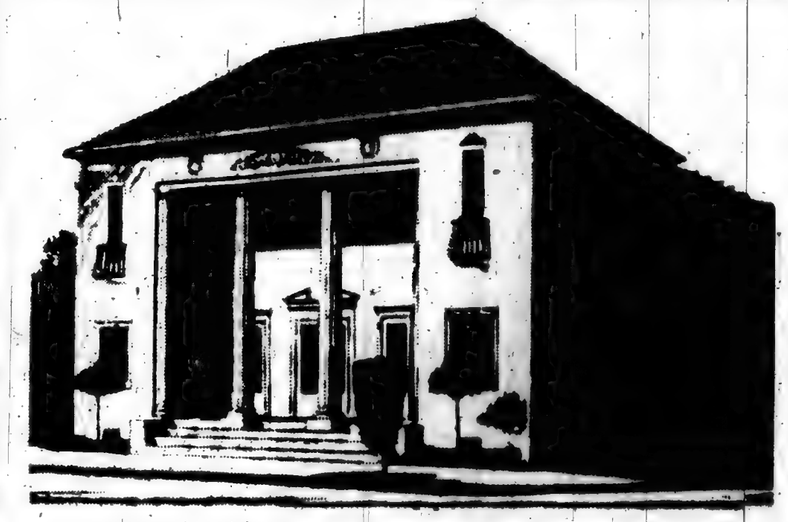
7:30 P.M.—Program sponsored by ushers. Sermon, Mr. W. H. Johnson.



Suppose...

. . . in this time of high prices the family suddenly faces bereavement. How would the funeral bill be paid . . . with precious savings or life insurance? Not if the family had looked ahead, had investigated and taken advantage of the Angelus funeral service policy plan.

A PROVED PLAN TO ELIMINATE FUNERAL EXPENSE

A new funeral service policy, recommended by Angelus Funeral Home pays all expenses regardless of how little has been paid in, costs only a few cents a day. Phone in for free information today—no obligation.

"Unsurpassed Service Through The Years"

HUNDREDS HAVE SAID, as time has passed, that the ceremony we conducted was one of correct appointment, and that our personal assistance was with a spirit of sincere helpfulness.

SUCH PUBLIC CONFIDENCE is not won by words. Actions are the only reliable symptoms of sympathetic sincerity. And that is what you get in a CONNER-JOHNSON service, whether it is one of utmost simplicity, or the most elaborate.

Consult us about our recommended pre-payment plan of funeral expenses, with no obligation. It costs only a few cents a day.
